When he returns he expects to be associated with the law firm of Brown & Kerr, with offices at 706-709 Andrus building. This retiring to private life of Mr. Waite removes him as a possibility for the office of third assistant city attorney and practically insures the retaining of Herman F. Johnson in that position.

Her Wrongs Wrangled—Mrs. John Roberts, the divorced wife of John Roberts, a laboring man, who died at the city hospital Sunday from a complication of disease, emphatically declared that "was brought with him when she got her divorce." Roberts called for her Saturday a few hours before he died and a message was dispatched to her home by the messenger back with the notice that she was divorced from the man on account of his cruelty, and declined to come.

CAPT. WALTON DIES

He Was First Appointed to Minneapolis Police Force in 1870.

Swan Walton, formerly captain of the South Side police station, died to-day at his residence, 1315 Seventh street S. Death was due to paralysis.

Captain Walton was appointed to the police force May 1, 1870, but resigned a year later. He was reappointed April 1, 1878, and was made sergeant Dec. 1, 1885; lieutenant, May 1, 1889; and captain, June 1, 1899. He was dismissed by Mayor Ames and in company with a number of Scandinavians from Minneapolis went to the coast under the leadership of M. Falk Gjersten.

MRS. MARY J. MOFFITT, aged 67, widow of Horatio Moffitt, died last evening. Funeral from residence, 828 Fifthteenth avenue SE, Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. No flowers.

DEATH OF WM. HOYT

Picked Up on Street and Died at St. Paul City Hospital.

William Henry Hoyt, one of the most widely known pioneers of St. Paul, died at the St. Paul city hospital to-day, identified and alone, except for a nurse and a physician.

Shortly after midnight a colored barber, passing along the street, saw the old man lying beside the walk and thought it some one intoxicated. A policeman called the ambulance. The unconscious man was carried into the station and thence to the city hospital. Through the night the doctors fought for the life of the stranger, but at 6 o'clock he died. The body was taken to the station morgue and the coroner summoned.

C. E. Keller, a deputy in the county auditor's office, later identified the dead man as W. H. Hoyt, uncle of a former health commissioner of St. Paul, vice president of the famous organization of the Survivors of the First Minnesota Regiment, and a member of one of the oldest families of St. Paul. Mrs. George H. Hazard is a sister of the deceased. Mr. Hazard took charge of the remains. The cause of death has not yet been exactly ascertained, but Mr. Hoyt had suffered from rheumatism and pains in the region of the heart. His home was at 9 East Tenth street. He was born July 5, 1841, at Marietta, Ill.

SUBSTATION FOR C. OF C.

One of the Things Postmaster Hale Will Urge While in Washington.

Postmaster W. D. Hale will soon start for Washington to confer with his department chiefs. He will call upon Supervising Architect Taylor of the treasury department, who will finally designate the changes to be made in the Minneapolis federal building.

The postmaster will also urge the establishment of a branch office at the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce. "The business that originates there," said he to-day, "is so large a part of the local mail that a substation at the chamber has become a real necessity."

Mayor Haynes Announces the Impending Reduction of the City Detective Force.

Thirteen Will Varyingly Walk the Plank or Walk a Beat.

About thirteen public servants now doing duty as detectives will either be walking beats as patrolmen or seeking new locations within ten days. Mayor J. C. Haynes authorized this statement this morning.

There are twenty-three detectives at present, a sufficient number, the mayor thinks, for a city twice the size of Minneapolis. Hereafter, he announces, there will not be more than ten detectives. How many of the remaining thirteen, most of whom are doing duty in the regular rank in the Ames' administration, will remain on the pay roll, he did not say.

Some will do the blue and a few may be detailed to duty in different parts of the city as plain clothes men. It would not be surprising if the majority of the changes were in the form of resignations. Facing a police deficit, the mayor has a rigid economy for the present, the mayor believes that a limited number of detectives and a very few of the plain clothes men, in addition to the regular police force, will be sufficient to keep crime within bounds for the next twelve months. What the police department needs now, he thinks, is more patrolmen. As far as possible he will undertake to reinforce the uniformed rank.

Referring, in his inaugural address, to prospective changes, the mayor intimated that a police deficit was in the air. He probably will be confined largely to those "in an executive capacity," a statement calculated to increase the uneasiness of heads of departments.

He'll Look Up the Men. "I do not care to make any more definite announcement than that for the present," said the mayor. "Having informally acquainted myself with the personnel of the police department, the chief and I now prefer to meet its members officially before deciding upon dismissals or appointments. Every man will have an opportunity to speak in his own behalf."

Speaking generally as to the policy of the administration, the mayor said he thoroughly approved of the action of his predecessor, Mr. Jones, in ordering slot machines out of cigar stores. "With a few modifications, perhaps, I shall carry out the policy of my predecessor in that respect. Slot machines are under the ban in the different cities I recently visited. They are recognized generally by chiefs of police as an unmitigated evil. A distinction might be made, he intimated, in behalf of machines which always pay cash.

Mayor Haynes and Chief of Police E. J. Conroy have decided that they can get along without either an assistant chief or a chief of detectives. They believe that they have immediate supervision over the rank and file of the department.

J. A. SCHLENER, PRESIDENT

Board of Education Organizes for Another Two Year's Term.

At the meeting of the new board of education yesterday, John A. Schlener was elected president and F. G. McMillan secretary. He also acted as chairman of a committee to select a site for a new school building. The board voted a ninety-day option on the building at $800 and the matter of a rental was referred to a committee.

Proposition to urge upon congress, through Loren Fletcher, that the duty be temporarily removed from coal, was laid on the table to be taken up at the next meeting.

FIND A SMALL DEFICIT

The Police Department Finds About $1,800 in Back Bills to Pay.

Frank McDonald, the mayor's private secretary, announced this morning that bills which should have been met in the December pay roll had been allowed to go over and the police department was now faced to face with an actual deficit of $1,800.

"My predecessor in office explained to me," said Mr. McDonald, "that the bills payable in excess of appropriations or contingent funds would approximate about $400 which must be carried over into this year's account. I was hardly prepared to have the amount foot up to more than four times the amount named."

FINISHING TOUCHES

They Are Being Put on Chamber of Commerce—Sowie & Sons Settled.

In a few days the last work on the new Chamber of Commerce building will be completed and the offices on the ground floor will be ready for occupancy. When these offices are occupied the building will be completely finished. T. Sowle & Sons opened their new office on the ground floor this morning. The bookkeepers and clerks, who have been in the quarters of the firm in the old Chamber of Commerce, will hereafter be found in the new quarters. The branch office of L. T. Sowle & Sons, in the Andrus building, will be maintained under the same management.

ST. LOUIS EXPO TRIO

Gov. Van Sant Names the Men Who Will Look After Minnesota's Interests.

They Will Have at Least $50,000 to Spend, Probably Double That Sum.

Governor Van Sant to-day announced the commission which will manage Minnesota's exhibit at the St. Louis exposition. The members are Theodore L. Hays of Minneapolis, the well-known manager of the Biouet theatre and a successful promoter of amusement enterprises; Conde Hamlin of St. Paul, manager of the Pioneer Press, and J. M. Underwood of Lake City, president of the Minnesota Agricultural Society, who will have charge of the agricultural exhibits. The commission has available an appropriation of $50,000 made by the legislature of 1902. The governor did not appoint the commission at that time on account of a delay at St. Louis. The present legislature will be requested at least to double the amount to $100,000 to advertise Minnesota at the exposition.

A VICTIM OF DRINK

Unhappy Story of Robert A. Landers' Fall and Death in a Prison Cell.

Landers entered a saloon at 100 Hennepin avenue last night about 12 o'clock and asked for ten cents with which to get a bed. The money was given him and he sat down by a table and went to sleep. When the proprietor went to close the place, he found the man unconscious and an officer was called. Landers was taken to the central station in the patrol wagon and put into cell 14. Jailor Neesham visited the cell several times and when he appeared to be all right, but at 3 o'clock he was found to be dead. Coroner Williams was summoned and ordered the remains removed to the morgue where they were identified this morning by H. H. Potter with whom Landers formerly resided.

Forty-two months is allowed for their construction and a minimum speed trial of 21 1/2 knots is required. Each cruiser will measure 400 feet water line, 502 feet in length and 72 feet 10 1/2 inches at extreme breadth. ARMY STAFF BILL WINS

It Passes the National House To-day by a Vote of 153 to 52.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The vote in the house yesterday having shown that the bill to create a general staff in the army did not command the support of the necessary two-thirds majority, it was under suspension of the rules, a special order was brought in from the committee on rules at the opening of the session of the house to-day which provided for its consideration. The rule allowed an hour for general debate. It was not antagonized and after discussion the army staff bill was passed 153 to 52.

WHY IS IT

that many men in Minneapolis are never followed by life insurance agents? Be the agent ever so persistent he does not urge THEM.

They are poor risks. Most of them have been good risks some time and yet are without sufficient insurance. Why is it?

They did not decide not to take insurance, for (with an occasional exception) the man of to-day has some conception of his natural responsibility. They simply put off insuring, and they put it off too long.

If you have not the amount or kind of insurance you need, would it not be wise to attend to the matter now? You have to-day—no one is sure of to-morrow.

The old STATE MUTUAL LIFE OF WORCESTER, MASS., would like to submit you a proposition. The State Mutual has and writes more business in Massachusetts than any other Massachusetts company, and it is generally conceded that the Massachusetts insurance law is the best in the United States. Your age and address to any of the undersigned will bring a specimen policy with full particulars.

County Commissioner Weingart Loses No Time in Proposing Resolutions for Workers.

The Board Considers the Refund of Money Paid as Inheritance Taxes.

The county commissioners this morning discussed the refunding of money paid in as inheritance taxes. The matter was brought before the board by a check for a $100 refund, made by Kate M. Austin, executrix for Elizabeth P. Austin, deceased. After some discussion it was decided that the matter should be laid over for a time at least, awaiting the appearance of other claims so that the total amount could be estimated before any disposition of the funds was made.

The further appointments to be made by the board, becoming effective Feb. 1, were postponed until the next meeting on Jan. 19. Commissioner Weingart introduced a resolution after that all county contracts work be abolished, but, after the law providing that all work shall be done by contract had been read, the resolution was ruled out of order by Chairman Barney and later withdrawn by its proposer. Mr. Weingart proposed another resolution providing an eight-hour day for all laborers on county roads and bridges, and fixing wages at $1.75 for men and $3.50 for men and team as the minimum. This was referred to the committee on roads and bridges.

Former Commissioner E. P. Sweet was yesterday afternoon appointed county custodian of the county side of the new courthouse and city hall. The appointment was not made, however, without a protest entered by the new commissioner, the fourth district by its proposer, Mr. Weingart, who maintained that the committee on public grounds and buildings could handle the work in a satisfactory manner. The appointment was abolished two years ago should not be re-established. The commissioner from the fourth was overruled, and Mr. Sweet was given the office.

A HOLY WAR IS PREACHED

The Mohammedan Priests in Morocco Stirring Up the Kabyles to Action.

Ceuta, Morocco, Jan. 6.—Here is great anxiety at Tetuan for news of the result of another battle which is reported to have taken place between the forces of the sultan and the pretender. It is rumored that the latter were victorious. The governor after a conference with the leading Moors has decided to purchase arms and ammunition, owing to fears of attack by the Kabyles. The Mohammedan priests are preaching a holy war among the Kabyles and are relating the wonderful miracles said to have been accomplished by the pretender.

TO MEET THE BREEDERS

Secretary Randall Is Again After Cattle Shows for the State Fair.

Secretary E. W. Randall of the state fair will go to Chicago to-night to meet to-morrow with the directors of the American Short Horn Breeders' Association and American Short Horn Breeders' association. To these boards was referred the subject of cattle shows at the Minnesota state fair of 1903. There is little doubt that the boards will decide to duplicate or perhaps enlarge upon the displays of the last three years at the Minnesota fair. These national cattle shows in Minnesota have been unexpectedly successful and the breeders have been much pleased both with the direct sales by auction and with the indirect results shown through an increased demand for Hereford and Short Horns throughout Minnesota and the northwest.
