WEATHER NOW AND THEN

Minimum Temperature To-day 0 Degree; a Year Ago 28 Degrees.

Called Away by Sons Illness.—Judge Andrew Holt left Tuesday for Tucson, Ariz., whither he was summoned on account of the illness of his son. Judge Holt's family is spending the winter in Arizona.

Anchor Camp Surprised.—Anchor Camp, No. 879, M. W. A., was pleasantly surprised last evening by the ladies of Fern Camp, No. 1010, R. N. A. The following officers were installed: Robert McGowan, Y. C.; Tonya La Duke, W. A.; J. E. Smith, banker; L. H. Clough, clerk; Chris Ryan, escort; N. P. Nelson, manager; Dr. R. A. Peters, physician; Dr. C. W. Brown, physician. Refreshments were served.

Keeps Its Ranks Full.—Five resident and five non-resident members were elected to the Commercial Club yesterday to fill vacancies. This leaves 102 applicants on the waiting list. Resident members elected were: Robert McGowan, Y. C.; Y. Moreau, R. W. Munzer, Adam Pickering, C. L. Easton. Non-resident members elected were Robert N. Melton of Wahpeton, N. D.; F. D. McNulty of Duluth, John H. Cross of Lynn, Mass.

Two Boys and a Revolver.—Vernie Green, aged 15, who lives at 112 Thirty-third street, was accidentally shot yesterday morning by a companion who was handling a .32 caliber revolver. The bullet entered the right chest of the boy, glancing upon the superior maxillary, passed beneath the inferior maxillary and lodged in the muscles of the back of the neck, where it was extracted by Dr. E. E. Strout. It is that that the boy will recover.

Working for Johnson.—Herman F. Johnson, third assistant city attorney, was strongly indorsed by the Trades and Labor assembly last evening. The assembly condemned the action of a "beat" appointment committee which assured Mr. Healy that organized labor was not in favor of Mr. Johnson's retention. The resolution requests Mr. Healy to reappoint Johnson, and urges the city council to confirm such appointment. Nevertheless Johnson's position is said to be in jeopardy.

A Delegation Dinner.—The Hennepin delegation to the legislature is to be dined at the Commercial club at 6:30 Saturday night by the public. The dinner will be presided at by C. Paul Will and the post-prandial discussion will be through informal. The legislative committee of the club had a meeting last night and decided to present certain matters of public interest to the delegation and a dinner was selected as the proper time and place to divulge what the committee has in mind.

Hungry Fourth Ward Dems.—Democrats of the sixth, seventh and eighth precincts of the fourth ward, met last evening at 1718 Sixth avenue, to take steps to secure greater recognition from the present administration. Those who attended the meeting believe that they have been slighted by Mayor Hayes in the way of political preferment up to date, and an effort is to be made to capture some more plums. A committee of three was authorized to see the mayor and demand more recognition. The members of this committee are John Griffin, D. W. Dimond and P. H. Gibbons.

COURT NEWS

SEEKS GUARDIAN FOR WIFE
Edson E. Deschard Asks Court to Appoint One.

A petition was filed in the probate court this morning in which Edson E. Deschard asks that his wife, May M. Deschard, be placed under the guardianship of O. M. Laraway. He alleges that she is incompetent and unable to comprehend the transaction of ordinary business affairs.

MORE GRAND JURORS

Four Belated Members Take the Oath of Office.

P. O. Earl, Arthur J. Hohart, Frank J. Lyman and J. S. Matheson were sworn in as members of the grand jury this morning and Judge Harrison cautioned them along the lines of secrecy and gave them the usual instructions. This makes twenty-one members of the grand jury and insures a quorum at all of the sessions. The work being taken up is still that of all cases and as yet there seems to be no sign of being ready to report.

Tentive Receiver's Fees

George Flannery, receiver for the Tentive Savings Association, yesterday filed a petition in the district court for partial fees for services rendered, and was allowed $3,500. In the course of the petition the receiver states that he has collected $105,000, with which the creditors will be paid as the court directs. Considerable trouble and litigation has been made necessary, however, and this was the grounds on which a partial payment for services was allowed by the court.

The W. W. Johnson Estate

An administrator for the estate of W. W. Johnson, who recently died at Dallas, Oregon, has been appointed in the person of Charles H. Johnson, residing at 76 Highland avenue, this city. The estate is said to be worth $100,000 in personal property and $10,000 in real estate. The deceased was largely interested in the lumbering business under the firm name of W. W. Johnson & Co.

FOELL IS SCRAPPY AT HIS OLD TRICKS

Says Democrats Did Not Get a "Fair Shake" in Committee Apointments.

He Would Be in Favor of An Attempt to Depose the Council's President.

Alderman "Jake" Foell of the first ward, is "agin the government" of the city council. He says the democrats didn't get a fair shake in President D. P. Jones' committee assignments for this year. As the nine democrats constitute more than one-third of the council, Alderman Foell says they were entitled to representation on all the important committees which would have given them their share of experience.

Just for that, he says, the republicans will have only themselves to thank if the "dems" decide to combine from now on. He expresses surprise that they did not force the republicans proper representation with a stronger hand before the reorganization of the council. He thinks that failure to bring pressure to bear at the proper time is mine they lost their grip on the good things.

"I'd be in favor," he said, "of doing as they did once with Barzile—of summarily ousting Jones, which could easily be done. Alderman "Pete" McCoy of the ninth, says he has "only one kick coming." "My only kick against the council," he says, "is the failure of Mr. Jones to recognize my sterling ability as a member of the cancellation committee by retaining me in that capacity. My election was no doubt largely due to my signal service in destroying antiquated bonds. Say, throwing bundles of bonds into the furnace is the nearest I ever came to burning money, even if they have outlived their usefulness."

"I'm entirely satisfied," remarked Alderman Lars Hand, the democratic statesman from the sixth, "I got just what I wanted on the committees. Mr. Jones is a gentleman and a scholar and a first-class politician. He has never yet deceived me. Alderman "Jim" Dwyer of the tenth, is said to have been more than pleased at his retention on the gas committee.

ALDERMAN LANE COMPLAINS

Thinks East Side Should Have Man on Waterworks Committee.

Alderman Lane of the second ward thinks the East Side is being neglected because President D. P. Jones of the city council failed to give that side of the city representation on the waterworks committee. He says that the matter was retained on that important committee, he says, is a matter of small moment to him, but he thinks that a great injustice has been done a section of the population of the city of Minneapolis.

"I was naturally interested in remaining on the waterworks committee," said Alderman Lane, "chiefly because it was largely instrumental in securing the new pumping station for our side of the river, and I should have liked to remain with the committee through the year. I see the completion of that work. I made no request that I be reappointed, and in being removed from that assignment, would have been glad to see some of my colleagues of the East Side wards could have been substituted for me. In view of the strong attempt made to secure the appointment of the committee of Alderman Chatsfield, I am greatly surprised that our district was not recognized. A strong delegation, composed of such men as T. J. Ryan and F. B. Snyder, who while not unfriendly to me, particularly friendly to Alderman Chatsfield, urged his appointment upon Mr. Jones. The fact is, that I believe myself and that he should understand me. This would have been entirely agreeable to me, and the wonder is that Mr. Jones did not have received their wishes, but that failure to recognize the East Side was more the result of an oversight on Mr. Jones' part than through any deliberate intention on his part. A good committee, however, and I suppose we will get fair treatment."

L. H. WELLS RE-ELECTED

Employees' Mutual Aid Society of Powers Mercantile Company Holds Its Annual Election.

Last evening the Employees' Mutual Aid society of Powers Mercantile company held its annual election and installation of officers. In the hall at Nicollet and Hennepin streets, the following were elected: president, the good standing of this association is due in a great measure to the faithful, earnest work of Mr. Wells, who was mainly instrumental in its organization about four years ago. He was elected its first president and has held and conscientiously filled the office ever since. The election of E. B. Gilbert as vice president was no surprise. Mr. Gilbert has been of valuable and able assistance to Mr. Wells. Cyrus Beebe, treasurer; Thomas Johnson, financial secretary; and E. L. Matthews, recording secretary, were unanimously re-elected to office. Those men have taken much active interest in the welfare of the society, and the duties of their respective offices have been carefully looked after. J. J. West, re-elected auditor, is a man of good, sound business qualities. R. S. Ward, Robert Knox, O. G. Schoenert, Miss P. Schwartz and J. Kaplan were elected as trustees. Of these, R. S. Bartle and O. G. Schoenert were re-elected. Mr. Bartle is chairman of the board, having received the largest vote.

ALBERT L. MOREY IS AGAIN UNDER ARREST, CHARGED WITH MAKING BAD COIN.

Takes Advantage of Friends' Kindness to Use Their House for His Work.

Albert L. Morey, one of the most notorious counterfeiters that ever worked in the northwest and whose counterfeit dollars and half dollars were almost perfect enough to deceive an expert, was arrested this morning by Captain J. W. Lawrence, of the secret service, assisted by Detective Cronan and Brown of the city detective force. Morey is charged with counterfeiting.

Morey was recently released from the state prison at Stillwater, where he had just completed three years' term for counterfeiting. Since his release he has stayed at a rooming-house near Hennepin avenue and Third street and posed as a vendor of spectacles, claiming that he had reformed.

While Morey was in prison some friends residing in the eighth ward who desired to help him to reform, stored his trunk for him. Since his release he visited this residence several times, ostensibly to see something from the trunk, but in reality to make spurious copies of the counterfeit money. The officers found that he had been using the trunk in the house, in which his trunk was stored, as a den in which to carry on his work.

HIS WORDS OF COMFORT

Hopeful Quotations of the Mayor Used on Many Delegations Which Wait on Him.

Mayor J. C. Hayes is rapidly acquiring the art of bringing long-winded delegations to the point and sending them on their way with "I will look the matter up," or "I will give it my earliest attention." He dispatched a number of delegations this morning, at the same time he attended to the routine work. While delegations were busy telling him the story of sorrow, of a life, the mayor found time to sign warrants, and digest his mail, all the while appearing to give all comers his attention and consideration.

TRIO OF BAD ONES JAILED

Young Men Arrested Under Different Charges Believed to Have Worked Together.

The police have arrested a trio of young men, supposed to be the men who caused so much trouble last fall by their thievery. The men were arrested upon separate charges but the evidence seems to show that they worked in collusion. They are Frank Brown, Frank Zerlath and James West and are all in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury. Zerlath is charged with a load of groceries from Wood Brothers, when his house was searched, silverware, stolen from the residence of E. E. Jefferson in St. Paul, Minnesota, was taken to the residence that he had stolen property in his possession. He was held to the grand jury upon the charge of burglarizing Jefferson's residence.

STORM GOES EAST

Jumped Off the End of Cape Cod Last Night.

The storm centered in Michigan yesterday, and revolving unpleasantly close to Minneapolis was down off the New England coast last night into the cold blue sea, said the local weather bureau this morning. After the high winds, as usual, came a low temperature. At Minneapolis, Bismarck and Duluth this morning the mercury was two degrees above zero. At St. Paul the record was 4 above at Moorhead, 8 at Milwaukee, 10 at Chicago, 12 and at Kansas City and St. Louis, 16 degrees above. The coldest dawn, 12 below zero, was witnessed far off at Battledore in his master's province of Saskatchewan. "The wind was rather agile down in South Dakota during the blizzard," said Section Director Outram this morning. "But it was abated to about one-third by blowing at the rate of ninety miles an hour. Eighty miles an hour would have been a hurricane, and very few houses would have escaped destruction. The highest rate reported here was 52 miles at St. Louis. The maximum further north was less than 50 miles." "What the wind rate may be in the path of a cyclone our observers have never paused to learn. But barring tornadoes, the wind seldom travels sixty miles an hour in the northwest. Even that is only an occasional gust."

DECEMBER APPEALS FOR AID

More Than There Were in December 1921—The Reason.

Secretary Jackson has completed the report of the Associated Charities for December. The report shows a slight increase in applications for aid over last year. Mr. Jackson is inclined to attribute this largely to the fuel situation, as even a small increase in the necessary expense of living always carries a few families beyond the point where they can maintain themselves without aid. Not all of the applicants, whose distress is due to the increased price of fuel, ask for that particular form of aid; they simply find themselves unable to make both ends meet and ask for help.

HANNA CAN'T COME

His Services Are Already Bespoken for Lincoln Day.

Senator Hanna will not be able to come to Minneapolis for an address on the Lincoln birthday anniversary, Feb. 12. He says that a year ago he promised the republican club of Brooklyn that if he went anywhere on Feb. 12, 1923, outside of Cleveland, he would go there. In Cleveland there is a strong republican club, which for years has observed Lincoln day in an appropriate manner. This association wants Senator Hanna for the regular address this year, and he will probably deliver it. At any rate, he cannot come to Minneapolis.

IT'S PASSE ANYWAY HYDE VS. POWERS

Local Furnishers Don't Defend the Cozy Corner Because It's a "Dead One."

Minneapolis has not been beguiled in cozy corners. This city learned for the first time yesterday, through the sagacious medium of Chicago club women, how noxious is the nook of which a Wisconsin possess chant:

"A Moorish lamp,
A glowing lamp,
A sunset lamp in corner snug;
A man?
A sweetest there to hug!"

Local experts in the art of furnishing were even surprised yesterday to hear that the Chicago South Side club had agreed after discussion, that cozy corners—not "Miss Thurston" play, but sequestered tete-a-tete in drawing room, boudoir or hall—are filled with microbes of immorality.

"The red walls, the subdued lights, the downy cushions!"—a catalogue of demoralization—"They can't be nice, can they?" exclaimed one South Side matron. "That truly I doubted whether the mistress" replied another horrified member.

Mrs. Watkins had thought of it—Mrs. George Watkins, former president of the club and a pole star of the state federation. "No well-ordered home," declared Mrs. Watkins, "no home mindful of its moral tone, would ever possess such things. There is a barely possible excuse" she didn't tell what it was—"for a cozy corner in one's own bedroom. But even there the corner should be decorated in blue and white tones, which tend to elevate one's thoughts."

A second speaker added, with her eyes upon some enemy, "I saw so many cozy corners and sofa pillows in a house once. There is a barely possible excuse" she didn't tell what it was—"for a cozy corner in one's own bedroom. But even there the corner should be decorated in blue and white tones, which tend to elevate one's thoughts."

A HAPPY DAY AT DELHI

Retainers of the Chiefs Are Reviewed by Lord and Lady Curzon.

Delhi, India, Jan. 8.—The viceroy, Lord Curzon and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, to-day reviewed the retainers of the ruling chiefs in the durbar arena. The variety of costume and paraphernalia afforded one of the most striking pictures of the durbar festivities. Contingents from all parts of greater India participated, mostly retaining the distinctive features of their customs. The flags and other emblems of the state of Dutch were carried on camels and elephants, accompanied by armed men on stilts, while Arab irregulars danced past the viceroy to the music of drum and tambourine. The famous gold and silver guns of the state of Baroda attracted much attention. The ancient Mahabata flags descended from the Mogul governors, were past on the elephant carriages. The martial Rajputs were clad in mail armor.

NOT FOR RICHARDSON

He Does Not Care for the Minority Leadership of the National House.

Washington, Jan. 8.—There are well-advanced rumors that Representative James D. Richardson of Tennessee, the minority house leader, will not ask his party to select him as its leader at the national house, and that in certain contingencies he will not be a member of that house, although he was re-elected last fall.

SUED BY THE GOVERNMENT

Commonwealth Lumber Co. Defendant in a Trespass Action.

Lieutenant Governor Ray W. Jones was this afternoon served with papers in a suit brought by the United States government against the Commonwealth Lumber company for $115,000, alleged to be the value of government lands near Frazar, Minn. The suit alleges that the company has been cutting timber on government lands near Frazar, Minn.

WHY IS IT

that many men in Minneapolis are never followed by life insurance agents? Be the agent ever so persistent he does not urge THEM. They are poor risks. Most of them have been good risks some time and yet are without sufficient insurance. Why is it? They did not decide not to take insurance, for (with an occasional exception) the man of to-day has some conception of his natural responsibility. They simply put off insuring, and they put it off too long. If you have not the amount or kind of insurance you need, would it not be wise to attend to the matter now? You have to-day—no one is sure of to-morrow.

GOAL TARIFF DISPUTE

Senator Aldrich Says the Democrats Are Responsible for the Trouble.

Washington, Jan. 8.—In the national senate to-day, Mr. Aldrich (R. I.) spoke on the Vest resolutions removing the duty on anthracite coal. He said that the resolution would not afford any relief and added that the duty was put on coal by the democrats in the Wilson bill in 1894, hence they were responsible.

GOVERNOR MERRIAM ISSUES A STATEMENT to Bring the Dispute to a Close.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Governor Merriam, director of the census, to-day made public an official statement closing the dispute between his bureau and the agricultural department regarding the comparative accuracy of the statistics of area of agricultural lands of the United States. The agricultural department which gathers these statistics on its own account every year makes the area considerably less than the census office. The dispute which has been on for several months has been in fact a dispute between John Hyde, statistician for the agricultural department, and L. G. Powers of Minneapolis, statistician for agriculture in the census office.

Mr. Hyde emerges from the controversy under suspicion of having misled the public with the data which caused the dispute and Secretary Wilson is understood to have given him strict orders regarding this sort of conduct.

Governor Merriam fully sustains Mr. Power's work in every essential particular. Iowa was rechecked for test purposes with a change of totals of only one-fourth of one per cent. In only one county in nine was the error equal to one per cent.

In addition, Governor Merriam has rechecked the 102 counties where gross mistakes were said to have been committed by the census office. It is found that for the acreage of improved farm land and the leading agricultural states, the census figures are within one per cent of the truth.

This disposes of the matter finally. It was the wish of both Secretary Wilson and Secretary Hitchcock as well as Governor Merriam to bring the discussion to a close. The main object of the meeting of Mr. Hyde for being responsible for it.

FRAUDS ON WOMANHOOD

Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones Attacks Young Ladies Who Are Afraid of the Kitchen.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—"A girl who cannot make and bake bread, compound a pudding and wash and iron her own shirtwaist is a fraud upon young American womanhood," declared Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones before the National Housewives association at the meeting yesterday. "And you, mothers and housewives, are to blame for the common feeling of your daughters against kitchen service. This servant girl question is becoming more vital than trusts, tariff or anything else in the category of unsettled things. It affects the home and family, the most sacred institutions of the land, and has a right to be with the unhappiness of the nation. The idea that kitchen work is menial must be corrected and the lessons must be taught at home, from every household. The speaker further expressed himself in favor of a large school of domestic science for girls to offset the manual training schools for boys.
