Washburn-Crosby Company Will Stand First With Its New Buffalo Plant.

Its Total Daily Capacity Will Then Be 37,000 Barrels—The Site Bought.

The purchase of a site at Buffalo, N. Y., and the announcement of plans for the erection of a large flour mill, preliminary step that is to make the Washburn-Crosby company of Minneapolis the greatest milling company in the world, is being met with a reputation for enterprise in the milling world second to none. In the diversification of interests, and the extension of its influence the company covers a wider field than any other in the history of grain output the company has held second place, but with the completion of the new mill it will stand first in every respect. James S. Bell and Washburn, who went east to complete the negotiations for a site, which were started by F. Henry, Buffalo agent of the company, were held up in the week in the Chicago Great Western and did not reach Minneapolis this morning as expected. At the offices of the company the report of the purchase of the Buffalo site was fully confirmed, the consideration being in the neighborhood of $200,000. Pending the return of Messrs. Bell and Washburn neither W. H. Dunwoody nor C. C. Bovey would discuss the plan of the company in further detail. It is certain, however, that the mill will be a large one, far surpassing in capacity any mill in Buffalo. It is likewise certain that the entry of the big Minneapolis company into the eastern milling field will not affect the local plant of the Buffalo site was fully confirmed, the consideration being in the neighborhood of $200,000.
