Not only members of the new association may be present, but any person born in Minnesota previous to 1848 is invited to attend. A little opposition to the election of Dr. Peter M. Holl, as president.

Frank Dyer, a young man residing at 19 1/2 Fifth avenue NE, was taken to the city hospital last night suffering from injuries received in a fight on a street. He was thrown to the floor and received a blow in the eye. He says the conductor kicked him, but passengers say that he and the conductor were in the right.

J. W. Brown, supposed to be a traveling man, was arrested at the West hotel last night on a charge of drunkenness, and when taken to the central police station was found with a powder which he said was morphine and strychnine. He was taken to the city hospital, and an examination showed that he had taken no poison. He was then returned to the station, where he was compelled to spend the night in a cell.

The plans of the Women's Label league are developing rapidly, as shown at the meeting yesterday. A plan has been outlined of organizing a league in every ward of the city united by a central organization. The draft of a letter to be sent to the business men of the city was read and approved. A request was made to recognize union labor and to promote the sale of union-made goods as much as possible. The constitution and by-laws presented by a committee of Mrs. H. Mulvey, Minneapolis Council, No. 758, Knights and Ladies of Security, has elected the following officers: President, C. W. Brandon; vice-president, B. H. Mulvey; secretary, W. F. POLICE RECIPROCIITY

Departments of Twins Cities Will Operate in Harmony in Making Crooks "Be Good."

St. Paul System Heretofore Has Been to Harbor Men Who Preyed on Minneapolis.

According to plans said to have been made by Superintendent of Police Ed J. Conroy of Minneapolis, and Chief of Police John J. O'Connor of St. Paul, the twin cities are expected by the twin city police to be mutually free from crime for the next two years. The plan is to broaden the policy of Chief O'Connor, whose system is simply to keep in touch with the underworld, allowing its people to reside unmolested in St. Paul, with the understanding that they are to do no "work" there. There has never been any mention of Minneapolis in these St. Paul agreements, and as a natural result Minneapolis has been considered a good field for St. Paul crooks.

With harmony between the departments of the twin cities, it is said a new rule will be established, Chief O'Connor will notify the crooks in St. Paul that they are no longer to consider Minneapolis legitimate territory. In other words, Chief O'Connor will help in practicing Minneapolis as well as St. Paul. In return, Superintendent of Police Conroy will establish a similar system. He will call in those known to be crooks and give them a chance of emigrating or agreeing to do no "work" in either city.

Of course, crooks will not be protected. They will be allowed to live in the twin cities without being molested until they are caught and can be convicted of crimes. No questions will be asked them concerning their dealings in the twin cities but if they are wanted for crimes committed in any other place, they will be turned over to justice without a minute's delay.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN DINE

Annual Banquet of Association—Handsome Banner Presented.

There was a "4-11" call at the Hotel Brunswick Saturday evening, the entire force of the Minneapolis Volunteer Firemen's association, including the firemen, gathered at the annual banquet of a hundred men who literally "ran" to fires forty years ago and worked hand pumps, swapped yarns and described the serious and humorous life in Minneapolis in the "early days."

Fred Barrows told one on Captain John Tapper of the fire brigade. When there was a fire on the main line, he and the volunteers of St. Anthony would come across the flimsy suspension bridge on a dog trot, the captain would exclaim: "Hang on, boys, the bridge is breaking. If you run across this bridge in step you'll break it down."

The association received a handsome banner, purchased from the city, and a dance given recently at Station A engine house. Emil Ferrant made the presiding speech.

Among those who responded to the toasts were Mayor J. C. Hayes, Chief of Police E. J. Conroy, Fire Chief J. R. Canterbury, Judge H. G. Hicks, George A. Bruckett, Captain John Tapper, Alderman A. S. - - - - -
