

The Savings Bank of Minneapolis

Has discovered two things during the past year.

- First: That there is abundant room for it to do a large business.
 - Second: That its methods have attracted the most intelligent class of Savings Bank Depositors.
- The Bank accepts deposits of $1.00 and up on Pass Book Accounts. Interest, 3 per cent, on sums left a full quarter.
- It also issues 5 per cent Certificates of Deposit in sums of $100 or multiples thereof left till first January next. Interest begins on the first of each month.
- Banking hours: Daily 10 a. m. till 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. till noon. Extra Monday evenings, 6 till 8 p. m.

A meeting of all the members of the Garfield Republican club will be held Thursday evening, Feb. 12, at the hall with the Lincoln Day address.

Harvey Anderson, a milk dealer fell into an elevator shaft at T. M. Roberts' supply house yesterday and received painful injuries in the back. He was taken to St. Barnabas hospital.

The fire department was summoned to extinguish a chimney fire in the residence of Mrs. Agusta Fanning, 2120 Third avenue S. last night. The house is quarantined for smallpox, but the firemen worked as usual.

C. B. Shove was installed as president of the Fourth Ward Republican club last evening at the club's famous wigwam. The occasion brought out a large share of the members. One of the chief events of the program was the burning of the mortgage on the wigwam. The retiring president, P. D. Boutwell, modestly received the congratulations of those present on his appointment as colonel of the governor's staff.

The fire committee is due to have another session over the award of contracts for $8,000 worth of hose. At a meeting a week ago, H. F. Brown received the large end of the contract in behalf of a California house. Alderman Lane balked when the report was drawn up for the committee. Disappointed bidders are now charging that the committee simply played favorites with no regard for the best of the city's interests.

The "absent" list is a long one at the public schools these days on account of the prevalence of grip among the school children. The disease generally takes the form this year of severe cold. The rule is not attended with the serious results which have followed its visitation in the past. Scholars suffering from grip are kept out of school, on an average, about a week. The disease is also falling victims to influenza up to date. Few cases of diphtheria, scarlet fever or other contagious diseases are reported.

Frank Holmes, a single man residing at the Mitteny farm near this city, has just made public the contents of his will. It divides his property equally between Miss Cora Kjolseth and Miss Christina Flaig, two girls he met in the city. He says his estate consists of 120 acres in Colorado and a life insurance policy. Holmes was injured by a fall a few weeks ago, and, imagining that he was nearing his end, he made his will in the city. The cause he was acquainted with and considered them "nice girls." He is still able to do about his work and the girls think it a little reason to fear that he will die soon.

BETTER AMBULANCE SERVICE

The C. and C. Board Plans to Provide for Emergency Cases.

At the meeting of the board of charities and corrections last evening the hospital committee of the city physician was asked to request the council police commission to permit the use of the health department ambulance in caring for emergency cases. Quarters will be fitted up on the third floor of the city hospital for the accommodation of patients suffering from temporary mental derangement, at a cost not to exceed $125.

The secretary was authorized to receive bids for the removal of the frame dwelling at Sixth street and Seventh avenue S which has been used as an emergency hospital.

The workhouse committee was authorized to rent such land in the immediate vicinity of the workhouse as may be desired to framing purposes.

One of the workhouse guards was named as successor to Wade, the "Black Maria" driver who recently gave inmates of his vehicle such a wild ride.

POPULAR BANQUETING PLACE

Long List of Banquets Scheduled to Take Place at Commercial Club This Month.

Wednesday evening the Twin City Shoe Manufacturing association will banquet at the Commercial club. Thursday night the Minneapolis branch of the St. John's Alumni association will hold its first annual banquet at the club. Secretary E. J. Westlake's list calls for a banquet of the Engineers' club Feb. 16, of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity Feb. 18, and of the Sons of the American Revolution Feb. 22. The next affair will be the complimentary hop and concert for the women of Fort Snelling, Feb. 23. The month will close with a dinner Feb. 27 for the members of the standing committees.

The New Minneapolis Federal Building.

AS IT WILL LOOK WHEN THE TWO ADDITIONAL STORIES ARE PUT ON—WORK TO BEGIN THIS SPRING.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Herewith is presented a picture of the Minneapolis federal building, as it will look when enlarged in accordance with legislation secured by Representative Loren Fletcher. With the $250,000 appropriated the roof of the present structure is to be removed and two stories added. The entire first and second stories will be assigned to the post office. The postmaster's room, money order office and registry division, and a portion of the mailing-room will be located on the second floor. The third floor will be used for general offices, and the courtroom now located on the second floor, will be placed on the fourth floor, the rooms themselves extending up through the fifth story. The judge's room, room for the clerk of courts, attorneys, etc., will be placed on the fourth floor, while room for the weather bureau, juries, etc., will be provided on the fifth floor.

The additional height of the building, located as it is among high office buildings, will be a very great improvement in its external appearance. The supervising Architect Taylor expects to have the contract on the market some time within the next ten days, and the work of remodeling the building in accordance with the plans decided upon will be commenced early in the spring. As a preliminary, however, he has already called for proposals for placing temporary floors in the present courtrooms. These rooms are two stories in height, and it is proposed to put these temporary floors at the second story level, and to bring the officials and clerks from the present top story down to this space, where they will remain until the improvements are completed.

DOUBLE ENTRY CARS

Sixteen Vehicles of the New Type Now in Process of Construction.

The New Design Calculated to Save Half the Time in Stops.

Sixteen street cars of the new type which is expected to save 50 per cent of the time now used in loading and unloading are already on the stocks in the shops of the Twin City Rapid Transit company at Thirty-second street and Blaisdell avenues. They are in various stages of construction, but none is yet completed.

The cars look much more palatial than those now in use because of the commodious front and rear vestibules, each being a foot longer than the old type. The outside door of the motorman's cab is ten inches wider than in the former style car allowing passengers easy entrance to the car from the front end in emergencies, as during the state fair, when portable steps may be placed to assist the passenger in. A sliding door opens from the cab into the car. The rear door is eight inches wider than before, allowing ingress and egress of passengers at the same time without crowding.

A new feature, not mentioned in the description of the new car published some time ago in The Journal, is a polished metal grip in the back of each of the cross car seats to give the standing passenger a strong grip when the cars stop or start suddenly and on curves. The outside corner of each seat is cut out and replaced with the metal handle.

The separation of incoming and outgoing passengers is accomplished by a low handrail. Both entrance and exit gates will work with one movement of the driver's arm, in such a way that should they strike anyone they will close of themselves without injury to the person struck.

F. C. SCHIFFMAN RETIRES

He Turns the Office of Oil Inspector Over to His Successor.

Fred C. Schiffman conducted the office of state oil inspector under the new salary law for three weeks, turning over the department to Fenton G. Warner Jan. 21. Mr. Schiffman settled with the state yesterday, turning in $1,371.75 in cash, and a pay roll for forty deputies, for the month of January. It amounted to $1,892.21, leaving a balance of $78.54, which he is carrying over to his successor, Mr. Warner's salary of $200 a month, and the incidental expenses, the remainder going into a separate fund.

PUMPED HIMSELF OUT

After Saving His Own Life a Doctor Attends a Social Function.

The story is told of a well-known university medical professor, who, while on his way to a social function in St. Paul Saturday evening, suddenly recollected that he had left his car in a garage with the engine running. He had probably swallowed a large dose of a strong solution of arsenic. He was "several blocks on his way" when his mind suddenly "checked up" in this unusual fashion without anything to suggest that he had made such a frightful mistake, unless it was the fact that the arsenic refused to sit as lightly upon his stomach as the grip medicine. Anyway, the man of science suddenly had a mental vision of himself reaching into the wrong shelf in the cupboard and "dipping" himself with the wrong bottle.

All these reflections passed through his mind like a flash. He concluded that he was in need of a medical attendant, and he immediately detailed himself on the case. His next move was to stop the car and hurry to the patient's residence, which fortunately happened along at that moment. Feeling the patient's pulse the while, the doctor concluded that the poison had taken its deadly grip, yet, although, with a grave shake of the head, he admitted that the dose was large enough to kill five men. Then he consulted his watch to see how long he had to live or prolong life.

"I must get that drug out of my stomach in the next three minutes," was his mental exclamation, "or the main object of my arrival at this residence, where I am ceremoniously into his room, after informing the family that he had a poison case to attend to, and vigorously applied the stomach pump.

The pump did the business, and satisfied that there was no longer any arsenic to be pumped out, the professor, after having just stepped out of the shadow of death, he passed a most delightful evening.

IT HAS PAID WELL

An Institution That Has Been Doing Much for Home Builders and Investors.

The Minneapolis Savings and Loan Association for the last 18 years has not only been a successful institution, but the depositors are secured by $500,000 of first mortgages on real estate in Hennepin county, having a cash value of $1,000,000. The association has no financial institution in the northwest loans money on safer principles, and the best evidence of that is the fact that the association has increased its assets to $2,000,000 on real estate in Hennepin county, and it has no real estate on hands as the result of foreclosure.

The officers and the relative security, Hans Simonson and D. A. Lydard, vice presidents; P. M. Endaley, secretary and treasurer; F. C. Harney, attorney, and the following are the directors: L. T. POLITICS BEHIND IT

The Appointment of F. N. Stacy to Aid in Checking Up Revolving Fund.

Question Raised as to Why a Democrat With Aspirations Should Have Been Named.

Politics appears to have been behind the appointment of F. N. Stacy as assistant to P. S. Dickey in the prospective checking up of the permanent improvement revolving fund for a deficit. It is regarded as somewhat significant that a former democrat, who has been in the city for some time, should have been commissioned to "assist" Mr. Dickey in looking over the controller's books in order to find the deficit and to suggest corrections in the system under which such a shortage has been made possible. Mr. Stacy is known to be still casting longing eyes upon the controller's office. The democratic majority on the committee on accounts of public officials was quick to realize the golden opportunity to groom Mr. Stacy for the controllership. That is doubtless the reason why Alderman Lars Rand, "Pete" McCoy, James Dwyer and Westphal were so insistent upon Stacy's appointment.

Mr. Stacy's duties were not clearly defined. Mr. Dickey, it appears, is to check up the revolving fund, and in a vague way it was understood that Mr. Stacy would be of as much assistance as possible and take an occasional look into some other part of the city's accounts, the object, of course, is to fathom the extent and nature of the revolving fund deficit, the investigation of the books of other departments being merely an afterthought apparently.

Mr. Rogers evidently suspected that there was a political move on when Stacy's name was mentioned, for he promptly instructed his subordinates not to pay any attention to Stacy when he came around, and thus far the latter has not ventured into the controller's office. Alderman McCoy says that it was with the idea of making the investigation appear non-partisan that both the republican and democratic parties were represented in the appointment of Messrs. Dickey and Stacy.

UNKNOWN MAN DIES

Was Being Taken from a Saloon to the City Hospital—Remains at the Morgue.

An unidentified man died while he was being taken from a saloon at 1607 Washington avenue S, to the city hospital in the patrol wagon last night. His remains were taken to the county morgue, where they await identification. The stranger entered the saloon about 6 o'clock and fell down in the billiard-room. A few minutes later he became ill and started to leave the place, when he fell to the floor. The patrol wagon was summoned.

The man was a laborer about 40 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighed about 160 pounds. He was light-complexioned and more a gray mustache.

First Ward Residents Protest Against Removing Garbage Crematory to New Site.

First ward citizens objected at the health committee meeting yesterday to the location of the municipal crematory on Hall's Island, because its establishment there would have an unsanitary effect on the neighborhood, and because it would depreciate real values.

Health Commissioner Hall declared that it had already been conclusively demonstrated that the crematory would not be offensive in any way to residents on the east side of the river. It was shown also that only a few of the garbage wagons would pass through the first ward. Most of the wagons will reach the crematory through Second street on the West Side. No action was taken on the two bids for the removal of the incinerators from Forty-second avenue N to the island.
