

ROCKEFELLER'S OBJECTIONS

One Clause of the Nelson Amendment Which He Considers Vicious. But He Believes It Has Already Been Declared to Be Unconstitutional.

New York Star Special Service.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—William E. Curtis in a Washington special to the Record-Herald says: "Now that the dust has blown away and the tempest in the capital has subsided, it appears that Mr. Rockefeller and the Standard Oil company did not object and have never objected to the publicity section of the department of commerce act, but only to a single sentence in one section. Mr. Rockefeller not only consents that the Standard Oil company be placed under federal supervision and would be very glad to recognize and consolidate the several branches of that great corporation in a single company, if he could obtain an act of incorporation from congress. Nor has he or any one representing him expressed a different view or wish to have any member of either house of congress."

It is true that his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., H. H. Rogers, John D. Archibald and Mr. Dodd, the general counsel, did send telegrams last Friday to a number of senators and representatives with whom they have a personal acquaintance, stating that the Standard Oil company objected to certain provisions in the Nelson amendment and would send its attorney to Washington to explain the reasons.

Nearly all of the senators and representatives receiving the telegrams have seen fit to deny that they received them, for fear somebody might think they had intimate relations with the great octopus, but Mr. Rockefeller, Jr., and Mr. Rogers do not hesitate to say that they sent signed telegrams and are at a loss to understand why the newspapers have made so much fuss about it. They claim that the Standard Oil company has just as good a right to protect itself as any other corporation, and that the Nelson amendment is a great political sensation out of this episode are demagogues deserving only of contempt.

One of the most intimate friends of Mr. Rockefeller tells me that Mr. Rockefeller had never objected to the general publicity provision, but on the contrary approved of it. He did object, however, to the clause in the Nelson amendment which authorizes the commissioner of corporations to search the records, correspondence and accounts of private corporations which are not included for publication.

Mr. Rockefeller believes that such authority should not be entrusted to any official of the government without an order from a court. This authority is likely to be abused and taken advantage of by any corrupt or dishonest agent of the new bureau of corporations, and under this provision, will be able to ascertain the most valuable business and manufacturing secrets of commercial and industrial corporations and make any use of them he desires.

Mr. Rockefeller believes that this clause is unconstitutional and that it comes under the decision of the supreme court some years ago, which denied the right of congress to search the books and records of a firm concerning matters which in no way pertained to the government.

The attorneys of the Standard Oil company are of the opinion that if it is ever tested in court it will vitiate the entire publicity law.

Nor is Mr. Rockefeller opposed to the Elkins anti-rebate bill, which has passed the senate and now pending in the house. He will go so far as to encourage its passage.

YANKEE FLOUR USED

Pleasant Report From the Consul at Malta.

From The Journal Bureau, Room 45, Post Building, Washington.

Washington, Feb. 13.—John H. Groat, consul at Valletta, Malta, informs the state department that there has been a large increase in the sales of American flour in the island since a year ago and that the prospects for further increase are very flattering. It is believed that the steamship connection between the United States and the island. Much of the flour received at Malta from Liverpool is also of American origin, but there is no tracing this or of getting the exact figures.

THREE NEW STARS

Cortelyou, Barnes and Loeb Congratulated.

Washington, Feb. 13.—At the brilliant army and navy reception at the White House last night General Bruce Cortelyou was the recipient of almost as much attention as the president himself. The White House guests crowded around the secretary to the president to congratulate him on his certain appointment as secretary to the new department of commerce.

The suggestion of the appointment of Benjamin F. Barnes as assistant secretary is also well received. He has been the assistant of Mr. Cortelyou for some time and is well known. Mr. Cortelyou preferred a man who could give him the greatest possible assistance in establishing his department and as his right hand man preferred his chief assistant.

The appointment of Loeb as secretary to the president is expected. He has been with Mr. Roosevelt a number of years and knows more of his inner life than does any other man.

ITALY'S DELAY NOW

The Venezuelan Negotiations Are Held Up Pending a Reply From Rome. English Papers Feel Hurt to See Germany Walking Off With the Plunder.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The delay in closing the Venezuelan negotiations is now being felt by the German government. The delay is caused by the fact that the German government is waiting for a reply from Rome. The delay is not great, for all of the parties seem now earnestly desirous to settle this first preliminary stage of the earliest possible moment for humanitarian reasons if for no others, as there is every evidence of intense distress at Caracas.

ENGLISH PAPERS "SORE"

They Dislike to See Germany Walk Off With the Plunder.

London, Feb. 13.—The newspapers here are much dissatisfied because Germany is to receive $400,000 from Venezuela and England only $27,500. Germany is admitted, has every reason to chuckle. The Daily Mail says the net result of the alliance is that the relations of England and the United States have been seriously embarrassed at a time when the mutual sentiment is unusually friendly and when American opinion was beginning to favor the idea of a British alliance that to the continent this country has been exhibited as still in German leading strings, to the injury of British interests outside of America; that the great expense of the Castro has been shown that it is twelve times as serious a matter to injure Germany as to injure England and that the British alliance has been made the laughing stock of the world.

The dispatches confirm the statement repeatedly made by English writers like Mr. Robert Cecil, that the British and German claims for which cash payments were demanded were essentially different and ought not to have been classed together. This was a detail which Lord Lansdowne's observation when the ironclad agreement was made with Germany. A feeling of profound relief will follow the announcement that the matter has been raised by Germany to a satisfactory settlement has been removed.

VERY WARM INDIAN TIME

Plan to Abolish Certain Agencies in the Northwest Is Approved.

Washington, Feb. 13.—A war dance was held in the senate committee on Indian affairs yesterday over the annual appropriation bill for the maintenance of the Indian bureau.

A suggestion was advanced to eliminate from the service a number of agencies in the form of Indian agencies in different parts of the United States.

Canton Asylum Doomed.

Another thing that contributed to the defeat of the occasion was the recommendation of the subcommittee that no appropriation should be provided for the maintenance of the asylum for Indians at Canton, S. D. This was also inspired by the Indian commissioner.

The action of the subcommittee was followed by an animated discussion in which it was developed that there are more than 100 Indian agencies in the United States and the prominence given this institution will undoubtedly result in its ultimate conversion into a school establishment.

The sum and substance of the deliberations of the committee, so far as agencies are concerned, was the abolishment of several of them, the maintenance of the others, and the establishment of new ones at Earth, Minn.; Berthold, S. D., and Sisseton, S. D.

Indian Commissioner Jones was anxious for the discontinuance of several of the agencies in the Dakotas, but the committee declined to grant his request. The commissioner is quite satisfied with his work before the committee, and is but the beginning of his campaign in the direction of having Indian agencies placed in charge of bonded school superintendents. Wherever the agencies are abolished it is the purpose of the commissioner to place the present agents in charge as bonded superintendents, as they are competent to perform their duties.

Red Lake Lands.

Provision is made in the bill for the cession to the government of the eleven townships on the western portion of the Red Lake reservation.

The committee refused to incorporate in the measure the treaties with the Rosebud and Devils Lake Indians providing for the purchase of lands in South and North Dakota for the reason that these measures carry direct appropriations. The amendment relating to the Red Lake reservation provides for the sale of the lands to the Indians in tracts of not less than 160 acres for each individual. The minimum price is fixed at $4 an acre. One-fifth must be paid at the time the bid is made, and the balance in five equal installments.

Of the amount realized from the sale of their lands the Indians are to receive $300,000 in cash per capita and the remainder in fifteen annual installments.

Provision is also made for the removal of the Red Lake Indians to their diminished reservation. Before this act becomes operative it must be approved by the Indians belonging to the reservation.

The bill also contains a provision referring the various claims of the Chippewa Indians against the United States to the court of claims.

Another amendment provides for the establishment of an Indian agricultural college at Wahpeton, N. D. $100,000 being appropriated for the purpose.

THE EIGHTH KEG BILL

Senator Nelson Out After It With a Gun.

From The Journal Bureau, Room 45, Post Building, Washington.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Senator Nelson will oppose the passage of the bill to force brewers from putting up beer in one eighth barrels and making the smallest fraction of a barrel the sixth. This bill has passed the house and is designed to help the brewers who want to increase their bottle trade. It is inimical to the interests of the small brewers who make more or less of a specialty of the eighth keg in supplying country trade. Senator Nelson has succeeded in defeating this legislation in the past, although strong pressure was brought to bear to secure its adoption. The senator said to-day he did not know what the outcome would be, but as the session is so near the close, there is a good prospect that he will be able to prevent its passage, thus forcing the big brewers to make their fight all over again, as all bills that fail of passage before March 4 die with the congress.

WORK THAT HASN'T

The State Drainage Commission Reports on the Last Two Years' Operations. Some $3,000 Acres Have Been Benefitted—Financial Betterment Estimated at $248,000.

Engineer George A. Ralph in charge of the drainage work in the northwestern part of the state for the last two years has submitted a detailed report on his work, which was approved by the commission. The report is a summary of the work done during the last two years. It shows that the commission has benefited some $3,000 acres of land and has estimated a financial betterment of $248,000.

The Lost River ditch in Polk and Beltrami counties is 3.7 miles long and cost $3,867.24. It benefits 20,000 acres and has enhanced the value of the land from $3 to $10 per acre, or an increase of $7 per acre. It drains 4,000 acres of low swampy land and will convert a bog into tillable land.

Yeager Lake ditch is five miles long and cost $5,230.54. It flows into the Crow river and drains land which was annually overflowed. Over 3,000 acres of state land and 10,000 acres of private lands are benefited.

Edwardville ditch in Red Lake county is five miles in length and cost $3,010. It drains 5,000 acres and the land is selling from $3 to $14 per acre.

Badger and Skunk Creek ditch in Roseau county is 3.3 miles long and drains into the Roseau river passing through rich prairie land. It drains 20,000 acres including 4,000 acres of low swampy land and school lands. The cost was $12,361.95.

Goodhope ditch in Norman county is 2.1 miles long furnishing an outlet for 2,000 acres of county and township ditches. The cost was $5,287.77.

New Solum, in Marshall county, ditch is four miles long and cost $7,755.77. It drains 2,000 to 4,000 acres, increasing the value of state lands by at least $10,000.

Grand Marais ditch in Polk county is a mile in length and cost $1,839.55. It drains 1,000 acres of low swampy land and will convert a bog into tillable land.

Silver Leaf ditch, in Becker county, is two miles long and cost $878.75. It drains 2,000 acres, the state lands being increased in value by not less than $4,000.

Gun Lake ditch, in Aitkin county, is 5.5 miles long, costing $5,886.80. The state owns 12,000 acres in this section, of which 5,000 acres were sold last fall at an average price of $3 or $3 over the appraisal.

The total construction in the last two years is 38.6 miles, and the total cost is $44,956.18. The number of acres benefited is $3,000 acres and the estimated benefits will be $248,000. The advantage to the state being $94,500.

The report of George A. Ralph is supplemented by a report from the drainage commission stating that Mr. Ralph has been too conservative by far in estimating values, as some of the state lands, instead of selling at an increase of $3 per acre over the appraisal value of $5 have been sold for $11 or $12 per acre. The state is benefited at least $33,000 worth.

A State Art Society.

The senate committee on education has recommended for passage the McGill bill creating an art school in the state capital. The bill provides for the establishment of an art school in the state capital. The primary object of the society will be to foster native art.

IRELAND ON AMERICA

Patriotic Speech at the Banquet Given by the Chicago Lincoln Club.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Archbishop Ireland was the guest of honor at a banquet given at the Auditorium Hotel by the Lincoln Club. He said in part:

"The republic is what she is because she has vitally remained what Lincoln bade her to be, a government of the people and by the people and for the people. This is what she must remain if she is still to live and reign. The vital principles of democracy must remain with her, for they are the basis of her life and the basis of the life of the world."

The Lure

McGILL A HUMORIST

He Had His Joke Even Under Penalty of Being Called Irreverent.

Senator Durant Submits a Bill Providing Appropriation for the State's Prison.

PROCEEDINGS TO-DAY

SENATE—Mr. Stephens proposes a constitutional amendment permitting the state to insure crops against hail.

HOUSE—Not in session. Meets again Monday, 2 p. m.

Senator Sam Lord's perseverance in his attempt at long recesses gave Senator A. B. McGill an opportunity to perpetrate a rather clever though possibly irrelevant pun this morning. Early in the session a motion was made by Senator Benson that when the senate adjourn it be until Tuesday morning. Senator Lord promptly objected and called for the eyes and nays in order to place the motion on record. The motion was lost, 16 to 23.

It was then by a narrow margin of 20 to 18 voted to make the time for the next session Monday at 11. Later on Senator Schaller called attention to the fact that the members living along the Milwaukee railway would be compelled to break off their slumbers at 3 to 6 a. m. in order to be in time to attend the session. He also called attention to the Duluth line for the session was postponed to 3 p. m.

When the business for to-day had been transacted Senator McGill calmly arose and drove motion.

"That the senate do now adjourn, the Lord being willing."

Senator A. B. McGill followed up his bill legislating the mutual hail and cyclone insurance companies out of existence with a proposal for a constitutional amendment authorizing state hail and cyclone insurance. "The senate section follows:

Section 17. The legislature is hereby authorized to levy an annual tax on growing crops in this state for the purpose of creating an insurance fund against damage to crops by hailstorms and to provide the manner of handling and of distributing the same.

Funds for the Prison.

From Senator E. W. Durant came a bill appropriating $54,000 for the state prison at Stillwater. The bill is badly overworked and hampered greatly by lack of convenience. The items are:

Ward for insane criminals.....$25,000
Maintenance of cell house.....20,000
Ward for 100 prisoners.....2,000
Repairs for 1904.....2,000

A Blow at St. Paul J. P.'s.

McNamee started trouble for his own people by introducing a measure authorizing any person to serve summons from justice courts without fee.

It is understood that the bill is aimed directly at the justices of St. Paul and will deprive them of some rather fat fees.

DEMAND CONSIDERATION

Friends of Stone Bill Will Contest Committee Action.

Representative Ward Stone's bill to require the consent of the railroad commission to advances in rates, which was voted down by the house railroad committee Wednesday, will be the subject of a hot fight in the senate today. The committee makes its report. As told in The Journal yesterday, the friends of the bill say it has not had proper consideration. They will insist that it be placed on the calendar for "race suicide."

"No good Catholic can fail to sympathize with the view given by the president. The faithful adherence to the laws of nature is held almost as sacred by the church as the strict obedience to her own rules."

"While the church sanctions celibacy in priests and nuns, it is an act of self-sacrifice to enable them to devote their whole time, their whole lives, to the work of the church."

NEW SENATE BILLS.

S. F. 188, Durant—Appropriating $54,000 for new buildings and repairs at the Stillwater prison.

S. F. 189, Wilson (by request)—Amending chapter 314, Laws of 1900, requiring railways to provide cabooses with toilet-rooms for freight trains, so as to partition off room for passengers.

S. F. 190, McNamee—Prohibiting fees to be charged for service of summons in justice courts.

S. F. 191, Stephens—Proposing an amendment to the state constitution authorizing the levy of an annual tax on growing crops for the purpose of creating a hail and cyclone insurance fund against damage to crops by hail storms.

"While the church sanctions celibacy in priests and nuns, it is an act of self-sacrifice to enable them to devote their whole time, their whole lives, to the work of the church."
