MILWAUKEE OBJECTS

Chamber of Commerce Men Opposed to Wisconsin-Dakota Inspection at Superior.

Another Hearing to Be Held at a Session of the Committee Thursday Night.

Special to The Journal.

Madison, Wis., March 4.—Strenuous opposition has developed to the grain inspection bill in Milwaukee among members of the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce. Sentiment is apparently divided on the Milwaukee board, however, with the majority largely in favor of inspection in Superior. The Milwaukee elevator interests have suddenly become active and at their request the joint committees on state affairs will hold a special session Thursday night to give them a hearing.

Robert Eliot, George H. Johnston, the Milwaukee Elevator company and the North-Western elevator management have asked for a hearing in opposition to the measure. The nature of the opposition has not fully developed, but it is understood that the Milwaukee men fear an inspection at Superior will in some way affect the interests of the Milwaukee elevators and to some extent the operations of members of the Chamber of Commerce.

The request for a hearing was presented through Senator Rogers, a member of the Milwaukee board, who says the board is heartily in favor of a Wisconsin inspection and that the two sides will come to Madison Thursday night. It will be the last public hearing that will be had on the measure, as both committees are anxious to report it to their respective houses.

Equal Suffrage a Winner.

Woman suffrage will probably be favorably recommended to both houses by the committees on privileges and elections, with the prospects for passage most favorable. For more than three hours yesterday afternoon the advocates of the measure held sway in the senate chamber. There was no one possessed of sufficient temerity to run the risk of exciting the derision and scorn of the three score of enthusiastic club women who had gathered to present arguments.

Woman suffrage has been argued four times before at sessions of the legislature, and the arguments presented yesterday did not differ in the main from the line of argument begun when the first bill came up for consideration. There was more vehemence, more material and more logic and a better mode of presentation, one that evoked general admiration and, on the part of some, much enthusiasm.

Among those who addressed the committee were Mrs. V. H. Campbell, Janesville; Rev. Olympia Brown Willis, Racine; Mrs. Dr. Maude Saunders, Racine; Dr. Annette Shaw, Eau Claire; Mrs. Catherine McCullough, Chicago; Mrs. E. M. Hanchett, Madison; Mrs. A. B. Smith, Amos P. Wilder and Rev. E. G. Updike, Madison. Mrs. McCullough's address in particular attracted attention. She is an attorney and presented the constitutional side of the question.

Fees Must Be Turned In.

After amending the Barker bill, requiring the commissioner of insurance to turn all fees into the state treasury, so as to provide that the law shall not become effective until Jan. 3, 1905, the committee in finance, banks and insurance decided to report the bill for passage and it was so presented in the assembly this morning. Under the amendment the bill will go into effect at the expiration of Commissioner Host's term.

The first of the reform bills to receive its quietus was put to sleep after a good deal of discussion by the committee on state affairs, being that seeking to punish saloonkeepers and others who sell liquor without a license by imprisonment in place of by fine. The vote for indefinite postponement was four to three, Messrs. Williams, Chandler and Fridd voting against it.

The cause of organized labor received a setback at the hands of the committee on manufactures when Mr. LeRoy's bill, abolishing the permit system of child labor, was recommended for indefinite postponement by unanimous vote.

Trade Combinations Exposed.

J. E. Cass, an Eau Claire druggist, gave the assembly judiciary committee an insight into the practical workings of trade combinations yesterday after in an argument for the passage of the Lang bill, "relating to combinations and agreements made in restaint of trade, and to the proof necessary and damages recoverable in civil actions brought to recover damages by reason thereof."

Mr. Cass became "persona non grata" with the drug trust people—in other words, went on their black list—in a rather peculiar way. "After I had lost $22,000 by giving credit," he told the committee, "I established a cash system, and discounted the regular price 10 per cent to people who paid cash for their goods." The next difficulty he encountered was in obtaining goods to sell. He was cut off from the "approved list" because he had cut prices, and even the wholesalers who were willing to sell him goods were afraid to do so. He wrote to two Milwaukee wholesale firms offering business of $8,000 a year, and they wrote back that they could not furnish him with goods unless he joined the association.

There is still another feature of the combine, Mr. Cass said. "A druggist can not make proprietary remedies of which he is the patentee, and retain membership in the association. They would come in competition with trust medicines, and that isn't allowed."

The committee postponed action on the bill until Thursday, when another hearing will be held.

STOPPED BY INJUNCTION

How a Strike on the Wabash Was Prevented—The Men Respect the Writ.

St. Louis, March 4.—An injunction granted by Judge Adams of the United States district court yesterday prevented the culmination of the threatened strike of the 1,100 firemen and trainmen of the Wabash railroad for higher wages.

As the result of the poll during the past week among the employes over the question of striking in case President Ramsey refused to grant demanded wage concessions on the Wabash east of the Mississippi rivers, the engineers and conductors refused to participate in a strike, but the firemen and trainmen favored it emphatically. Their committees yesterday notified President Ramsey that he would have until noon to grant their demands.

In the afternoon President Ramsey requested a little more time and the two committees granted him until 5 o'clock to make final reply. Before the allotted time had expired President Ramsey secured a restraining order from the court and it was served on all the officials of all the orders and members of the grievance committees. The injunction was a most sweeping instrument and effectually blocked any strike proceedings. In part it reads:

We, therefore, do strictly command you, until the further order of the court, absolutely to desist and refrain from in any way or manner ordering, coercing, persuading, inducing or otherwise causing, directly or indirectly, the employes of the said Wabash Railway company to strike or quit the service of said company.

In a letter to the grievance committees President Ramsey declared that his road was paying as much wages as were competing lines, and that if it could be shown otherwise changes would promptly be made.

Grand Master Morrissey of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, gave out a statement last night in which he said that the injunction was law until it was dissolved and would be recognized. He said:

While we view the action of the court as subversive of American right and privileges, and we believe it contrary to common justice and fairness, we utter no defiance to its mandate and indulge in no heroics. We will, however, contest the proceeding to the end, for, if Judge Adams' order is written into the laws of our country, organization of labor, which is to-day the hope and protection of those who toil, can no longer contribute its beneficent influences in bettering the condition of the working people.

CHOLERA INFANTUM DOPE

An Anti-Toxin Which May Save Baby.

Baltimore, March 4.—Another "great discovery," the anti-toxin which shall destroy the germs of cholera infantum, has been announced by Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research.

It was the death of his grandson that turned Mr. Rockefeller's attention to the absolute inability of the medical profession to cope with this disease that annually carries off many thousands of infants, and resulted in the plans for the establishment of the laboratory and hospital that is to be built in New York.

Last fall the announcement that two students of the Johns Hopkins medical school had discovered the germ which caused the death of millions of children was received. It was then stated that the energies of the investigators would be directed toward the discovery of a serum which would destroy the bacilli.

In one of the private lecture rooms of the Johns Hopkins hospital Dr. Simon Flexner and Dr. J. H. M. Knox, of the hospital staff, have declared as the result of their investigations the qualities of the needed serum had been discovered and that th perfecting of it would occupy but a few months longer.

Dr. Flexner declared that before the end of 1906 the anti-toxin would be ready for practical use and given to the world.

ADMIRAL STRIKES

Why Commodore Crowninshield Has Had Enough.

Washington, March 3.—The request of Rear Admiral Arent Schuyler Crowninshield, comamnding the European squadron, asking to be placed on the retired list of the navy under the provisions of the personnel law, will be granted. Lieutenant Henry H. Ward, naval secretary to Admiral Crowninshield, has resigned his commission.

Rear Admiral Charles T. Cotton, commandant of the navy yard at Norfolk, Va., was assigned to the command of the European squadron and will relinquish his present duty at once and start for Europe.

The trouble with Crowninshield was that he was dissatisfied with the rearrangement of the armored squadrons following the Caribbean maneuvers last winter, which deprived him of the further use of the Illinois as a flagship.

Admiral Crowninshield is now No. 20 on the list of rear admirals, and thus in the junior grade, so that his retirement will place him in the first grade, where his retired pay will be $5,625 per annum, or $1,500 more than he would receive were he retired in his present grade.

It was said at the navy department later in the day that Secretary Moody had cabled an acceptance of Admiral Crowninshield's request to retire.
