The World's Best Spring Medicine

The blood plays an important part in our physical economy, and in a liquid state, constitutes a large part of the entire body. Unhealthy conditions of the life stream affect seriously all parts of the human system. It seems unnecessary to remind intelligent people that, when vitality is low, when the appetite fails, when oppressed by tired feelings and heaviness, when headaches and insomnia make our days miserable and our nights restless, when troubles and eruptions cause alarm, that the condition of the blood calls for prompt attention.

If you have delayed the work of purifying the blood in the past months, you cannot with safety allow the spring time to pass without some effort on your part to rid yourself of poisons and dangers. In the spring season Paine's Celery Compound effectively removes all impurities from the blood, so that the vital fluid goes on its health-restoring mission to heart, lungs, brain and all other parts, making you vigorous and healthy and stronger than ever before.

Mr. T. F. McCarthy, Roxbury, Mass., Post Office Money Order Clerk, and a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus, writes thus:

"I wish to express my appreciation of your most valuable remedy, Paine's Celery Compound. I had been troubled with a violent itching on hands and feet, coupled with swelling, all due to impure blood. After using Paine's Celery Compound three days, the itching and swelling completely disappeared, and after use of one full bottle, I find myself in good health."

Pimples and Blackheads.

A Home Remedy that Cures Pimples, Blackheads and Acne Quickly and Permanently, Has Been Perfected by a Distinguished Chemist.

Full Information Together With the Method is Mailed Free to All Who Write.

A method of treatment that can be used by any person in their own home, for the cure of pimples, blackheads and acne, has been perfected by a well-known Cincinnati chemist. The remedy removes the pimples and eruptions, restores the skin soft and smooth and free from any marks or traces of the pimples or blackheads as could be desired. It cures boys and girls, men and women, whether they are old or young, permanently and positively.

For years skin specialists and doctors have tried to produce a face lotion or skin food or some sort of a cosmetic or face lotion that would cover up or cure pimples, but all failed. The Cincinnati chemist who has at last solved the problem states positively that, after many years of experience in the special study and treatment of thousands of patients suffering severely from pimples, blackheads and acne, he has found a scientific combination, treatment that removes the pimples and eruptions, restores the skin soft and smooth and clean. And he announces through the public press of the country that he will gladly give his method free to all sufferers who write. The readers of this paper may address the Internal Institute, 131 West Building, Cincinnati, Ohio, with a certain that their request will receive prompt attention, as he is the best of that well-known institution and can be relied upon. The method, which is based on the soundest medical principles, is so simple that any person can use it and cure themselves in their own home.

ALL-AMERICANS SHOW
Manager Savage of Castle Square Opera Company Pursues a Patriotic Policy.

Sketches of Principal Singers Show That He Has Given Americans the Preference.

Voices are international, and in building up a grand opera organization, it is the usual procedure to take them where they can be had. The manager provides that they know the repertoire. When Henry W. Savage organized his grand opera company some eight years ago in Boston, he made it his mind that he would, so far as possible, give the American young men and women who had voices the first opportunity and keep his organization as American as possible. He has adhered to this policy and to-day his big grand opera company, which is reputed to be the best English singing organization in this country, if not in the world, has but one foreigner on the roster.

Home Vocal Training.

Adelaide Norwood, one of the principal sopranos of a Boston company, is a native musician and of a musical family. Miss Norwood did not believe that she would ever become a singer until about seven years ago. At that time she was a brilliant pianist and concertist, but she had given her voice but little culture and sang principally for her own amusement. It was not until she was introduced to a well-known teacher of vocal music, who persuaded her to let her try to cultivate her voice. The result is that to-day she has a repertoire of fifty-two operas and a voice which ranges from the bass to G in the altissimo. The G above high C, and it is not only a musical tone that she gets, but she can sustain it in pianissimo. She has never had a collar for her vocal training. All is of the opinion that American girls can do just as well at home as they can by going to the other side of the ocean and spending a lot of money in study.

Miss Gertrude Rennyson, the second of the prima donna sopranos, spent three years studying in Paris with the best masters. She is from Allentown, Pa. Her father was an editor and she herself used to write for publication. Miss Rennyson has a very pure high soprano of remarkable sweetness.

Miss Norma Espinoza, another prima donna soprano of the organization is a new arrival in the company, having been a member of the organization for the past two years. She is from Michigan and for eight years has been studying and singing principally in Italy.

Maude Ramey comes from Arkansas and received all of her musical education in this country.

The other soprano of the organization is Paget Watrous, an Ohio girl who is rapidly making a name for herself.

The Minneapoli Contralto.

Miss Marion Ivel, one of the principal contraltos, is a native of Minnesota, her birthplace being Minneapolis. Strange as it may appear, Miss Ivel started in her stage career as an actress with no intention of ever going into operatic work. The company she was with was playing "As You Like It," and Miss Ivel was singing in the quartet. A musician in the audience heard the deep contralto, and upon questioning, discovered that it belonged to Miss Ivel. He advised her by all means to study vocal music, and she has since then.

Another prima donna contralto of the organization is Ethel Houston Du Pre, a southern girl. She, too, spent a number of years abroad in hard study. Miss Du Pre is a niece of the late Sam Houston of Texas and a cousin on her mother's side of the Jefferson Davis family.

The New Principals.

Joseph Sheehan, whose beautiful tenor voice has caused him to be referred to as "the American De Reszko," is a Boston boy. Mr. Sheehan is one of the few tenors in the world who have transposed their music when it runs to the upper register. A half dozen high C's as easy for him as a single one, and he sings with music, especially when he is in good voice and feeling well, he takes a D or an E flat in altissimo without the slightest suggestion of strain or in hard study. Miss Virginia has also come into the principal tenors of the organization in the person of Lloyd D'Aubigne. He was studying in Boston years ago when his opportunity came. The grand company was singing at the Boston theater and "Faust" was the bill. The entire tenor force of the organization were hors de combat when this young man presented himself and asked for an opportunity. He sang Faust to Mme. Melba's Marguerite so well that Mr. Grau engaged him on the spot and in three years he was a member of the Metropolitan forces. Since then he has been singing in Europe with great success.

Gherardi an Italian.

The single exception in the matter of native birth is in Piero Gherardi, the other principal tenor. Mr. Gherardi is an Italian who has been singing in England. Mr. Gherardi's voice is described as being of beautiful quality, and while not what could be called robust, is still very powerful.

Winfred Goff is a New Yorker. He has sung in nearly every capital in the world. The other baritone, Francis Carrier, is from Albany, N. Y. Mr. Carrier is regarded as one of the coming baritones of the day.

Both of the basses are Americans. J. Francis Boyce is a Colorado product and Parker Coombs is from Maine. Both of these artists have had no instruction away from this country, but both are excellent musicians and have extremely fine voices.

Seeking Promising Recruits.

It has been wondered often just why the chorus of the grand opera company is so good to look at in its feminine membership and so good to look at to hear as well. Mr. Savage is always on the look out for material and frequently visits musical conservatories and to hear promising and ambitious pupils. Aside from this there is no applicant for a position with the company who is not given an opportunity to sing for some member of the staff, and one afternoon in the week in every city there are regular voice trials. The high standard of manners and morals which prevails in all of the Savage organizations is a very high incentive and the training which the successful applicant gets with the organization is of the greatest possible value and at the same time enormous capital to the young singer.

STATUS OF CONTROL BOARD

Pending Case Will Establish Whether It is Amenable to Civil Process.

A suit is now pending in the district court of Goodhue county to determine whether the state board of control is amenable to civil process. The suit was brought by J. W. Brown, former superintendent of the Red Wing training school, who resigned Dec. 15. Owing to a disagreement over the contingent fund, the board refused to pay him the last $75 of his salary, and he brought an action to recover it. An alternative writ of mandamus was issued, which was argued before the board for control by W. J. Donahew, assistant attorney general. He objected to the jurisdiction of the court, holding that the board of control is not a part of the executive department of the state, and, not subject to judicial control. The case was taken under advisement.

Minneapolis "Barkeepers" Say It's the Proper Stunt in Their Profession.

Many of the Best Men in the Business Are Total Abstemious.

"You bet, the barkeepers ought to wear white ribbons," exclaimed a man behind the bar this morning when he had read the glad tidings that town are organizing a temperance society, and are even advocating total abstinence. "Yes, sir, too many of us boys is goin' to booze. Can't expect us to keep from hangin' round saloons and 'sociatin' with a pretty tough crowd, but that's no excuse for bowlin' up regular so far as business wagon every time. Man in our line hasn't no business to drink—Martini, sir? Yes, sir. And you, comel? Ain't not no need swabbin' your face, but you see, the temperance movement ain't properly organized in our saloons. If it wasn't for the Salvation girls, we'd forget the whole world wasn't out for a big drink when the War Cry sort of steadies us, sometimes."

"Yes, it's a good thing, that Jersey City graft. They could organize right here in Minneapolis, but they'd get a dozen charter members 'bout half 'trif." A bunch of the first-class men in abstainers, total abstainers. They've got sense enough to know a fellow who can't hold his liquor straight when he's carryin' a package. Can't keep up his health, neither. And lots of the AI mixers in the hotels and the dead swell places, you see, they're moderate drinkers, but they're moderate drinkers, strictly temperance, you might call 'em. We don't have to be show'd, we don't. We learn our little lesson early."

"Sure, it's a good thing," agreed the head barkeeper at the Nicollet house. "Only it'd be a darn sight finer for the saloon proprietors. Hotel proprietors won't drink with customers at the bar. A good many barkeepers won't. I take a sip now and then, but you can't hire me to take more than two drinks hand running. I've been in the city for twenty years, and though the temperance guys say that we live only eight years, on an average, behind the bar, 'that's a pipe dream."

"Hit's me all right, all right," commented a white robed healer as he adjusted the cherries at the West hotel. "I've been on the wagon for four years steady, and my brother is up there, too. He works with every Tuesday beginning, nobody—not even with the fizz boys that sell wine to the house. Cut out the booze, sonny, cut it out."

Orangeine "Saves the Day." Taken before breakfast "saves the day," before dinner "makes the evening."

SHE MADE A CHANGE.

A Charleston Mother Did So With Advantage to Herself and Children.

A mother living in Charleston, Mass., the happy possessor of four children writes: "Every fall and winter I have laid in a stock of cough remedies, croup mixtures and throat medicines for my children, for somehow or other they never seem to be free from colds, coughs or sore throat."

"This fall I made a change in the usual program. I had myself been cured of an obstinate catarrh, from which I had suffered for years, by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and as they were pleasant to take I determined to try them with my children. Our family physician told me he knew them to be perfectly safe and nothing better could be used for catarrh, coughs and colds."

"So I gave them to the children and have continued to do so ever since, whenever there is the least sign of croup or sore throat and I no longer dread the approach of cold weather as I once did."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets not only cured me of chronic nasal and throat catarrh but they have saved me many an anxious night with my little ones. The children like the taste of them and it is really wonderful how quickly they will break up a croupy, cold or an obstinate, deep seated cough."

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves or washes for catarrh and have found how useless they are, will be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant, convenient, internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets which sell for cents full sized package, is the safest, most effective and popular of catarrh medicines."
