

THE PRESIDENT AT WORK

LATEST PHOTOGRAPH OF MR. ROOSEVELT AT HIS DESK IN THE WHITE HOUSE

This is the latest photograph of the president at work. It was taken but a few weeks ago and shows him in a characteristic attitude. The lines of his face...

It will be noticed, as becoming deeper, his frown is not caused by displeasure, but is rather due to his well-known mannerisms in talking. His emphatic way of...

speech has made lines in his face that as he grows older become more and more characteristic.

speech cars, as will also the Roosevelt club. At the university army, President A. C. Paul of the Commercial club will introduce Mayor Haynes of Minneapolis, and after a brief address he in turn will introduce President Cyrus Northrop of the university, who will preside. During the gathering of the audience, after the doors are thrown open at 7 o'clock, the university band will play and the University Glee club will sing. The president will speak probably a little less than an hour.

Before the army address, if President Northrop is successful in his plan, a short address will be given by the president to the students assembled in the chapel. After the army meeting the reception committee will escort the president to his car at the union station. Every precaution is being taken to safeguard the president on this trip. Secret service officials took charge of the university army early this morning and throughout the day no person was allowed to enter the building except the janitors, and they had to be identified and vouched for.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

Minneapolis Will Gracefully Fill the Role of Hostess.

Old Glory flying from the turrets of the Hotel Nicolett seemed to have a prouder sweep this morning. The Nicolett board has been graced many a time by distinguished men of the nation at magnificent banquets, but never have the old white walls seen a more representative and more enthusiastic gathering than the banquet to President Theodore Roosevelt.

With the early morning bling of bunting appeared here and there along the line of march, and as the day progressed yards of tricolor bunting were thrown out for the sport of the city. From the stony top of the lofty courthouse building and everywhere appeared the flag of the United States. In fact, patriotism expressed in decorative form in the decorations composed of the photograph of the president draped with the Stars and Stripes.

To-night from the time the parade leaves the Hotel Nicolett until the president and party reach the army its path will be through a blaze of light. Red fire will illuminate the place of embarkation at the Hotel Nicolett and the Nicolett; up Hennepin and down Nicolett and across to University the business houses will be aflame with electric lights. Along University from Central to the army every residence will be lighted and through the windows will steam a welcoming light to the president.

Many Strangers in the City. Hundreds of strangers are on the streets. They came on the early morning trains from all over the state to see President Roosevelt. As only a few weeks ago the majority have come miles and miles only to catch a glimpse of Roosevelt as he drives through the streets. This crowd will be largely augmented to-night, as a great proportion of the excursionists went through to St. Paul to hear the afternoon public speech and these will be greeted by another President Roosevelt in Minneapolis where they will take their return trains.

Chairman Henry Deutsch had his committee at work last night giving final touches to the preparations. Wallace G. Nye, of the public affairs committee of the Commercial Club, was busy until the last minute arranging details. As late as 10 o'clock he was still turning away those who were seeking admission tickets to the army.

At 11 o'clock this morning the Minneapolis committee of reception went to St. Paul, where its members dined with the St. Paul committee as guests of George Thompson of the St. Paul Dispatch. From the Commercial Club two committees went to the union station to await the arrival of the special train.

From this point the two committees acted as one and were the official escort of the president until he left Dale and Selby streets in Thomas Lowry's private electric car. The joint committee rode with the president to Minneapolis and will continue with him until he is safely aboard the train again at the Great Northern station to-night.

Setting of the Banquet. The dining-room of the Nicolett has been given over entirely to the decorators. Today, men from the Glass Block have been putting the finishing touches on the magnificent piece of decorative work. The floor of the cafe has been carpeted with work, as well as the arrangements for the dinner.

The tables have been arranged in a double hollow square around the room. Inside is another arrangement in the form of a letter "Y." The connecting point of the "Y" is a round table which will be banked with flowers and potted plants. Over the windows are hung Virginia creepers. The huge sideboard and all the entrances are hidden by the immense flags. The main decorative feature is the large, domed ceiling of the dining-room. It will be hidden with smilax and flowers in which red roses will predominate. Soft lights will shine from behind the red rose leaves. The incandescent lights about the room have been subdued with covering of the prevailing tint. The white nappery of the long tables will be buried in cut flowers.

President Roosevelt will sit at the center portion of the main table. He will sit facing the other tables and on either hand at the same table will be the members of his party. The President's Servitor. Forty waiters will be directed by Cornelius Turner. The proud distinction of serving the president has fallen to Ralph Watson, and he is the envy of his comrades. Mr. Watson is a proud man today.

- The menu card reads as follows: Cotuit, Celery, Green Turtle, Cheese Straws, Radishes, Almonds, Amontillado, Planked Lake Superior Whitefish, Dressed Cucumbers, Calf's Sweetbreads Financiere, French Peas, Potatoes Duchesse, Pointe d'Asperges, Crise and Pils Freres, Sorbet au Marasquin, Quail sur Canape au Cresson, Candied Sweetbreads, Yvette Chiquet, Chicken Salade en Surprise, Tutti Frutti Ice Cream, Fromage au Gratin, Cafe, Apollinaris, La Vianda Perfecto.

NATHAN WARNER KILLED

He Was on His Way to See Roosevelt and Visit a Daughter.

Special to The Journal. Buffalo, Minn., April 4.—Nathan Warner, a life-long republican and a pioneer and leading citizen of Wright county, was killed early this morning while coming to town to take a train for Minneapolis in order that he might see and hear the president. He was walking on the track and was struck by a St. Paul train.

In the seventies Mr. Warner was a member of the state legislature. He also was county treasurer for four years and in the early history of the county always took a prominent part in republican politics. He was about 75 years of age. His home was three and one-half miles west of town.

His immediate relatives are two daughters and two sons. One of his daughters is the wife of Frank Nagel, a druggist of Minneapolis.

"HOME RULE" FOR IRELAND

Sensational Developments of the New Irish Policy of the English Cabinet.

Complete Reversal of the Attitude of the Government From That of 20 Years Ago.

London, April 4.—The London clubs are alive with rumors of sensational developments of the Irish policy of the cabinet in the direction of home rule and details are actually published of a scheme which the government is supposed to have adopted for the establishment of a legislative council in Dublin. The stories are evidently premature and probably correct.

In a speech at Manchester dealing with Ireland, Charles Wyndham, chief secretary for Ireland, did not refer to the rumors that home rule would be granted, but he did use the most conciliatory language which he has ever used in the House of Commons.

Now it is gridironed and there is enough traffic for all. Another railroad through the fertile Dakotas will improve the traffic of all. Although it is perhaps early to judge, conditions for a bountiful wheat crop in the northwest never seemed better and the weather conditions have been perfect.

"I was in Wall street to-day, and I guess it's the bluest place in and about the only blue place in the country."

MAKING AN ATHLETE. Proper Food the Most Important Requisite. Most health of ill health comes from the stomach, depending upon how it is fed. The athlete is very dependent upon the proper food. An athlete of Munich, Ind., writes: "From a frail, sickly college student of scarcely six score pounds the pure food Grape-Nuts has brought me, through persistent conscientious use, to a vigorous young athlete tipping the beam at 152 pounds. For two years the food has been to my stomach what pure air is to the lungs—a source of vigor, health and vitality."

LABOR NOTES. Buffalo.—The lumbermen signed an agreement covering the next three years, and 1,000 men who have been on strike for demands of a minimum wage of $3.50 a day.

New York.—A strike of the house builders, house smiths and bridge builders' union ran against the officials of the Brooklyn navy yard yesterday, and was escorted outside and instructed not to come back.

Altoona, Pa., April 3.—What promises to be one of the most bitterly contested strikes in the central bituminous coal region has been inaugurated at the mines of the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. at Altoona. The miners say the company is forcing the fight to destroy the organization rather than to settle any differences over scale matters. National President Mitchell has wired District President Frank Gilday to concentrate on the strike and has assured him of liberal support from the million dollar treasury of the national organization.

"M. WILLY" WAS PINKED

Rather Funny Duel in Paris in Which M. De Mitty Punctured His Literary Friend.

New York Sun Special Service. Paris, April 4.—In a duel with swords at Neuilly yesterday between M. De Mitty and Willy Gauthier Villars, both well known in the literary world, M. Gauthier was wounded in the chest. The duel was stopped at once.

The motive of the quarrel was a passage in a novel called "Claudine Ten Va," where, under the name of Jean De Quiltozeur, M. De Mitty was insulted. The place and hour of the duel were kept secret.

As soon as the words for the duel to begin were pronounced Mr. De Mitty made a single bound towards M. Willy and the two combatants found themselves face to face, their bodies nearly touching. M. De Mitty made a violent thrust with his sword, but it only struck the ground while the sword of his adversary entered the chest. M. De Mitty was wounded in the chest and placed his hand on the wounded place and brought it away crimson with blood. Every one thought he was serious.

LOWRY ON "EXTENSIONS" He Speaks of the Soo—Wall Street "About the Bluest Place in the Country."

Special to The Journal. New York, April 4.—Mr. Lowry said to-day: "We have money enough to carry on the work of extension of the Soo road. The Dakotas are like Iowa, opposition was there when several railroads undertook the development of that state."

His Dream Came True. St. Joseph, Mich., April 4.—J. A. Taber, a Grand Rapids & Indiana freight brakeman who was killed yesterday, received today the news of his impending death. He dreamed Tuesday night that he was killed on Manton hill and the following morning related to his wife the details of the accident. He was impressed with the dream and decided to apply for life insurance, but his purpose was not accomplished owing to the fact that the agent was absent from the office when he called. As a result he postponed his application. His net death by falling under a moving train.

BAND TO PROTECT WOMEN Brooklyn Knights Errant Who Will Try to Stop the Goo-Goo Eye Business.

New York Sun Special Service. New York, April 4.—Brooklyn knights errant are being organized into a chivalrous band to protect women from insult on street cars and to make a crusade against the objectionable form of flirting known as the "goo-goo eye." Harry L. Dyruff, a real estate man, is the organizer of the new society, and was the first to receive a deputy sheriff's badge. Mr. Dyruff says with a shrill time his society will have 100 young men as members and he added: "Our men will do their best to protect young women who happen to be riding without escorts from nudging, elbowing, the goo-goo eye business and the other street car annoyances which young women dread. Insulting remarks and obscene language, whether addressed to women or only used in their hearing, will be stopped."

FERGUS WAS STRONG INTENSE INTEREST CREATED

On Rebuttal It Outlasted Minneapolis and Won by Unanimous Vote.

The Manoeuvres and Generalship of Captain Rexall and Her Little Army.

Final Contest in High School Debating League to Take Place on the 17th.

Special to The Journal.

Fergus Falls, Minn., April 4.—The debate between the Fergus Falls and Minneapolis high school teams in this city last evening aroused tremendous enthusiasm, the debaters being greeted by an audience that taxed the city's largest auditorium to its utmost capacity and many being turned away. The exercises opened with a selection by the city band, followed by the singing of the Minnesota state song, which The Journal has made famous throughout this section by the high school chorus.

Superintendent Cranston of the St. Cloud schools, Professor Reed of the Moorhead normal and Professor Dewar of Devils Lake, N. D., acted as judges. W. R. Kirkpatrick of Wahpeton announced the decision.

The Fergus Falls debaters were Hans A. Hanson, Charles Bayley and Caleb Hogan, and Minneapolis was ably represented by George Gardner, Walter Badger and Clarence Harter. The Fergus team had the advantage of enthusiastic support, the hall fairly ringing with cheers throughout the evening, but Minneapolis received fair treatment and its good points were liberally applauded and its speakers expressed themselves as thoroughly satisfied.

The arguments followed the usual lines, Minneapolis taking the affirmative of the proposition that United States senators ought to be elected by popular vote, while Fergus made a violent negative, while it is usually the unpopular side. The Minneapolis team set forth as advantages of a popular vote the fact that good men would be selected by the people and bad men by the legislature. The Fergus boys broke the effect of such arguments by reminding them of some of the fair treatment and its good points were liberally applauded and its speakers expressed themselves as thoroughly satisfied.

It was in rebuttal that Fergus won the debate. Minneapolis made a strong showing, but the decision of the judges was unanimous.

The Fergus boys have heretofore been debating largely against teams from smaller towns and their victory in this instance especially on the negative side is a source of great satisfaction to both the school and its teachers.

It is expected that the final debate for the state championship and The Journal will take place at the university Friday, April 12, at the St. Paul and Fergus Falls teams contesting at that time.

The people have been taken by surprise, and during the past week, if curiosity could kill, not less than two-thirds of the people of Minneapolis would have departed this world.

There has never been any question in the minds of the people of Minneapolis regarding the enterprise of the firm, Voegell Brothers company. Their enthusiasm in carrying out successfully any project into which they enter is characteristic, and certainly the advertising of this prominent firm of druggists during the past two weeks has aroused unbounded curiosity. Even the newspaper publishers admit that this feeling of curiosity has been responsible for increased sales of their papers.

On the appearance of the first advertisement, last Monday, one immediately took on a feeling of anticipation, believing that there was something out of the ordinary about to happen in the advertising field. Friday the series of five advertisements spelling out the name Rexall began—a special and separate take for each human ailment. Each preparation will be made from a formula that specialists of highest standing in their respective fields of practice have demonstrated to be most efficient.

There are few who take interest in advertisements that realize what time, money and space are involved in the advertising costs. The average reader thinks an advertisement good or bad, as it strikes him, but he should go back to the honest and active advertiser. For example, this Rexall advertising; there is no evidence here of haphazard work. The whole scheme must have been evolved by thought, and probably equaled months to perfect the idea. Each advertisement is in one of a series, and each must fit in consecutive order to form part of the complete whole.

To work out such a plan, it is necessary to have artists, and good ones at that—it is necessary to have a trained corps of writers. There is no business so full of detail and no business where a slight error is so costly. It is only good in a long time that an advertiser makes a hit with the public, and then, although his advertising may be particularly strong, unless his goods have special merit, he might as well throw up his hands.

Merit, Mr. Thomas Voegell tells us, has had much consideration in the preparation of the Rexall Remedies, and a novel feature will be the introduction of a guarantee.

With each package bearing the name Rexall is a warrant, under the personal signature of the firm, to refund price of purchase if the remedy does not fulfill all that is claimed for it. According to the statement of the firm, they do not want money from those who are not benefited, and when such is the case, it is their wish to refund the money, which they claim, belongs to the purchaser. There seems to be no humbug about this guarantee; it appears to be absolute and unequivocal.

Speaking of the free distribution of 600 packages of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, Mr. Voegell said: "There is much dyspepsia in and around Minneapolis, and we want every one to know about Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. We have such great faith in the curative properties of this preparation that we took this distribution as one means of introduction. When one person is relieved or cured he will tell his friends and neighbors, and this free distribution will at once show merits of the remedy."

We feel that the Voegell Brothers company are to be congratulated on their methods, and we predict success for the Rexall preparations. Their warrant is so honest as to convince one upon reading it. No one could afford to offer such a broad guarantee if they were not absolutely certain of the quality of their goods. The guarantee means simply this: You can try this remedy at your expense; if it does what they claim for it, you pay, if you are not satisfied you get your money back. Nothing could be fairer, and such methods deserve success.

ALL ABOUT GHOST-LAND

Rev. Dr. Isaac Funk Claims to Have Had a Chat With Henry Ward Beecher.

New York Sun Special Service. New York, April 4.—Rev. Dr. Isaac Funk of this city declares that he has had a special and intimate conversation with Henry Ward Beecher, that he looked into the face of the dead preacher and talked with him a few nights ago. Dr. Funk asserts that he saw the clear outline of Mr. Beecher's head and shoulders and that the ghost told him that he had a work to do and that it would be made clear to him in time.

Strange and almost uncanny as were Dr. Funk's statements concerning the famous clergyman, still more weird were his minute details of a conversation with another and an unknown ghost. This also took place in Brooklyn. He says that both Mr. Beecher and the unknown visitor revealed the clearest words that he heard on the other side. The ghost, according to Dr. Funk, declared that all inventions now in use in the world were first of all discovered elsewhere. No discovery that helped to uplift the race but has first of all been tested in the spirit land. When discoveries are perfected, the ghost said, he covered the details of a conversation with another and an unknown ghost. This also took place in Brooklyn. He says that both Mr. Beecher and the unknown visitor revealed the clearest words that he heard on the other side.

The board of county commissioners held a special session to-day and granted licenses for two saloons in the town of Newport. The petition for the vacation of a part of a public highway at Dellwood on the north shore of White Bear lake was also granted.

The steamer Ravenna, which was sunk and raised last year, has been sold by Bronson & Folsom to Herbert Staples who will have it rebuilt at the South Hill yards. It will probably be ready to re-enter the rafting business in May.

John Berglund of Marine charged with a criminal assault upon Mrs. Charles Lambert, wedded examination to-day and was held in bonds of $500 for trial. He gave bail and was released.

Many a man would better go without lunch at all than eat the hurried lunch which forms the noon-day meal of many a business man. Hasty eating, foods hard to digest, and no time allowed for digestion are the cause of many a case of stomach "trouble."

Disease of the stomach seriously threatens the health of the whole body and should be promptly cured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect assimilation of food and the proper nutrition of the body on which physical strength depends.

Nine or ten years ago my health became very poor, and in 1892 was so far gone that good doctors pronounced my case the worst they had ever treated. I had acute stomach trouble, indigestion, flatulency, and a general feeling of weakness. I had a complaint, catarrh and was so weak that I could not sleep. I finally got three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and some "Pellets." Took them according to directions on the bottles, and in a few days noticed a decided improvement. I commenced to get more rest at night, could eat with pleasure, where formerly food was like chips to me. When I had used three bottles of "Discovery" I was a new man; could eat mince pie for supper, go to bed at seven P. M., and sleep until seven A. M. I am now working at my trade (carpentry), every day in all kinds of weather, and think if I had not taken your medicine I would now be under the sod.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.
