FAVORABLE FOR FARMING Weekly Bulletin of Weather Bureau Reports for Minnesota.

The weekly crop bulletin of the weather bureau, Minnesota station, says: "In the extreme southern counties of the state the rains of the previous week continued till the 14th; elsewhere there was dry weather till the 15th, when light rains began in the southwestern part of the state, becoming general during the day, except in the Red River valley. The mornings were cool till the 17th, with freezing temperatures; after that date the temperatures were moderate. Except in the southeast, where the early part of the week was wet, the weather has been very favorable for all farm work and the seeding of wheat was general till the 18th, though work was hindered somewhat in the early mornings by frozen surface soil. Considerable oats and barley have also been seeded. Most of the seeding has been done on the high and light lands, as the heavy soils and flat lands are still wet. In a few places in the southwest the early snow melt, oats and barley are beginning to come up. Clover, winter rye and wheat and small fruits seem to have passed their green but the amount of nourishment afforded by them is still small."

'T WAS REALLY A JOKE Authorities Satisfied That Ole Larson's Hold-Up Was Jocularly Intended.

Edward Bonk Asks Dismissal Because His Wife Was a Grand Jury Witness.

A practical joke, that came uncomfortably near landing its perpetrator in the penitentiary, was given a final adjudication in Judge Elliott's courtroom this morning and Ole Larson, who attempted robbery in the first degree, was listed as a harmless citizen, and the case against him was nolle.

The Larson episode, thus happily terminated was in the nature of a practical joke intended for one Strand, but the chief actor unluckily ran up against the wrong man when he attempted to make J. W. Moore stand at the point of a revolver and deliver up his worldly goods, he was grappled and finally landed in jail. Since that time Larson has been out on bond awaiting the disposition of his case, which was thoroughly investigated by Assistant County Attorney Leary before he made his motion to nolle.

A nolle was also entered on the motion of Mr. Leary in the case against Ernest Whitney, charged with horse stealing. The defendant was accused of working with Robert Walton, who recently pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the second degree and was given a reformatory sentence, but the county attorney's office failed to find material evidence which would warrant them in proceeding with the prosecution.

The indictment against Charles Owens, accused of stealing various placards from his half brother, was nolle, as the two men were members of the same family and were partners, the charge of larceny could not be sustained against the defendant.

James Sutcliffe, accused of grand larceny in the second degree, was allowed to withdraw his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to petty larceny. He was remanded for sentence.

Noah Cohen, said to be the father of nine children, withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty to the charge of grand larceny. He was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail.

Fred Sanford, tried on the charge of robbing the bank of Fred & Kildow & Kildow was acquitted by a jury which had remained out since 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His attorney made a motion to have an indictment charging grand larceny in the second degree nolle, but upon the statement of Mr. Leary to the effect that he believed a conviction might be obtained in this case, Judge Elliott denied the motion.

S. Meyers, attorney for Edward Bonk, convicted of nonsupport of his wife and under indictment for the desertion and nonsupport of a minor child, requested that his client be allowed to withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a motion to quash the indictment on the ground that it was illegal because the defendant's wife testified against him before the grand jury. The court refused to allow a withdrawal of the plea at this time. The contention of the defendant will be brought up and argued later.

STEEL FROM TITANIC ORE Successful Test of New Process in St. Paul Yesterday.

Frank Johnson, of St. Paul, president of the Johnson Nickel Mining company, says he has discovered a process whereby Titanic iron ore can be smelted in an ordinary blast furnace. An experiment was made in St. Paul yesterday before about thirty Duluth men which is said to have proved the assertions of Mr. Johnson.

While the hard and soft ore mines of St. Louis county have been turning out millions of tons annually for years, farther north, in Cook county, there are gigantic beds of iron, which, because of the presence of titanium, have received but little attention. It was in these deposits that Kristian Korngard sunk a fortune while treasurer of Minneapolis. This ore will now be made useful and men holding the property in this part of the state are said to be jubilant over the discovery of the new process.

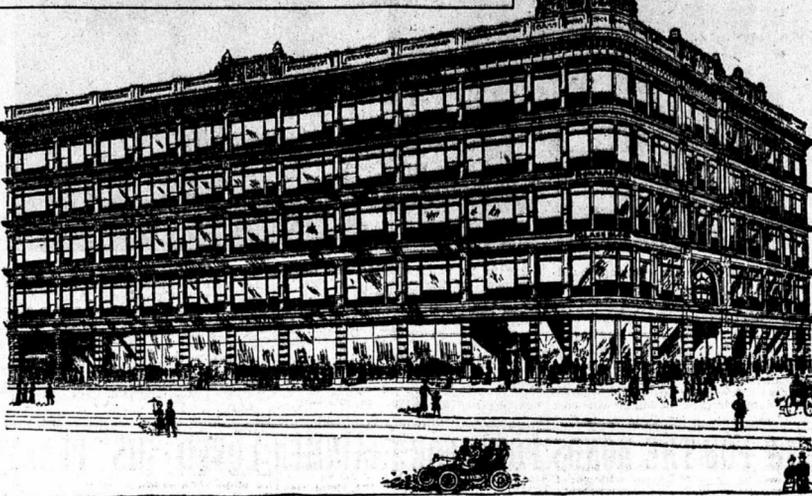

BURNED ITS MORTGAGE St. Peder's Danish Lutheran Church Loses Its Galling Burden of Debt.

At the Sunday morning service of St. Peder's Danish Evangelical Lutheran church, Ninth street and Twentieth avenue S., the congregation saw the last vestige of debt wiped out. All obligations fully met in that the mortgage which has rested upon the church property for some sixteen years was annihilated. Rev. P. Jensen, former pastor, congratulated the congregation and Mrs. Soren Peterson assisted in the ceremonies applying the match to the mortgage papers. As the flames were dying out the congregation united in singing "Daglig er Jordan." The untiring efforts of Former Pastor J. C. Pedersen, now of Salinas, Cal., made it possible to hold this celebration. He labored early and late and obtaining assistance from the Luther league, or the young people's society of the congregation, and also from the Ladies' Aid society. He was able to have the amount necessary to discharge all obligations deposited in the bank before he left for a new field in a more agreeable climate.

A CLEVER COMBINATION The Rice and Barton Entertainers a Strong Attraction at the Dewey. A versatile bunch of merry-makers have the call in the Rose Hill English folly Dewey at the Dewey theater this week. Rice and Barton, managers, have fully sustained their reputation for providing the best in the line of entertainment in full of catchy numbers, and such old-time chestnuts as are dragged in for parody purposes are not overlooked. Hoary-headed "gags" have given place to some fine young jokes which sparkle continuously thru the performance. The first part, "The Baby Trust," is well labeled "a laughing musical comedy absurdity." The hits of this skit are the work of the clever comedian, T. F. Thomas, as one of the rival rivals, and Kitty Palmer, in her hop skirt revival. In the old Miss Palmer, who is billed as "the people's little dancing favorite," gave a remarkable exhibition of toe dancing. Other favorites were the Wilson trio, in their excellent warbling and harmony singing; Rice and Elmer, who masquerade as the "Chinaman and the Rube" in an unusually original horizontal bar act; Nolan and White, as the funny and harmony duo; and Perry and Hughes, who contribute a breezy artistic musical specialty. The fun winds up with the comic opera burlesque, "The Slippery Life Insurance Company," in which the get-rich-quick promoters and their individuals are taken off in typical fashion. Among the songs featured were the "Trust Song" and "You Couldn't Seem to Notice It at All." St. Louis and Return $18. Via Burlington Route. Rate made on account of dedication ceremonies World's Fair and Good Roads convention to be held at the city hall on sale April 26 to May 1 and limited for return to May 5. Ticket offices, 414 Nicollet street, Minneapolis, and 400 Robert Street (Hotel Ryan), St. Paul.	THEIR WRITING O. K. Minneapolis Schoolma's Think Their Chirography Is Up to Date. Minneapolis schoolma's are inclined to resent the reflections cast upon their average hand writing yesterday by a morning paper. In the absence of Secretary Hugh Marchbank at a meeting of the board of education, Director McMillan undertook to decipher various communications from teachers, and according to the article, was unable to make any headway owing to Horace Greeley penmanship, poor spelling and bad grammar. "One would get the impression from reading that article," said an indignant teacher, "that we were an ignorant lot, with no more idea of English as it should be written than was possessed by the inimitable 'Sis' Hopkins. Now that's a mistake. Some of us may not be up in penmanship and a few are no doubt a little lame in spelling, but the majority certainly use better grammar and spell and write as well, if not better, than the members of any other profession, newspaper reporters excepted."	WARNS THE PUBLIC The Health Commissioner on Proliferous Garbage Collecting. Health Commissioner P. M. Hall sounds a note of warning against a too general custom of patronizing garbage removing concerns when the health department is so well provided with the means of looking after garbage in a systematic way. He traces much of the present run of typhoid fever to the practice of private garbage collectors of hauling refuse from one residence and dumping it on the first convenient vacant lot. There is an ordinance against this practice, but it is repeatedly violated by unscrupulous collectors. The result is, that instead of being hauled to the crematory, at Fifty-second avenue N., and there being effectually disposed of by incineration, it is allowed to "smell to heaven" in the open. Dr. Hall admits that the long haul to the crematory is responsible for much of the present loose handling of garbage although the health department has wagons enough to transport most of the garbage. A more convenient location of a crematory such as that at Hall's island, he thinks, can alone solve the problem.	REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS. L. Mohan; in section 5, township 119, range 25, $1,000. COULDN'T DO IT. Didn't Know the Food She Used Lacked Building Material.
Proper food brought a woman and her child out of sickness into health. A lady living in Madison, Wis., relates her experience which certainly is interesting. She says: "For about 15 months I was an invalid and a part of that time caring for a little baby girl. Different physicians said I had heart trouble, torpid liver, nervous prostration and female trouble. Finally I was sent down to Chicago to my uncle, a good old physician. He said the difficulty all came from my not being able to build up from the kind of food I had been using. 'I had run down from 130 pounds to 98 and had about made up my mind I would never get well. He put me on a diet of Grape-Nuts with good cream and graham crackers, a little stale bread when I wanted it, and butter, but no meat and no medicine. 'In two months I got so I could sleep sound where before I used to walk the floor all night. My sick feelings left me and I began to get well. I weaned the baby but she was very sickly and puny. The doctor said it would be a wonder if we ever raised her. Grape-Nuts had done so much for me I concluded to put her on the food, and got a coffee mill to grind it in, and gave it to her with good cream. She picked up very quickly and began to gain flesh and strength. Now she has a round, ruddy face, is perfectly healthy, out doors all day and hungry all the time. I am grateful to the makers of the food that has saved my life and given strength and health to my little girl.' Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
