

CITY NEWS.

WEATHER NOW AND THEN Minimum Temperature To-day 43 Degrees; a Year Ago 29 Degrees.

Columbus Man to Preach—Rev. R. W. Aberley of Columbus, Ohio, will preach at the First Methodist church at 10 o'clock this evening.

Trinity Baptists Meeting—Trinity Baptist church members will meet this evening at the Y. M. C. A. building for the election of trustees and other business connected with the new organization.

Training School Boys Caught—Mandas Johnson, Otis Kinsinger and Edward Blair, three boys who escaped from the state training school, were arrested in this city last night by Officer H. J. Jaggar of the school. They were taken back to Red Wing.

Building Laborers' Wages—The Building Laborers' union will present a schedule to the employers which will demand a rate of 25 cents an hour to go into effect May 1. The members of the union at present are not getting union wages, but this will be changed when the new schedule is submitted.

Cuts Old Courtrooms Up—Rapid progress has been made by Contractor H. N. Leighton in remodeling the old courtrooms in the federal building. He has practically completed the two floors that will divide the court rooms into four apartments. Nothing will be done towards erecting the two additional stories until other improvements have been finished upon the present floors of the building.

A Royal Arcanum Celebration—The Royal Arcanum councils of the city will close the grand council year with a union meeting and class at their hall, 17 Seventh street S., to-morrow evening. A large class will be initiated and a good attendance is expected. Rejoice in the fact that the supreme and grand councils will be present and the committee has a fine entertainment in preparation.

TORONTO HOME COMERS

A Local Club in Interest of Toronto Festival Will Probably Be Organized. Canadian born citizens of Minneapolis and St. Paul are taking up the plan of forming a branch of the Toronto Homecomers' club.

Government officials have communicated with local Canadians in regard to arousing interest in the coming event by the stimulus of a Minneapolis club. One of their writers says: "We are solving a great time in Toronto from July 1 to 4. We are bringing back all the former residents of the city from far and near. The board of trade has charge of the matter and the city council has voted $5,000 and we expect to raise $10,000 additional by subscriptions."

To stimulate further interest the committee has offered three prizes of $100, $50 and $25 for the best poem on the old home sent for the Toronto celebration. The poems must not exceed 100 lines. All poems must be sent before May 15 to Secretary Stewart Houston, 182 Victoria street. The judges are Professor Maurice Hutton, Toronto university; Rev. Professor William Clark, Trinity university; Professor P. W. S. McLaughlin, Victoria university; Professor W. S. McLaughlin, Victoria university.

TALKS OF COLLUSION

J. T. Avery Suggests Investigation Into Federal Building Bids. The supervising architect of the treasury department at Washington, D. C., has received a letter from J. T. Avery of this city suggesting that there was collusion among the firms which bid for the work in making changes in the federal building. Mr. Avery also says the work which cost $225,000 could have been done for $50,000. It is reported that the matter will probably receive attention from the supervising architect.

H. N. Leighton, whose company has the contract, looks upon Mr. Avery's statements as absurd. He says the dressed stone for the changes will alone cost $52,000. He says the talk of collusion is hardly worth denial, and that the bids were very close to the preliminary estimates of the architect.

GET NO INVITATION

Minneapolis Flour Millers Will Not Be Represented at Railroad Managers Meeting.

Apparently Railroad Men Feel They Can Handle Rate Problem Without Aid.

The Minneapolis millers will not be represented at the meeting of railroad managers in Chicago to-morrow called to act upon rates affecting the Minneapolis mills. For two reasons there will be no millers there. First, it is not considered wise to have the industry represented by a representative present; second, the millers have not been invited to attend. At noon to-day no invitation had been received by the millers to go to Chicago and argue their case, and tentative inquiry from here failed to draw out such an invitation from the traffic men.

It is the inference here that the railroad men feel that they have a thorough and comprehensive understanding of the situation, and that nothing additional would be gained by any further detailed presentation of the millers' grievances. So unless some inquiry for further information from the millers comes late to-day, the meeting, which will be of the greatest importance to the Minneapolis millers, will be held without any one present to guard the mill interests.

The millers are willing to let it go at this and will not try to force a representative upon the railroad men.

Local Situation. The only change of importance in the local situation is the fact that the foreign inquiry for flour is a little better, and were conditions at all favorable millers could now enter a good lot of business to go abroad. There is, in fact, some export business being done in a scattered way. Flour is going out to-day to Australia, but this is old business and there have been no new Australian sales very recently.

Another Mill Going. The Washburn-Crosby company started another mill this morning, making four of that company's mills now grinding. The Pillsbury-Washburn company has the same two mills going that started up early in the week and the Consolidated Milling company had not started any more mills at noon to-day. With the smaller companies operating there are now thirteen mills running instead of twelve. Shipments have made the turn. Against Monday's 2,445 barrels and Tuesday's 3,300 barrels, the mills shipped yesterday 14,937 barrels, an indication that the recovery has started. A miller said this morning that he looked for about 30,000 barrels to go out to-day and did not think the daily movement would rise much above this level for a few days at least. The miller said, however, he was not forcing the capacity of such mills as were being operated and the whole matter is still in such indefinite shape that he is likely to go very slowly pending the receipt of something definite from the railroads of a nature more definite than anything so far received.

LOSS FULLY $70,000

The Building and Stock Will Be a Total Loss. The total loss on the plant and contents is estimated at about $25,000—$8,000 on the buildings and the remainder on the contents. The loss is fully covered by insurance, which is divided among seven different agencies.

Policies for $8,400 were placed with the agency of Chase & Schanfield, Guaranty Loan building. This amount is divided among eight different insurance companies. Other agencies interested are Christian & Wagner, the D. C. Bell Investment company, the Balkin agency, Phenix, Cossy & McKee, George Combs, Farrington & Rose and Barney & Co.

It is probable that the loss will far exceed the insurance estimate of the insurance companies. The building, which cost $70,000, had about $50,000 in stock was carried and the building cost about $20,000.

NOTHING TO GIVE OUT

Commercial Club Committees Discuss Gustavus Adolphus Removal. The meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial Club to-day was an important one. With the committee met the advisory committee, made up as follows: Thomas Lowry, M. B. Koon, T. B. Walker, W. H. Guetli, L. S. Donaldson, S. H. Hall, Ray W. Jones, E. J. Phelps, S. A. Harris, George H. Partridge, B. F. Nelson, J. T. Wyman, E. C. Beane, and other prominent persons in the United States. The program will include a Venetian fete and fireworks display on the bay, a military review, a magnificent horse show, an open air, a rowing regatta and a championship tennis match. Special rates will be obtained on all the railways. The Soo road will grant either a fare and one-third or a single fare for the round trip.

TESTIMONIAL TO PAULUS

Norse Musical League Will Give a Festival To-morrow Evening. Olaf Paulus, the noted Norwegian composer, was a tired but happy man last evening when he laid aside his baton after carrying two big choruses in their final rehearsal for the musical festival which the Norse Musical league will give to-morrow evening at Plymouth church as a testimonial to Mr. Paulus. The league has spared neither expense nor labor in arranging for this festival, which in excellence of program will rank with any musical event held in the twin cities this year.

The program will be exclusively Norwegian. While Paulus is not generally known in America he is entitled to recognition. His works have a decided tinge of originality and he is a master of descriptive composition. On the program for this concert is his "Vestnavn," a descriptive work for male voices. This number will be given by a chorus of seventy-five picked voices from the Viking, Nordmaendenes and Kjerulf clubs singing societies of Minneapolis, the Fram society of St. Paul and the students of Luther seminary at Hamline. The chorus has been at work on this number and Greg's "Sigurd Jorsalfar" since January.

J. L. Hort will sing the solo in the Grieg number and Knut O. Ekman will take the baritone solo in "Vestnavn." A mixed chorus of about sixty voices will present the Paulus Mission cantata, which has been given with great success in Norway. The work of the soprano on this number is of the highest order.

WORK IS GROWING

Woman's Board of Missions Reviews Work Done During Past Year.

$5,566 Raised in Minnesota for the Work in Foreign Fields.

The annual meeting of the Minnesota branch of the Woman's Board of Missions of the Interior opened yesterday afternoon at Plymouth church and will close to-morrow at noon, holding three sessions to-day. The attendance of delegates from outside the city exceeded that of the industry of Mrs. Moses Smith of Chicago, president of the W. B. M. I., and of several missionaries fresh from foreign fields, gives much interest to the meeting. This morning the report of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. W. Dickenson of St. Paul, gave the amount raised for missions in 1902 as $5,566—a slight gain over last year, but still below the goal set for this year.

Reports of the various conferences and bureaus were continued this morning and were given by Mrs. Roger Crosby, Northfield, for the bureau of exchange, Minnesota Valley conference; Mrs. L. A. Huntoon, Moorhead, Northern Pacific conference; Mrs. W. S. Horr, Duluth, Duluth conference.

A suggestive outline of "United Study of Missions," with an analysis of "Via Christi" and how to reach the world, was given by Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge of Duluth, where the Pilgrim church society has made excellent use of this basis for mission study. These talks "Missions and Problems," led by the presiding officer, Miss Margaret J. Evans, in which a large number of delegates took part.

An important address this morning was given by Mrs. Horace B. Humphrey of Chicago on "The Infallible Balance," pointing out effective ways of doing missionary work through the joy and gladness of the church. This evening the delegates are invited to spend the night at the meetings at the new Young Women's Christian Association building and to take supper there. To-morrow afternoon, after the adjournment of the convention, the Commercial Club will give the visitors a trolley ride about the city.

COMMITTEES NAMED

The Opening Meeting Yesterday—Reports From Conferences. At the opening meeting yesterday afternoon Miss Evans appointed the following committees: Credentials, Mrs. L. H. Hallock, Minneapolis; O. C. Tracy, Little Falls; B. M. Whipple, Sauk Center; Business, Mrs. C. E. Toby, Sauk Center; G. Sawyer, St. Paul; French, Minneapolis; Resolutions, Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, Minneapolis; Esther Smith, St. Paul; B. L. Webber, Marshall.

Following the devotional exercises led by Miss Evans, reports were given by Mrs. G. A. Morris of Sauk Center for the central conference; Mrs. B. Z. Webber, Marshall, western conference; Mrs. Lowell E. Jones, Minneapolis, for the Duluth conference; Mrs. W. A. Waller, Little Falls, young people's work; Mrs. Waller has temporarily been in charge of this department owing to the death of Mrs. Joseph Smith, and the report was followed by a touching tribute to Mrs. Smith's memory. Interesting papers were read by Mrs. Dr. Groop and Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge in Missionary Work and by Miss Elizabeth Patterson Snell on "Incentives." A bright discussion followed among the missionaries present and the leaders of the organization.

The afternoon program was followed by an informal reception in the church parlors, for which Mrs. E. S. Slater and other ladies of the church were the hosts. The room was delightfully decorated with jonquils and ferns.

The address of welcome was given at the evening session by Rev. H. Hill, pastor of Plymouth church. In her happy response Miss Evans pronounced co-operation the keynote of the work of the year. She exhorted the members of the American Board and the Woman's Board. She also noted the growth of co-operation in the work of men and women in all denominations.

Mrs. Etta Doane Marden of Constantinople made an address on "Signs of Promise in Turkey." She told of a growth of religious interest in Turkey after the spread of the gospel by the Mohammedans. The Mohammedans are being made educational lines among the Mohammedans.

A message from the Rev. M. T. to the Young People, this being on the golden opportunities of the present and the existing income of the missionary work. Miss Luella Miner, missionary in China, brought a greeting from that country.

NURSES GET DIPLOMAS

Three Young Women Complete Course at Northwestern. Three young women in the crisp blue and white uniform of the Northwestern hospital nurses received their diplomas this afternoon at the annual commencement of the training school, which was held in the auditorium of the Northwestern hospital. The graduates in the last class to graduate under the old course of study, and as the course has been extended from two to three years, there will be no more graduates in this class. The hospital was thrown open to visitors at last afternoon. The board of directors assisted the superintendent, Miss Eleanor Weston, in presenting the graduates to their guests.

The program was opened with a prayer by the president. The training school plans, the five-point plan with the initials of the school, the date and the recipient's name, which are the gift of Mrs. O. C. Wyman, were presented to the three graduates, Misses Mary E. Frederick, Minnie A. Lindell and Claire E. Nelson. Mrs. T. B. Walker gave the president's address and presented the diplomas. Dr. James E. Moore also made a brief address.

After the program there was an informal reception and this evening the annual banquet for the nurses and the graduates will be given at the hotel. Mrs. George Daggett and Mrs. W. D. Gregory have charge of the arrangements.

TWO BILLS UNSIGNED

Governor Van Sant Allows Two Measures to Die. Two bills passed by the late legislature fail to become laws. Governor Van Sant, on the advice of Attorney General W. B. Douglas, has withheld his signature on the bills were passed within the last three days of the session, they are dead.

One was the McNamara bill providing a jury commission for Ramsey county, to draw petit jury lists. This is declared unconstitutional because its classification is limited to Ramsey county, being drawn for counties of 150,000 to 200,000 population. The supreme court decided against such classification in the Ritt case. The second bill killed is one by J. D. Shearer of Hennepin, introduced by request, and providing under certain circumstances for the refundment of taxes paid on school lands to purchasers who have permitted the title to lapse. The essential features of this were decided against, says the attorney general. In the case of the State vs. Bruce, 50 Minn. 491. All other bills passed have been signed.

'Twas an Old-Fashioned Remedy

That Stopped Dwight Higbee's Hiccoughs.

It Was Not Scientific Treatment, but He Took the Chance, Anyway.

Popcorn as a cure for "hiccups." A most distressing condition is the hiccups, and valuable contribution to materia medica which the case of Dwight H. Higbee of 2306 Portland avenue offers outside the medical department. He is no longer hiccuping his life away. A few weeks ago Mr. Higbee, in some unaccountable manner, became the victim of an appalling symptom of hiccups, the prolonged symptoms of which became so alarming that he was forced to leave his office and seek relief at home. He tried all the common remedies for a complaint from which his people occasionally suffer, but to no avail. With the number of hiccoughs to the second rapidly increasing, and an inability to swallow food in the intervals, he hardly caught his fleeting breath. Mr. Higbee called in a doctor. The doctor looked grave; shook his head and called in another doctor. The two compared general cases, and decided a third member of their profession. Then the three held a weighty consultation while Mr. Higbee eyed them closely and awaited the result of their deliberations.

At the conclusion of their close conference the first physician adjusted his glasses and told Mr. Higbee what was the matter with him. "Just as I suspected," said he, "you are suffering from a spasmodic inspiration, consisting of a sudden contraction of the diaphragm, accompanied with a spasm of the glottis, so that the further entrance of the air is prevented while the impulse of the column of air entering and striking upon the closed glottis produces a sound or hiccup."

After the doctor had thus delivered himself, Mr. Higbee lay back and prepared for the worst. When medical treatment failed to benefit him, he turned to the suggestions of friends who proposed a multitude of sure cures for hiccoughs. Among the old-fashioned antidotes with which he experimented were pop-corn, water, and the physician lifted their eyebrows at popcorn—it was so unscientific. Meantime Mr. Higbee's diaphragm kept abnormally busy. As he gazed disconsolately out the window, with the spasms steadily increasing in rapidity and violence, he spied a pop-corn vendor. Acting on impulse and the theory that it takes a desperate remedy to cure a desperate ailment, Mr. Higbee sent out and purchased a brimming sack of snowy corn well salted. This he proceeded to devour as rapidly as possible. From the very first bite the hiccups ceased, and relief was apparently at hand. The hiccoughs commenced to fade away and by the time he had swallowed the last mouthful he was sure he had struck the right spot, and his complete recovery has followed.

DO THEY HOLD OVER?

New Game and Fish Code Is Ambiguous About the Board—Other Boards to Name.

It is an open question whether the governor has reappointed the game and fish commission. The new game and fish code, in its first section, that the governor shall appoint the five commissioners immediately after the passage of the act. The section is ambiguous, and it is not clear whether the board shall serve out their full terms of office. This proviso will probably rule, as it is an addition to the old code, and section 1 is re-enacted from the old law; but the question is one which the attorney general has not decided.

Three boards will have to be appointed by the governor in a few days. One is the board of veterinarians, the second is a state board of osteopathic examiners and registrars, consisting of five osteopathic physicians, to retire one each year, and thereafter to be appointed for five-year terms. The act establishing the state sanatorium for the insane, and the board of the board of control, but it provides for an advisory commission to consist of five physicians, one of whom must be a homeopath. Their only prescribed duty is to report on the question of transportation of the insane, and to recommend to the board of control, which is to put up the building and appoint the superintendent.

About all that can be done for the money is to put up the building, which will be located on Leech lake, near Walker. The next legislature will have to provide for its maintenance.

WAIT FOR THEIR MONEY

Many People With Legislative Warrants Cannot Cash Them. The legislature just adjourned cost the state $172,613.66. The $170,000 set aside has been used, and the outstanding warrants amounting to $2,613.66, of which $2,043.16 by the house. These cannot be paid until another appropriation is made, and two years more will elapse before the list includes extra compensation for S. A. Langum, secretary of the senate, and Julius Schmalz, chief clerk of the house, who are remained on hand to index the journals.

Mortality Was Large

The session laws, issued from the press in supplement form to-day, cover twenty-four newspaper pages. There are in all 402 chapters, which means that 403 of the 1,447 bills introduced were finally passed and signed by the governor. A little over one-quarter of the bills won out.

HONOR FOR MINNESOTANS

Three Varsity Graduates Awarded Columbia Fellowships. The university council of Columbia university, New York, has just awarded fellowships to J. H. Reed and Bert Russell of this city, graduates of Minnesota university. The fellowships are named after Stangland, a graduate of Augsburg theological seminary, class of 1898, and Minnesota university, 1901; Harry M. Gage, Honon, S. D., university of Wooster, 1900; Paul Leelan, Wauwatosa, Marquette, Mich., Indiana university, 1899; and Ira A. Williams, Ames, Iowa, Iowa state college, 1898. The Columbia fellowships, of which eighteen are awarded each year, are among the most highly prized academic honors in the United States, and the selections are made from a large number of candidates, but three of the successful candidates this year were graduates of the University of Minnesota. It is a high tribute to "Ski-union."

The Hearst Investigation Before the Interstate Commerce Commission Becomes Highly Interesting. New York, April 23.—The interstate commerce commission to-day continued the investigation of the anthracite coal carrying railroads.

The contracts between the Temple Iron company, the Lehigh Valley, the Delaware and Potomac, the Erie and the Philadelphia & Reading railroads were brought into the room. Counsel for complainant called first for a contract made between the Erie railroad commission yesterday Mr. Shearer, counsel for the Temple Iron company, guaranteed the stocks and bonds of the iron company. Judge Campbell of the Reading objected, and at his suggestion counsel called individually for all the papers he wanted, that the one objection might cover them all. Mr. Shearer explained that the contracts will show a conspiracy to fix the freight interest in violation of the law.

CONTRACTS ASKED FOR

The Coal Roads Refuse to Produce Them. New York, April 23.—In the coal road hearing before the interstate commerce commission yesterday Mr. Shearer, counsel for the complainant, called for all the contracts entered into between the Lehigh Valley Coal company. He said the contracts would show that the coal company is to receive for all its coal 65 per cent of the price realized at tidewater. The contracts would show the creation of a monopoly, that the coal companies have not been suspended, but no one seemed to know anything definite. Senator Hudnall said he did not want to say anything about the motives of the opposition.

REGENTS TO GOVERN

Will Have Entire Charge of "U" Under Modus Operandi With Board of Control.

Dr. Richard Burton's Resignation Is Accepted—Alfred Pillsbury's Generous Offer.

The regents of the university met this morning and to plans for assuming direct control of the institution. A committee consisting of Regents Wyman, Rice and Wilson were appointed to arrange with the board of control and method of operation. Important business was deferred pending action by this committee in order that all friction might be avoided. Dr. Richard Burton's final resignation from the faculty was accepted. Dr. Burton has been on a leave of absence since last June and it was thought he would return next September. No one was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Dr. Mary Curtis, widow of Dr. Rollin E. Curtis, who was an instructor in the department of medicine, gave $500 to the university, the interest of which is to be used in providing an annual medal for excellent work in surgery, the work to be under the direction of the medical faculty.

Mr. Pillsbury offered to build a $20,000 brick wall around the new athletic field. The donation was accepted by the regents and the work will begin at once. The title to the newly acquired land is secured.

The regents accepted the recommendation of the executive committee with regard to the engineering fees and the old schedule will be reinstated, $15 per term for residents of the state and $30 per term for nonresidents. Six instructors in the various departments were made assistant professors.

At an informal dinner at the regents took up the matter of the new athletic field and the filling of a number of vacancies in the faculty. No information has as yet been received from the Great Northern railroad concerning the track it is proposed to lay on the campus just above the river, and as the regents have served notice that such a move would be insisted in the near future, the matter will probably be dropped.
