LOGGING IN SUMMER

Scanlon-Gipson Company of Minneapolis Will Have 25,000,000 Feet Cut by Contract.

Stock Will Be Made Into Lumber at Duluth—Plants There Are Running Full.

special to The Journal. Duluth, Minn., May 1.—Contracts have been made by the Scanlon-Gipson company of Minneapolis with the Clark-Jackson Lumber company of this city for the cutting this summer of 25,000,000 feet of the latter's timber.

Atide from these two mills everything at the head of the lake is running full. The number of mills this year is twelve. The mill on West Superior crossing and the mill on the west side of the lake have been a remarkable wedding out of idle time since the mills began resumption and there are few woodsmen and mill hands on the streets.

Rivers are running very high and some logs are coming down, but the main drives are not yet running. The various boom companies have organized their forces for the season and the sorting grounds are ready for the logs soon to come into them. Drivers are all on hand and the water is abundant, which augurs well for them as it has been in the past years.

Log towing for head of the lake mills has not commenced, tho' for cross lake mills it is under way. There are so many severe northeast storms early in the season that mill men here do not like to get their logs in the open lake until it is more settled and the winds are moderate.

They were very successful last year in rafting and but few logs were lost. Careful towing, big tugs, access to weather indications and the organization of their forces between the offices at Duluth and the banking grounds, either by telephone, carrier pigeon or other swift and sure means, have reduced the amount of loss in losses in towing to a minimum and made possible long tows that would have been impracticable a few years ago. These have widened the area from which logs can come to the head of the lakes.

MICHIGAN

"EXPERT" AN IMPOSTOR

President of the College of Mines Exposes a Fraud. HOUGHTON, MICH.—President Fred W. McNair of the Michigan College of Mines sounds a note of warning in a public letter in which he says his attention has been called to a collection of letters from various persons regarding a property in the Bibbe district in Arizona. A statement on the cover announces that with the letters are given "extracts from the report of J. W. Carroll, formerly of the Michigan College of Mines, and a recognized authority on copper mines." The report is a unique piece of geological literature and is signed "J. M. Carroll."

President McNair asserts that no person named J. W. or J. M. Carroll ever was a student or employed in any position in the Michigan College of Mines, and he is forced to the conclusion that someone is trying to make unscrupulous use of the reputation of the college to foist a worthless property upon unwary investors.

To enable it to handle the business for the Quincy Mining company the plant of the Houghton County Electric Light and Power company will be greatly enlarged, increasing the boiler capacity about 50 per cent. The Quincy mine was the first in the Lake Superior district to install electric motors for underground tramming, and the experiment has been so successful that ten new motors will be installed just as soon as the necessary power can be furnished by the Houghton company.

MONTANA

'YOUR LOVING POLLY'

Old Man Cowan's Love Letters to the Young and Handsome Wife of John Hay.

When Read in Court the Defendant Secured an Adjournment and Wrote His Check.

special to The Journal. Helena, Mont., May 1.—The most sensational drama suit in the history of western Montana closed suddenly late yesterday afternoon, when the attorneys for the defense made a compromise offer of $4,000 cash, which was accepted. This offer came as the climax in damaging testimony offered by counsel for John Hay, who was suing James Cowan for $25,000 for alienating his wife's affections. Cowan is more than 70 years old, while Mrs. Hay is a beautiful woman of 30. Both are well known in church circles and are members of exclusive social and wealthy families. A compromise was only effected, however, after some warm and ardent love letters sent by Cowan to Mrs. Hay were read to the jury. In one he addressed her as "my dearest darling Eva," and signed it "your loving Polly." At this juncture Cowan's lawyers secured an adjournment of court, and later it was announced that Cowan had written his check for $4,000 in favor of Hay.

More Spotted Fever Cases. Two more cases of spotted fever have developed in the Bitter Root valley. The victims are Robert Peat and Nicholas Watson, ranchers. Their symptoms are the same as those which have proved fatal.

The disease baffles the local physicians and experts from the University of Minnesota who are investigating. It has been definitely determined that it originates from the bite of a woodtick, but a singular phase is that those bitten by insects infesting the east side of Bitter Root creek experience only slight pain, while the bite of those on the opposite side of the stream proves fatal.

Advertisement for 'The Innocent' medicine. Includes text: 'The world to-day is full of innocent sufferers from that most loathsome disease, Contagious Blood Poison. People know in a general way that it is a bad disease, but if all its horrors could be brought before them they would shun it as they do the Leprosy. Not only the person who contracts it suffers, but the awful taint is transmitted to children, and the fearful sores and eruptions, weak eyes, Catarrh, and other evidences of poisoned blood show these little innocents are suffering the awful consequences of some body's sin. So highly contagious is this form of blood poison that one may be contaminated by handling the clothing or other articles in use by a person afflicted with this miserable disease. There is danger even in drinking from the same vessel or eating out of the same tableware, as many pure and innocent men and women have found to their sorrow. The virus of Contagious Blood Poison is so powerful and penetrating that within a short time after the first little sore appears the whole system is infected and every drop of blood in the body is tainted with the poison, and the skin is soon covered with a red rash, ulcers break out in the mouth and throat, swellings appear in the groins, the hair and eyebrows fall out, and unless the ravages of the disease are checked at this stage, more violent and dangerous symptoms appear in the form of deep and offensive sores, copper colored spots, terrible pains in bones and muscles, and general breaking down of the system. S. S. S. is a specific for Contagious Blood Poison and the only remedy that antidotes this peculiar virus and makes a radical and complete cure of the disease. Mercury and Potash hold it in check so long as the system is under their influence, but when the medicine is left off the poison breaks out again as bad or worse than ever. Besides, the use of these minerals bring on Rheumatism and stomach troubles of the worst kind, and frequently produce bleeding and sponging of the gums and decay of the teeth. S. S. S. cures Blood Poison in all stages and even reaches down to hereditary taints and removes all traces of the poison and saves the victim from the pitiable consequences of this monster scourge. As long as a drop of the virus is left in the blood it is liable to break out, and there is danger of transmitting the disease to others. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and can be taken without any injurious effects to health, and an experience of nearly fifty years proves beyond doubt that it cures Contagious Blood Poison completely and permanently. Write for our "Home Treatment Book," which describes fully the different stages and symptoms of the disease. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.
