A TWIN CITY ENTERPRISE

A Mining Company Holds an Enthusiastic Meeting at the Commercial Club.

A Banquet Is Given by the Stockholders of the Bonanza Queen Mine.

The Commercial club was the scene last evening of a reception and informal dinner given by the Bonanza Queen Mining company to its Herbert Lang, M. E., of Oakland, Cal., its consulting engineer.

About fifty guests and members of the company sat down to dinner and after refreshments listened to Mr. Lang and Superintendent Richard H. Herhold as well as remarks from Judge A. M. Harrison, Dr. E. Hutchins, Judge Emery, E. F. Warner and others. President P. D. Boutell made an address in the nature of a summary of the company's affairs.

Plans for the future financing of the company were announced and the hearty co-operation of all was promised.

This is the property so well and favorably known throughout the west with the late Senator D. F. Morgan was so closely connected.

The address of President Boutell is full of interest and is a careful resume of the company's affairs. Those who have examined the property give the most glowing accounts of its richness and value.

It includes many of the most prominent men of this city and St. Paul, among them Reuben Warner and his sons, Eugene F. and Sidney A., Messrs. E. Hutchins, Judge Emery, Judge A. M. Harrison, Dr. E. A. Hutchins, James Marshall, C. P. Walman, George D. Emery and others.

The company are at No. 418 Andrus building. The following is the address of President Boutell, the facts stated therein being fully substantiated by the other speakers who have personally seen and examined the property.

The sudden demise of Senator D. F. Morgan was a severe personal loss to all of us associated with him in this enterprise.

Mr. Morgan had been for many years engaged in a systematic search for a reliable and valuable mineral deposit which could be developed into one of the great wealth-producing mines of the world. He realized that to a man of moderate means, mining is the only business that offers the opportunity to acquire in a brief space of time, a large fortune, and that, too, without any other man becoming one of the poorer thereby.

The late Senator's years of patient search, he learned of the Bonanza Queen group of claims, then held by the three original locators, situated on the far west slope of the Bonanza mine in the Bonanza country, Washington. He personally inspected the property and with the assistance of R. H. Herhold, a thoroughly competent expert, carefully examined the vein and the outcrop and prospectors' workings. The most approved methods of "sampling" were employed and three distinct samples were taken and complete "samplings" was 4.3 per cent copper and $4.60 gold and silver per ton, an aggregate value of $13.20 per ton.

This was a remarkable showing, considering the fact that such great mines as the Homestake and the Calumet & Hecla have paid millions in dividends from one running less than the Bonanza Queen mine.

The company and proceeded to develop the mine. A six-drill air-compressor was soon installed and a cross-cut tunnel driven to cut the vein, at a point which would afford the best facilities for quick and economical working. This tunnel has cut the vein, after passing through 1,355 feet of rock, and a drift is being run southward on the vein for a like purpose, and the work of preparing the mine for operation is being pushed as fast as possible.

Meanwhile a complete official survey of the ground has been made—the United States patents applied for and the re-survey of the property on the eastern side of the vein, and two mill sites; eight placer claims of twenty acres each have been located thus providing ample surface ground for providing water power of 3,000 horsepower has been secured, a railroad switch put in upon the property and everything done that could further rapid and economical development of the mine.

Mr. Morgan had already begun negotiations for financing the property in a way that would enable him to put in operation a suitable reduction plant and furnish the needed capital for working the mine. His untimely death has interrupted these plans and adds a common and personal interest to the sorrow which we contemplate his loss. It is my purpose to take up the work where he laid it down.

In assuming, as I have done at the request of the trustees, the duties of president, I entertain the earnest desire to promote the interests of the company in the highest degree and to carry on effectively the policies which have so eminently successful. I bespeak the hearty co-operation and cordial support which were always accorded to my predecessor.

So firm had been the rule of our late president, so well considered his plans and so well chosen the instruments for their execution, that though startled and shocked by his sudden death, no man wavered in duty was neglected, but the great enterprise, to which his life was given, pressed steadily forward along the lines he had planned. As a tribute of respect to his sterling worth, the works were closed during the hours of the ceremonies of his interment; then the ring of the hammer, the thunder of the drills, the rattle of the engines, the din of the works through the mountain fastness and the gigantic work of conquering the wealth of nature moved resolutely on.

Thus far the funds for the work have been provided from the sale of our capital stock, but the limit of our stock issue is nearly reached. We must soon apply other means to complete our enterprise.

There has been already expended over $200,000 in development and improvements of a permanent character upon these properties. We have over 2,400 feet of tunnels, more than half of them in one. We have an eighty horse power steam engine, running a fine six-drill air compressor, with drills of the latest and most effective type; teams and tackle; tools; blacksmith shops; boarding houses; offices; a fine assay plant; an aerial tram; and engine for tracking the tunnel platform; ore cars; tractors; a fine ventilating plant just installed and running constantly day or night; and a fine water system for power; and all that is essential to carry on the development as planned.

And we have no debts whatsoever outside the balance due on the purchase price.

Our stock is now available and there is no stockholders' liability, as we are incorporated under the laws of Washington. It only remains to drive our upraise to a connection with the upper tunnel—about 500 feet—and to provide suitable and abundant drifts of ore in the ore bodies to furnish constantly and regularly the required tonnage of ore. We shall then be ready for our reduction plant, and we have every reason to believe that we are one of the largest and best mines in the United States, and one that will be a steady producer at a very early day.

A thorough system of accounting has been devised in order to have the funds for the property that the Bonanza Queen will soon be one of the largest and best paying mines in the United States.

Besides the best exclusive outfits in up-stairs departments. The Plymouth has a great Basement Salesroom where the regular, standard goods are sold at much lower prices than other dealers figure.

Serge is the Breeziest Stuff.

Men's Serge Suits from $10 to $25.

At $10 is a serge that will match any $12 suit elsewhere, and many that are sold at $15. It's a splendid good suit for the price, especially when you know that both serge and skilled labor are higher now than a year ago.

Other serges at $12 and $15 are of equal relative value; at $20 the suits are silk lined, and at $25 is the genuine clay serge from Rastick, England.

The standard is rigidly maintained in every line of suits. They are as well made, they are as fine serges, they are as stylishly cut, they are as good fitting as anything in the past.

A Comfortable Shirt.

It's pretty sure to make a man feel comfortable all over, even in the warmest weather; though it does not take an expert to tell a comfortable shirt it takes an expert to make one. Our shirts are all made by experts.

One line, to which we wish to call particular attention, is made up of "coat shirts" (open all the way down the front) in the finest of pure Irish linen; these come in white only, with pleated front. Also a lot of homespuns in any manner of fancy stripes and figures for those who prefer colors. All have attached cuffs $3.50
