CITY NEWS. FELT LIKE HOOLIGAN

The Consequences of a Heroic Effort Put Forth by M. & St. L. Employe.

Some Bad Knocks and a Scolding His Reward for Saving a Woman's Life.

If a policeman had only grabbed him around the neck and said "You'll get six years for this," one of the Minneapolis & St. Louis passenger station employes would have reached a mirror to see if he was wearing a tinge of color for a hat; he felt so much like Happy Hooligan whose good intentions invariably get him into trouble. But the policeman was present, he was stopped from making an arrest for he had attempted the rescue himself.

The affair took place just as a lake train was pulling out. A Washington avenue street car deposited a load of belated lakers on the street above the station and they came bowling down the incline to the train shed just as the train was getting under way. The procession was led by a plump lady carrying a substantial bundle. Her husband followed.

As the railroad man tells the story: "Stop it, please!" she puffed at me as she hurried by, but of course I couldn't do that. So I just made one short hop for the first platform on the last coach. She got her right hand on the outside railing of the platform and she got her right foot on the lower step. Then she stepped around the corner of the platform slapping the railing with her big, broad heavy bundle. Most men and some women would have seen that she could either save herself by jumping or break her own neck and hang on to the merchandise. But she wasn't losing any bets. She was going to have that bundle and she was going to get aboard—somehow.

"The train was moving quicker now, and the lady was swinging around like a main-mast boom. I saw she'd hit the switch stand in about three seconds. Then she'd go down between the cars, if she didn't drop off sooner. I got a little irritated. I jumped in and yanked her loose. We rolled up against the switch stand. I received a neat little slam, and I'm afraid the lady mussed her shirt waist. She didn't get killed, and, besides, she didn't drop her bundle.

"But wasn't she annoyed? She scrambled up, breathing hard and looking real cross. 'Whatever do you mean, I'd like to know!' she says, 'by making me lose my train? Here I'll have to take that 6:15 that doesn't stop at our place and get half a mile thru the wet grass and get a late dinner and—yes I'm to have company to-night and—what made you do it, anyhow?' " "Why, ma'am, I says, 'I thought I ought to save you.' " "Nobody asked you, did they?" she snapped back. "And here's my husband. He'll let you know whether you can go along pulling people off trains, you—"

"She cried a little, of course, and her husband, a husky fellow, who carried nothing but an umbrella, came up and got off a rough lecture; said I'd treated his wife, and he'd speak to the company, only maybe I hadn't intended to be impudent. Do you wonder that I feel like Happy Hooligan?"

THEY MAY TEACH NOW

Kindergarten Training School Class Graduated Last Evening.

The Minneapolis Kindergarten Association training school graduated its class of 1903, containing eight members, at Westminster church last evening. An interesting program was participated in by W. H. Neidinger, Jessie L. Gaynor, Miss Stella Louise Wood, Margaret Morrison, Lucine Finch, John Parsons Beach, Professor John Joseph Flather of the university, Miss Grace E. Morehouse, Mabelle M. Winslow and Carl Rehnal. A formal reception followed the formal exercises.

Professor Flather's address dealt with the close connection between the scientific and modern methods of instruction in the public schools. Among other things the professor said: "To-day we realize as never before that better provision must be made for the growing youth. To do this we must be able to accept the changed and changing conditions. The world is moving rapidly and our boys and girls must not be left behind. The records of the past are no longer of so much importance in our public school systems? I refer to the industrial training schools. The purpose of these schools is to give the child a practical knowledge of the hand and the eye. All schooling should lead primarily to the elevation of the individual, and only secondarily to a greater material prosperity.

"America is far behind Europe, and particularly France, in training school work, fine or industrial art. In fact, we need an art atmosphere. This requires time. The work which is done in the schools is not done with the hand and the eye. All schooling should lead primarily to the elevation of the individual, and only secondarily to a greater material prosperity.

"The class graduated consisted of the following: Gretka (Cleveland, Minnesota); Margaret Isabelle Haggart, Valley Route, arriving New York, Minneapolis; Josephine Schum, Lake City, Minn.; Frances Pomeroy Oakford, Quincy, Ill.; Harriet Phillips, Balasore, India; Hazel Tuser, St. Paul, Minn.

Change of Time on the Burlington. Commencing Sunday, May 31st, the Burlington Route will place in service a new time schedule between Minneapolis and Chicago.

The same high standard in equipment will be maintained on these trains, Buffet, Library and Compoart, also Compartment and Standard Sleepers.

Regarding a Trip Made Over the New York Central, Charles Battell Loomis Writes: "Allow me to tell you what a pleasant trip I had over your lines. With a good book and with the country that lies outside the window panes to look at outside the same panes to study and the thought of the dining car, travelling is such a pleasant thing that I wonder the whole world does not travel all the time."

PROPOSALS FOR STATE PRINTING.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Secretary of State until 12 o'clock noon, on Wednesday, the tenth day of June, 1903, for the execution of the printing and binding of the State of Minnesota, as required by the act of the Legislature of 1902, chapter 100, section 1, of the classification of state printing, for the period of one year from the first day of August, 1903, to the first day of August, 1904, as specified by Chapter 289 of the laws of 1902.

Tenders for printing must state a fixed rate of composition, presswork, ruling and binding, respectively, such rates not to exceed the maximum rates established by the commissioners of printing. All bids must include the furnishing of paper stock and all material required to complete the work.

Bids must be in writing, sealed and addressed to the secretary of state, and shall be accompanied by a bond, executed in due form by the bidder, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the commissioners of printing, in the penal sum of not less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), conditioned for the faithful performance of such work or classes of the said printing, as may be awarded to said bidder and for the payment, as liquidated damages, by said bidder, to the state, of any excess of cost over the bid or bids of such bidders which the state may be compelled to pay for such work by reason of the failure of said bidder to complete his contract. Said bond to be null and void if no contract is awarded to him. No bid accompanied by said bond shall be entertained by the said commissioners of printing.

The contract will be let to the lowest bidder; provided, that all printing and binding to be let by said commissioners shall be performed within the state of Minnesota. Provided, further, that said commissioners shall have the right to reject any and all bids, if in their judgment said bids are too high, or if the interest of the state will be better protected thereby. Contractors performing work outside the limits of St. Paul must pay all charges for transportation of same to and from said city, as required by statute.

Blanks for proposals, with instructions regarding the execution of state printing, upon which bids will be conditioned, may be had at the office of the secretary of state. The printing for the ensuing year, is as follows: Third Class—The printing and binding of all reports and other documents ordered by the Legislature, or either branch thereof, or by the executive departments, other than such as are printed in pamphlet form, constituting the fifth class.
