are excellent in all camps and there is little sickness.

The Government Bulletin. Washington, June 6.—The Missouri river at Kansas City continues to fall, the gauge reading this morning being 28.9 feet—a fall of 2.1 feet since Friday morning. At St. Louis there has been a rise of 1.2 feet and there were 34.7 feet of water on the gauge this morning. The interruption of the rise in the Mississippi north of the mouth of the Missouri will probably have but little effect upon the present stage and no reason at present exists for a modification of the estimate of between 37 and 38 feet of water by Monday or Tuesday. The danger line will probably be passed at Memphis by end of next week, but accurate estimates of the crests both at Cairo and Memphis cannot be made until the full effect of the flood is felt at St. Louis.

Good Prospects at Topeka. Topeka, Kan., June 6.—The Kaw river fell two inches an hour through Friday night, and today the south side of Kansas avenue was uncovered clear to the bridge. On the north side pedestrians and wagons can travel five blocks north from the bridge to Gordon street without getting into water. In some residence portions of North Topeka, however, the water still stands in eddying pools and rushes down cross streets at an average depth of three feet. At the present rate the entire town will be free from water Sunday noon. The Rock Island and Union Pacific are still unable to resume their Santa Fe and Missouri Pacific are getting over their tracks west and south, but not to the east.

TEDDY IS HOME

The President Arrived in Washington Yesterday Evening. Washington, June 6.—President Roosevelt returned to Washington last night from his memorable trip of more than two months through the west. He got a hearty reception from the people of the capital. The president cordially responded to the greetings given him and on the drive from the station to the White House, repeatedly stood up in his car and bowed his hat and bowed his acknowledgements. He looked the picture of health. Many government officers met the president at the station. Postmaster General Payne threw his arms about Mr. Roosevelt and whispered to him. President Roosevelt during the sixty-five days of his trip, traveled more than 4,000 miles by railroad, several hundred miles by stage coaches and carriages, more than 300 miles on horseback and as much as 100 miles on foot. He made 265 speeches. The schedule arranged by Secretary Loeb was carried out to the dot. Every member of the party, especially the president, congratulated Secretary Loeb in a complimentary manner in which he had conducted the trip. Secretary Hay called at the White House shortly after the president's arrival, but stayed only a few minutes. The president spent the evening with his family.

MINNESOTA REVERSE FOR LAND SALE

George A. Flinn Arrested at Grand Rapids for Selling Without Proper License. GRAND RAPIDS, MINN.—The extensively advertised "state grant" land sale being conducted by George A. Flinn, ex-chief clerk of the state land office, in Itasca, Aitkin, Carlton, Crow Wing and Cass counties, on behalf of twin city land companies, met with a reverse at Grand Rapids yesterday, when Mr. Flinn was arrested for conducting an auctioneer's business without a license. The case was brought before Justice Huson, who continued the hearing until June 13, and released the defendant on his giving a bond of $10,000. As the only authority on which Mr. Flinn relies in support of his right to conduct the sale is an instrument purporting to make him the deputy of a licensed auctioneer in Aitkin county, Justice Huson himself being a resident of St. Paul, it is generally believed that the sale was contrary to law. The provision of the statute alleged to be violated is the requirement that to procure a license from the county commissioners of the county in which they reside, on payment of a fee and giving a bond, such licensees are authorized to conduct their business in their own and adjoining counties, and imposing penalties for attempting to carry on the business without a license. A license being a personal trust, Justice Huson held that a person licensed has no authority to delegate his powers or duties to others. No great interest was taken in the sale at Grand Rapids, only a few parties being present. The arrest of Mr. Flinn was a surprise to many who supposed he was acting on behalf of the state.

FERGUS FALLS HORSE THIEF

Officers Can Find No Trace of the Man or the Money. FERGUS FALLS, MINN.—Sheriff Sawyer and Chief of Police McCulloch returned to Fergus Falls yesterday morning for the man who stole a team of horses on Cascade street Tuesday. They were unable to find any trace of either the man or the money. A boy named Tiller was arrested this afternoon on the charge of entering the residence of Deputy County Treasurer William J. H. Ives, and taking $15 from a pocketbook. The money was found concealed in his stocking, but as he is only 13 years of age the officers are in doubt as to what should be done with him and have suspended sentence. The incoming senior class of the high school tendered the graduates a reception at high school hall last evening which was largely attended. The friends of the young people and citizens generally.

WHO WROTE 'THE SULTAN'?

Harrison Graves, a Cleveland Man, Claims George Ade Stole His Opera. CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 6.—Harrison Graves, press agent of the Empire theatre here, believes that he is the rightful author of "The Sultan of Sulu," the comic opera which rounds to the credit and fame of George Ade. It appears that shortly after the breaking out of the Spanish-American war Graves thought of putting the whole thing on the stage in a satirical way, strongly burlesquing certain imperialistic practices. The piece was called "The Sultan of Sulu," and was finally completed, lyrics and all, and sent to several managers. Finally the Bostonians took the piece under advisement. They took it to Chicago and then on a western tour, but at last returned it to Graves. Soon thereafter Ade's opera with the same name came out and it is claimed that several episodes in the piece tally perfectly with the Graves work.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Only the lawless cry out against the law. When a man snores he ought to be rapped in slumber. It is mighty easy for some men to forget that they are honest. If some men knew as much as they talk the encyclopedia would have to retire from business. MALFEASANCE IN OFFICE. Chicago Tribune. "I see," observed the passenger in the skull cap, "Governor Penneyacker of Pennsylvania has signed a bill making it a misdemeanor to willfully and maliciously poison a dog." The passenger with the Boston face, manifesting symptoms of strong feeling, "Governor Penneyacker has willfully and maliciously approved of the splitting of an infinitive!"

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion and are sometimes inherited. How do they manifest themselves? In many forms of cutaneous eruption, salt rheum or eczema, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor, general debility. How are they expelled? By Hood's Sarsaparilla which also builds up the system that has suffered from them. It is the best medicine for all humors.

NEW WITNESS APPEARS

Heffernan Murder Now Said to Have Been Committed by a Highwayman. New York Sun Special Service. Tarrytown, N. Y., June 6.—Important developments occurred in the Heffernan murder case last night when Rudolph Hefner, a caddy boy at the Ardley club, was brought forth by Governor Russell as a witness to the shooting. His testimony clears the Ardley club of all connection with the murder. The boy came home the night of the murder and told his mother all about it. He said that on the night of the murder he saw the Campbell woman get off the train and saw Hefnerman meet her. They walked up the path towards Hewett's place, and a few minutes later he saw a man sneak up on the other side of the tracks and cross over. Then he heard the pistol shot and saw Hefnerman run. Coroner Russell is highly pleased at this important change. To-night he said: "I've said all along that Hefnerman was the victim of a highwayman. It was outrageous to drag the names of prominent men into this case. Hefnerman told Dr. Dennison plainly that he knew the man who shot her, and he never heard of strikes as soon as he said, 'Throw up your hands.' The Campbell woman's testimony was as straight as a string and she signed it today."

DEPEW TALKS IN HIS PAJAMAS

The Senator, Pink Clad, Predicts the Nominations of Roosevelt and Judge Parker. Chicago, June 6.—Theodore Roosevelt will be the republican nominee for president, and I think that Judge Parker of my state is the logical candidate for the head of the democratic ticket. Grover Cleveland, great man that he is, cannot be nominated without the support of the Bryanites, and he can't get that. He's not working, but fishing—the lucky. The Senator, Chauncey M. Depew, after standing in the doorway of his room in the Auditorium Annex shivering in his pink pajamas, for a half hour last night, suddenly brought his interview to an end and went back to bed. He said he was willing to talk politics all night, but added: "I'll not presume to death, even if I am talking about presidential politics. It's uncomfortable." "The worst thing I've heard against Roosevelt's administration is that there have been so many strikes," said the senator in the doorway. "But I want to tell you, and every other man who has a vote, that strikes are a good sign." "Now, don't put me down as saying that I favor strikes—the good Lord knows I don't. Jot that down," and the senator opened the door about six inches more in his excitement, exposing more of his pink pajamas and a pair of red leather slippers. "But you never heard of strikes when there were hard times, did you? Strikes are evidences of prosperity."

STARTS OFF WITH HURRAH

First Meeting of the Corn Belt Racing Circuit Was an Unqualified Success. Special to The Journal. Mitchell, S. D., June 6.—The first meeting of the corn belt racing circuit closed here yesterday afternoon, and if the ones following at Parker, Chamberlain, Huron, Alexandria and Redfield are as good the circuit will have met with great success when the season closes. The last day's racing was exciting from start to finish. The 2:30 pace had nine starters at the post, the biggest field of horses that ever started in this part of the state. Castor won in three straight heats, best time, 2:25; Endicot Maid, second, and Sunshine third. The free-for-all event was the best that was ever seen on the home track. It was won by Grasshopper, with George W. second and Miss Kloppling third. The best time was 2:26. Grasshopper is a broncho and was foaled on the reservation west of Pierre five years ago. His pedigree is so brief that it precludes much praise. His sire was Billy Sprague, and nothing is known of the dam. He has a record of 2:14. The racing meet was a splendid success and the weather was highly favorable. Next week the races will be held at Chamberlain and on June 17, 18 the best of the circuit will go to Alexandria, and the following week to Parker.

SCHOOLASTIC FIELD MEET

Preparatory Schools Compete for Honors in Chicago. Chicago, June 6.—The interscholastic championship field meet of the middle west was held on Marshall field today and 287 leaders of preparatory schools, participated in the vents. The four-state championship interscholastic teams were represented at the meet and among them were the prize winners. These teams included the Hyde Park high school, Chicago, winner of the Illinois state interscholastic and the northern open interscholastic; Lewis institute, Chicago, winner of the Michigan interscholastic and second in the northwest interscholastic; Grinnell, Iowa, high school, winner of the Iowa state interscholastic; and the East division high school of Milwaukee, winner of the Wisconsin state interscholastic. The weather was fairly mild and the track in excellent condition.

$10,000 HANDICAP

Track Not of Best for Big Chicago Event. Chicago, June 6.—With indications pointing to more rain and over a track that could be but fair under most favorable weather conditions to-day, Harlem's $10,000 handicap will be run this afternoon. Between fifteen and twenty horses, specially prepared for the race, are expected to run, but at an hour well on towards noon the starting of McChesney was still in doubt. "Of course I want to see my horse run," said E. E. Smathers of New York, his owner, "if no more rain falls it is possible, but not certain, that we will start him. All depends upon the track." With McChesney only a barely contingent starter Flying Torpedo has become the real favorite for the race. The odds as it is likely to be is considered well suited to his ability. The probable starters with betting odds are: Flying Torpedo, 5 to 1; Linguist, 8 to 1; Alan Dale, 8 to 1; Favonias, 15 to 1; Lucien Appleby, 15 to 1; Rolling Bear, 20 to 1; Belles Comers, 30 to 1; Fort Royal, 35 to 1; Jack De-mund, 30 to 1; Dr. Stevens, 25 to 1; Jordan, 25 to 1; Eclipse, 15 to 1; Grege K., 10 to 1; Land, 25 to 1; Alright, 15 to 1. The doubtful starters, being McChesney, who is quoted at 4 to 1, and Harris, 12 to 1; Monte, 15 to 1.

FAST FOR AMERICANS

"Bubblers" Expected to Make a Mile a Minute in English Race. London, June 6.—Alexander Winton, who will take part in the automobile race for the Bennett cup said after landing from the Campania at Queenstown, that he had learned from the chart and from what he had heard the road on which the race will be held is superior to any in America and he would not be surprised if the American cars made a mile a minute. Among the preparers of the Wisconsin Automobile club will distribute among all the residents in the neighborhood of the route pictures vividly illustrating spectators suffering from automobile accidents for the purpose of impressing upon them the risks of venturing on the road during the race.

PENNSYLVANIA CHILD LABOR

Kennet Square, Pa., June 6.—Mrs. Florence Kelly, secretary of the National Consumers' League, in an address before the Progress League here, said that child labor conditions in Pennsylvania are worse than at any other place in the world, not excepting Russia. She cited facts to show that in the state there are 25,000 children between the ages of 13 and 16 employed at hard labor. This is more than in all the southern states together. Bills to relieve the condition, she said, were killed in the legislature by the influence of the glass factories. Dr. Bushnell Regrets It. "It is certainly a step backward," said Rev. J. E. Bushnell, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church. "It is a loss to the university to eliminate a course of study that is supplied by all other progressive institutions of the same class. Experimental psychology is now studied everywhere. It is distinctly a modern study, a progressive study, and

A SLAP AT CULTURE

Some Local Pastors Think the University Regents Made a Mistake. They Believe the Latter Erred in Cutting Out Experimental Psychology. "Educational retrogression" is the term applied by local scholars to the action of the board of regents in abolishing the department of experimental psychology at the university. The efficiency of the institution is said to be impaired. The university will lose prestige and will no longer be enabled to maintain its position among the progressive universities of the United States. "The University of Minnesota will be ranked below other universities that has heretofore rivaled," said Rev. H. M. Simmons, pastor of the First Unitarian church, "as soon as it becomes generally known that the regents have abolished this department. "Many students, especially those learning to be teachers, will feel obliged to go to universities in other states to obtain instruction absolutely demanded by persons that desire to become competent instructors of the young. "Experimental psychology, as now studied, lies at the basis of modern education, and is one of the main sources of progress in educational methods. Unless the regents were forced to do what they did, they certainly should not have ventured to save money by impairing the efficiency or standing of a university that was giving Minnesota youth opportunities equal to those in the most enlightened commonwealths. Pig Sticking and Culture. "Sticking a pig" may be of more importance than studying psychology, as one of the regents is reported to have said. "I've no doubt that, as he puts it, 'the state of Minnesota will sustain the regents on that point.' He means, of course, that the majority of people will say that animal husbandry is of more importance than psychology. "But what will they mean? They will refer to one kind of importance only. There is the bread and butter importance, and with that kind of importance in their minds the defenders of the regents will certainly be right. "But if the regents were to go a few steps further and abolish all courses of study that did not bear directly upon the every-day struggle for a living—if history, philosophy, rhetoric and the greater part of all the sciences were driven from the university, matters of bread and butter importance would sustain no loss, perhaps. "But I know that the people of Minnesota would be quick enough to protest. Our university would become the laughing stock of all educated people. I don't assume to underrate in the least the immense value of husbandry. But the fact that farmers should be properly trained is no argument against the proper training of school teachers."

A Consul General's Letter. FOR SUMMER COLDS PE-RU-NA IS A PROMPT SPECIFIC. PERRY M. DeLEON. Mr. Perry M. DeLeon, Consul General from the United States to Guayaquil, Ecuador, writes: "I cheerfully join with my friend Congressman Livingston, in recommending Peruna as an effective remedy for catarrh, colds and coughs." ---Perry M. DeLeon.

THE SECRET. How Doctors Protect Themselves From Contagious Diseases. Doctors rarely catch contagious diseases. Almost everybody knows this, but few know how they escape. Many believe that the doctor has some charm or artifice which protects him. Dr. Hartman lately made the truth of this matter public, that all might realize its benefit. Contagious diseases are conveyed by minute organisms known as disease germs. These germs find their entrance into the system through the mucous membrane. If the mucous membrane is healthy, they cannot get into the system. If the mucous membrane is affected by catarrh the germs find easy access. Catarrhal secretions furnish exactly the material upon which they thrive and multiply. To get rid of the catarrh and thus preserve the mucous membrane healthy, is the only way to be safe from contagious diseases. This explains why it is that some people catch diseases easier than others. Every one is exposed just the same. Not every one, however, falls a victim to contagious diseases. A disease germ cannot enter the system through a perfectly healthy mucous membrane. Doctors know this and therefore guard against it. This is all the secret there is about it. Catarrh of the Stomach Most Common in Summer. Mr. Virgil Rowelee, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., writes: "I am a weak man. I had stomach trouble for three years, tried several doctors and got no help; then tried your Peruna, and now feel like a new man. Would recommend it to anybody with catarrh of the stomach. I have gained forty pounds and can eat most anything. I cannot say too much for your medicine. People tell me I look like a new man. I feel that that is I am, and that it is Peruna that did it. I had doctored with five different doctors, but did not get any help, but when I began to take your Peruna it began to help me. I now feel like a well man." Mr. D. B. Van Hurlle, Highland Park College, Chicago, Third street, Des Moines, Iowa, writes: "For many months I have been annoyed with stomach troubles. I tried all kinds of medicines but they did not do me much good. I heard so much of Peruna that I finally came to the conclusion to try it. I used one bottle and commenced to feel some better. I used two bottles more of it, and felt rid of my stomach trouble. I think it my duty to recommend Peruna to all who are suffering from stomach troubles, and I am sure they will find Peruna an excellent remedy."—D. B. Van Hurlle. The best cure or preventive known to the medical profession up to date for catarrh in all its conditions is Peruna. During the uncertain weather of spring-time it is an unnecessary hazard for any one to neglect to guard himself from taking disease, by taking Peruna, a safe free catarrh book. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

That dear old neighbor we knew as "Auntie" and who lived down the street, was no relation, of course, except that her tender old heart made her "Auntie" to all the young people. And how she did love the young mothers! One who remembers her says: "We could always depend on 'Auntie' for good sound advice. She was particularly well informed on food and what to use for certain troubles. After having taught in the public schools for years, my health became bad and I suffered frequently from indigestion. After my marriage I had indigestion so badly it became chronic. Owing to my condition my little baby did not get proper nourishment and was a very delicate child. I had almost decided to put her on artificial food altogether, when to my surprise dear old 'Auntie' put baby and I on the right road. "She insisted upon my trying Grape-Nuts food, declaring that it would help me and give baby more nourishment, so, to please her, I did, trying it for breakfast. The result was so marked and so quick that I ate it for luncheon too, and I must say the change has been wonderful. I have good health now and baby is a strong, active child. "My mother says that Grape-Nuts helps her move and keeps her more cheerful and happy than anything else she has ever taken. Truly pure scientific food has great power." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. The housekeeper who reads the little recipe book in each package of Grape-Nuts is usually famous for her clever deserts.

NEW YORKERS MAY SEGEDE

Eastern Bowlers Are Still Kicking Over Changes Made by Last Congress. According to Sam Karpf, secretary of the American Bowling Congress, New York is bent on seceding from the A. B. C. Since the Dr. Timm faction lost control of the organization and the western bowlers began creating the bowling records the eastern men have shown a disposition to withdraw from the congress. They still insist on an all-wood bowling ball, and they now propose to make changes in the construction of an alley, with the idea of making the game harder. The easterners are going back to conditions that prevailed before the advent of the modern game. Square gutters, dead kick-backs, and three balls to a frame are advocated by the Timms-Johnson contingent. Now that the Chicago Bowling association has been organized, Chicago will probably be the most important city in the national circuit next season. Under the new plan of organization adopted by the congress local councils are to be effected in every section of the country where the modern game of tenpins is played. Of the cities already organized, the Chicago association easily takes the lead with sixty-eight applications on the opening night. St. Paul started with sixteen, and Dayton with eight clubs. There appears to be no question that the Langhorne scheme will elevate the game and make the A. B. C. a national governing body in every sense of the word. Formerly the congress had done nothing outside of running a national championship tournament, which, by the way, is another creation, as it had no direct connection with the bowlers. The A. B. C. now deals with local associations composed of clubs. Leagues and tournaments are not eligible for membership. SEVEN POINT, WIS.—The great Dance man, Benoit, died here last night. Benoit, one of the owners of which was P. J. Malick of this city, has been sold for $75,000 to the Peoria Title and Trust company. Plans have been made to cut several large drainage canals thru it and divide it into 150-acre farms. A BURNING QUESTION. New York Sun. "Pa," said little Morris, "why did the man put his light under a bushel?" "That's a reflection," said the father, "but I suppose that the bushel was very highly insured."
