James Chalmers, Ph. D., LL. D., of Elgin, Ill., Elected by Board of Regents to Succeed Dr. Heston.

Special to The Journal.

Iroquols, S. D., June. 17.—The state board of regents of education have elected James Chalmers, Ph. D., LLd. D. of Eligin, Illi., president of

Dr. Chalmers has attained to eminence both in this country and in Europe, as an educator and as a clergyman. He is of Scotch descent, and was born in Canada in 1839, being a relative and was born in Canada in 1859, being a relative of the great Dr. Thomas Chalmers, who left an impress upon Edinburgh greater than that of any other man except John Knox. The of Canadian birth, his early life was largely passed in Michigan, where he took an active part in educational work. He is an author and editor of numerous standard works in literature and education, among which are editions of the En of numerous standard works in literature and education, among which are editions of the English classics. He took the degrees of A. B. and Ph. D. et Eureka college, Illinois, passed to the degree of M. A. with honors at St. Andrews university, Scotland—the Oxford of that country—and received the honorary degree of LL.D. from Western Michigan college. Wheaton college of Illinois has since conferred upon him the degree of D. D.

Since receiving his doctor's degree in 1889, Dr. Chalmers has for the most part been engaged in educational work, tho at present he is pastor of the First Congregational church of Blgin, Ill., which enjoys the distinction of being the largest Congregational church in point of membership in the United States outside of Brooklyn.

family in the spring of 1897 he left an educational position paying $5,000 a year, and on returning two years later, no educational field presenting itself, he accepted the pastorate of a little church in Toledo, Ohlo, at a salary of $800. From small beginnings this church under his charge grew to be the largest in that city. The same phenomenal success has followed him in his work at Elgin, where the membership has more than doubled since he assumed charge, now numbering upwards of 1,500 members. Teaching His Choice.

The eminently successful as a minister, Dr. Chalmers has not been a preacher from choice, his ambition rather leading him into education his ambition rather leading him into educational work. Even in the pulpit he is a teacher rather than a preached, and to his natural tact in keeping all of his subordinates working together harmoniously his success both as a rather than a preacher is largely due. His salary at Eigin is $5,000 a year, and it may be thought singular that he would give up such a place for a position at the head of an educational particular that he was a year. True, al institution paying only $3,000 a year. True, it will be a sacrifice, financially, but Dr. Chalmers is a man who does not estimate life and its work wholly by the dollar-and-cent standard, besides, a college or university presidency has been the ambition of his life and therefore he does the dollar and a sacrifice in this in not feel that he is making a sacrifice in this in as Indicating somewhat of the estimation held for Dr. Chaimers by the Edinburgh institution The Journal publishes the following verbatim copy of the communication notifying him of honors conferred: "University of St. Andrews, March 24, 1898 Dear Sir: I beg to inform you that the senatus academicus of this university has unanimously resolved to confer on you the post and title of research fellow in English literature and philosophy. This flongr has every rarely been conferred on any used by the tour universities of Scotland, the hohor is as rare as it is high. I beg to congratulate you on being the first American to receive this honor from the most ancient university in Scotland. And I have the honor to be, dear sir, your most faithful ser-regents of education believe that

Dr. Chalmers has been four times abroad for study and his wife also was educated in the best universities of this country and Europe. It is said the doctor is fond of golf, a circumstance easily traceable to his Scotch-Irish parentage. He is rated as a man of exceptionally good executive ability, haying the happy faculty and good executive ability. He is a broad with his wife also was ease of accomplishing a great deal without any blowing of trumpets.

sands from all directions, their lunch baskets well filled with good things for the great plenic. At 10 o'clock they were treated to a lively bail game' between Hutchinson and Brownton. At 12 o'clock the procession began to form at the Milwaukee station, where a vast throng, reaching for several blocks, was awaiting the arrival of the governor's train.

At 12:10 the parade began to move, headed by a typical little dairy cow covered with a rich embroidered banner inscribed. "The Cow Is Queen." She was closely followed by a brigade of boys with milk palls on their arms. Then followed little wagons drawn by burros and Shetland ponies, with creamery delegations' wagons drawn by six and four-horse teams. A carriage richly decorated in gold bunting carried Governor S. R. Van Sant, Mayor & J. Stearns and other speakers of the day. The rear of the procession was brought up by a long line of farmers driving fine horses and carriages, all decorated in gala attire.

Proceeding to North park, the picnic grounds, an address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Stearns and responded to by Governor Van Sant. The company then repaired to their baskets and a sumptuous dinner was spread upon the green grass. One excellent feature was the serving of hot coffee and buttermilk free to all by the business men of Hutchinson. This was kept up until 6 o'clock.

The speakers for the afternoon were: Governor S. R. Van Sant, Dalry Commissioner W.

business men of Hutchinson. This was kept up until 6 o'clock.

The speakers for the afternoon were: Governor S. R. Van Sant, Dairy Commissioner W. W. P. McConnell, Dairy Inspector B. D. White, and the Minesota prize butter-mister. Sam Haugdahl. Music was furnished by the Hutchinson and Lester Prairie military bands. The closing feature of the day was a grand farmers parade, reviewed by the speakers from the balcony of the Merchants' Hotel.

A releatless fatality seems to pursue the family of Harry Williams, the Great Northern engineer who was killed in Minneapolls Monday. A few years ago bis sister, a lovely young woman, was killed in a runawdy accident in Hutchinson, Later his parents moved to Everett, Wash, where his father, who was already crippled in one arm, was so injured in a runaway accident that he has been almost helpless ever since.

Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trademark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprieters of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletchar, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years."-Philadelphia Bulletin.
