

OFF FOR IRELAND

Their British Majesties and Suites Depart for the Green Isle.

Dublin Is in State of Delighted Expectation—Great Preparations.

London, July 20.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra, accompanied by the Princess Victoria and their suites, left London at 1 p. m. to-day for Ireland.

The day was gloomy, large crowds gathered in front of Buckingham palace and along the route to Euston station and enthusiastically cheered their majesties, who drove to the station in state landaus, escorted by a detachment of household cavalry. The king wore the uniform of an admiral.

Enthusiasm in Dublin. Dublin, July 20.—Excitement increases hourly and by to-morrow, when the king and queen arrive, the enthusiasm will be very great. People are pouring into the city by train and boat. The scene promises to be a brilliant one.

The city is well decorated. The public entry of the king and queen is sure to be very imposing. In the first carriage will be seated the lord lieutenant and Princess Victoria, with the king and queen, the Duke of Connaught and General Morten Eidge on the right of the carriage. Then will come an escort of the Royal Horse guards and the four carriages following will contain the most distinguished guests.

The vice-regal lodge, where their majesties will stay during the week, has undergone considerable alterations, the decorations having been personally superintended by the lady Dudley. The royal bedrooms are decorated in delicate pink and green, the woodwork being all white, having altogether a very cool and pretty effect. The dining-room has been especially redecorated in white and gold.

The king himself is taking great interest in every detail connected with his visit. He has ordered the table for dinner to be decorated with pink Malmaison carnations and white lilies, which has created some surprise, as everybody is wondering where to order costly flowers are to be obtained at this season.

The review which takes place on Thursday in Phoenix park does not seem likely to be a large one, as only 15,000 soldiers and 2,000 jockies of the navy will take part in it.

Later in the same day the king will visit the race course, when all the men to their consternation, have been semi-officially informed that they are expected to wear tall hats, a very unusual thing for the Phoenix park race course.

The seats have already been all sold out for command night at the theater when Deersbohm Tree's company is to perform.

No funeral is to be allowed to take place in Dublin to-morrow after 9 a. m. in consequence of the royal entry.
