HONOR MEMORY OF TWO MONARCHS

Mass Is Said in the Sistine Chapel for the Repose of the Pope.

Mass Is Said in the Pantheon for the Repose of the Late King Humbert.

Thus Italians Honor the Memory of Their Former Religious and Temporal Rulers.

Rome, July 29.—Rome this morning was the scene of one of those dramatic contrasts which are now so characteristic of the Eternal city.

King Victor Emmanuel and the dowager queen, Margaret, came here on purpose to attend the annual mass, which is celebrated on the anniversary of the assassination of King Humbert.

At 11 o'clock the members of the municipality of Rome, who a few days ago went to the Vatican to condole with the camerlengo on Pope Leo's death.

The second reading of the Sistine chapel was termed the foreign mass. The cardinal who celebrated it was Cardinal Kopp, bishop of Breslau.

The Vatican, as a rule, provides a carriage and couple for the king.

From the estimates made the cost to the holy see of the various ceremonies from the death of the pope to the election of his successor.

LIKE AMERICAN CAUCUS

Church Politicians Scheme Over Election of Leo's Successor.

New York Sun Special Service. Rome, July 29.—The two camps into which the sacred college is divided.

It implies no disrespect to the papal caucus is developing on much the same lines as the caucus held on the eve of an American nominating convention.

Three Parties. There are, however, three classes—Cardinal Rampolla's direct supporters.

The Rampolla Opposition. His opponents urge that the old administration sought to ingratiate the papacy with the governments.

Fisherman's Ring Not Found. The Tribune says that as the fisherman's ring, which could not be found after the death of the pope.

CONVICTS ARE STILL AT LARGE

Desperadoes Who Broke Jail at Folsom, Cal., Seek the Mountains.

Sheriffs and Their Posses Are in Close Pursuit and a Battle Is Expected.

Placerville, Cal., July 29.—Of the thirteen convicts who escaped from the state penitentiary at Folsom Monday, twelve are still at large.

S. M. Gordon, the reported leader of the gang, who had been sentenced to forty-five years for robbery, deserted his followers soon after they left the prison. He was heavily armed and it is not known in what direction he sought safety.

Guard John Klenzendorf returned to Folsom prison yesterday with an interesting story of his adventures with the escaped convicts.

"The first episode we encountered after leaving the prison was at Morro Island bridge, where Guard Ryan exchanged shots with the convicts. I think he hit Red Shirt Gordon.

Get Food from Farmer. "We went up the river a mile and a half from the bridge and there came across the ranch of Joseph Foster.

"On the way up the convicts displayed malicious delight in subjecting the guards to harsh treatment and threats. Every now and then some convict would say to a guard, applying a vicious epithet to emphasize his point.

"At Pilot Hill the convicts surrounded a little hotel at that place and demanded meals for the entire party. It was arranged that two guards and twelve convicts should remain outside while the rest remained outside on guard.

"The convicts and their posse were in the event of trouble with a pursuing posse, the guards would have to stand in front of the convicts and shield them from the bullets.

News Pleased Them. We stayed at Pilot Hill until 5 o'clock, at which hour the stage came in from Auburn.

Bullets Whizzed By. Several bullets whizzed about me, and I could see the sparks of dust ahead in the road where they hit.

TEN DRINKS MAKE ONE REVOLUTION

And Ten Revolutions of This Sort Would Not Make One Good Scrap.

Comic Opera Explanation of the Recent Political Disturbance at Panama, Colombia.

General Cobos Got Drunk and Then Trouble Began—American Consul Was Rattled.

New York Sun Special Service. Washington, July 29.—The startling "revolution" which resulted in the brief overthrow of the government of Panama last Saturday night, according to official cables received to-day was the result of ten highballs and not an insurrection.

During the course of the "revolution," General Vasquez Cobos overthrew the government for a day, arrested most of the local officers and sent the governor flying in his pajamas into the shrubbery to escape a dungeon.

It now seems that Cobos did not know what he was doing when he overthrew the government in Panama. The incidents in the Panama revolution were explained in a comic opera plot or that of a farce comedy.

Scotch Highballs Responsible. The truth is that he had gotten too well, and not being used to Scotch highballs, lost his head and decided that affairs in Panama were not going to suit him.

When Cobos awoke Sunday everything looked gray and gloomy. He did not remember what he had done, but he realized that something unusual had taken place when another officer appeared in his quarters at the head of his army of ten and placed him under arrest.

General Cobos does not seem to be the only one who lost his head during the boisterous doing in Panama. The state department is wondering what Consul Gudgeon meant by sending dispatches which treated the matter as serious.

Several were badly maimed and burned.

HARMONY IN THE POPULIST PARTY

mediate relatives and close friends of the contracting parties.

The honeymoon will be spent on a farm in Virginia, owned by the bridegroom's father, after which the couple will live at Mrs. Davis' home here.

Mrs. Davis, speaking of the affair to The Journal's correspondent this morning, said she had known Mr. Doll about three months. She says he is a prominent business man in Washington and has considerable wealth.

A friend of Mrs. Doll, from whom much of this information has been secured, says it is Mrs. Davis' intention to build a model apartment house on the site of her property in St. Paul, modeling it after the Stoneleigh court, now being built here by Secretary Hay, the best example of the modern apartment house this city contains.

Late in the summer Mr. and Mrs. Doll will visit St. Paul to close up the deal for the improvements on Mrs. Doll's property. They will be in the northwest several weeks.

Mrs. Doll is said to have been paying attention to his wife since he met her, which was quite by accident at a small social entertainment here. The courtship was very quiet and Mrs. Davis did not even tell her intimate friends living in the house with her that a wedding was in prospect.

Her most intimate lady friend, for example, Mrs. Willard, who has been her companion ever since her late husband's death, did not know of the marriage until late this afternoon. While the ceremony was being performed this friend was being driven over town by Mrs. Coleman, daughter of Colonel John S. Mosby, the famous Confederate cavalry leader, who has been Mrs. Davis' friend in Washington for years.

Mrs. Doll says she purposely refrained from making any engagement notice or doing anything that would give the impression that the wedding was to be regarded in any sense as a society event. No cards have been issued, but all friends are invited to call after the return of the couple from their honeymoon.

CAN'T ESCAPE THE UNIONS

Even Death Affords Its Victims No Release.

Trenton, N. J., July 29.—Negotiations between local unions lasting several months have resulted in an official decision by the Central Labor union that the jurisdiction of barbers over their patrons continues even after death.

The question was raised by a complaint of the barbers' union, that local undertakers were allowing their employes to officiate as barbers.

ROCKEFELLER RESPONSIBLE GRAND JURY AND THE MOB LEADERS

Chicago Wiseacres Explain Why He Caused Almost a Panic in the Stock Market.

New York Sun Special Service. Chicago, July 29.—The slump in the stock market is attributed in Chicago to a fight for the control of the Milwaukee & West Coast.

The control of this road, it is said, has been one of the principal bones of contention in the market. When the stock left the Rockefeller's hands it lodged with a syndicate, which held 30,000 shares. These men were reluctant to let their St. Paul holdings go, and extreme measures had to be used.

LONDON FAILURES. Decline in American Stocks Is Felt Abroad.

London, July 29.—Two failures were announced this morning on the stock exchange. A. S. G. Graves & Co., an old established firm of brokers, and Anselmohn Kilby, a jobber in Kafirs.

To-day is pay-day and the general tone improved. Americans tended upwards. This afternoon the failure of W. S. C. Smith, a jobber in American securities, was announced.

Cynthiana, Ky., July 29.—The court for the second trial of Curtis Jett and Thomas White, for the murder of James B. Marcus at Jackson, Ky., opened to-day's session at 9:30. Fifty-one witnesses for the commonwealth answered to their names. Prosecuting Attorney A. T. Byrd made the opening address.

Captain E. J. Ewen, the principal state witness, was first called. Much interest was manifested in his testimony. It was after 11 o'clock when the string of evidence began.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE. New York, July 29.—Twenty men composing the crew of the tramp steamer Eastri, have had a narrow escape from death. A rushing burst of flame caused by the explosion of sulphuric acid gas in the hold of the ship, which was moving the men made their way up the black smoke-filled hatchways and left scorching plumes into the water. All were saved.
