CITY NEWS.

TOWN TALK

Rev. G. L. Morrill will preach next Sunday at the People's church, St. Paul, in the absence of Rev. S. G. Smith, the regular pastor.

Subscribe for all magazines, papers, etc., and get your binding done at Century News Store, 6 Third street, near Hennepin avenue.

Fridrikke Nelson, the Norwegian actress who is now an evangelist, preached last night at the Norwegian-Danish Methodist church, Thirtieth avenue S and Ninth street. She will preach at the same place Sunday evening.

Peter Jacobson, who was stabbed by William Krich Wednesday evening at Tenth avenue NE and Main street and who is at the city hospital, the physicians think, will recover. Jacobson still maintains that Krich was the aggressor, but cut the man in self-defense.

Workmen engaged in excavating near Twenty-third avenue N and Girard uncovered a coffin containing the remains of a 10-year-old girl. The bones were badly decomposed, and it was evident that they had been in the ground several years. It is thought that the spot was the burying ground of some family that lived there in an early day. The remains were taken to the county morgue and will be buried at the county's expense.

T. W. Glover, past grand chief templar of the I. O. O. T. of New Zealand, will give an address to Good Templars and their friends this evening at Bethlehem Presbyterian church. No admission will be charged. Mr. Glover has watched the temperance reform movement and been an active worker in several of its organizations for many years. His extensive travels make his lectures most entertaining. He came to the city from Manitoba and has worked under the Central Hotel club in several parts of the city. Satterlee Lodge will have local arrangements in charge. Other lodges of the city will attend in body. A large crowd was out to hear Mr. Glover's last outdoor address on Nicollet avenue last evening.

SUCCESS IN LIFE.

Its Most Important Element and How Attained.

No human being is born who has not some ambition to be gratified as soon as he is able to do so. It may lead into any field of endeavor, but it is inherently there. Without it mankind would be below the level of the beasts. The best form of capital which nature can supply the intelligent child is health, and with these two attributes he or she can go forth into the world and conquer it.

The greatest drawback to success is the early return of the natural functions, especially the digestive organs. The dyspeptic is sadly handicapped in his battle with the world and suffers physical and mental agony while his successful competitor may enjoy the rosy glow of robust health.

Chase's Dyspepsia Cure is a bonanza to those who depend as it will cure any case of the disease, no matter how old or obstinate. It is a liquid, easy to take and so effective that the first dose gives instant relief. It will cure indigestion, sour stomach, nausea, sick-headache, nervousness or any other symptom absolutely without fail.

Mr. John H. Meyer of Albany, N. Y., applauds its virtues as follows: "I was while in New York last winter I saw a number of packages of Chase's Dyspepsia Cure in a drug store window. I was under the doctor's care at the time, but decided to give your remedy a trial. I did so, and was so much benefited that I have not been near the doctor since. I have used four bottles and want you to send to my address two of your large-size bottles. I have given your remedy a severe test and it has proved a master." For sale by all druggists under guarantee to cure or money refunded.

FOR SALE BY Donaldson's Glass Block, Powers Mercantile Company, Nicollet, Benjamin Levy, Nicollet and 31st st., Hermann, A. B. 2d and 3d st., and Gamble & Ludwig, 3d and Hennepin. If you druggist cannot supply you promptly, write for full particulars to Chase Manufacturing Co., Newburgh, N. Y.

SAW THE RIVER GOD

Geo. H. Partridge Inspects the Great Father Mississippi Statue in Florence.

As a Result He Heartily Favors the Marble for Bridge Square.

Alderman E. C. Chatfield has received a letter from George H. Partridge, who has spent the past two months in Europe, which will probably give the public the first opportunity to see the statue of the river god. Partridge made a personal examination of Larkin Mead's statue, "The River God," destined to occupy some prominent site in Minneapolis.

Alderman Chatfield as a member of the city art commission has taken an especial interest in the statue from the time certain public spirited citizens of Minneapolis began to arrange for its purchase and its presentation to the city. When Mr. Partridge left for Europe two months ago he received from Mr. Chatfield, as a friendly commission, instructions to see the statue in Mr. Mead's studio in Florence and to make such inquiries as to the status and such study of the general subject as his travels in England, France and Italy would permit.

Mr. Partridge was made fully acquainted with the situation here and was armed with such united local judgment as he found in the daily press or in private letters. It is interesting to note that while favorable to the Mead statue or the idea of placing it on Bridge Square on the site of the old city hall.

It will be especially pleasing to the friends of the plan, therefore, to know that Mr. Partridge's little journey has resulted in a most favorable impression of the statue and of its proposed location on Bridge Square.

"I intended to write you from Florence, but didn't get time. I met Mr. Mead and saw the statue. He is a very friendly man, but we were very favorably impressed and I am sure Minneapolis will be congratulated on possessing men who will purchase it for their city."

"I trust a suitable site will be selected. Bridge Square is a very desirable location. It needs a good deal of room. Weighs eight or ten tons, I believe, and in his workshop he worked on it for several months. There it looked 'bigger than outdoors,' but at the same time symmetrical, well proportioned and in certain respects a masterpiece of production."

"I am sure a copy of some sort will be arranged to mark the head trimmings from rain and frosty spring weather, otherwise the marble will become broken and the statue disfigured. Your architect will be glad to help you accomplish this, but the marble is not a cheap material. It is a most beautiful material, at least the more delicate parts of the statue will not."

"Mr. Mead is of the opinion that my reason for not purchasing it is because it is too high, and he is of the opinion that it would be well to have the center piece of a fountain with the water cascading from the long sides in imitation of our falls."

"I do not think that the criticisms you mentioned are of any great value. Mr. Mead's idea was that the 'what in the garden' around the head of the river god, which represented the northern Mississippi. The head, however, he said was never other than Grecian."

AFTER A CONVENTION

Minn. Photographers Seek to Have National Meeting Held Here.

Among the candidates for the 1904 convention of the National Photographers' association, Minneapolis expects to be in the running when the question comes before the members of the association at their next week. I. R. Snook of Mankato, as president of the Minnesota association, will preside at the convention of the Commercial club and a special invitation will be extended from Mayor Hayes.

San Francisco and St. Louis are candidates for the 1904 convention with the odds in favor of St. Louis because of this exposition. If Minneapolis does not get the convention of 1904 an attempt will be made to have the 1905 convention held here.

WILL OPPOSE HARRIET PLAN

Nearly Residents Don't Want the Lake Level Lowered.

Residents of the Lake Harriet district are already arrayed in opposition to Warren H. Manning's plans for lowering the level of the lake. It is contended that if this is done, it will convert the southern end of the lake, which could only be overcome by dredging, always an expensive undertaking. Alderman F. L. Schoonmaker and C. W. Van Tuyl insist that property owners about the lake will resist any attempt to alter the lake, which is now recognized as a pretty body of water and none too large for park purposes.

SUMMER SCHOOL'S CLOSE

Six Weeks of Work Finished To-day—Attendance Light.

The state university summer school closes to-day after a six weeks' session. The public school teachers and the students from the high school and university who have been attending the summer school will be returning to their homes on vacation before the beginning of the regular school year.

The attendance at the summer school has been comparatively small, because so many school teachers combined this year a journey to Boston with a visit to the national educational convention.

ANOTHER NATIONAL

Funeral Directors of the Nation Will Meet Here in Convention Aug. 19 to 21.

A program replete with melancholy consolation is being prepared by the Twin City funeral directors for the annual convention of the National Undertakers' association, which will cast a gloom over this community Aug. 19, 20 and 21. Companions of the fateful tape measure will enjoy "the funeral" at the annual dinner, where the tables may be arranged in the form of an hour glass and flowers, no doubt, will be omitted.

These candidates in the shell were Ernest Krafer, Frederick Thies and Earl Young of Minneapolis; John I. McCarthy of St. Paul; John S. Conkey of the city; and D. Graham of West Duluth, and Frederick W. Winters of Mazepa.

INVITED DISASTER

A Dundas Dairyman Asks to Have Dairy Inspected—He Is Fined $25.

H. E. Vrooman, inspector in the state dairy and food department, reported yesterday that E. B. Hirdler, a dairyman near Dundas, had paid a fine of $25 because he kept his establishment in a filthy and unsanitary condition. The peculiar feature was that Hirdler had been writing day to day to the inspector, but no visit was made in reply to a very urgent request.

Merchants From the Northwestern Towns Take Advantage of Excursion Rates.

Register Already Shows a List of 75—Some Are From Chicago Territory.

Although the rate for the first of the merchants' fall excursions into Minneapolis is in effect only for a very short time, seventy-five merchants, from all parts of the tributary territory, have taken advantage of the one and one-half cent rate made to visit Minneapolis wholesalers in town or on bargains.

This number is considered promising, since the rate made thru the efforts of the twin city jobbing houses is practically a record for the season. Not the least interesting feature of this year's excursions is the large number of women taking advantage of them. Most of them are milliners who formerly went to St. Paul for their fall trappings, but who are now coming to Minneapolis to visit a wholesale millinery house recently opened here.

In the list of those who have registered with Secretary Frank Forbes, at 216 Bank of Commerce building, appear the names of "Fond du Lac," Watertown, Wis., people. These towns are undeniably in Chicago territory and the coming of Wisconsin people into the Minneapolis market is regarded as a credit to the low rates secured by the Chicago territory.

Among those who have already registered are: W. W. Baker and O. F. Baker, Slayton, Minn.; Mrs. Thorburn and Mrs. Eggenberger, Marshall, Minn.; Mrs. H. A. Vaughn, William H. A BIG BOND ISSUE

Rock Island Directors Are Considering One of $250,000,000.

New York, July 31.—The directors of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad have called a meeting to be held at Davenport, Iowa, Oct. 8, to consider the advisability of creating a bonded indebtedness in a sum not exceeding $250,000,000, for the purpose of refunding or paying at or before maturity outstanding obligations of the company or constituent companies or companies which may be acquired by consolidation and for the purchase or ownership of shares of stock or securities for the purpose of future development.

Special to The Journal. Dubuque, Iowa, July 31.—Of the half dozen interurban railway schemes which have had their origin in down river towns there is one that is regarded as a reality.
