THE 'STOCKING ROOM'

This Feature Is Now Maintained by Many Banks of Minneapolis.

It Isn't the Place Where They Keep Bank Stooks Either.

The "stocking-room" in a bank? That is—why, of course; the room where the bank keeps its stocks, bonds and securities.

But that is not the kind of "stocking-room" that has just been opened in the National Bank of Commerce, Kansas City, according to an announcement telegraphed this morning from Kansas. The "stocking-room" acquired is for the convenience and seclusion of women patrons who wish to make their cash reserves immediately available; that is, who, "O, yes, certainly, our bank has one," replied a Minneapolis cashier, to-day, "but we call it our 'hostess department'—That's easier for the ladies. When they come in and want to find their money they have merely to imagine that they are shopping in a department store and wish to be directed to the 'hostess department.' It spares their feelings, you see, and our blushes."

Then the cashier read a description of the new banking facilities provided at Kansas City. The "stocking-room" contains mahogany stools twelve inches high, with leather cushions at the top of each. The stools are for the women to put their feet upon while taking out their money.

"Well, we haven't got those special stools," said the local banker, as he opened a door in the Guaranty building, "but here is a very comfortable, cozy room, and these leather-seated chairs are just about the right height—that is, I should suppose, and I know that the young lady who acts as our 'women's teller' is always making requisitions for safety pins. Her memorandum usually reads, 'needed to keep my shoes in shape,' and we take her word for it."

At savings banks, it seems, the demand for "stocking-rooms" has long been recognized. The Farmers and Merchants Savings bank, a "private reception room" enables feminine financiers to straighten their accounts and accounts and deposit currency where it will be least conspicuous. And at the new ornate quarters of the Savings Bank of Minneapolis a "private" "writing-room" and "luncheon" room, respectively a row of easy-chairs, and immediately opposite, a corresponding row of cushioned stools or "tabourettes."

WHY TOUCHSTONE FORGOT

Romance of Robt. Folsom and Miss Elsie Scherf.

Robert Folsom, who until last week was identified with the First Stock company, and who is now playing Touchstone in the Como park production of "As You Like It," forgot his lines Tuesday night and thereby established a record for himself. The mistake was a simple one, but it was suggested afterward, however, that the presence in the wings of his newly made wife had something to do with Mr. Folsom's error.

Miss Elsie Scherf of Minneapolis, who is now Mrs. Folsom, accompanied Mr. Folsom to Hudson, Wis., Tuesday afternoon, on having a quiet wedding and surprising the interested families afterward. So the interested families appeared at the Hudson Presbyterian church in time for the ceremony, the company at Como park, and the company at the home of Mr. Folsom Tuesday night and Mr. and Mrs. Folsom were the recipients of the surprises as well as the congratulations.

They leave next month for the east, where Mr. Folsom has an engagement for the season.

NEW CAPITOL FURNISHINGS

Bids Are to Be Received on Individual Rooms.

The capitol commission is beginning to figure on plans for furnishing the new state offices. Specifications are being prepared and bids will be advertised in a few days, to be opened Oct. 15. The commission has decided to permit bids on single rooms, so that Minnesota concerns of lumber, carpenters and painters will be of quartered oak, and in the legislative rooms and in the governor's office carved mahogany will be the rule. American made carpets will be used for floor coverings. The cost of the furnishings may run anywhere from 100,000 to $200,000.

Contracts for the shelves and metal casings were not let yesterday. They were deferred to the September meeting of the commission.

NEW IMPROVEMENT ASS'N

Eighth Ward Citizens Unite to Keep the Ward in Clean and Attractive Shape.

Another local improvement association will soon be added to the group which is doing such excellent work in keeping various neighborhoods clean and attractive. A call for a meeting of residents and property owners in the district bounded by Lake Street, Harriet Avenue, Thirty-third Street and Dupont Avenue brought forth many interested citizens. J. H. Abrams was chosen chairman. A committee on constitution and by-laws was appointed and instructed to report next Wednesday, when the organization will be effected. The first enterprise of the new association will be to beautify the old "valley," which is particularly noticeable on Bryan Avenue, between Thirty-first and Thirty-second streets.

TOUST A RECEIVER

Judge Ellis Defends His Stewardship of Kayser Estate.

A legal war has developed over a petition to remove Judge D. W. Ellis as receiver of the estate of Morris M. Kayser, deceased. The petitioners, represented by Weed Munro, charge that the receiver's duties were performed long ago and that he is simply holding his position to advance his pecuniary interests. Judge Ellis, who is a prominent lawyer, counsel, admits that the purpose for which he was appointed has been attained, but states that he is unwilling to step out until he has received some reasonable fee for his services. The estate involves property in this city and in Pennsylvania.

CAPT. McMEELEY AND HIS BIG FISH

Captain B. A. McMeley, 629 Sixth Avenue N., returned this morning from a three-day fishing trip at Lake Poston, ninety-five miles northwest of Minneapolis on the Soo line. He had a fine string of ninety-five black bass, seventy-five rainbow trout and a twenty-two-pound pickerel. The pickerel was caught on an ordinary braided line with No. 2 bass hook and came fish pole without a reel. The monster gave his captor a hard fight, and was not landed until he had fought for twenty minutes and had drawn the boat nearly half a mile.

OUTING ASS'N IS RUSHED

Season Nears End—Many Are Yet to Be Cared For—Money Needed.

The "raising of the chiefs," or inauguration of officers, interrupted noisily yesterday afternoon the final business session of the Red Men's state convention at Pigeon wigwam, 218 Nicollet Avenue. Changes in the by-laws had been discussed with results that were not made public.

In the evening the visiting braves carried their tomahawks to the wigwam of the Chippewa tribe, 2027 Washington Avenue N., where degree work by members of the tribe was followed by social entertainment.

This afternoon the Red Men were taken about town in chartered trolley cars as the guests of the Commercial club. To-night the visitors will attend the Lyceum theater.

TO EQUALIZE MORE

Ald. Westphal May Submit a Minority Report on Assessments.

Alderman G. A. Westphal has been urged to present a minority report with the report of the council committee on taxes which recommends that the personal property assessments for this year be confirmed and equalized.

"City Assessor Minor has done well and I don't want to be understood as trying to undo all his excellent work," said Alderman Westphal to-day. "But there are some matters which might be adjusted more fairly by the city board of equalization."

For example the assessments for lumber and brick show that lumber is assessed at about 30 per cent of its value while brick is assessed at about 90 per cent of the market value.

MAY FEVER FOR 27 YEARS

Well Known New England Woman Cured by Hyomei—Cure Was Lasting.

The thousands of discouraged people who dread summer's approach because they think that hay fever cannot be avoided, will read with interest and gratitude the following statement from Helen F. Williams of Mansfield, Mass.

"For 27 years, from the month of August until heavy frost, I have been afflicted with hay fever, growing worse each year, and of late years I was unable to attend to my work during that period.

"Last summer I fortunately gave Hyomei a trial and am happy to say that it entirely cured me and I have had no return of the affliction since."

This letter is one of many that have come to the proprietor of Hyomei, and the results following this treatment, have been so wonderful that it is proposed as the annual convention on hay fever sufferers to recommend Hyomei to all who are susceptible to this disease.

Hyomei is a treatment for hay fever which combines the latest discoveries of science and the best of common sense. Knowing that a change of climate was the only way in which relief could be obtained, the evolution of Hyomei naturally resulted. By breathing its germ-killing and healing balsams, any one can have, at any moment of the day, either in their home, the office or the factory, a climate like that of the White Mountains or other health resorts, where hay fever is unknown.

Vogel Bros. Drug Co. agree to refund the money to any hay fever sufferer who uses Hyomei if it does not give satisfaction.

EAST NOT WORRIED

Bankers Here Regard General Business Situation as in the Main Satisfactory.

E. W. Decker Returns From a Trip to Money Centers—His Observations.

E. W. Decker, vice-president of the Northwestern National Bank, has returned from a ten day's trip to the principal money markets of the east where he interviewed leading bankers. Chicago, Toronto, Montreal, Boston and New York were visited. Indications are favorable to the northwest. The eastern banks were found taking care of their customers only and taking care of them well. Business as viewed from the great money centers is generally in good shape. Mr. Decker said: "I found a feeling of business in general was in good shape, (much better than a year ago) on account of the universal disposition to discontinue spreading out. And the feeling seemed to be universal that money should be employed only for legitimate enterprises, but at very firm terms of interest. I found not a single bank which would freely advance conditions loan anything except for legitimate business and that to its own customers."

The stock market, of course, was badly demoralized and it is doubtful whether the end is in sight. But there is no feeling of apprehension that this demoralization will reach such a point as to affect general business seriously.

"The indications are for a generally good crop and the northwest will require considerable money, but this is no indication of a general business depression. It is rather a sign of a healthy and forthcoming to handle it, and probably the east will be called on for less money this year than usual. Eastern money has been offered in the west as freely as usual because it is employed at home and Canadian money will be employed in moving the cereal crops in the Canadian northwest to a considerable extent. Country banks will furnish and have furnished for the last three or four years a considerable amount. Chicago will probably furnish considerable. The west and middle west will furnish most of the money to move the crops."

BOARD'S CASH NEEDS

Charities and Corrections Will Require $172,000 Next Year.

It has been estimated by the officials under the board of charities and corrections that it will require $172,000 to keep all the departments going next year—approximately as follows: city hospital—maintenance, $57,000; improvements, $50,000; workhouse—maintenance, $19,000; improvements, $10,000; poor department—$36,000. That is an increase of $27,000 over the appropriation for this year, the increase being due almost wholly to the demands for emergency and detention wards at the city hospital. The board has authorized a special committee, headed by Donald of the workhouse to convert two of the solitary confinement cells into padded cells for the care of delinquent and insane prisoners. The committee, headed by McDonald for permission to establish a brickyard at the workhouse has been taken under advisement.

With a view of improving the emergency service of the city hospital the board has decided to secure an automobile ambulance to be placed in charge of the police. An exterior will be attached to accompany the police patrol wagon in accident cases.

PRIZE WINNING STEERS

Fancy Herd to Be Exhibited at Chicago Show by Agricultural College.

The faculty of the state agricultural college is looking forward with considerable interest to the coming of the international live stock show at Chicago this fall, for the Minnesota agricultural college will have the best exhibition ever held there. It has ever had. Prizes amounting to $3,800 have been taken by this exhibition herd, and the acquisition of a fine 3-year-old Aberdeen Angus steer, which weighs 1514 pounds and is a perfect specimen, will strengthen the herd.

The flock of five sheep exhibited by the Minnesota college has captured several first prizes and will probably get the first prize and the college will make a creditable showing with its swine.

APPEALS TO ROOSEVELT

Patrick McCabe Wants to See His Dying Brother.

A brother's dangerous illness is the basis of an unusual request forwarded to President Roosevelt by Patrick McCabe, who has been confined in the Hennepin jail for selling liquor to Indians near Walker. The prisoner asked the local authorities for a leave of absence and if his dying brother, who is in the hospital, could be permitted to visit the president and a telegram was sent to the president at Oyster Bay about a week ago. No answer has been received, and it is probable that the convicted man will have to remain in jail.
