

WOULD ENSLAVE THE HUMAN RACE

President of the National Manufacturers' Association Sharply Criticizes Labor Unions.

Declares They Resort Habitually to Mob Violence to Enforce Their Illegal Purposes.

Indianapolis, Sept. 2.—President Barry of the Central union of Indianapolis yesterday submitted questions to D. M. Parry, president of the National Manufacturers' association, and asked for a formal answer:

"What is your idea of the legitimate purpose of a union?"

"Would you permit the formation of a 'perfect' union in your plant?"

"Is your plant conducted along political lines?"

"Do you believe that our laws are such as to foster special privileges and restrict the opportunity to labor?"

"Is it not a fact that wages are higher in communities using union labor and the community thereby benefited?"

"Ought the welfare of the many to be placed in the hands of the few?"

"Ought not the laborer to be on an equal footing with the employer when it comes to a question of wages?"

"Is it within the power of law to suppress labor unions?"

"Have you not adopted an institution similar in scope and nature to the boycott?"

"Is it necessary to have law regulating child labor?"

"What actuates your opposition to labor organizations?"

Mr. Parry's Reply.

President Parry, in a statement last night, says:

"Barring one of two things in which there is a touch of animosity to my personality, I think Mr. Barry's questions open to fair answer."

The real issue is whether an organization, labor or otherwise, can perform acts which its members individually or collectively cannot do. No one has the right to prevent or divert labor as he sees fit, neither has an organization.

The union of men must take an oath of allegiance to its objects and abide by its government or else be denied the chance of employment in those industries which it controls. This is as much an usurpation of the inherent rights of liberty as it would be to compel a man to join a certain church or a certain lodge.

I have stated that unionism aims to establish a condition of affairs similar to that of feudalism and serfdom of former centuries when the right of disposing of one's labor was denied to the individual.

Enslave the Race.

"If the labor leaders had their way they would in time enslave the human race."

"Again, in order to enforce their illegal purposes the members of unions habitually resort in times of strikes to physical mob violence. The goal of these crowds about the place of their former employment with the intent of inspiring fear in the minds of men who might be disposed to work and all together they terrorize the women folks of so-called 'scabs' and commit acts of violence. Even murder has been known to be committed in the sacred name of labor."

"I wish to bring out the point that any organization that has lawful purposes and conducts itself lawfully with respect to exist and that if organized labor would eliminate that which is hurtful in its code and would act strictly within the law in its practices there would be no cause for agitation against it."

SHIP WAS HAUNTED

The Sea Witch Proceeds to Live Up to Her Name.

New York Sun Special Service.

Astoria, Ore., Sept. 2.—The steamer North Star, which returned here yesterday from Bristol Bay, Alaska, brings a story of a haunted ship that carries with it a sad tale of accidents and deaths which befell the men who crewed her.

The vessel is the schooner Sea Witch, under charter to the Alaska Packers company of San Francisco. Shortly after arriving at Bristol Bay the mate had his foot crushed. It was amputated, but the man died shortly afterward. A few days later a watchman committed suicide by cutting his throat with a pocket knife.

On any apparent cause, the captain's pet dog started on a run to the bow of the vessel and jumped overboard and was drowned.

This chain of events so frightened the few sailors left on board that they thought the barque was haunted, and one, a Greek, complained of hearing strange noises and seeing persons without heads running about the decks. He took to the tall rigging for three days. Refusing to stay on board he was placed on shore.

A WOMAN POLICEMAN

Pasadena Has One in View of Famous Humorist.

Pasadena, Cal., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, wife of the famous humorist, has been appointed a special police officer. She has been given a badge and uniform.

Mrs. Burdette is a member of the newly organized Pasadena Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The appointment is at her request, it being her determination to rescue dogs, cats, horses and other animals from thoughtless and mischievous boys and from their cruel and inconsiderate masters.

Her husband, the inimitable "Bob," is a member of the police commission. "I have been telling her," said he, "that although she is a special policeman, I am a police commissioner, and that it is the duty of a policeman always to salute a commissioner when she sees him. But all I have been able to get her to do thus far, and his voice took a sorrowful cadence, "has been to make faces at me."

CARDUI IN THE HOME

The wonderful tonic properties of Wine of Cardui make it pre-eminently the "household remedy" for American women.

Thousands of women who know that Wine of Cardui is the greatest menstrual regulator, cannot bring themselves to believe that the nervousness and headache they endure have anything to do with serious female diseases. But it was the weakness of womanhood that caused Miss Joseph's nervousness, stomach trouble and loss of flesh.

Female weakness not only causes backaches and headaches but it is frequently the beginning of consumption. If you are nervous and tired out continually, you could have no clearer warning of female disorders. Do not wait until you suffer unbearable pains before you seek treatment. You need Wine of Cardui now, just as much as if the trouble were more developed and torturing pain were driving you to take treatment. Go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui and take it in the privacy of your home. This medicine will drive out all trace of weakness and banish nervous spells, headache and backache and prevent the symptoms from quickly developing into dangerous troubles that will be hard to check.

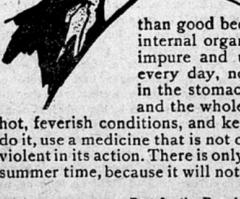

218 South Prior Street, ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903. I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost 14 pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman. My mother has also been greatly helped through that dangerous period "the change of life" and we consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's prescription or other medicines we have ever known of. It has become our favorite household remedy and a number of our friends have been helped greatly through its use.

No Summer Bowel Troubles

Not for me! I'm safe from all of them and happy. The heat of summer causes organic matter everywhere to decay. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment a hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequence—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned, thrown out of order—sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis, and in some regions yellow fever and the plague. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. What does good sense tell you to do? You can't keep the human body on ice, and the drinking of ice-cold drinks does more harm than good because it stops digestion and chills the internal organs. The proper thing is to keep all impure and unnecessary matter out of the body every day, not give it a chance to sour and decay in the stomach and bowels, and poison the blood and the whole body. In this way you will stop all hot, feverish conditions, and keep your insides cool and healthy. To do it, use a medicine that is not offensive to the taste and not harsh and violent in its action. There is only one safe system-cleaner to take in the summer time, because it will not cause diarrhoea or griping, and that is Best for the Bowels. All druggists, 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C.C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. Sample and booklet free. Address Sterling Kennedy Co., Chicago or New York.
