THE HAND OF DEATH

Stealthily Reaching Out for Saint and Sinner.

Like the sword of Damocles the gaunt hand of Death is suspended over each one of us and only waits till the time is ripe to gather in the inevitable harvest.

If human beings only understood themselves better and observed the laws of nature as carefully as they do legislative enactments, the average length of life would be doubled.

The prime factor in longevity is careful treatment of the digestive organs. They supply the elements of health and life and chiefly acquire the elements of disease and death.

Dyspepsia is the principal barrier which stands before health and longevity. It has been aptly called the "Mother of all diseases," and has fully justified its title. Chase's Dyspepsia Cure is aimed at this one disease and never did mankind hit a bullseye with greater precision. Many enthusiasts have called it miraculous, and the many thousands of cures it has effected would seem to prove the truth of the assertion. No medicine has ever, within a given time, restored so many sufferers to health and happiness, for true happiness cannot exist without health. Don't ignore what seem to be trifling symptoms, for they are the beginning of the serious malady. Indigestion, nausea, foul breath, sick-headaches, nervousness, distress after eating, coldness of the extremities and pressure on the stomach are some of the forerunners of dyspepsia, and should be checked at once. Chase's Dyspepsia Cure will do this with absolute certainty, and is so rapid in its action that the first dose will give relief. All druggists sell it under guarantee of its effectiveness or money refunded.

ODD MEMENTO OF CIVIL WAR

A Miniature Monument Made of Fragments of Fort Sumter Sent by Col. C. T. Trowbridge to the Swamp Angels' Annual Reunion at New York.

Colonel C. T. Trowbridge of this city has sent a unique relic of old Fort Sumter to New York city, where it will be exhibited Oct. 20 at the twenty-third annual reunion of the Veteran Association of the old First New York Volunteer Engineers, commonly known as the "Swamp Angels." Colonel Trowbridge was a member of this regiment before he received his commission, and this regiment set up the famous Swamp Angel battery in 1862, when Charleston was retaken by the union forces.

The relic consists of a tiny monument, fashioned out of pieces battered from the walls of Sumter by the union artillery. It was made by Corporal Vandye of Company I, Thirty-third United States colored troops, a protégé of Colonel Trowbridge. This colored soldier picked up the bits when stationed at Sumter later in the war, and fashioned them into the shape of a monument. The base is a brickbat from the base of the fort's superstructure. Two stones rubbed into shape, taken from the old stone water table on which the fort was built, surmount the brickbat. Vandye had been taught to read by Colonel Trowbridge, and with the relics he sent over to camp his first official communication. It read:

"Dis is de best dat I can do, kase de sandstone won't scratch."

The veterans of the old First New York engineers are entertained every year at a banquet given by Walter S. Logan, a wealthy New Yorker. Colonel Trowbridge is unable to attend in person and in a letter to Major J. C. Wambold, president of the association, he says: "Just a shade of sadness comes over me when I recall the fact that my chances of meeting again with the 'Swamp Angels' in this world are rapidly diminishing. This feeling of sadness is, however, dispelled by the hope that we shall meet some day when Angels of Peace will be our companions forever."

When the famous Swamp Angel battery was mounted, Colonel Trowbridge was serving as a second sergeant in the engineers. He says the records still show this incident:

When Lieutenant James Harold was sent to reconnoiter and report on the feasibility of planting a battery in the swamp, he returned and told Colonel Serrell that it was impossible. Colonel Serrell told him that it must be done, and gave him orders to proceed, with instructions to send in requisition for anything he needed. Lieutenant Harold at once turned in a requisition for "twenty men, 18 feet long." He was ordered court-martialed, but there is no record that he was severely punished for the offense.

MEN! I CAN GIVE

You Your Old Vim Back!

What would you not sacrifice to feel as you did a few years ago; to have the same snap and energy, the same gladness, joyous, light-hearted spirit and the physical strength you used to have? You know you are not the same man, and you know you would like to be. You might as well be. It's easy. I am making men out of wrecks every day, and I can make you as good a man as you ever were with my

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

Which makes vigorous, muscular men of the puniest, weakest specimens of "half-men," it expands and develops every muscle and organ in the body; it warms the heart, increases the courage and gives a man power of mind and body such as any man can be proud of. It makes the eye bright and the step elastic; it makes an athlete of a sluggard. It cures disease by restoring strength. It is a quick and lasting cure for all Nervous and Vital Weaknesses, Varicocele, Rheumatism, Pains in the Back and Hips (Sciatica), Lumbago, Constipation, Indigestion, Enlarged Prostate Gland, Weak Kidneys, Loss of Memory, and all evidences of breaking down. It cures when all else has failed.

My arguments are good, my system is good, but I know you haven't time to study these. You want proof, and I give you that and lots of it. When your own neighbor tells you I cured him you will know I did it.

Tell me where you are and I'll give you the name of a man in your own town I've cured.

Every weak man should have one of your Electric Belts. I am feeling like a man again. The symptoms of varicocele have entirely disappeared.
