Summing Up of Interests Indorsed and Fostered by the State Federation.

The honor of representing the state at the meetings of the General Federation of Women's clubs is one much desired, and the nominating committee would have found its task much easier if there had been a larger number of places. As the meeting is to be held in St. Louis in connection with the Louisiana Pur-chase exposition many will find it possible to attend and the state will undoubtedly have many representa-tives outside of the official list, which follows: Delegates, Mmes. F. S. Allen Dodge Center; E. M. La Penotiere Minneapolis; Miss Margaret J. Evans, Northfield; Mmes, Bramhall, St. Paul; Minnie Mathews, Marshall; Burdette Thayer, Spring Valley; H. C. Dorr, St Paul: Miss Martha Scott Anderson Minneapolis; Mmes. Charles Mickens, Moorhead; M. D. Greeley, Pine City; George Merrill, Owatonna.

By virtue of her office Mrs. Lydia Phillips Williams, a director of the general federation, will be a delegate.
One of the disappointments of the convention was the absence of Miss Margaret J. Evans, honorary president, who has never before missed a convention. Mrs. Denison paid a pretty tribute to both the honorar presidents in acknowledging the debt owed by the general federation to Minnesota for giving it the services and influence of Miss Evans and Mrs.

The federation took direct action on most points of its policy and future plans in acting on the recommenda-tions of the standing committee and will continue to work actively in be-half of education, town and village improvement, forestry, art, libraries, music, household economics, mothers' clubs and state fair headquarters. The course in regard to the reformatory for women was left to the executive committee for determination, while a vigorous campaign in behalf of a separate training school for girls, freed as much as possible from any punitive idea, was indorsed. There is punitive idea, was indorsed. There is no likelihood of giving up the reformatory plan, but it may be held in abeyance for the present in order that effort may be concentrated on the training school question, which it is felt should take precedence. But one active interest was taken up in the resolutions and these pledged the federation to work for pledged the federation to work for child labor reforms in harmony with the plans of the general federation. This matter was treated by Mrs. La Penotiere in her admirable and practical address and by Mrs. Denison.

There is no doubt that the distinguished guests of the federation Mrs. Denison president of the general for eration, and Mrs. Alice ture of the evening.
