CAN HE DO BETTER?

Memphis Racing Fraternity Would Like to See Dan Patch Try Again.

Think He Might Go Mile Under 1:56 1/4—Lou Dillon to Try To-day.

Memphis, Oct. 24.—Dan Patch's performance in lowering the pacing record to 1:56 1/4 has made those attending the racing here desirous of seeing him try to do still better. It is said he will start against time again next week. On the last race was run under weather conditions, Lou Dillon (2:00) did not attempt to lower her record yesterday. A large crowd was in attendance to see the Billings mare go against time, but at 4 o'clock, after a consultation, it was announced that the trial would be postponed until tomorrow. The race was run under a strong wind, amounting almost to a gale, blew directly down the stretch. Adelight, the strong favorite in the 2:16 trot, had no trouble in disposing of Turley, and won in straight heats. The 2:20 trot developed an odds on favorite in Jay McGregor. Hudson took him to the front at the start in both heats, and the horse was never headed.

Directum Miller was played all over the ring to win the 2:25 pace. He finished fourth in the first heat, but won the succeeding two in easy fashion. The most exciting finish of the day was in the 2:06 pace.

New York, Oct. 24.—Cold, winterlike weather prevailed at Brighton Beach yesterday and rain began falling before the last race was run. Four favorites and two second choices divided the money to-day. The choice stakes went to the favorite, Istanbul, after a hard drive thru the stretch. Wild Thyme finished second, but was disqualified for being three pounds short in weight. Redfern, her rider, was fined $200.

REINHART VS. CHICK

College Golf Contest Narrowed to Princeton and Harvard.

Garden City, L. I., Oct. 24.—At the close of yesterday's play, the Intercollegiate Golf association annual tournament of the Garden City links, only two of the thirty-three collegians who started in the contest for the individual championship, were left in the race.

These survivors were Frank O. Reinhart of Princeton and W. C. Chick of Harvard, and they met to-day in the final round of thirty-six holes to decide who shall have the honors, which was won last year by H. Chandler Egan. The latter was prominent all thru the present tournament, but he was defeated by another Harvard player, W. C. Chick, yesterday, in the semifinal round yesterday afternoon. Chick won, 2 up and 1 to play, but he had Egan 4 down on the thirteenth when he finished the match in a heavy rain shower which had been threatening from early morning.

Reinhart, who will take part in the final to-day, made the best score of the tournament, as he did for his morning round with Walter E. Egan, whom he beat 1 up.

In the semifinal round with H. B. McFarland of Pennsylvania during the afternoon, Reinhart had 81, coming in with 39, as against 38 in the morning.

Following are the results of the day's play: Second round, eighteen holes, match play: F. O. Reinhart, Princeton, beat Walter E. Egan, Harvard, 1 up, 10 holes. H. E. McFarland, Pennsylvania, beat G. Truesdale, Yale, 1 up. W. C. Chick, Harvard, beat J. W. Baker, Princeton, 1 up, 10 holes. H. C. Egan, Harvard, beat M. McBurney, Harvard, 5 up, 4 holes. Semifinal round: Reinhart beat McFarland, 3 up and 2 to play. Chick beat H. C. Egan, 2 up and 1 to play.

WON'T KEEP WISCONSIN OUT

Trouble Between A. A. U. and Big Nine Conference Colleges.

Special to The Journal.

Milwaukee, Oct. 24.—The trouble between the A. A. U. and the colleges of the big nine which has sprung up during the past few weeks will hardly prevent the Wisconsin university athletes from participating in future events under the colors of the Milwaukee Athletic club. It was supposed that when this trouble began the Wisconsin boys would withdraw their support from the A. A. U., which is under the jurisdiction of the A. A. U., but one of the professors at Madison talks the other way. The fact is, a great many of the boys at the University of Wisconsin feel that President La. Ginger is right in the standing he has taken regarding professionalism in amateur ranks and they feel that this trouble should not prevent them from participating in events as members of the A. A. U. team. It is also probable that the Wisconsin university will send a team of athletes to compete at the annual indoor meet of the central association, which will be held during the early part of March. The chances are that Wisconsin will have a stronger team this season than for several years.

Y. M. C. A. Wins at Handball. The intermediates of the Young Men's Christian association and the youth's class of the St. Paul Turner played a practice handball game at the association gymnasium last evening, which resulted in a victory for the intermediates by a score of 22 to 8.

Port Riley, Kan., Oct. 24.—A grand review of all the troops in camp was held this morning on the flats south of the Republican river. The scene from the hills above the flats was beautiful. The masses of troops extended for fully two miles in extreme length, and when the long ranks went sweeping along with bands playing, colors flying and the sparkle of polished steel, the spectators broke into enthusiastic cheers.

In the afternoon the officers of the engineer battalion under Major Leach, gave a practical demonstration in the construction of trenches. This evening Major C. B. Baker is to read a paper on "Army Transportation."

James J. Hill's College. The record of James J. Hill as an educator of successful business men might be envied by any college in the United States. His method is strictly western—rapid promotion for every man and a discharge if he fails to meet the requirements. He has developed literally hundreds of railroad officials now prominent in this country. He will take a man from the lowest ranks and make him an official of his road, if the man will work for it. The strength to succeed by constant attention to work comes with drinking golden grain belt beer, the pure home tonic and health food. You want a case at home and the sooner you order the better it will be for your family.

MICE AND HOSIERY!! TO SELL THE PICTURES

Both Are in Evidence at Meeting of Chicago Business Women's Club.

New York Sun Special Service. Chicago, Oct. 24.—The scurrying of mice in the wainscoting of the assembly-room at the Chicago Business Women's club, almost brought to an end the lecture given last evening by Professor W. D. MacClintock of the University of Chicago on "The Popular side Burns' Works."

Professor MacClintock was quoting from the poet's "Lines to a Field Mouse" for an illustration of a point he had made on "nature's social union" and Burns' sympathy, "even for a little mouse," when the shrill squeaking of mice came either from out of the wainscoting or from under the piano.

Women grabbed for the bottoms of their skirts. They realized that the frightened women to the floor. The display of open work hosiery and lingerie came to an abrupt end, and red faced women suddenly took sudden and surprising interest in the speaker's words.

UNION OF M. E. COLLEGES. They Will Consolidate Under the Lead of the Northwestern University—Thirty Affected.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—A plan whereby all, or nearly all, of the Methodist educational institutions in the country may be united under one general supervising body of directors, with Northwestern university as the head and front has been disclosed by President James of Northwestern.

As evidence that the smaller institutions are ready for such a union, President James declared that two colleges have asked to be taken under the protection and management of Northwestern university, while the university has already annexed two preparatory schools—the Elgin academy and the Grand Prairie seminary of Onarga.

President James' manifested fact," said President James last night, "that if denominational institutions are to do their best work they must work in unity. There must be harmony between the different institutions—a harmony which will permit of one general management."

President James then went into the details of the plan, concluding with the statement that all of the affiliated institutions should be known as "Northwestern." His statement is that there will be thirty such.

The Celebrated Diss de Barr Spirit Paintings Are to Be Auctioned Off.

New York, Oct. 24.—Ann O'Della Diss de Barr's spirit paintings are to be shown at last to the public. They were the most dearly sold, the most widely talked of and the least known paintings of the nineteenth century.

For them Luther R. Marsh, an old lawyer, well educated and refined in taste, a founder of the Union League club and one of the vice presidents, gave a fortune, the deed of his house and his reputation as an art collector. Mr. Marsh's son and one of Mr. Marsh's partners in the legal firm of Marsh, Wilson and Wallace, with several other policemen, raided his house in June, 1882. They arrested Ann O'Della Diss de Barr and her husband, who lived there, and seized the paintings. They were placed in cellars at police headquarters and kept there until a year ago.

The trial of the Diss de Barrs is a celebrated case of New York's courts. The woman was convicted of fraud. The paintings remained unknown. Mr.

Marsh said that he had seen them come to the canvases under Diss de Barr's invocation of Rembrandt, Van Dyck, Guido, Rem and others.

Ann O'Della Diss de Barr is in prison in England for fraud. The Diss de Barr that was known as her husband has vanished. The paintings are to be shown at the Fifth Avenue Art gallery on Monday and are to be sold there by auction later.
