

MOMMSEN IS DEAD

The Famous German Historian and Scholar Passes Away at His Home in Berlin.

Death Resulted from an Apoplectic Stroke, from Which He Never Regained Consciousness.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—Prof. Theodor Mommsen, the historian, died at Charlottenburg yesterday morning. He passed away without regaining consciousness after his attack of apoplexy.

His Life and Works. Theodor Mommsen was born at Garding, in Schleswig, on Nov. 30, 1817, and received his early education from his father, who was an evangelical preacher.

He went to the University of Kiel, where he plunged into a study of six languages, history and literature. He collaborated with his brother Tycho on a volume of verse, but that was so severely criticized as being wholly lacking in poetic grace, beauty or rhythm that Mommsen never repeated the experiment.

In 1842 he received the degree of Ph. D. The next year he published his "Die Gallien" at Siedelitz's Romanorum, the first of a long series of works. This and another similar book made him known as a writer of great thoroughness, lucidity and beauty of style.

Strongest Evidence of Faith

Voegell Bros. Guarantee That Hymel Will Cure the Case of Catarrh in Minneapolis.

When one of the most reputable concerns in Minneapolis guarantees that a medicine will effect a cure or they will refund the money, it speaks volumes as to the merits of that remedy.

It is in this way that Voegell Bros. are selling Hymel, the treatment that has made so many remarkable cures of both acute and chronic catarrh in Minneapolis and vicinity.

Hymel is not a pill nor is it a liquid that has to be taken with a tablespoon or wineglass. Just breathe it by the aid of an inhalant that comes in every outfit and benefit will be seen from the first treatment.

It destroys all germ life in the air passages and lungs and enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone.

A complete Hymel outfit costs but $1, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hymel for several weeks' treatment.

Remember that if Hymel does not cure you, Voegell Bros., corner Washington and Hennepin avenues, will refund your money. This is a good time to cure catarrh by this natural method and prevent catarrhal colds that are so common at this season.

THE North American Telegraph Company (ORGANIZED IN 1886) Continues to furnish the same efficient service that has made the venture a GREAT SUCCESS.

AS OLD AS THE PYRAMIDS

That blood poison existed among the ancients has been proven beyond question. It has been traced back thousands of years, and is as old as the Pyramids.

Contagious blood poison, as it is called in modern times, begins with a small sore or ulcer through which the virus enters the blood. This is followed by inflammation and swelling of the glands of the groins, a red eruption breaks out on the body, sores appear in the mouth and the throat becomes ulcerated, and as the disease takes a deeper hold and the blood becomes more thoroughly infected, the hair and eyebrows drop out, the skin is spotted with copper-colored spots, the bones and muscles ache, and it seems to the victim of this monster scourge there is not a sound spot in the whole body.

HAD ALL THE SYMPTOMS. Dear Sir: As a result of a serious blood disorder my blood became poisoned and I suffered severely with Rheumatism and other symptoms not necessary to mention. A friend of mine told me that he had been cured of my trouble by S. S. S. and upon his recommendation I began using it. After using it for some time my blood was thoroughly cleansed of all poison and made pure and strong again. I wish also to speak of its tonic properties. While purging my blood of impurities, it built up my general health, improved my appetite, gave me increased strength, and I felt better in every way. I am a great believer in S. S. S. and with pleasure commend it to all in need of a blood medicine. Yours very truly, ROBERT M. ZWITZIG, 538 Walnut St., Lebanon, Pa.

S. S. S. is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy. $1.00 is offered for proof that it contains a single mineral ingredient. If you have blood poison write for our special book, describing the different stages and giving all the symptoms, with directions for treating one's self at home. Our physicians will furnish any information or advice wanted free of charge.

THE CONSUL IS BURIED

Services for the Late Mrs. Booth-Tucker Held Yesterday—Ballington Booth Not Present.

New York, Nov. 2.—Funeral services over the remains of Emma Booth-Tucker, consul of the Salvation Army in America, were held yesterday afternoon in Carnegie hall.

The auditorium was filled to overflowing and hundreds of persons who had been invited to give their names waited in the streets until the ceremonies had been concluded that they might take part in the funeral. The face of the dead woman was so peaceful that she had done for mankind. The grief of Commander Booth-Tucker was most poignant, and as he knelt by the bier, sobbing pathetically, the greater part of the vast congregation wept with him.

General Ballington Booth of the Volunteers of America did not remain for the memorial service. According to his secretary he had undertaken to arrange for a family gathering and short private services in Carnegie hall before the public funeral service. General Booth arrived at the hall three quarters of an hour ahead of time and waited for the expected family gathering, but learning that it would not take place, he left, saying that he did not care to stay for the public services.

Herbert Booth, his brother, who was formerly commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, presided at the request of the general, remained to represent the family, and if possible to say a few words to the audience. Herbert Booth was permitted to speak, but each time it was refused. Commissioner Eva Booth was to have spoken, but she was overcome by grief to do so. At the close of the services, however, she rendered a prayer. Cablegrams were read from General William Booth, chief of the Salvation Army, and from the International headquarters, London, at the funeral.

RELICS OF THE POPE

They Will Be Exhibited at the St. Louis Exposition.

Rome, Nov. 2.—Count Ludovico Pecci, head of the Pecci family to which the late Pope Leo XIII. belonged, intends to send to the St. Louis exposition mementos of the pontiff. The exhibit will comprise a selection from the manuscripts of the pontiff from his schoolboy days; a flintlock musket which he used in his youth when a sportsman; the first hat which he wore as pope, a breviary which he used for years, his cane, the red umbrella which he used in the Vatican gardens, and garments of his ancestors.

CASTLE STRIKES BACK

Treasury Department Auditor Attacks Postmaster General Payne in His Report.

Washington, Nov. 2.—H. A. Castle, auditor for the postoffice department, who is soon to retire, has delivered a caustic vetoictory in the form of his annual report. He arranges his administrative methods employed in the department and which, in effect, holds the postmaster general largely accountable for the department's losses.

In criticizing the methods of accounting thru congressional inaction he points out wherein over $40,000,000 annually has been and is being paid out upon mere certificates without check or review.

He says no account is kept by the auditor of postage stamps, stamped paper and envelopes, etc., and that any one between the department and manufacturers or contractors for furnishing such paper has a free hand.

The reprehensible practice has at times prevailed in the postoffice department, sanctioned by law, but opposed to correct accounting methods, of paying some portions of expenditures from annual departmental, miscellaneous, incidental expense, and even from salary appropriations by authorizing a postmaster, notably at Washington city, to make such payments instead of by warrant thru the auditor's office in the regular way.

Only the Very Best YARNS Honest Weight, Full Measure.

We Sell Only "Columbia" Brand—They are honest yarns, full skeins—not split—and are sold only in chester stores. The makers of Columbia yarns will sell to no store that has the evil reputation of splitting skeins or of indulging in other reprehensible practices. Columbia yarns are Standard. Their pounds are pounds. Cheaper yarns run a skein and a half or over underweight to a pound. Others are put up more skeins to a pound, besides, like this—

"Columbia" Germantown Yarn is put up 9 skeins to a pound and sells at 18c a skein. Some dealers split skeins of cheaper yarns in two, making 18 skeins to the "pound," and sell it at 10c a "skein," this robs you of 2 cents on what should be a full skein, aside from the short weight.

Another way: Columbia Shetland Floss comes 8 skeins to the pound and sells at 15c. Cheaper yarns come 10 and 12 skeins to the "pound," with the penny or two added—

Moral—Stick to stores that deal in honest yarns; such yarns are the most economical in the end.

Columbia Germantown, 9 skeins to the pound, 18c a skein; $1.50 lb. Columbia German Knitting Yarn, 4 skeins to the pound, 30c a skein; $1.20 a pound.

Columbia Spanish Yarn, 8 skeins to the pound, 18c a skein; $1.25 a pound. Columbia Shetland Floss, 8 skeins to the pound, 15c a skein; $1.15 a pound. Columbia Shetland Wool, 8 skeins to the pound, 18c a skein; $1.25 a pound. Columbia Saxony Wool, 16 skeins to the pound, black and white, 10c a skein; $1.50 a pound; colors, 12c a skein, $1.50 a pound. Columbia Iced Wool, 12 1/2 a ball; $1.00 a box of 8 balls. Columbia Angora Wool, 12 1/2 a ball; $1.90 a box of 16 balls.
