

MARSHALL FIELD AND CO.'S WAREHOUSE MANAGER

Cured of Catarrh of Kidneys by Pe-ru-na.

HON. JOHN T. SHEAHAN, OF CHICAGO.

Hon. John T. Sheahan, who has been for seventeen years manager of Marshall Field & Co.'s wholesale warehouse, and is corporal 2d Regiment Infantry, I. N. G., writes the following letter from 3733 Indiana avenue, Flat Six, Chicago, Ill.:

Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio. Gentlemen—"Last summer I caught a cold which seemed to settle in my kidneys and affected them badly. I tried a couple of kidney remedies largely advertised, but they did not help me any. One of my foremen told me of the great help he had received in using Peruna in a similar case, and I at once procured some.

"It was indeed a blessing to me, as I am on my feet a large part of the day, and trouble such as I had affected me seriously, but four bottles of Peruna cured me entirely and I would not be without it for three months salary."—JOHN T. SHEAHAN.

Mr. Jacob Fleig writes from 44 Sumner avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.: "I am now a new man at the age of seventy-five years, thanks to your wonderful remedy Peruna."—Jacob Fleig.

Catarrhal inflammation of the mucous lining of the kidneys, also called "Bright's disease," may be either acute or chronic. The acute form produces symptoms of such prominence that the serious nature

MADMANA MURDERER

Benjamin Weissinger Goes Insane, Kills His Two Brothers and Is Arrested.

Man Tried also to Shoot His Sister and Sister-in-Law, but Missed.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 3.—Worked into a frenzy as a result of an altercation with one of his brothers, Benjamin Franklin Weissinger, living on a farm several miles from this city, yesterday afternoon shot and killed his two brothers, Frederick and Louis, attempted to kill his sister and a sister-in-law, and held a large posse of policemen at bay for nine hours before he was captured. The tragedy occurred on the farm of the father of the men.

Benjamin and Frederick had quarreled in the afternoon over the cleaning of a horse. During the altercation Benjamin fired four shots at Frederick, but none took effect. Frederick fled to the attic of the farm house, followed by the enraged brother. The latter secured a repeating rifle, and as he was leaving the house he encountered another brother, Louis, at the kitchen door.

Without a word of warning Benjamin fired at Louis, the bullet striking him in the side. The victim fell unconscious and died in half an hour without uttering a word.

The murderer then walked down a path and caught a glimpse of Frederick, who was looking out of the attic window. Benjamin quickly raised his rifle and fired. The bullet entered Frederick's cheek and penetrated the brain. He fell dead across the window sill. His wife, who had gone to the attic with him, attempted to drag the body into the room. She succeeded in this, but not before Benjamin had fired several shots at her without effect.

The murderer's attention was then attracted to his sister, Mary, who had come out of the house to dissuade him from doing any more shooting. She persisted so strongly that he turned his rifle upon her and fired twice, but his aim was bad. The young woman escaped into the house. He then went into the house, secured a shotgun, several revolvers and ammunition and took up his position in the barn, where he was later arrested. He is thought to be insane.

DIVORCE OR NO DIVORCE

Question Is Settled by Marriage of Mrs. Molineux to Young Mr. Scott.

Special to The Journal. Chicago, Nov. 3.—Wallace D. Scott, a Sioux Falls, S. D., lawyer, and Blanche C. Chesebrough, the divorced wife of Roland B. Molineux, were secretly married in Chicago yesterday. Scott represented Mrs. Molineux in her suit for divorce. Last night they occupied room 1806 at the Auditorium Annex, having registered early in the afternoon as "Mr. and Mrs. Scott, New York."

The utmost secrecy was maintained by Mr. Scott as to the marriage. He even declined to say who performed the ceremony or to admit that there had been a wedding. He and Mrs. Molineux, or Chesebrough, left New York for Chicago Sunday night. A marriage license was taken out, in which Mr. Scott's age was given as 28 and the bride's as 29.

Scott was seen last evening at the hotel and was asked if he and Mrs. Molineux were married. "I do not care to discuss the matter," he answered gruffly, and further efforts to communicate with him were futile.

Sloux Falls, S. D., Nov. 3.—Wallace D. Scott, who married Blanche D. Chesebrough of New York, is a member of the liberal party, and is a member of the Chicago Bar. He is a member of the United States Senate A. E. Kirtledge. Mr. Scott is serving his second term as state attorney of this county. The law firm of which Mr. Scott is a member represented Mrs. Molineux in her recent divorce litigation in this state.

MURDERER A SUICIDE

Couldn't Get Away and Killed Himself to Escape Gallows.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 3.—A wife murder and an attempted murder of another woman, a man hunt lasting two days by scores of farmers bent upon lynching and the suicide of the culprit under most dramatic circumstances are the events that have aroused St. Joseph county to a pitch of excitement.

The central figure was Clyde Lamb, who pursued by a mob of indignant neighbors and by Sheriff Addison with bloodhounds since Saturday night, shot himself to death in a swamp near White Pigeon yesterday. A few minutes previously Lamb had tried to take the lives of his pursuers and a number of shots were exchanged. Realizing that escape was impossible, Lamb turned the weapon upon himself and blew out his brains.

Late Saturday night Lamb went to the house of his mother-in-law, living near Three Rivers and shot his wife to death as she lay ill in bed. He then turned and shot Mrs. S. A. Featherstone, his mother-in-law, wounding her seriously.

Volunteers and Salvationists Even Farther Apart After Mrs. Booth-Tucker's Death.

The Volunteers' National Secretary Indites a Significant Letter to Salvationist Officer.

New York, Nov. 3.—General Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America, who refused to remain at the services in memory of his sister, Constance Emma Booth-Tucker, at Carnegie hall, because the Salvation army officials refused to permit a family gathering prior to the public services, has received a letter from Colonel L. M. Higgins of the Salvation army in explanation thereof, together with an invitation to view the remains privately at the Salvation army national headquarters.

In reply the national secretary for the Volunteers of America forwarded a letter to Colonel Higgins, which is as follows: "Your letter to General Ballington Booth has been received in which you say that if he wishes to view the body of his sister you will exclude the public from the lying-in-state, which was said to be 'impossible' at Carnegie hall. After the inconsiderate and indifferent way in which General Ballington Booth was treated at the Carnegie Musical hall, it would not be wise for him to subject himself to further misunderstanding. During the three-quarters of an hour he waited there it would have been quite possible for you to have acceded to his, as also Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Booth's requests for a family gathering. He was at the hall with the understanding that you had been fully consulted, and also Commander Booth-Tucker and Miss Eva Booth. His request was one perfectly natural to any brother—simply to pray with the members of the family for a brief time around the coffin. He came purely in the spirit of sympathy and unofficially, as also did Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Booth.

It was further from their thoughts to allude to any difference between the movements of governments and they felt that when the public was being allowed to participate in the obsequies of their sister, they, as members of the family, had some rights. He would never have gone near the Carnegie Music hall had he not been assured over the wire by your representatives that his requests would have been respected. General Ballington Booth was told in the hearing of Mrs. Booth that his arrangements were conceded, to all but that one point, and he immediately waived that wish in deference to the request of Miss Eva Booth and Commander Booth-Tucker.

In your letter of this morning you overlook the express purpose of General Ballington Booth's and Mrs. Herbert Booth's visit to the Carnegie Music hall. It was for a family gathering around the body and not merely to view the remains. We regret this deplorable exhibition of Salvationist intolerance, which we cannot advise General Ballington Booth to be exposed to the probable repetition of his desire that would be shown him were he today to visit the Salvation Army's own headquarters.

NOT THE PATTI OF OLD

Famous Diva Begins Her Concert Tour in New York, but Audience Is Disappointed.

New York, Nov. 3.—Mme. Adelina Patti, sometime the world's greatest singer, made her reappearance in America last night at Carnegie hall after an absence of more than ten years. A large audience greeted her. When she made her first appearance on the platform there was a long round of applause, then a silence, and then a mighty buzzing of comment. "The people had come to see Patti and they saw her. Those who had preceded her on the program had been accompanied by a band, but now Conchita Romanaldo Sapio sat down at the piano and sang for Mme. Patti, who sang "Luca di Quest Anima." Off had the band, and the audience heard her singing that. For an encore she sang "The Last Rose of Summer." Then she disappeared, only to be called back after a second encore. Her voice is still good. Some of the tones heard were those of a woman in the fullness of her powers. But some others showed signs of wear, and especially after the singer had sung twice. To those who know what Patti was twenty years ago it is saddening to hear and see her to-day.

TO DEAL WITH UNIONS

Chicago Building Contractors to Form a Unique Organization.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Standing on a platform diametrically opposed to the respected by the employers who met here last week, the Building Contractors' Council of Chicago has issued a call for a national convention of the promoters of forming a national association of building contractors.

In contrast to the association of which David M. Parr of Indianapolis is the head, the cardinal principle of the proposed association is joint trade agreements with ready consent when practicable. Conciliation, co-operation and arbitration are the watchwords upon which the promoters of this new association hope to build up a system that will establish industrial peace in the building trades and thereby promote confidence and renewed prosperity.

The call has been sanctioned by the leading associations of contractors in most of the big cities. The first meeting is to be held in Chicago, Dec. 10.
