AFTER VENISON OR PATIENTS?

Minneapolis sportsmen who are in the big woods for deer should not lack for proper attention. The delegation from this city includes five doctors and an undertaker. The medical profession is represented by Drs. F. A. Dunsmoor, W. J. Byrnes, J. E. Moore, C. Nootnagle and F. A. Knights. Terence Connolly, an invaluable ally of the profession, has also taken a license and a gun, and will "undertake" all deer that come his way. One lucky Minnesotan has already returned with his full share of big game. A. H. Opsahl was in the woods as soon as the law allowed, and found his quarry very quickly. He has already returned with three fine deer, and the Opsahl family is bidding defiance to the meat trust.

HOW TO GET BUSINESS

Some Advice to Grocers from Their National Secretary. Vigorous advice to eschew all trading devices, such as trading stamps, big baskets and prize packages, even the giving of twenty-two pounds of sugar for a dollar, was given to 300 grocers at Columbus hall last night by Fred Mason, national secretary of the Retail Grocers' association. Mr. Mason repeated the arguments against trading stamps made by him before the state legislature last year and urged the grocers to secure business by offering good bargains rather than by catch-penny devices.

Among those in attendance were 100 grocers from St. Paul, Simon Clark of Duluth, state secretary of the association, and President Charles R. Lot of Chicago, who addressed the meeting. Among the other speakers were S. Andrist, J. G. Armon, Simon Clark, P. G. Hanson, John W. Lux, John Powell, and J. J. Ryan. After the meeting, those present adjourned to the supper room, where a good luncheon was served.

ERNST CREDITORS IN DOUBT

Don't Know Just What to Do to Save the Most. Opinions of the creditors of Casper Ernst, the St. Paul capitalist and encourager, who is now in the Ramsey county jail, awaiting the attentions of the grand jury, differ as to the best method of saving as much as possible out of the wreck. Some are in favor of putting Ernst thru bankruptcy while others are inclined to believe that if the Ernst properties are handled by Attorney J. D. O'Brien, recently named as assignee, they may get something out of them.

Several priests are numbered among the creditors and they hold a meeting yesterday under the direction of Father Baart of Marshall, Mich., but had no statement to give County Attorney Kane or the public. Ernst's Minneapolis office, 700 Temple Court, was closed yesterday, and it is understood that Register of Deeds Merrill has discovered some mortgage irregularities in connection with it.

CITY NEWS.

ST. PAUL'S $10,000 READY

Council Committee Will Recommend Fair Fund if Minneapolis Does Likewise.

The St. Paul half of the additional funds required for the cost of the twin city municipal exhibits at the St. Louis world's fair was practically secured yesterday when the conference committee of the city council voted to recommend an appropriation of $10,000, on condition that Minneapolis would provide a like sum and that the exhibits at St. Louis would be in all respects a twin city display. John Caulfield, chairman of the joint civic committee that is preparing the display, informed the conference committee that the $10,000 extra was needed to construct an appropriate building in the "model city" department at the fair. The building and its contents would be under the management of joint committees from the twins and the display would advertise that St. Paul and Minneapolis are practically one municipality with identical interests.

Only half of the $10,000 will be included in the St. Paul budget for 1904. At the suggestion of Mayor Smith the remaining $5,000 will be taken from the mayor's contingent fund. "If the contingent fund is used in this way," said Mr. Smith, "the council will simply spend it foolishly, as it has already done this year."

WORK FOR GRAND JURY

Members May Inquire Into Train Hold-ups—Meet To-morrow After Week's Recess.

To-morrow morning at 10 o'clock the grand jury will convene after a week of rest. There are a few jail and routine cases to be disposed of, and it is understood that the investigators will be asked to look into the recent train holdups and other crimes which have been so frequent during the past few weeks. Beyond that it is not known whether the members of the jury will see fit to go or not. The municipal investigation begun by the last grand jury has left much to be done in that line, and it was at first believed that the present jury would push the good work along. They are known to have been doing some quiet investigating of their own and it now remains to be seen whether or not any active campaign against civic corruption will be undertaken. It is probable that some work will be done and some indictments along this line will be returned.

HIS SHOOTING WAS POOR

An Arkansas Lawyer Misses Himself at the Hotel Nicollet.

M. J. Millan, a lawyer from Little Rock, Ark., attempted suicide in the lobby of the Nicollet hotel yesterday afternoon. He fired three times, but none of the bullets took effect. He dropped the gun after firing the third shot, and before he could reload, Detective John Morrissy, who was passing, sprang upon him. Millan was locked up, but was later released. When Millan attempted to shoot himself, the hotel lobby was crowded with guests. He went to the desk and asked for his bill. The clerk told him that the bill had been paid. He drew the revolver from his pocket and began firing at his own head, but like the Prince of Platen he "missed." The first bullet crashed thru the glass of the cashier's desk and barely missed Mrs. William Capron, the cashier. The other two bullets lodged in the woodwork of the lobby. The firing caused a panic among the guests many of them ran into the street crying that some one was trying "to shoot up the hotel."

AFTER MEN FOR NAVY

Lieutenant Williams Will Open Recruiting Office Here Nov. 20. Upon their return, Nov. 20, from a successful tour of the west, Lieutenant Williams and his recruiting party will occupy offices at 112 Bank of Commerce building. They expect to secure at least 100 men for the United States navy. The recruiting officer wants machinists, firemen, blacksmiths, and young men between 18 and 25 years, who wish to be landsmen, seamen and petty officers, and boys between 15 and 18 years as apprentices. The enlisted men will be sent to San Francisco and the Mare Island navy yard.

MANY NEW CREAMERIES

State Growing Fast as a Butter Producer—774 Creameries in State Now. In the past season thirty-three new creameries and ten new cheese factories were established in Minnesota, according to reports made to the state dairy and food commission. This brings the total number of creameries in the state up to 774, and the cheese factories to eighty-five. Sixteen county associations have creameries, but Freeborn, with twenty-seven, has the largest output of butter. Todd county saw six new creameries established this year.

THE ANNUAL FOOD SHOW

Nearly All Space Gone—Great Outlook for Exhibit. Although the room, in which the third annual food show is to be held during the two weeks beginning Nov. 30, measures 100x200 feet, all but five of the fifty booths which quite fill the hall have been rented and the City Sausage and Meat Association, whose auspices the show will be given, is more than pleased with the outlook. As usual, the Dayton building, Nicollet avenue and Seventh street, will house the exhibit.

BASSETT'S CREEK CUT-OFF

Plan Discussed at Meeting of the Engineers' Club.

Engineer F. M. Henry's plan for perpetuating Minnehaha Falls and the chain of lakes, which is the principal attraction of the Minneapolis park system, was eagerly discussed by the Engineers' club last evening. Mr. Henry outlined his plan for diverting a part of the flow of Bassett's creek to Cedar lake and thence thru the Lake of the Isles, Lake Calhoun and Lake Harriet to Minnehaha creek. His paper was illustrated by two large maps. The ditch could be constructed for $27,000, including the cost of four bridges and a railway bridge. To prevent the overflow of Bassett's creek, Mr. Henry would recommend a dam with gates at the mouth of Medicine lake. County Surveyor G. W. Cooley, in discussing the paper, said that he would hesitate to recommend a dam. The Minnetonka dam had cost only $6,000, but the county had already paid out $35,000 in damages. C. M. Loring doubted if a dam would be of much use, for when Minnehaha creek was dry Bassett's creek would also dry. J. T. Fanning approved of the plan, in a general way, but raised the question as to whether or not the St. Anthony Falls power companies would not obtain damages if any of the water which nature had intended for them was diverted for other purposes. Professor W. R. Hoag thought that Mr. Henry's plan should be executed as soon as possible.

CHURCH EXTENSION WORK

Society Will Hold Second Annual Meeting To-morrow. The Church Extension society of Minneapolis, which is the city mission organization of the Episcopal church, will hold its second annual mass meeting at St. Mark's pro-cathedral Wednesday at 8 p. m.
