SOCIALIST PLAN SENT TO UNIONS

REFERRED BY LOCAL ASSEMBLY AFTER A LIVELY SESSION.

The Assembly Is Installed by Organizer C. F. Ceilly Under Its New American Federation Charter—Single Taxers' Speaker to Address Labor Organizations.

There was not a dull moment during Wednesday evening's session of the local Trades assembly. Interest centered in the proposed amendments to the constitution of the State Federation of Labor, which had been made a special order of business. The socialists were out in force, and so were the opponents of the measures. After a lively discussion the matter was disposed of by the assembly deciding not to vote upon the proposed changes upon the ground that the delegates to the central body would have an opportunity to vote upon the amendments in their own unions, and that it would not be right that delegates have the privilege of voting twice upon the questions. Much disappointment was expressed by friends of the amendments at the outcome. The vote was decidedly close, standing 34 to 30.

Organizer Charles F. Ceilly was present and installed the officers of the assembly and administered the charge to the delegates in behalf of the American Federation. After the installation ceremony Mr. Ceilly made a number of recommendations, among which it was pointed out that the income of the assembly is not adequate and should be increased in order that work necessary to be performed should not be delayed on account of lack of funds. Mr. Ceilly informed the assembly that he had made a request of the Federal Labor union for a list of its members, together with the occupation and claim to membership.

Champion of Clean Trade Unionism. The union label, Clean Trade Unionism, which belongs, has no more ardent champion than Mr. Durker. While in the Trades Assembly as a delegate from Cigar Makers' Union No. 7, Mr. Durker has been a consistent and earnest worker in labor's interests, and has done valuable work. He stands for clean labor organizations, and is appearing before the various local unions in behalf of union labels, and is incidentally discussing questions relative to the placing of labor unions on the map.

Mr. Durker will address Carpenters' Union No. 7, and he will also address the Retail Grocers' association Monday evening, Dec. 21. The work being carried on under the auspices of the Cigar Makers' Union.

ship of each member, and that this list would shortly be forwarded to headquarters at Washington and the eligibility of each member of the Federal Labor union for membership in that organization passed upon by the officers of the American Federation. This, it is thought, will result in limiting the membership to certain classes of workmen engaged in occupations at which there are not enough employed to hold a charter for a union, which was the original intention. A number of new unions will likely be formed from the membership of the Federal Labor union.

The Woman's Union Label league reported that a number of meetings would be held in different parts of the city the coming winter, in the interest of the union label. The assembly donated $50 to help defray the expenses of these meetings.

THE CIGARMAKERS

The Local and International Unions Are Prosperous.

Cigarmakers' union, No. 77, of Minneapolis, is one of the progressive unions of the northwest, and the members may well feel proud of the success of the organization. It is a well-known fact that no other organization has accomplished more for the general welfare of the union label movement in this city. The membership is now 300, all of whom are employed on high-grade goods. The international union is in fine shape and is stronger to-day than ever, numerically and financially. William E. Stacy, president of No. 77, has this to say about the international organization:

"The cigarmakers' union was one of the five national unions that weathered the storms of 1873-1879, the hardest crippled. With the era of prosperity which spread over the country shortly after the union took on new life, and in a short time had gained a large additional membership. One of the most important steps was the adoption of the blue label, now so well known to smokers, and this little emblem has done much for the union. The panic of 1873 taught the officers of the parent body and the membership in general the lesson that in order to exist in hard times their funds must be husbanded in times of plenty, and this is now the policy. In 1896 and 1897, $96,000 was paid out in benefits, and that the money was well spent. The following figures will show: Total number of members in good standing on Jan. 1, 1898, 27,000; number in good standing Jan. 1, 1903, 47,000, while the estimated membership on Dec. 1, 1903, was 51,000. The Cigarmakers' union is unalterably opposed to the 'open shop.' The discussion of politics or religion is forbidden at meetings of local unions, and the 'sympathetic strike' is tabooed."

Mill Employees Elected. At the regular meeting of local union No. 2, Mill Employees, Sunday, Dec. 13, the following officers were elected: President, A. E. Kellington; vice president, H. K. Kohl; recording secretary, J. M. Bohan; financial secretary, Laurence Lund; treasurer, T. W. Davies; trustees, Henry Andrews, William Doyle and Henry Smith; guide, R. R. Bemish; sergeant-at-arms, John Norris; members of the executive committee at large, F. W. Marks, George Alstede and W. H. Norris; delegates to Trades assembly, A. E. Kellington, J. M. Bohan, William Doyle, T. W. Davies and Laurence Lund. Per capita tax to the State Federation of Labor was ordered paid on 304 members.

Single Taxers Get Busy. The single taxers of Minneapolis, who have been quiet for a long time, have made arrangements with John G. White of Chicago to give a series of addresses in this city during January, the dates to be announced later. Mr. White will address clubs, societies and church congregations, and the managers hope to arrange for one meeting of organized and unorganized labor in the central part of the city, and officers and members of unions are invited to co-operate in making the proposed gathering a success. Mr. White will remain in this city for one week.

Carpenters Elected. Owing to the large list of candidates and the press of other business, the election of officers of Carpenters' union No. 7, was not completed last Friday night. The election will be completed this evening. Following are the officers elected last meeting: President, M. N. Rogers; vice president, Daniel Desmond; financial secretary, John Franzon; recording secretary, Elmer Klugsmith. Ex-President Thomas McCourt was elected business agent, vice John Wahlquist.

Whitehead Honored. J. J. Whitehead of the Bill Posters and Billers' union is home from Cincinnati, where he represented the local union at the annual convention. During the session a conference was held between representatives of the bill posters and seven of the large circus companies, resulting in a 25 per cent increase for circus bill posters. Mr. Whitehead was elected third vice president and was also given a place on the executive board and made chairman of the grievance committee. James Segor represented St. Paul union at the convention.

Machinists Branching Out. Charles E. Burch, business agent of the twin city machinists' unions, has opened an office in St. Paul and will divide his time between the two cities until January. The St. Paul office is in the Bradley building and Mr. Burch will be there from 9 to 11 a. m. each day, and his hour at the Minneapolis office will be from 3 to 5 p. m. Local unions Nos. 477 and 91 will give a "smoker" at Union Temple, Tuesday evening, Dec. 29. A program of music and speeches will be given.

LABOR NOTES. The St. Paul Packing-house Employees' Union has reached the 1,000 mark, and now embraces in its membership nearly all the packing-house employees at South St. Paul. The union is endeavoring to secure a complete shutdown of all the packing-houses on Christmas day. A special committee of five from the St. Paul union is at work upon the revision of the working rules and wage scale for the coming year. The St. Paul union is now being organized by George M. Davis, ex-president of the Duluth Trades Assembly, who was seriously injured in a street car accident two weeks ago, is recovering and will soon be about again. George Skinner, well known in Duluth labor circles, has been elected president of the carpenters' union of that city. J. J. Skove, secretary for eight years, was defeated by Josiah Wiley. S. M. Killely was elected delegate to the Trades Assembly.

St. Paul's new charter commission has been appointed and organized labor received scant recognition. E. C. Ives, ex-president of the Trades Assembly, is the only one who is a representative of the working people. John Puerner was elected president of the St. Paul Musicians' Union for the third time last week by acclamation. When first chosen to office the local union had only fifty-eight members in good standing, while at present the membership is 275. The musicians will give a music free for the coming entertainment of the Trades Assembly. A bill will shortly be introduced in congress by Senator Cullom of Illinois representing the interests of the laboring classes. The bill provides for the appointment of a commission of five or six members each commissioned to receive a compensation of $8,000 a year, the commission

STUDIED UNDER WEBSTER

Death at Cedar Falls of Judge J. W. Kingman. Special to The Journal. Cedar Falls, Iowa, Dec. 18.—Judge J. W. Kingman died last night, aged 82. He was associate judge of Wyoming under President Grant and a veteran of the civil war. He was related to the Webster family and studied law in Daniel Webster's office. The remains will be sent to Dover, N. H.

North Dakota Development. The Great Northern Railway never loses an opportunity to build new lines or extensions to open up a new and productive country. It has just finished the building of a sixteen-mile extension from Souris to Westhope, N. D., which will be open for traffic Dec. 21. Though less than a year old, Westhope, the terminal of this extension, is a thriving town of 800 inhabitants. The opening of this extension is of particular interest to the merchants and jobbers of the twin cities, as it opens for settlement and development a country whose soil is equivalent to the Red River valley; the lands adjacent to the new line produced this year a million and a half bushels of grain. Immigration into this particular section of North Dakota has been exceedingly heavy, nearly every quarter section of land being taken up, and in carrying out its policy of co-operation with the merchants and farmers along its line, the railway company has prepared freight tariffs from its eastern terminals on substantially the same basis as applies to Minot.

FRIARS' LANDS. Fillipinos to Have Privilege of Buying on Easy Terms. Washington, Dec. 18.—Only some small matters of difference remain to be adjusted regarding the sale of the friars' lands in the Philippines, according to advices received from Governor Taft at the war department. It is proposed to sell the lands for the benefit of the Fillipinos, payment to be made by bonds which will either be turned over to the friars or sold by the Philippine government at the best price obtainable. The lands are to be sold to the tenants who live on them now. Only 200 friars are said to remain and their withdrawal will soon be effected. Most of the are in Manila, and they have calls to duty in places outside the archipelago.
