OBJECT LESSON TO THE STATES

The Chicago Inter-Ocean Declares It May Be Found in Minnesota.

Financial Affairs of the State Are Made Subject of Laudatory Editorial.

Special to The Journal.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—A joyous Christmas will prevail throughout Minnesota this year, judging from the comment of the Chicago press. The Inter Ocean this morning voices the prevalent opinion here in the following editorial: The state of Minnesota has $100,000,000 which it is anxious to invest in good bonds within the next month. Within the next three months $300,000,000 will be available for similar investment. The state treasurer has sent out circular letters to a large number of brokers asking for propositions on good state or municipal bonds. The bonds which Minnesota will accept are only those of states in good standing. Minnesota municipalities and the stock of good Minnesota corporations. It is stated that the money which the state treasurer was authorized to invest by the state board of investment, which met on Dec. 5, is part of the permanent trust funds. The money now available is of the university permanent fund.

The press and people of Minnesota are naturally proud of the fact that their state is to-day one of the wealthiest commonwealths of the union. According to the Winona Independent, "Her trust funds aggregate nearly $20,000,000 and there are still large areas of state land and mining properties from which a great deal of money will be realized each year. In a recent speech Governor Van Sant predicted that within the next twenty years these funds will reach $70,000,000. The affairs of Minnesota have been admirably managed. Real business administration has marked the conduct of its government. The funds which she has accumulated and of which she is so justly proud now have been realized from the sale of state school lands, swamp lands, stumpage and taxes and rentals on the mineral properties of the iron range. All have contributed largely, and every institution is now backed by good substantial sums, laid aside for a rainy day by the state. Moreover, the same shrewdness which has achieved the possession of this capital is employed in its investment, and the $20,000,000 that constitutes the present fund is almost entirely invested in the bonds of other states. Large quantities of bonds of Alabama, Delaware, Massachusetts, Tennessee, Virginia, Utah and Louisiana are numbered among the state's possessions. These bonds pay all the way from 3 1/2 to 6 per cent interest. Minnesota has reason to be proud of this showing. It is one of those exhibits which help to account for the rapid advancement which the northwest has been making during recent years toward financial independence.

ROLLING IN WEALTH WIFE OF ELIJAH DOWIE, THE PROFIT-MAKING PROPHET, 'FLASHES HER ROLL' BEFORE HOTEL MAN.

New York Sun Special Service. Cannes, Dec. 21.—Mrs. John A. Dowie, wife of the unrepentant prophet, has had a slight shock at the Hotel du Paradis.

Reports of the misfortune in Zion City reached the proprietor, and he sent up to the Dowie apartments a request for an audience. This was granted, and Mrs. Dowie assured him she was fully able to pay, displaying an amount of cash and securities that made his eyes goggle and his hands vibrate with delight. He apologized and bowed himself out. When the request reached Mrs. Dowie for an audience she said: "Let him come up now." In a few minutes the proprietor arrived, full of polite bows and deprecatory smiles and conciliatory wavings of the arms, but with the cold and steady glance of a man bound to get all that's coming to him or know the reason why. Madame would, he hoped, pardon the apprehension of one who has a most costly establishment to maintain; yet perhaps madame had heard the reports of certain difficulties of a financial nature at Zion, and perhaps, under all the circumstances, was being "have no fear," Mrs. Dowie interrupted, "have no fear. There is no financial difficulty. Look here."

"Flashes Her Roll." The wife of the prophet displayed before the astonished man treasures of undimmed value. His glance in his eyes changed to a delighted and expectant grin, and he floated off backward on a choppy sea of polite bows. The illustrious prophet's wife and son dropped in at Monte Carlo the other day, but they did not play. They keep by themselves a great deal and do not care to meet strangers. Various journalists have made efforts to interview them, but always without success. Mrs. Dowie's superb sables and exquisite new Parisian gowns are the envy of many more worldly women.

TO OBSERVE "BIBLE SUNDAY" March 7 to Be Celebrated as Such All Over the World. New York Sun Special Service. New York, Dec. 21.—A world-wide observance of March 7, "Bible Sunday," proposed by the British and Foreign Bible society, has been approved by the American Bible society. On that date falls the centenary of the British society, which during the century has distributed 150,000,000 volumes of the scriptures in about 370 languages at a total expenditure of over $70,000,000. The purpose of both British and American societies is to translate and circulate the scriptures at a nominal cost. Pledges of co-operation in this century have been received from hundreds of Lutheran, Reformed and Waldensian churches and evangelical missions in Europe; from the mission centers in Africa, South and Central America, Asia, the islands of Polynesia and from the leading churches of North America.

RAILROADS.

DULUTH LINE FOR G. G. W.

PLAN BEING URGED ON MR. STICKNEY, IT IS SAID—GREAT NORTHERN MAN'S VIEW.

Special to The Journal. New York, Dec. 21.—There is talk here of a deputation of twin city interests who have asked Mr. Stickney to take under consideration the building of a line from the twin cities to Duluth in a direct line, making a route thirty-six miles shorter than the old St. Paul & Duluth road, now the Duluth short line of the Northern Pacific. Great Western people here are in the dark. They say it has not come before any meeting of directors and that they don't believe it will be taken up seriously this fiscal year at least.

A representative of the Great Northern says: "It's easy to figure out that Duluth handles more business than New York and has only about three lines to handle it over. That is, I believe, according to government figures. Yet the fact remains that I never heard of any freight congestion worth while in that quarter. We heard last summer about some new line to be financed by local capital. I suppose it still is in existence and will probably be the line referred to. In the meantime our tonnage to Duluth is not quite keeping up. The last summer has not been all that good as desired in the matter of ore trade on the local lines toward the lake. Neither has grain tonnage shown great increase. Personally I don't believe that the Great Western is likely to invade that territory."

G. N. WINS BAGGAGE SUIT

Man Who Traveled on Scalper's Ticket Must Pay. The Great Northern won the suit against the passenger whose baggage it held at Seattle because he was discovered to be riding on a scalper's ticket. The court awarded the road the price of a full ticket from St. Paul to Seattle. The baggage is valued at $20 and is still held. This is a new feature in anti-scalping business. No roads have brought suit before against a passenger who rode on a scalper's ticket.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Northern Pacific division superintendents have finished their annual conference at St. Paul and are on their way home.

Holiday travel began yesterday and sleeping car reservations were numerous. Most of the travel so far is by university students returning home and by teachers off for their vacations.

Gross earnings of the Great Western for the second week in December were $145,633, an increase of $1,841 over the first week. The earnings for the fiscal year to date were $4,045,515, a gain of $472,116.

The railroad route will be honored by most of the Minneapolis-Chicago lines until the new ones are issued. It has been impossible to secure certain rates and this has delayed the issue of the 1904 permits.

Railroads have been ordered by the state commission to include in their reports the stock in Chicago from terminals to the stock yards. The charge but the commission will result in a uniform system.

The Omaha has asked dismissal of the condemnation suit from one of the girls in her school, and she soon became aware that the pamphlet had been generally distributed among the girls by Mormon elders, who posed as "latent" members of the church of Jesus Christ.

MORMONS AFTER CHILDREN Seeking to Make Converts to Their Faith in Schools. New York Sun Special Service.

New York, Dec. 21.—Evidence that Mormon elders are prowling among the children of Harlem came to light when Mrs. Emily D. Martin made the announcement that she had obtained possession of a pamphlet which has been distributed among the children of the schools. She said it was a Mormon document, which carefully avoided the polygamist tenets of the faith and that it has been distributed among school girls.

"The pamphlet was handed to me by a teacher in one of the West Side schools," said Mrs. Martin. "The teacher took it from one of the girls in her school, and she soon became aware that the pamphlet had been generally distributed among the girls by Mormon elders, who posed as 'latent' members of the church of Jesus Christ."

GLASS TRUST SUED

Company Wants $300,000 Damages for Injury to Its Business. New York Sun Special Service. New York, Dec. 21.—Claiming damages of $300,000, the Wheeling Stenzel company has commenced suit against the National Window Glass Jobbers' association. The bill of complaint charges the association with monopoly of the visible supply of window glass and with restraint of commerce.

BIG WATCH FACTORY

La Crosse Can Have It for a Bonus of $100,000. Special to The Journal. La Crosse, Wis., Dec. 21.—The Board of trade is engineering a deal whereby it expects to bring a large watch factory to La Crosse. The deal involves $600,000 and five watch companies, as follows: The Remington Watch company of Appleton, Wis., Cannon Watch case company, Old Roy watch company, Schweitzer Watch company and the Howard Watch company. It is proposed that the city raise $100,000 to secure the immense factory of these united companies.

MATRIMONY OR DEATH

Secret Society Pledged to These Alternatives Without Fatalities. Findlay, Ohio, Dec. 21.—Jester Williams, who, despite his name, is a rather solemn citizen of this city, has revealed the existence of a secret society of young people pledged either to marry or to die.

He says the society has existed for a year. Frequent meetings were held and straws were drawn. The person drawing the shortest straw was sworn to choose marriage or death within a week. There have been a dozen marriages but no suicides.

The American Express Company, 27 South Fifth St., is particularly adapted for safe and quick shipment of all kinds of Xmas packages to all parts of the world. Open evenings.
