

LIQUOR HABIT IS DECREASING

ONLY THREE COUNTRIES CONSUME LESS THAN U. S.

Canada Is the Most Temperate—Norway, Sweden and Finland Are Gradually Decreasing the Consumption of Liquor—Otherwise Europe Is Becoming More Bibulous—Temperance Work Counts.

From The Journal Bureau, Colorado Building, Washington.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Temperance people will find cause for congratulation in the fact that the United States now stands fourth from the top of the list of countries whose citizens consume the least quantity of intoxicants.

Canada is first, with a yearly consumption for each person of .51 of a gallon; Finland is second, with .53, and Norway and Sweden third, with .69.

The people of the United States consume an average quantity of 1.27 gallons a year each. This is the lowest rate of any of the great powers of the world, and it shows a radical reduction, as compared with the rate ten years ago.

Holland consumes 1.74 gallons per capita per year. Austria 2.26 gallons, England 2.35, Germany 2.44, Denmark 2.69, Italy 2.7, Belgium 2.75, Switzerland 3.3 and France 4.81 gallons, which is the largest consumption of any nation of the world.

England has been following the United States, and intemperance there has undergone a marked reduction during the past ten years. European countries, with the exception of Scandinavia and Finland, are becoming more bibulous.

France has 464,556 saloons to supply the wants of 38,666,366 inhabitants, or one saloon to every eighty-three persons. There the number of saloons and the consumption of liquor are constantly increasing. The question of regulating French saloons has become a subject of the widest interest.

Since 1893 one third of the saloons in Liverpool, Eng., have been closed. This has caused a decrease in the police force which saved $40,000 a year to the taxpayers.

In 1829, Sweden had one saloon to every 100 inhabitants, and the consumption of spirits was 6.17 gallons per capita. In 1900 that country had one saloon to every 100 inhabitants, and the annual consumption had dropped to 1.31.

In 1850, Finland had one saloon to every 100 inhabitants, consuming 5.28 gallons per capita per annum; but in 1900 it had one saloon to every 100 inhabitants, and was consuming half a gallon per capita.

It is only occasionally that these comparative figures as to liquor consumption are available. They show that the work done for temperance in the United States is effective and the results are likely to be permanent.

GOVERNOR CARRIES A GUN

Executive of Colorado Fears He Will Be Assassinated.

Denver, Jan. 20.—Governor Peabody has placed a well-armed bodyguard on duty and does not go upon the street alone. On his desk lies a revolver and he puts it in his hip pocket when he visits other offices in the capitol, and when he goes out. His secretary and assistant also keeps arms in sight and the watchman and janitors of the statehouse are walking arsenals.

Adjutant General Bell says there is trouble brewing and he will take every means to protect his chief. The governor has been threatened for putting the state militia in control of Cripple Creek district, where there is a miners' strike.

HAD A REMARKABLE THIRST.

Muskegon, Mich., Jan. 20.—On a waker W. Savage, who is visiting here, drank twenty-six pints of apollinaris water and smoked thirteen cigars in five hours. He won his bet and declared himself still thirsty.

To Vinol we give all the praise, and everywhere I recommend your Vinol, as I have more faith in it than I have in doctors or any other medicine."

SCHWAB MAKES AN OFFER

MAKES PROPOSITION TO BACKERS OF CONKLIN SUIT WHICH, HOWEVER, IS NOT ACCEPTED.

New York, Jan. 20.—Charles M. Schwab has made to the four first mortgage bondholders who are pressing the action for a permanent receivership for the United States Shipbuilding company, what is tantamount to an offer releasing his hold on the Bethlehem steel property. The offer, however, has not been accepted. Mr. Schwab proposed a tentative plan by which the second mortgage bonds to the extent of $10,000,000, which Mr. Schwab holds as the purchase price of his Bethlehem properties, and the $16,000,000 of general first mortgage bonds on the entire shipbuilding company should be placed on an equal basis. This, it is understood, is not acceptable to the four first mortgage bondholders backing the Conklin suit.

FELL INTO OPEN GRAVE

Sick Man's Life Saved by Contact with Coffin. Bridgeport, Conn., Jan. 20.—While attending the funeral of Joseph Carroll, a member of the local lodge of Elks, in St. Michael's cemetery, Emil Meyers suddenly pitched forward into the open grave, disappearing from the sight of the mourners. The casket had just been lowered. Two of the pallbearers carefully lowered themselves into the grave and lifted Meyers out. There was no sign of life when he was brought to the surface. It is said the fall into the open grave and striking the coffin containing the dead body of his friend was what saved Meyer's life. He had been ill recently and the strain of the funeral ceremonies and the intensely cold weather had affected his heart. If he had fallen backward into the arms of a bystander he would have died.

Thousands of children, in whom Mr. Train displayed remarkable interest, are expected to take a farrow view of the remains. The funeral will be private, and the interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

JUST MILLIONS OF THEM

NO END OF BUGS ON OLD BILLS EXAMINED BY DR. FIEDLER.

Special to The Journal. Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 20.—Dr. Otto Fiedler, the city chemist, made some startling discoveries when examining old paper money. On one worn bill he found more than 96,000,000 bacteria, on another, 24,000, on another 6,000, while on a new bill that had been used only a little, 600 were found. Dr. Fiedler says, in spite of this great number of germs he does not know that any are dangerous to health, tho it is probable that some of the numerous colonies are.

TAUGHT TO STEAL

"Cockeye Myer" Arrested for Leading School Boys Astray. New York, Jan. 20.—The police say that Lewis Myer, known as "Cockeye Myer," teaches young East Siders to steal. When he was arrested, Miss Richman, a district superintendent of schools, and Miss Cregan, a principal, appeared with eighteen small boy pupils. "The teachers and principals of the schools down there," said Miss Richman, "are working under great difficulties because the children are constantly being led astray by boys who teach them to steal. It is perfectly appalling the condition that exists. The boys are organized into gangs with leaders. They are taught first to steal such things as apples from stands, then they advance to the stage of picking pockets. The principal incentive for their thieving is to get money enough to go to theaters."

BOY'S CRIMINAL RECORD

A Lad of Sixteen Confesses to Fourteen Robberies. Marion, Ind., Jan. 20.—Leroy Harris, 16 years of age, according to his own confession, has an unusual record. In the last month he has committed fourteen thefts that have baffled the police. He said he had stolen four horses, the theft of the fourth one resulting in his arrest. Porter J. White, an actor, lost his diamonds, a gold watch and chain, and a diamond set Elk pin which were in his dressing room at a local theater last Thursday, and Harris acknowledges the theft.

Special to The Journal. Williams Bay, Wis., Jan. 20.—Official notification has been received at the Yerkes observatory that the annual gold medal of the Royal Astronomical Society of London, England, has been awarded this year to Professor George Hale, director of the Yerkes observatory of the University of Chicago. A medal is given each year by this society to the person considered the most worthy in the line of having made the greatest advance in the science of astronomy. It was awarded to Mr. Hale in recognition of his work in solar research and photography, in which he has become the leading authority. Professor E. E. Barnard of the Yerkes observatory received this medal last year in recognition of his discovery of the fifth satellite of Jupiter.

NOB HILL FENCE DOOMED

A San Francisco Landmark Erected to Gratify Spite. San Francisco, Jan. 20.—Old millionaire Charles Crocker's "spite fence" on Nob Hill will shortly be removed. It was built twenty years ago around the house and lot of Nicholas Yung, an undertaker, because he would not sell his home to make complete Crocker's ownership of the block. Now, many years after Yung's death, his widow is dead, and her heirs have agreed to sell the lot to the Crocker estate. When Crocker tried to buy this property in the early seventies he and Yung were good friends. Crocker offered $5,000, but Yung wanted $7,000. Neither would yield, and hence the feud. Crocker's huge fence rendered Yung's lot useless. The undertaker had to move his house because it received no light, but he clung to the lot and refused to sell, and his widow respected his wishes.

ST. LOUIS DRIVERS OUT

STRIKE WAS CALLED THIS MORNING AND 800 MEN ARE IDLE.

St. Louis, Jan. 20.—Eight hundred hack and carriage drivers went on a strike today to force their demands for $12.50 a week pay, a twelve-hour day, 25 cents an hour for over-time and recognition of the union. The strike is directed against the St. Louis Liverymen's and Undertakers association. Officials of the Citizens' Industrial association, which supports the liverymen and undertakers in their stand against their employees, declare that any attempt of the strikers to interfere with funerals will be promptly suppressed, "even if the militia has to be called out."

THAT PAIN IN THE SIDE. No matter whether in the right side or the left there's nothing that will give such speedy relief and cure and at the same time strengthen the side and restore energy as an Allcock's Porous Plaster. A pain in the right side, however, is often caused by thickening of the bile which may lead to gall stones. The best treatment is to wear an Allcock's Plaster, as shown in the illustration, until cured. You'll be surprised to find how soon you are relieved. Allcock's Porous Plasters are not an experiment—they are a standard remedy; have been used by the American people for over 55 years; have been imitated but never equalled and are without question the most successful external remedy in the world to-day, and the safest, for they contain no belladonna, opium or any poison whatever. Allcock's—the only genuine porous plasters.
