

SCIENCE HAS CONQUERED THE TERRORS OF PNEUMONIA, PLEURISY AND CONSUMPTION

The alarming prevalence of Pneumonia, pleurisy and consumption is well founded but it is not a new disease. It is an old one, and its cause is well known. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

The unfortunate who write to him, and the encouragement which he sends them, is the result of his own work. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

When a cure is accomplished its news travels with a rapidity which is almost incredible. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

Health Board Corroborates A Cure From Chronic Consumption.

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—I feel in duty bound to tell you that I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

Fortunate there has been a discovery whereby Consumption with its attending complications is treated scientifically, and the prospects of a cure are now just as possible as in any other serious disease. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

It is to be remembered about three years ago, the scientific world, especially that portion of it devoted to medicine, was startled by the remarkable success of Dr. Adolph Hoff, a prominent Viennese specialist, who had discovered a cure for chronic consumption, and his success led him to make known his treatment and invited other physicians to test it.

Ministers' wives secure an intimate knowledge of the trials and tribulations of life in their work as their husbands' helpmates, and their opinions as to the merits of things are usually well founded. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

Dear Sirs—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

Dear Sirs—Your letter of the 8th is at hand, and in answer to your inquiry I will say I know Mr. Lewis, and, as you no doubt have heard, he is a wonderful cure performed by the Hoff Cure. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

When a workman has to give up his position because of consumption, it is a great misfortune. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

of accomplishing what could not be done before. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

These physicians speak for themselves. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

AGAIN IN HIS PRIME. The manager of that store enlisted in the army during the Spanish War. He was a large, fine looking, athletic man, in the prime of life, and with a military bearing which distinguished him everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

DAVID RUSSELL, M. D., Merrill, Wis. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

DR. J. M. DONNELLY, D. C. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

DR. G. L. MOOREHEAD, D. C. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

What does it signify to such a family for its breadwinner to be restored to his position? It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

For two friends: American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

Accept our thanks and wishes that every one afflicted with this disease will have the same success as the above. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

DR. H. H. LEONHART, Lake Forest, Ill. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

DR. W. M. COLEMAN, N. W. T. Princeton, Ind. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

DR. J. M. DONNELLY, D. C. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

DR. G. L. MOOREHEAD, D. C. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

DR. H. H. LEONHART, Lake Forest, Ill. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

ASTHMA. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

Similar letters received each day by the American Bureau would more than fill every page of this paper. We are very glad to hear that you are getting well. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

Physicians are chary, indeed, about recommending other doctors' medicine. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

MEDICOLOGY ON THE SUBJECT. Let us look at the facts. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

From extensive experiments with the Professor Hoff prescription, we have evidently discovered a new and most powerful remedy for relief of pulmonary consumption. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

HOW TO GET THE REMEDY. Professor Hoff desires his cure to be in the hands of every sufferer. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

ASTHMA. American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York. Gentlemen—Please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption. I have been cured of chronic consumption.

Similar letters received each day by the American Bureau would more than fill every page of this paper. We are very glad to hear that you are getting well. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

Physicians are chary, indeed, about recommending other doctors' medicine. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

MEDICOLOGY ON THE SUBJECT. Let us look at the facts. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

From extensive experiments with the Professor Hoff prescription, we have evidently discovered a new and most powerful remedy for relief of pulmonary consumption. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

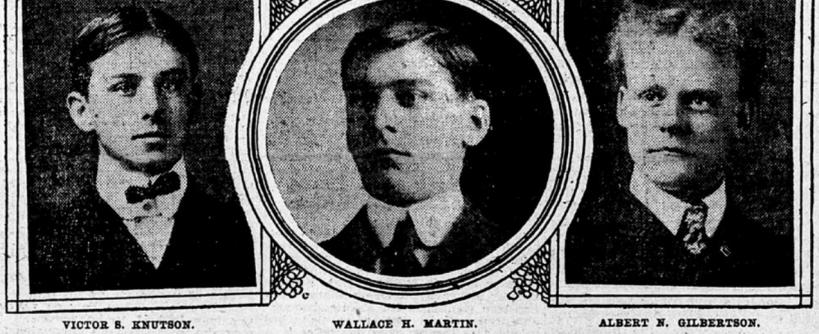

HOW TO GET THE REMEDY. Professor Hoff desires his cure to be in the hands of every sufferer. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere. It is a disease of the lungs, and its cause is a germ which is everywhere.

FERGUS FALLS SHALL IN CHAMPIONSHIP FORM

Its High School Debating Team Will Again Represent the Ninth District in the Semi-Finals for The Journal's Silver Trophy—Benson Triumphs Over Willmar in the Seventh Congressional District.

Special to The Journal. Moorhead normal, J. C. Childs, of the Fergus high school, and C. L. Bradley, an attorney of Wahpeton. It had been arranged to have President Weid of the Moorhead normal preside, but he added another victory to the long list of his triumphs by being elected president of the local school, took his place. Change of Sides. The subject of the debate was, "The Advantages of Municipal Ownership of Public Utilities." The affirmative had the affirmative, reversing the position it had in the debate two weeks ago. The team spent the early part of the winter preparing for the debate, and the right about face necessary to them was a rapid work. Bert Boen opened for Fergus, claiming greater efficiency under municipal control, and telling something about results in New York and Philadelphia. He also dwelt at length on the elimination of strikes and lockouts in cases where cities own and operate their own street car systems. James Collinson of the negative dwelt particularly on the inadvisability of municipal ownership of business, using the people's money in what might be speculative ventures, and vastly increasing municipal debts. He contended that there was greater economy under private ownership and asserted that no civil service rules would prevent politicians from appointing their supporters to lucrative positions for which they had no special fitness if cities owned utilities. The affirmative, and in a ringing speech told of the defiance of the laws by the corporations, their exorbitant charges and the methods by which they defrauded the public. Bert Keeley took up the line of argument for the negative, and showed that unbusiness-like management was an inevitable result of municipal ownership. Chief Hogan closed for Fergus and made what was probably the most effective argument of the evening in showing that the elimination of the private corporation from the ownership of public utilities would eliminate the great source of corruption in municipal politics, which is the crying evil of the American city life of today. George Grath was the third speaker for the negative and took the ground that the evils that had been pointed out by his opponents were not inherent in private ownership, and would disappear if the laws provided for short franchises, revocable at will, and threw the proper safeguards around the granting of these franchises. Retribution and Decision. In rebuttal the Fergus team drew some strong arguments from the experience of cities in Massachusetts. The Barnesville team admitted that the municipal ownership of sewer-

BARNESVILLE'S TRIO WHO WERE DEFEATED LAST NIGHT BY FERGUS FALLS

BENSON DEFEATS WILLMAR

Veterans of Debate Too Strong for the Latter's Recruits. Special to The Journal. Willmar, Minn., Jan. 30.—Benson carried off the honors here last evening in the debate with the Willmar high school, and the question of American municipalities should own and operate their public utilities was unanimously decided in favor of the negative. Benson's high school delegation came down with a strong determination to wrest victory and it was not disappointed. The visitors were about forty in number, including Rev. Mr. H. H. Martin, pastor of the Congregational church, J. B. Edminister of the Monitor, and Superintendent Hilleboe. Benson high came with flying colors of red and white and the backing of a merry band of enthusiastic school boys. The debate took place in the Bonde hall before a crowded house. Acting as judges were County Attorney W. E. Bicknell of Morris, Superintendent of Schools S. Kingford of Childfield, and Superintendent of Schools M. L. Jacobson of Atwater. Judge A. F. Nordin of Willmar presided. The Benson school was represented by the following: Leonard Smith, Hugh McCune and Wylie Stone. Willmar upheld the affirmative thru Albert M. Gilbertson, Victor S. Knutson and Wallace H. Martin. Much credit is due both teams. In delivery, however, the Benson team excelled. In oratory McCune and Stone for Benson and Gilbertson for Willmar were superior. Considering the fact that Benson's team had had previous experience in debates, Willmar is certainly proud of the good showing made by its team, and its public appearance. Benson opened the debate, showed fine oratorical powers both at the outset and in the closing rebuttal. The hall was bright in the national

TAX MONEY REFUSED

Amount Offered by Trolley Company at Stillwater Held Insufficient. Special to The Journal. Stillwater, Minn., Jan. 30.—The street railway company to-day tendered $1,835 in gold to the county treasurer for payment of the property taxes in this county. This was refused by the treasurer inasmuch as the company's assessment was raised 50 per cent by the state and the company declines to pay the increase. The county may be called upon to decide the matter. Major W. H. Hammer, the soldier who pulled old glory from the flag-staff at Fort Sumter, has just taken up his residence in Los Angeles, Cal.