

CITY NEWS.

PASTORS HEAR FROM EDITORS

PRESS AND PULPIT ARE IN CLOSE SYMPATHY.

Addresses Before the Ministerial Association To-day Reveal the Fact—Newspaper Men Do Not Hesitate to Tell Their Hosts Where Their Work Will Count.

The ministers of the city had an opportunity of seeing themselves and the city from the point of view of the editor and the publisher of a newspaper.

The attendance was large and the brief speeches in the discussion following the addresses showed the sympathetic spirit of the ministers.

Mr. McLain gave as the only reason he saw for the editor offering suggestions to the ministers the fact that he had at his command some facilities and instrumentalities that the minister could secure to his advantage and ought to use.

In his advice Mr. McLain laid emphasis on the preaching of the gospel in the home.

Some plain and practical criticisms from the standpoint not only of the editor but of the public as revealed to the editor were made by Mr. Gray.

While congratulating the ministers that Minneapolis has no "yellow journalism" problem, Mr. Gray said that in this development the "yellow" newspapers are the winners.
