WHAT TEA DOES TO RHEUMATICS.

When you next take tea, think of this. Tea contains 170 grains of Uric Acid in every pound.

Most contain only five to seven grains. Rheumatism is Uric Acid in the blood. Uric Acid accumulates from food when the digestive apparatus cannot create enough Alkaline elements (like soda) to neutralize it.

This Acid collects urea, or worn-out waste matter, from the system.

This Urea enters the blood when Alkaline action has not previously dissolved it.

By and by the waste matter reaches the joints and muscles, through circulation of the blood.

There it gradually deposits in solid particles like granulated sugar.

These solid particles grind between the joints and muscles, causing irritation and pain.

These in turn may develop inflammation and swelling. That inflammation bestirs Nature to help herself.

She proceeds to coat the hard Uric particles over with cushions of pulp mucous, like the first healing strata of an ulcer sore.

This pulp covering grows to the bones, as well as to the particles deposited. There it hardens like plaster or sealing wax. Then we have "bony joints," almost inflexible, and usually fixed in a benumbed position, from the pain and inflammation.

That is Rheumatism at its worst.

It is not enough to get the tea far.

There is but one sure way of curing Rheumatism. The first step is to neutralize the Uric Acid already in the system.

Next, to dissolve and carry away, the hard deposits that grind between the joints. Then get the digestive apparatus into such healthy condition that it will, unaided, produce less Uric Acid and more Alkalines.

This is what Doctors generally have failed to do.

It is what I studied a lifetime to accomplish, and achieved only after many failures and thousands of experiments.

At last I found in Germany a Solvent which was not only effective, but absolutely safe to use.

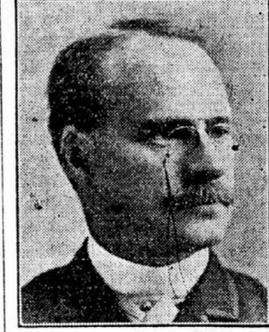

Few agents powerful enough to be effective in Rheumatism are safe.

W. C. WHITNEY PASSES AWAY

FORMER SECRETARY OF NAVY STRICKEN BY APPENDICITIS.

Was a Republican by Nature and a Democrat by Association—An Opponent of Boss Tweed and Father of the New Navy—He Bolted the Bryan Nomination in 1896 and Practically Withdrew from Politics—Died While Under Ether.

New York, Feb. 3.—Septicæmia was the immediate cause of the death of William C. Whitney, former secretary of the navy, who passed away Tuesday evening.

WILLIAM C. WHITNEY.

A semi-official account of his last hours to the effect that the toxin which produced peritonitis following the operation for appendicitis gradually spread thru the tissues of the body until it reached the brain cells, when there was paralysis and death.

The physicians had concluded to open the superficial wound and express the area from which the pus was absorbed. Ether was administered, but before the examination was concluded it was noticed that Mr. Whitney was sinking. The administration of the ether was immediately stopped before its effects could wear off, he was dead.

Payne Whitney, the second son, and his wife—daughter of Secretary of State John Hay, arrived from Georgia a few hours too late. Harry Payne Whitney, the elder son, never left his father's side. He was deeply affected owing to the strong attachment for his father. They were almost constant companions.

Mrs. Almerio Hugh Paget, the elder daughter, who has been living for several years in London, is reported to have sailed and it is said the family will, if possible, delay the funeral until she arrives here from London.

His Career.

William Collins Whitney was born in Conway, Franklin county, Mass., July 14, 1841.

It was said of Mr. Whitney that he was a republican by nature and by inheritance. His father was Brig.-Gen. James Whitney, one of the most prominent democrats of his day in Massachusetts.

After preparing for college at the Williston seminary at East Hampton, Mass., young Whitney entered Yale in 1859 and was graduated with honors in the class of '63 and from Harvard law school two years later.

In 1859 he married Miss Flora B. Payne, daughter of the Standard Oil magnate. The wedding was a brilliant one, and it was said that Mr. Whitney's gift to his daughter was $1,000,000 in gift edged securities.

Two years after his marriage, Mr. Whitney began to take an active interest in politics. He arrayed himself against the Tweed corruptionists and was the chief organizer of the Young Men's Democratic club. In the Blaine-Cleveland campaign of 1884 he worked hard and with his characteristic skill in organization for the election of Mr. Cleveland. The day after Cleveland's inauguration Mr. Whitney was appointed secretary of the navy.

Father of New Navy.

He found the navy, except for the Chicago, the Atlanta and the Dolphin, a collection of antiquated ships. He believed that there was no reason why the United States should not have as fine ships as any power in the world.

The officers of the navy had already raised the cry of modern ships and men to man them," and Mr. Whitney heard it. When he retired from the navy department in 1889 he had ordered the construction of thirteen iron ships of war and had nine under construction, and the new navy was an accomplished fact.

In 1896 he bolted the Bryan nomination, and practically withdrew from politics. In 1901 he retired from business and since that time he has been known chiefly as a sportsman. His stable of running horses being one of the finest in the world. In 1900 one of his horses won the Futurity.

TERROR RULES FINLAND

POLICE SERGEANT TAKES TO THE SEA TO AVOID EXILE IN SIBERIA.

Hernösand, Sweden, Feb. 3.—Ex-Police Sergeant Vasa was picked up by a fisherman on the sea coast near this town. He had been drifting in a rowboat six days and nights without sustenance of any kind. He had neither hat nor overcoat when he reached land. After he had revived he told the following story:

Governor General Bokrifok's Russian spies suspected me of supporting those who recently demonstrated against the conscript movement. The gendarmes surrounded my house at night while I was on duty at the police station. They had orders to capture those whom they might find there and send them off to St. Petersburg, en route to Siberia. Warned by the spies of what was going on and knowing that my own arrest was a mere matter of minutes, I bolted without hat or overcoat, reached the harbor unmolested, seized a rowboat and put out to sea. I rowed into the teeth of a gale. The extreme cold tried my powers of endurance sorely, but I preferred death to Siberia.

Vasa added that all Finland was in a state of ill-concealed terror on account of the brutalities that were being perpetrated by the Russian authorities. Native privileges and rights, he said, had been ruthlessly trampled on and abolished, and it was apprehended that worse would follow.

HELD BABY FOR RENT

Chicago Landlord Takes Strange Security—Must Answer Court.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Mrs. John Fleming, whose husband is dying or dead from consumption in San Antonio, Texas, has secured a writ of replevin for her 3-month-old baby held by her landlord as a pledge for $5 rent the woman is unable to pay.

She left the baby in charge of a girl who was living with her and went to see her friends. When she returned the door was locked. She rang and was informed, she declares, that she could not get in until the $5 rent bill was paid.

"I'll just keep the baby until I'm paid," the landlord is said to have declared.

REBELS MENACE CAPITAL

They Are Only Four Leagues from Montevideo—Citizens Panic-Stricken.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Feb. 3.—The rebels under General Avarado Saravia are now only four leagues from the capital. A panic has seized the residents of Montevideo and the Argentine government has decided to send the cruiser Nueve de Julio there to protect the interests of Argentine citizens. The cruiser will sail at dawn Wednesday.

LEFT JEWELRY BEHIND

ALLEGED THIEVES ABANDONED THEIR BOOTY, BUT IT WAS FOUND, NOTWITHSTANDING.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Two men who were taken from a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train near Milwaukee to-day, left on the train two packages which, when found in Chicago, contained a large amount of jewelry. The men were arrested thru the efforts of the train crew, and are being held by the Milwaukee police.

It is the theory of the police that the thieves robbed some jewelry store north of Milwaukee and then boarded the train for Chicago.

Among the articles found were twenty-one watches, six watch cases, four sets of watch works and two dozen stick pins.

There are many forms of nervous debility in men that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness, night sweats, etc., should try them.
