A M.P.'S COLONY IN INLAND CUBA

A SCORE OF PEOPLE HAVE TAKEN LAND THERE.

They Will Cultivate Plantations Devoted to Tropical Fruits, Cane, Cotton and Tobacco—Their Combined Holdings Are About 1,000 Acres in Santa Clara.

J. Francis Linton, as the advance agent of what promises to be a large colony of Minneapolis men and women, has returned to central Cuba, where arrangements are being made for the establishment of a "Little Minneapolis" in and about Cabagan and Guaynos, province of Santa Clara.

Mr. Linton, who is making his second trip to the island, is one of a firm having an option on several thousand acres of plantation land in this particular portion of Cuba, and the party for which he is preparing the way has purchased the greater part of a thousand acres.

The land, which is about 250 feet above sea level, and near the Havana-Santiago railroad line, will be devoted by the planters from Minnesota to the growing of bananas, pineapples, sugar cane, tobacco, cotton and coffee, and is said to be peculiarly rich.

Among those who will either become planters in the republic of Cuba, or will hold property in the Cuban district are: A. C. Neill of the Great Northern Express company; Dr. C. E. Dutton of the Pillsbury building; Dr. E. B. Austin, of the Andrus block; H. S. Zoller, 506 Second avenue N.; L. P. Hale, Great Northern Express company; H. A. Smith, 624 E. Nineteenth street; C. Braith, 21 Seventh street S.; Mrs. Elva A. Kelley, 9 E. Seventeenth street; M. N. Hagen, 902 Sixth street S.; C. D. Passage, 9 E. Seventeenth street; F. J. Kennedy, 29 Seventh street S.; J. H. Bergart, Jr., R. D. Beard, 1004 1/2 Nicollet avenue; Mrs. B. T. White, 2428 Fillmore avenue; J. L. Nott, 841 Lumber Exchange; P. E. Speaker, 126 Sixth street N.; W. S. King, 106 E. Twenty-fifth street; H. N. Mettler, 700 Hennepin avenue, and W. C. Whitcomb.

REV. P. J. DANCHY.

Secretary J. W. Hoben of the workhouse is laid up for repairs to-day as a result of a fierce battle with a 300 pound pig, butchered at the "works" yesterday.

A butchering is always a gala affair at Camden Place. The men dress out to see who would catch the pig and the lot fell to Hoben. He finally caught the animal by the hind leg, but was dragged about the pen for five minutes and was badly bruised.

MOTHER IS MISSING

Humane Society Is Asked to Look After Abandoned Babe.

The Humane society has been appealed to thru Captain W. W. Bosworth of the east side police, to investigate the case of a child abandoned by its mother, Mrs. Maud Takeberry, a daughter of Della Crowe, who left the child with Mrs. Crowe several weeks ago, and since then has not been seen. Mrs. Crowe says that she cannot keep the child and the police and the Humane society have been appealed to.

DR. AMES IS NOT OUT OF THE WOODS

Strong Probability Now Exists That He Will Be Tried Again.

He Is Tried It Will Be on a New Indictment Yet to Be Found.

Former Mayor A. A. Ames, indicted on eleven counts for malfeasance in office, convicted of bribery and sentenced to the penitentiary but remanded for a new trial by the supreme court, is probably being tried again. None of the "true bills" now standing against him is considered strong enough and the present or possibly the April term grand jury will be asked again to indict the much-accused former official.

EARL PARTRIDGE TO BUILD HOME

Buys Fine Large Residence Lot on Groveland Place, Overlooking Kenwood Parkway.

One of the few remaining vacant residence lots on Groveland place has been sold by F. G. James to Earl Partridge, who will build a fine home. Partridge bought for $17,500, 140 feet frontage by 300 feet deep between the homes of G. H. Daggett and W. C. Edgar. This is one of the finest sites for a home on the street of beautiful houses, commanding a fine view of the city and overlooking the new Spring Lake park and the Kenwood parkway. It is expected that Mr. Partridge will build to match the situation.

MISS ACKERMAN AS PEACE ENVOY

She'll Try to Persuade Foreign Sovereign to Stand Against War.

Miss Jessie Ackerman, who has been a recent visitor in Minneapolis and is the wife of the leading contractor to the Housekeeping, is to be sent abroad by the Peace society to make a tour of Europe and Asia as a special envoy in behalf of peace.

Her plan is to start on March 1, and, if possible to obtain a personal interview with the sovereign of each of the powers. She will endeavor to persuade them to use their influence toward bringing about a cessation of hostilities between Russia and Japan, and also to establish a more amicable relation between the powers.

A farewell reception will be given to her Monday evening by Philadelphia branch of the peace society.

R. J. Mendenhall of the local Peace society has been advised of the intention of sending one or more representatives abroad to do special work in behalf of peace, but had not been notified of the appointment of Miss Ackerman. A meeting of the local society will take place some time in March, in which the present war conditions and the plans of the society as affected by the existing situation will be the chief topics of consideration.

STRANGE WOMAN'S NOTE

IT MAY GIVE A CLUE TO THE WHEREABOUTS OF LITTLE JULIA OLSON.

The police think they will soon find Julia Olson. Julia disappeared from home, 1313 Washington avenue S., a month ago. Yesterday, Miss Olson, an intimate friend, received a note from a strange woman asking her if she did not want to come and live with her. Mrs. Olson, however, is the mother. Mrs. Olson called at the place yesterday and was told that no such person lived there. Inquiry of the neighbors showed that the woman, the writer of the letter did live there. No one had seen any small girl there, but said that little was known about the woman. A man at the house on a call last night that the mysterious note had nothing to do with Julia Olson, but that the letter had wished for some time to adopt a girl.

REV. JOHN F. THOMPSON

Member of the Wisconsin Free Methodist conference, who will speak every evening next week at Volunteers' hall, 246 Hennepin avenue.

FINE, NEW FLATS ON TENTH STREET

A HANDSOME APARTMENT HOUSE PROJECTED.

It Will Stand Near Hennepin Avenue and Will Cost $75,000—Many New Features Will Be Introduced into the Four-Story Structure.

Wyvell & Harrington will erect a four-story brick flat building at Harmon place and Tenth street, across from the First Baptist church, that will be one of the finest in the city. J. H. Fisher & Son are the contractors. The building will cost $75,000. It will contain thirty-two flats, ranging from three to six rooms. In the rear and six-room flats the dining-rooms will be extra large and each flat will have two baths. Electric lighting and water heat will be standard features. The whole space of 80 by 150 feet on Harmon will be utilized, as the alley will be in the basement. The external appearance of the building will be solid, plain and elegant. Each flat will have a porch; inside finish will be quartered-sawn oak with dull-brass trimmings. Work will begin May 1 and the apartments will be ready Sept. 1. The property is owned outside of Minneapolis.

LANE'S SOLUTION DIDN'T SOLVE

THE CITY WAGES QUESTION IS STILL UNSETTLED.

Aldermen Easily Complete Arrangements for Drawing an Extra $25 a Month—Aldermen Powers' Tax Rate Certificate Resolution Goes to Proper Committee.

When it was discovered at the council meeting that the Alderman Lane's solution of the city's labor problem would give city laborers 22 cents an hour instead of the 23 they are now getting, the resolution fell by the wayside and there was no resolution looking to guaranteeing city laborers $2 a day.

C. A. SMITH SAYS HE WILL SERVE

Big Lumberman Will Be a Candidate for Delegate to the Convention.

C. A. Smith will be a candidate for delegate to the republican national convention. Friends wired him yesterday at Palm Beach, Fla., where he is spending a short vacation with his daughter, asking permission to use his name for one of the district delegates from Minneapolis. Mr. Smith replied to-day that he would appreciate such an honor if conferred on him.

This will be the signal for the many friends of the lumberman to rally to his support. He has been prominent in party councils for years, like other in campaign contributions, and has never asked for any reward. There was a general feeling expressed to-day, among those who were told of Mr. Smith's reply, that he was entitled to the honor, and would add strength to the delegation.

GREAT DAY FOR BUCKET SHOPS

Small Traders Wiped Out by Wild Fluctuations of the Wheat Market.

This was the best day the bucket shops of Minneapolis have ever known. Wheat speculators who trade in the shops were whipsawed. Those who bought wheat were wiped out by the decline and those who sold were wiped out by the later advance. The windings of the bucket shop proprietors were in the thousands. At the Chamber of Commerce it was a battle royal in the pit all morning. Prices fluctuated violently. May was off from 1.03% yesterday's close, to 1.02%, up to 1.02%, down again to 1.01% and up to 1.02%.

THE UNIVERSITY TEMPLE WILL BE COACH

Stuart, the Tennessee evangelist, now at the Hennepin Avenue Methodist church. He will be accompanied by his evangelistic singer, Edward McKemie, also a Tennessee evangelist, and the program will begin at 8:15 and the address at 8:45.

STATE AUDITOR'S RIGHTS

Certiorari Proceedings to Settle Right to Make Mineral Leases. Certiorari proceedings have been brought against State Auditor Iverson in a friendly suit to determine whether he has the right to make mineral leases for the bottoms of lake beds. There are precedents for this action in other states, and some leases have been granted, but to make sure of the validity of the proceedings Mr. Iverson refused to act in one case. The supreme court has granted a writ, returnable April 5.

MINN. DEMOCRACY SHOWS CRACKS

LINE OF CLEAVAGE ON NATIONAL CANDIDATE APPEAR.

Attempt to Swing State Committee to Cleveland Meets With Vigorous Opposition—State Convention to Choose National Delegates Will Be Held in Duluth June 22.

Democrats of Minnesota will hold a state convention in Duluth June 22, to select twenty-two delegates to the national convention at St. Louis. This was decided on after a lively executive session of the state committee late yesterday afternoon at the merchants' hotel.

The basis of apportionment is one delegate for every 150 votes cast for Bryan in 1900, with two at large for each county, and four at large from Hennepin, Ramsey and St. Louis county conventions to select delegates will be held June 15.

C. D. O'Brien of St. Paul created some surprise when he moved for an executive session, but the method in his madness was disclosed later, when he supported J. C. Ely, editor of the St. Paul Globe, in an attempt to swing the committee in line for a Grover Cleveland boom.

C. E. Vassaly of Little Falls, demanded to know whether the Globe would support the candidate and the platform adopted at St. Louis and declared it would be just as logical for the twelve apostles to name Judas Iscariot as their prince, as for the democrats to make Cleveland their leader again.

L. A. Rosing, the party's last candidate for governor, insisted that those who had stood by the party in 1896 and 1900 should be kept in control.

MINNESOTA WINS AGAINST IOWA

TARIFF DEBATE HONORS GO TO THE U. OF M. TEAM.

Force of Their Arguments for the Abandonment of the Tariff Too Strong for the Iowa Protectionists—Decision Caused No Surprise Among Those Who Heard Debate.

The Minnesota team worsted the Iowa team in debate last night at the university chapel. Isaac Choate, John P. De Vaney and Raymond P. Chase represented Minnesota, university and Ray B. Randall, Ray Files and Odin R. Davis spoke for Iowa. The subject was "Resolved: That the United States Should Now Abandon the Protective Tariff Policy."

Minnesota had the affirmative and Iowa the negative. The decision of the judges, Professor R. B. Ely of the University of Wisconsin, Dr. S. E. Sparling of the University of Wisconsin and Judge John E. Bradley of La Crosse, gave the decision to Minnesota, carrying prizes of $50 each speaker, medals and a banner. The banner will be added to the seven which have been won from Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and North-western in former debates, and which hung over the platform last night.

The usual display of university spirit was lacking last evening. The audience only half filled the hall. Mayor J. C. Hayes presided. The contestants were allowed twelve minutes to open and five minutes in reply. The tariff is strictly a political question to Bangs's ghost, and expressed the surprise of many of the audience that this subject had not been worn out. The fact that the question appeared about to rise again he charged to changed political and commercial conditions.

Line of Affirmative Argument. The affirmative maintained that protection as it exists to-day in the United States, does not promote nationalism. One requisite for a strong national state is the possession of an industrial system completely developed. The tariff is strictly a political measure designed to promote nationalism. The history of the tariff since 1812 proves that the tariff does not promote nationalism or the country as a strong national unit. The whole history since that war shows a drifting in the tariffs, and that tariffs now promote sectionalism and private gain.

Line of Negative Argument. The negative maintained that the tariff is a scientific revision of our tariff schedules is impossible so long as we retain the present protective system, which has proved itself absolutely inflexible.

Had No License. Anderson Did Good Work but Was Not a Certified Plumber. George Anderson was fined $10 in police court this morning for connecting some house drains on Lake street with a cess pool. He had no plumber's license and was caught while working.

The work was done well and Anderson maintained that a license was necessary only when making connections with a sewer. Some of the attorneys who were in court said that a good legal fight could be made on Anderson's claim.

A "Quotation" Contest

Study the Want Pages in Tonight's Journal and Win a Prize

The Journal prints to-night, at the top of six of its Want Columns, six well-known quotations, and prizes will be awarded to the winners of "The Journal's Quotation Contest" on the following conditions:

At the top of a sheet of paper write your name and address. Then write out "Quotation No. 1." Then look thru the Want Columns and cut out any ADS from which words may be taken to make up the quotation. Paste them underneath the quotation in regular order and underline the words in the ADS constituting the words of the quotation. Do the same with "Quotation No. 2" and so on until you have completed the six quotations.

The person sending in the neatest and best arranged solution will receive a cash prize of $5.00.

The person sending in the second best solution will receive a cash prize of $3.00.

The person sending in the third best solution will receive a cash prize of $2.00.

All answers must be sent by mail and reach "Quotation Editor," The Journal, Minneapolis, before 6 p. m., Thursday, March 3, after which no solutions will be received.
