EGGS SEEK A LOWER RANGE

INDICATIONS POINT TO A STEADIER MARKET HEREAFTER.

Butter List Is Weak and Shows Declines on Low Grades—Poultry Is Firm and Higher, Live Stock Increasing in Favor with Retailers—Heavy Offerings of Green Stuffs.

A decline of 2 cents a dozen comprises the feature in eggs for the week. Receipts have been liberal, but the demand is also large, and since values have settled to what seems a steadier basis, the call is increasing each day. One disturbing influence has been the constantly declining eastern markets, which just now seem to be overclouded with fresh stock, drawing not only from adjacent territory, but from the west and south. This has put such markets in a bad way, as they lack an immediate outlet. Storage people have not as yet shown any inclination to take hold. Notwithstanding values are near to the level, many expect them to hold during the storage season. Another day will see more activity in that direction, but as the production will also increase, there seems little likelihood that values will go lower. From this disjuncture it would seem the best policy to keep goods closely marketed, which shuts off any shrinkage by holding, which often excites an accumulation of stock, and receivers are not forcing the goods to the extent of making price slashes necessary. Dairies are slow, speaking in a general way, but well known makes are not suffering as seriously as mixed shipments which have to be separated and graded. Weather is still too warm for rolls and prints as shown by the increasing large amount of air struck goods which are arriving. Such lines are not showing packing stock barrels for an outlet, and buyers of this grade are not showing much interest in the situation, and taking only such lots as are perfectly sweet, fighting shy of sour goods at any acceptable price.

Cheese is on a steady basis. Price changes are few, with a tendency toward a higher range on No. 1 well cured goods. Fancy October brick is scarce, and holders are asking outside figures. The regular supply of No. 2 and 3 is almost all made, and with a threatened cutting off of a large part of the outlet on these goods through the abolition of the salmon free lunch, values are more than likely to go lower before stocks in sight are out of the way.

Both dressed and live poultry are higher, the demand having somewhat exceeded arrivals all the week. Live stock is selling better to the retail trade, as they prefer to kill as they want, require values are likely to hold firm for some time to come, as experience of previous years goes to show that but little poultry is forthcoming from this disjuncture it would seem the best policy to keep goods closely marketed, which shuts off any shrinkage by holding, which often excites an accumulation of stock, and receivers are not forcing the goods to the extent of making price slashes necessary. ACTIVITY IN PROVISIONS.

The Outlook in the Provision Market. Since Feb. 25, when July pork in Chicago sold at $18.75 a barrel, there has been a sharp decline in values, not only in pork, but for all products, and yet, with the possible exception that packers are confirming fewer sales for shipment to the far east, and the present outlook seems less likely than other European powers will be drawn into the struggle, the position of provisions has not changed materially. The great car blockade on the railroads running east from Chicago undoubtedly prevented filling large orders for meats but did not stop the present enormous consumption of the products, which is now generally every week. The best evidence of low stocks east and south is the large number of outside buyers in the market, and for the week some 40 per cent of the receipts at the yards have been shipped to eastern packing centers. This connection is increasing and is now responsible in a great measure for the fact that although products have suffered a sharp break good hogs are selling within 15 to 20 cents per hundred pounds of top prices. In view of this, packers cannot afford to cut up hogs to any extent, so that packing is now small compared with the last few weeks.

ALL BEEF PRICES SAG THIS WEEK

SOUTH ST. PAUL RELATIVELY FIRMER THAN CHICAGO.

Hog Prices Hammered by Packers, Receipts Running somewhat Larger Than a Week Ago—Sheep Firm and Higher—Not Much Doing in Stock or Feeding Sheep.

South St. Paul, March 19.—Receipts of cattle here this week total about 2,500, compared with 2,875 last week and 3,232 the corresponding week last year. This week's call receipts were about 550, against 839 last week and 1,312 in the corresponding week last year. One load of good beef steers arrived during the week and sold at $4.60, but the bulk of the supply consisted of a common and half-fat class. The better grades are selling readily at $3.75 to $4.00, and the poorest at $3.25. The market for sheep is quiet, with a few offerings of good quality ruled active at strong to high figures. Later in the week the demand dropped off, and values receded somewhat. The good kinds are still selling fully ready with a week ago. For the more common grades the market shows no change.
