He gave up most of the orders and was warned to go to work or steps would be taken for his arrest.

WINJE'S LITTLE NAP

Causes Suit in Which Railroad Makes 21-Cent Counter Claim.

What will probably prove to be an interesting case in equity has been transferred from the twelfth judicial district court to the federal court. Eric L. Winje seeks to recover damages from the Milwaukee railway because he went to sleep on one of the company's trains and was carried past Sacred Heart, his station. He rode to Renville station and refused to pay the fare of 21 cents. In its answer, the company alleges that the 21 cents is "as yet due and unpaid," and asks that judgment, with costs, for that amount be given against Winje.

SAY SCHEME IS FRAUD

Carriers Find Their Names Are Being Used Without Authority.

Some one is soliciting subscriptions to a book and by the solicitor to have been issued to raise money for a letter carriers' band in Minneapolis. The carriers of the city say that such solicitation is unauthorized, as they are not organizing a band. The solicitor made a sale to a local company, giving for the $2 received a receipt signed "E. R. Rogers."

BIG MILITARY BAND FOR CITY

STAR ORGANIZATION TO MATCH SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

Emil Ober-Hofer Negotiating with Park Board for an Engagement at Lake Harriet—Band to Contain Fifty or Sixty Experts.

"Minneapolis Park band" sounds good as a possibility, and there is almost a certainty that such an organization will be formed. Its principal aim will be to give high-class music at Lake Harriet next summer, and to prove beyond cavil that this city need not import bands from either this country or foreign lands in order to obtain high-grade music.

Negotiations are now pending between the park board, represented by its committee on privileges and entertainment, and Emil Ober-Hofer for a season of band music at Lake Harriet. Professor Ober-Hofer's success with the Philharmonic Symphony orchestra this season has demonstrated that local talent under able conductors and with proper rehearsal, is in no wise inferior to that found in traveling organizations. Mr. Ober-Hofer is confident of his ability to represent the park board, and the park commissioners are willing to take him at his word. He wants a band of fifty or sixty pieces. It will be necessary to send east for certain instruments, but the greater number of the players will be from Minneapolis.

While the engagement at Harriet will probably be for only six weeks, an attempt will be made to retain the band intact as a Minneapolis military band.

The whole matter will be discussed at the meeting of the board on April 4.

LUNCHES ORDERED OUT

POLICE TELL SALOONKEEPERS TO CEASE DISPENSING BEANS AND FRANKFURTERS AT ONCE.

Every saloonkeeper in Minneapolis was notified by police officers last night to give up more free lunches, which are now under the ban of the city ordinance. A delegation from the Retail Liquor Dealers' association waited upon Police Superintendent Conroy yesterday and told him that the ordinance would meet with no opposition. One dealer says that he pays $14,000 per year for free lunches and is not sorry to do away with them. More Demands on Poor Department.

Effects of the ordinance are already felt by the city poor department. Last fall several needy men came to Superintendent Barton and asked for a place to sleep. He provided for them at the several lodging-houses, the arrangement costing the city about $3 a month for each man. The men asked for no grocery orders, saying that they could make their living at odd jobs. Mr. Barton later discovered that the "odd jobs" consisted mainly in going from one saloon to another in search of the best free lunch.

Six of these men, who last year managed to get along the coldest months, this morning applied for meal tickets or grocery orders. The superintendent says he has no doubt but that they will go back on the department for subsistence.

SAW WINEROOM IN USE

Three Aldermen and City Attorney on Tour of Inspection.

Being somewhat confused by the conflicting statements of License Inspector M. Walsh and the members of the Home Protection league as to the observance of the antiwineroom ordinance, Alderman C. W. Clark and F. L. Schoonmaker, with a committee of three, made a personal investigation after the council meeting last evening. They invited Alderman D. P. Jones, father of the ordinance, and City Attorney Frank Healy, to accompany them, so as to have authoritative rulings as to what constituted a wineroom.

Every statement made by the Home Protection league with regard to the places visited was substantiated. Mr. Jones made the discovery that in two places the wineroom partitions, which were taken down when he was acting mayor, about eighteen months ago, had been restored. Women were found in several saloons, and all had rooms arranged for the occupants were hidden from view.

Hope for Asthmatics.

Latest Scientific Discovery Achieves Marvellous Results.

New York, March 26.—The vast army of asthmatic sufferers will hail with genuine delight the news that a remedy has at last been discovered which not only relieves the distress that attends asthma, but completely and permanently cures the disease. Every statement which bears the scientific name cinarsium, has been remarkably successful in the most obstinate cases of asthma, some of them of twenty years' standing. In order that cinarsium may become more widely known and relief given to asthma sufferers throughout the country, the Journal Research Society, located at 39 John Street, New York, is now supplying cinarsium free of charge, to everyone who writes to them for it.

DARING RESCUE OF GIRL

Taken Down 100-Foot Ladder to Escape Flames.

A fire in the fifth floor of the Gillilan building, Jackson and Fourth streets, St. Paul, this afternoon, filled the floor with dense black smoke and forced its way through a window. She was taken down by a ladder. The fire was particularly hazardous, for the ladder did not quite reach to the window. The girl had to climb along a narrow ledge and descend by a long pole to reach the steps of the ladder. The loss by the fire is estimated at about $1,000.

CHARTER CAMPAIGN

Commission Thinks Work of Education Should Begin.

It is proposed by the members of the charter commission that an active campaign of education on the proposed charter be started. They want the charter voted upon at the primary election, in September, and hope to have every citizen thoroughly informed at that time. The new charter provides for a franchise tax, for civil service in the police and fire departments, for home rule and other changes. What reforms are necessary can be made by the people themselves after home rule has been attained.

HAZZARD IS NOW CONVICT NO. 2,586

HE IS SHORN AND CLAD IN PRISON GARB.

Prospects Are that He Will Make No Appeal, as His Term Would Be Half Served Before It Could Be Decided.

Samuel C. Hazzard, the dashing West Point graduate, linguist, traveler and society man, yesterday afternoon became an integral part of the prison community at Stillwater. From now on for probably a year he will be known only as No. 2,586, and will thus pay the penalty for having too many wives.

In charge of Sheriff J. W. Dregar and accompanied by a newspaper man, the much advertised convict was ushered into the office of the state's prison about 2:30 yesterday afternoon. The big fellow was plainly nervous, but kept the nerve that has never deserted him, and when turned over to the charge of the prison officials he shook hands, thanked the sheriff for his kindness and, smiling bravely, watched his friends depart, leaving him to the tender mercies of penitentiary life.

Without delay the West Pointer was shorn of his raven locks and, with naked head and clad in baggy, gray striped clothing, the military band, Brummel was hardly a sight calculated to charm the fair ones who have heretofore been his object. He was assigned to his cell home on the fifth floor, and the military band, Brummel was hardly a sight calculated to charm the fair ones who have heretofore been his object. He was assigned to his cell home on the fifth floor, and the military band, Brummel was hardly a sight calculated to charm the fair ones who have heretofore been his object.

SIX ABOVE ZERO

Winter Temperatures Prevail All Over the Northwest.

"Six degrees above zero" has a tendency to make the average citizen reproach spring as it shames jads for allowing winter to linger in her lap so long. That was the reading of the official thermometer this morning. Reports from the Atlantic coast. It was zero at Moorhead and 22 degrees below at Winnipeg. Zero temperatures prevailed throughout North Dakota and Montana.

New York awoke to a temperature of 60 degrees above zero this morning. Washington had 66 and Boston 62. All of these points will be frosty by night. Winds were cutting high jinks again last night; Bismarck, 4; Omaha, 3; Buffalo, 3, and Memphis, 4.

"Pair to-night and Sunday, warmer Sunday afternoon," is the outlook scheduled this morning by Section Director Outram.

RELICS TO BE BURNED

Clothes Worn by Burdered Men and Murderers Are Condemned.

Clerk of Courts C. N. Dickey has commenced his inspection of the Minneapolis national guard organizations, says: "The four Minneapolis companies and Battery B have no reason to be ashamed of the record they made. They turned out with a full attendance and made showings of which any military organization might be proud."

GERLACH PLEASED

Government Inspector Commends Local Militia Organizations.

Major William Gerlach, who has completed his inspection of the Minneapolis national guard organizations, says: "The four Minneapolis companies and Battery B have no reason to be ashamed of the record they made. They turned out with a full attendance and made showings of which any military organization might be proud."

Major Gerlach goes into southern Minnesota next week. He will be at Northfield Monday, Faribault Tuesday, Owatonna Wednesday, Austin Thursday, Mankato Friday and New Ulm Saturday.

GUARDSMEN PLEASED

They Will Be Allowed to Practise on the Snelling Rifle Range.

Local members of the National Guard are pleased at the information from Washington that there is included in the military appropriation bill now in conference a provision permitting the use of the enlarged Fort Snelling rifle ranges by the Minnesota National Guard.

"That is something for which we have been hoping for a long time," said Colonel Frank T. Corriston. "The new range will be much better for the companies in the twin cities than the Lake City range, and being so much nearer will give us more opportunities to get out for practice."

KINGCRAFT.

The young prince took up his geometry and kicked his instructor. "Of what use is Euclid?" he exclaimed. "to a king who rules the men and the money? To make a law demonstration, when anything needs proving?"

His majesty heard of it, and laughed long and loud, and swore the boy was a chip of the old block.

THE DOUGLAS SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

RIVAL LINES MAKE COMPLAINT

SAY G. W.'S ABSORPTION OF CARTAGE CHARGES IS UNFAIR.

Rock Island, Wisconsin Central and Great Western Are Accused of Practicing This Scheme in Chicago—Some Freight Men Think It a Violation of Elkins Law.

Traffic men are applying Hamlet's soliloquy to the absorption of cartage charges by the Rock Island, Wisconsin Central and Great Western in Chicago. "Is it, or is it not, a violation of the Elkins law? That is the question. The traffic men can't settle it. No one has asked the courts to settle it, but criminal proceedings may be instituted if the absorption habit spreads from Chicago to other junction points, such as Minneapolis. Some freight men aver that they could find instances in Minneapolis. This statement is indignantly denied.

"It is nothing more or less than a rebate plug to get business," said one freight man to-day. "It is equivalent to absorbing switching charges to equalize rates, which the roads all do," said another. The practice, which is advertised in circulars by one of the roads, is defended thus by an employe of one of the three interested lines. "If a business firm on the Omaha line at Milwaukee in Chicago, for instance, asks to have three Great Western, Rock Island or Wisconsin Central cars sent on its track for loading to Minneapolis, it is possible that it may take either of the two first-named roads a long time to get the car over. Such cases between roads leading to competitive points have been known. The initial road seeming to have lost the order or forgotten it. To expedite matters it is easy for the Rock Island, the Great Western or the Wisconsin Central to allow its line to take a 100 points cartage to its team track, with a minimum of say three tons, or perhaps up to 3 per cent of the value of the shipment, as cartage. The result is that it gets its shipment off at once and the team gets the long haul.

CLASS WAR PROBABLE

Freshmen Engineers Express Intention of Wearing Class Caps.

War on the university campus is probable. This morning the freshmen engineers held a class meeting and passed resolutions expressing their "full defiance, hate and scorn" for the sophomores, and ordering their hat committees to let a contract for class caps, to be delivered as soon as possible.

In the past any attempt on the part of the freshmen to wear distinct headgear has been discouraged by the sophs, and there will probably be trouble when the '07 caps appear.

The girls of the Minnesota and Central High school ball teams will give a banquet for the Nebraska girls at Donaldson's tearooms to-night.

FORGOT SICK FRIEND

James Helm Tries to Emulate Good Samaritan, but Trouble Follows.

James Helm, according to his own story in police court this morning, included in whisky he was taking to a sick man, lost consciousness and woke up in Central police station. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of drunkenness and told his story to the court.

As he had paid for the whisky himself, he thought he would take a very little taste. On a little taste was surely all he had, but after that all was blank. The court held that James should not have taken even the nip, and he was given the customary sentence of $10 or ten days.

The officers found the man in front of his lodging-house. His head was bleeding and a broken whisky bottle was clenched in his hand.

LOCATES PARK LODGE

Attorney General on Official Visit to Itasca Park.

Attorney General Douglas left last evening for Itasca state park to locate the new park house, which is to be built this summer. The contract for the work has been let, and the house will be built with logs and lumber taken from the park. The house will be a residence for the park commissioner, and will also furnish headquarters for tourists.

Is Dragged Unconscious from the Ocean by Fishermen.

He was on one of the piers when he fell into the water, but was rescued by two fishermen. He was taken out unconscious, but after two hours' work was resuscitated.

DIED FROM GAS

John Lord Commits Suicide at a Down-Town Hotel.

John Lord, a one-legged man, committed suicide last night in a Washington avenue hotel by turning on the gas. When he was found the room was filled with gas, which was streaming from three jets. Little is known of Lord's history. As he registered under a fictitious name, the act was evidently premeditated.

SAY THE CLOCK HASN'T STOPPED

HILL'S CRITICISM OF RIVER IMPROVEMENTS OPPOSED.

Minneapolis Citizens Who Worked for the Locks and Dams Say They Are Satisfied That the Money Is Being Well Spent.

Vigorous exception is taken by Minneapolis citizens, interested in Mississippi river navigation, to statements regarding these improvements attributed to James J. Hill.

Mr. Hill appeared before the river and harbor committee of the house at Washington yesterday in behalf of the building of a ship canal around Squaw island in the Niagara rapids at Buffalo at an expense of $4,500,000. He is reported to have said: "The clock struck 12 for the Mississippi river years ago. The government might as well jath and plaster the bottom of the river as to do what it is doing, and has been doing, in the way of improvement for it. The dam at Minneapolis may make a good rowing pond for the university boys."

He also explained that no waterway with a depth of less than fifteen feet could hope to compete with railway transportation, and with an all-freight line from New York to Buffalo he could tie up every boat in the proposed new Erie canal.

Hill's Idea Opposed.

"If the clock struck 12, years ago, for the Mississippi river as a waterway, it has gone around several times since then and is still going," said O. B. Clark, agent for the Adams Express company, and member of the old Board of Trade navigation committee which took such an active interest in the building of the wing and other dams in the upper Mississippi.

"If all the money spent on improvements in the Mississippi has been thrown away, then why is the Ohio river and navigation commission building another lock and dam near Marietta, when the Ohio river is paralleled by railroads on both sides? If canal transportation is a thing of the past why is the Ohio legislature preparing to spend thousands of dollars reopening the old canal from Cleveland to Portsmouth? The Mississippi river competition there is no check on the railroads. No matter how small amount of freight the boats may carry, the river is a competitor and is bound to have a good effect on freight rates, so that all talk about the throwing away of the improvement money is baseless.

HEARST'S S. D. WALKAWAY

ALL BUT THREE OF THE CONVENTIONS SO FAR HELD HAVE INSTRUCTED FOR HIM.

Special to The Journal. St. Louis, S. D., March 26.—Figures given out to-day from the Hearst headquarters in this city show that thus far an aggregate of 81 out of 72 delegates who will be entitled to seats in the democratic state convention in this city next Wednesday have been instructed for Hearst.

Three counties have elected uninstructed delegates to the state convention, but the delegates of two are said to be for Hearst. The remainder of the counties will hold their convention to-day.

Hearst's managers say all but not to exceed six counties will support the proposition to send to the St. Louis convention a delegation instructed for Hearst. Former Senator Pettigrew has been determined upon as the temporary chairman of the state convention and Chauncey L. Wood of Rapid City as the permanent chairman.

CONVICT'S PLOT FAILS

Dropped Saws in Bismarck's Jail so That His Pals Might Escape.

Special to The Journal. Bismarck, N. D., March 26.—H. F. Miles, a discharged prisoner from the penitentiary, from Bottineau county, called at the county jail and represented himself as a deputy sheriff from Bottineau, asking to be shown thru the building.

As he followed a deputy thru the institution, he left a package of saws where they could be obtained by J. Graham and Joseph King, both former convicts at the penitentiary and held in jail for other crimes. Sheriff Welsh heard the noise of sawing in the jail, and, on investigation, found the saws. Miles has been arrested and will probably go back to prison for another term.
