'TIS A GOOD THING FOR ALL INS. MEN

AN OLD LINE AGENT APPROVES AUDITORIUM PLAN.

Says the Canvas for That $2,000,000 Insurance to Secure the Big Hall Has Aroused a General Interest in Life Insurance by Which All Companies May Profit.

Competitors of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company, which company according to acceptance of the proposition made by the insurance canvass of the city will build an auditorium, take two different views of the situation. One class seizes upon the general interest in life insurance itself which is being aroused by the general canvass of citizens for $2,000,000 insurance; the other is "knocking" and thus assisting the work, overlooking entirely the advantages which appeal to the representatives of the first class.

The manager for Minnesota of the Hartford Life has himself taken a $10,000 policy. In addition to this he has sent a friendly letter to A. C. Fawcett, manager of the general committee. Officially he has taken notice of the present situation in Minneapolis by including in the regular bulletin to the Minnesota agents the following paragraph:

Propose let us advise you never to attempt to tear down your competitors under the impression that you are a business man's sagacity to tell him he has made a mistake in the selection of an old-line company and an error which will cause him to lose his money. The insurance business of this country represents the largest amount of the people's capital invested in any one direction. Over five thousand millions of dollars are in force. One company cannot handle it all. The man who pulls down will not get his share. Pay no heed to "knockers." It is the man who has the most to lose who is our best friend. He is necessary to make us work. He generally uses a boomerang and receives the blow himself. He gives the other an opportunity to show his merit. When "knockers" appear, capable and honest men take to their work; weak ones take to the woods. Don't knock and never mind the "knockers."

Cites Definite Results.

In his letter to Mr. Paul, Samuel Johnston, the manager, writes:

"It is my desire to say that I have never known the insurance business to be so productive of results as it has been the last sixty days in Minneapolis. In all my experience I have never known a year when the early conditions were better. Not only has there been an abundance of surplus, but the interest awakened by the efforts being put forth by the committees in charge of securing the insurance for the auditorium scheme. While it would appear at first glance to most insurance men that you were working in competition with them, the results show that your operations have had a most beneficial effect. Many people who heretofore had never bought insurance have had the matter brought to their attention in a very forcible manner thru the advertising which the insurance business has received. In our opinion the importance of having a music hall in Minneapolis should be the chief point at issue. We believe that the insurance managers of the various companies should continue to show their characteristic interest in the future well-being of the city and at the same time be broad-minded enough to see the good, indirect benefits accruing to themselves in the successful completion of your plan."

WHEAT ACRES WILL BE BIGGER

LOCAL GRAIN MEN EXPECT A BUMPER YEAR.

Conditions Are Said to Be Most Promising for This Time of Year and Numerous Reports Indicate That Farmers Will Plant More Wheat Than for Several Years.

The center of optimism in Minneapolis this year is the Chamber of Commerce. The grain and milling trade are looking forward to a good year. Just at present the milling trade is dull and some of the flour mills are idled, but the outlook for a long look ahead is favorable. For four years the northwest has not had a good, old time bumper wheat crop. All Chambers of Commerce men are agreed that such a yield is about due, and even now, before the land has been seeded down, they are beginning to talk of the great benefits that will accrue to Minneapolis and the northwest from a big wheat production.

At no time for several years has the big terminal elevators of Minneapolis been filled to anywhere near capacity, and naturally elevator building has lagged. A good crop of wheat here would mean a revival of activity along this line. The flour mills have had to go into the southwest to help out, and some winter wheat has been planted there. It is never should have come under ordinary circumstances. Commission men have not had such good wheat as they could wish to handle. But this year they hope to make it up.

Planting More Wheat.

A dozen reports were in to-day and all indicate that the tendency is to plant more wheat. Breckenridge, Hillsboro, Aberdeen, Winnipeg Junction, Larimore, Crookston, Fargo, Grand Forks and St. Vincent are points reporting to-day, and while seedling around some of these towns, we might have heard of wheat with the greatest crop on record. Of course all sorts of bad things may happen, but why should we look for them? In all my experience I have never known a year when the early conditions were better. Not only has there been an abundance of surplus, but the interest awakened by the efforts being put forth by the committees in charge of securing the insurance for the auditorium scheme. While it would appear at first glance to most insurance men that you were working in competition with them, the results show that your operations have had a most beneficial effect. Many people who heretofore had never bought insurance have had the matter brought to their attention in a very forcible manner thru the advertising which the insurance business has received. In our opinion the importance of having a music hall in Minneapolis should be the chief point at issue. We believe that the insurance managers of the various companies should continue to show their characteristic interest in the future well-being of the city and at the same time be broad-minded enough to see the good, indirect benefits accruing to themselves in the successful completion of your plan."

CAPTIVE DRUNK, BUT KEEPS MUM

CONDITION OF EXCELSIOR'S SUSPECT CAUSES COMMENT.

It is Charged that Officers Have Encouraged Him to Drink in Order to Pump Him, but He Imbibes and Keeps His Own Counsel.

The alleged lake cottage burglar, who is locked up at Excelsior, was placed under arrest early Tuesday morning and since then he has not been sober. With officers he has appeared on the streets, staggering, and he has spent much time in saloons where he could have anything to drink he desired. Yesterday afternoon, after almost three days in the lock-up, he appeared on the streets with Constable Powers and was hardly able to walk. At times the officer has to assist him. His appearance caused a stir and many were open in their condemnation of the officers for allowing, if not aiding him, to obtain liquor.

It is said that the officers have directly encouraged him to drink in the hope that while under the influence of liquor he would divulge all he knew about the lake robberies. The prisoner, however, has thus far stoutly denied any guilt, and the more he drinks the better able he seems to meet the questions of the officers.

The action of the officers will be brought to the attention of Mayor Sampson and he will be urged to summary action against Chief of Police Powers, who, the already elected constable, is a candidate for the office of chief of police. Those who know the mayor best are inclined to believe that he will do some strenuous investigating and that he will be urged to remove Powers from office.

It is said that a report will also be made to Mayor Haynes of the connection of Detectives Brown and Crumby, who assisted Powers in making the arrest and have aided in looking after the prisoner since. It is pointed out that providing intoxicating drinks for prisoners makes the officers so doing amenable to the law and it is believed that Mayor Haynes will be forced to make a thoro investigation.

The prisoner is Bill Wilson. He has been seen about Excelsior, Tonka Bay and other points on the south shore for the past six or eight months. Nothing is known as to where he came from.

Wilson stoutly maintains that he knows nothing about the robberies. He admits, however, selling to a resident of Excelsior some fishing tackle, which after his arrest he learned had been stolen from one of the robbed cottages. He says he purchased the outfit from a person unknown to him.

The officers still believe that a gang committed the robberies.

OF INTEREST TO BUSINESS MEN

Consider the story of Joshua. He marched around Jericho seven times before the walls fell. Up to the sixth round there wasn't a crack, but at the seventh the walls fell as flat as a pancake. There were those who did not believe that the city would fall, and who jeered at him, but he persisted and triumphed. This story holds two morals for the advertiser. One is that he should persist. The other is that he should persist in the right place.

Had Joshua marched around Gligal or Beersheba nothing would have happened. You might advertise until the crack of doom in some papers and nothing would follow but bills.

Other papers may have talked larger circulations. Have they proved them? Have they explained what such circulations consisted of, or what part of such circulations are of interest to you as an advertiser with something to sell?

The difference between a "home" circulation, such as The Journal has, and an alleged larger "street" circulation, secured in various ways and among various kinds of people, is something you should thoroughly understand. The Journal's circulation is a quantity of over 63,000 copies each day.

If you are going to do any marching, and expect something to drop, you must pick the right place to drop it.

The great volume of advertising it carries is an eloquent expression of the opinion of an conservative business man as to the value of this medium in the metropolis of the Northwest. It shows conclusively that The Journal gives the best results in any advertising medium in the city.

NEWS FOR NATIONAL GUARD

Will Have Use of New Snelling Rifle Range.

Congressman Stevens of St. Paul wired yesterday to Captain M. J. Wiley, brigadier general of the Minnesota national guard, that the war department had consented to have gunnery use of the new rifle range which is to be fitted up at Fort Snelling. This will be good news to the militiamen of the twin cities, who will have easy access to the range and will not go to the expense of the government has condemned 800 acres of land for this range along the Minnesota river, and it will be ready for use by next year. The present ranges around the cities are not suitable to the use of the Krag-Jorgensen rifles.

WORK ON ANOKA LINE

Surveyors Begin Operations on the Rural Trolley Road Route.

Surveyors for the Minnesota Power and Trolley company began work yesterday at Anoka on the profile and maps of the route of the electric line from Anoka to Minneapolis. An immense amount of this work will have to be covered before the actual construction begins. The route thru the city is not ready to give out, but the survey will be made from the Champlin bridge to the point on the city limit line where the county road intersects Crystal Lake avenue.

TOOK IT ON TRIAL

Burglar Steals Typewriter—Will Keep It if He Likes It.

"If this machine suits me I will keep it; sorry there isn't a cover handy. Too bad the window had to be damaged, but the door wouldn't open."

"The Burglar."

This note was found lying on the typewriter desk in the offices of the Haag-Labach Roofing and Corning company, Third and St. Peter streets, St. Paul, yesterday morning, and the machine was missing. The police have been unable to find any trace of machine or thief.

FRESH AIR AND FOOD

Taken in Generous Doses, Cure Case of Consumption.

Another remarkable recovery from pulmonary consumption by the outdoor treatment is being celebrated by the relatives and friends of Miss Nellie Crimmons, 3008 Irving avenue S.

Altho Miss Crimmons has suffered through numerous hemorrhages of the lungs and received no benefit from life in the northern woods last summer, a winter spent in careful dieting and in sleeping in the open air has added thirty pounds to her weight and left her the picture of health.

Miss Crimmons at first slept on the porch, but of late has used a sleeping-room which was open to the outer air and at times had a temperature of 30 degrees below zero. She wore special clothing, including a cap and has been fed on eggs, wine, malt cod liver oil and whiskey.

TWO BIG BUILDINGS

Permits issued for Rogers' Theater and a New Warehouse.

Two large building permits were issued yesterday, one for J. E. Rogers' new theater on Hennepin avenue between the West hotel and the Masonic Temple, at a cost of $40,000, and the other for a warehouse for the Minnesota Linsseed Oil and Paint company at 1101-1111 Third street S. to cost $50,000. The permits for the day aggregated $120,000. The total for the month amounts to about $400,000, which does not equal the record for March, 1903, by $200,000. The permits for March last year were unusually large.

HE CHASES LITTLE GIRLS

NORTH TOWN YOUNG MAN MAKES BOLD ATTEMPT ON A CHILD OUT ON AN ERRAND.

There is no head of a curfew ordinance in north Minneapolis, and for two weeks an unknown man has been terrorizing little girls who are on errands after dark. Several girls not more than ten years old have run home crying that a man had chased them.

A few nights ago a little girl living near Ninth avenue N. and Lyndale was sent out for medicine. She was stopped by a young man who asked her to get a postage stamp for him. He turned her five cents and when she refused to give up the stamp, he handed him the money. Instead of taking it, he grabbed her wrist and attempted to place a handkerchief to her mouth. She broke away and ran. Her father and some of the neighbors started on a hunt for the man, but he had left the neighborhood. His description is as follows: He is about 30 years of age, has dark hair, is closely watched for his reappearance. He is a young man well dressed and has a pleasing voice.

MOVING A PAVILION

Blue Line Structure to Be Near the White House.

The White house, the well-known summer home of its own this season. The old Blue Line pavilion has been purchased by interests favorable to the hotel and to Commodore Johnson's steamboat line, and is now being moved to its new location in front of the White house. The building will be remodeled and brought down to date, with a view to enlarging the hotel and forming a suitable landing place for the steamers of the Johnson fleet. The Lake Minnetonka Transportation company will build a wide wharf at this point and will construct a broad and elegant pier for the steamer to the landing. The pavilion will be located at the point where Water street terminates at the lake shore.

SHOT HER ASSAILANT

St. Paul Girl Resists Attack—The Man Will Recover.

Mary Hagen, a one-armed girl, manager of the St. Paul Messenger Express company, shot Joseph Clinton of West Seventh street, St. Paul, early this morning.

Miss Hagen was on her way home shortly after 2 o'clock, when she was set upon by four men. She warned the men to keep away, but Clinton tried to take the gun away from her. She fired, and the bullet passed thru Clinton's neck near his ear. He was taken to the city hospital. He will recover. Miss Hagen reported the matter to the police at once, and three other men were soon arrested on suspicion.

WIFE TOOK FURNITURE

The Recent Disappearance of Mavanaugh's Goods is Explained.

The police have learned that the one who took the furniture from Michael Mavanaugh's home, 2130 Fremont avenue N. was Mrs. Mavanaugh's wife. She admitted to Police Superintendent Conroy yesterday that she took the goods, saying that she and her husband had not been on speaking terms for some time. She was unable to get a divorce, and further said that the furniture belonged to her. She says that she was no secrecy about the matter, as she had a van at the house in daylight and the things were taken away.

SHOT BY AN OFFICER

Charles O'Hagen, Said to Be from Minneapolis, Fatally Wounded.

A special from Moberly, Mo., says that Charles O'Hagen, a Minneapolis man, was fatally wounded there last night while resisting arrest. O'Hagen has been selling large quantities of postage stamps, and when the officers attempted to arrest him he resisted and was shot by a policeman.

EASTER BOOK

ORIGINAL DESIGNS HAND ILLUMINED

Studio: MARY MOULTON CHENEY, DESIGNER. 727 Boston Block.

Our children are taught their notes and their letters almost simultaneously, as the social importance of a knowledge of music becomes more and more recognized, and the superior adaptability of the piano over all other instruments to express musical thought, is understood.

Why not obtain a piano now? You can do so with but little cash. Easy monthly payments our plan. We are showing pianos—the very choicest cabinet uprights—in the prettiest light and dark oak, mahogany and walnut cases, and these in the new patterns. From the thoroughly good and medium grades to the very highest, and prices accordingly. Do not these facts, these statements, these goods, these terms interest you? Then why delay a moment longer? You can have a piano on home terms to-morrow and for all time to come. Your children can begin their study at once.
