WHAT WOMEN WANT TO KNOW. By MARION ALCOTT PRENTICE, Copyright, 1904. MARKING HOUSEHOLD LINEN—Is there any new way to mark table cloths and napkins, and what is the proper size for the letters?—Bessie. The monogram is the most elegant form for marking linen, but the simple initial is perfectly correct. The same initial or monogram should be used on all household linen, only varied in size according to the size of the articles to be marked. Fashion has set her seal of approval upon French laid embroidery in pure white mercerized cotton or linen, so, to be fashionable this must be used. The letters on sheets, pillow cases and table cloths are usually three inches in height; for towels and dinner napkins, two or two and one-half inches high, and one or one and one-half inches high for small luncheon and breakfast napkins. Perforated patterns for marking can usually be found at fancy-work shops which will enable the worker to stamp her own linen accurately, which is essential to good embroidery work. The size of the thread must be governed by the quality of the material to which it is to be applied, but one rule always obtains, namely, that it is better to use thread a little finer than too coarse, for the latter is sure to look shabby and even the most skillfully handled. Always stretch the stamped linen in an embroidery hoop before beginning work. Sheets are stamped exactly in the middle of the top end about two or three inches from the hem, with the top of the letter toward the middle of the sheet, so that the letter reads correctly when the sheet is turned back. Pillow cases are also marked in the same manner with letters two inches above the hem, the lower end of letters nearest the hem. The letters on towels should be in the same relative position, except when the end is ornamented with drawn work, then, of course, the embroidery should be above it regardless of measurements. Pillow shams are marked directly in the center. On table cloths place the letters, top upwards, either bias or straight with the corner and eight inches from the edge on napkins in the same way, with letters two and one-half inches from the edge.

QUESTION FOR TO-MORROW. RELIEF FROM INSOMNIA.—For several weeks I have been suffering from insomnia. Can you suggest any means by which I can hope to secure sleep?—Mary. A DELICATE POT POURRI.—Can you give me the rule for the old-fashioned pot pourri?—Madge.

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE FASHIONS. Skirts tucked to fit snugly at their upper portion and allowed to drape freely at the lower are held in great favor and promise to gain even more extended vogue. This one is well adapted to all the season's suitings, and skirting materials can be elaborated with trimming of braid or other handwork, but, as shown, is made of Scotch homespun in the skirt and is simply stitched with Corticelli silk. The model is made with a train, but the skirt can be cut on indicated lines to give round length when preferred. The skirt is made in nine gores and is laid back and turned under at the waist measure and side seams that are stitched flat, in graduated lengths, and provide fullness that falls in soft folds below the stitings. The fullness at the back is laid in inverted plaits that are lapped over to meet the seam and stitched to match the back, and the upper edge of the skirt can be finished with the belt or cut on dip outline and under-faced or bound. The quantity of material required for the medium size is 10 1/2 yards 27 or 27 inches wide, 6 1/2 yards 44 inches wide, or 5 1/2 yards 52 inches wide, when material has figure to nap; 7 yards 27 inches wide, 4 1/2 yards 44 inches wide, or 4 1/2 yards 52 inches wide, when material has neither figure nor nap. The pattern (4703) is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32-inch waist measure. 4703 Nine Gored Tucked Skirt. 22 to 32 waist. In ordering pattern, fill in this coupon. PATTERN NO. Size. Name. Address. CAUTION—Be careful to give correct number and size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is best measure, you need only mark 22, 24, 30 or whatever it may be. When no waist measure is given, you may give the bust measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figures representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "yards." Patterns of this garment will be sent postpaid on receipt of 10 cents. Be sure and mention number of pattern desired. PAPER PATTERN DEPARTMENT, JOURNAL, MINNEAPOLIS.

O'ER TRUE TALES Corsets Were His Undoing. Walter Payne, a bell boy at the Auditorium annex in Chicago, who had read in the fashion magazines that men would be wearing corsets next Derby Day, tried on a pair belonging to Mrs. H. L. Smith, a guest, and so lost his job. Walter strolled into Mrs. Smith's room while a maid was at work. Spying the corsets on top of a trunk he took off his coat and vest and clasped them around his waist. Then something happened and they wouldn't come off. While he was struggling with them Mrs. Smith returned. She rushed downstairs to get assistance. Assistant Manager Kennedy and a detective returned with her to find Walter vainly striving to undo the corset clasp. Walter blushed, Kennedy swore and the lady nearly fainted. "He's ruined my best pair," Mrs. Smith wailed. "I can never wear them again after they've been on that boy!" BUYING, SELLING, BUILDING REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS. N. Ingraham Walton et al. to Albert H.
