NEW CASE.

However, If State Suspects That Practical Consolidation Will Still Exist, a Move May Be Made Which Would Give Harriman What He Wants.

Attorney General Donahower says no action is to be taken by the state at present in the Northern Securities case. When the mandate of the supreme court comes down, the case will sent back to the district court of Ramsey county. When it is returned to that court, the defendants will have the usual thirty days in which to file their answer. There is nothing for the state to do until that answer is

FRANK NYE IS NOT A CANDIDATE

NOMINATION FOR CONGRESS.

Statement of the Well-Known Attornev Is a Surprise - Opponents of Congressman Fletcher Must Seek a New Man to Support at the Primaries.

Frank M. Nye will not be a candidate for congress.

The well-known attorney, who has been considered a sure entry in the race for the republican nomination, made a statement to-day, definitely declaring himself out of it.

Mr. Nye's withdrawal will doubtless start a movement on the part of those republicans not satisfied with former Congressman Fletcher as a candidate, to bring out some one else who can make a successful run.

In his statement Mr. Nye says: I have hoped until very recently there might be a successful effort made to find a candidate upon whom the republicans could cordially unite and who could be elected without the burden and expense of two heated campaigns. With this in view I have allowed my name to be considered. This district is republican and should be represented by a republican, but unless reasonable harmony can be se-cured and a bitter contest at the primaries avoided the election of the nominee, who-ever he may be, will be endangered. Such evidences of harmony do not now appear as warrant me in entering the race. cannot afford to give up business and spend months of time and the little means

FINAL DEBATE HARRIMAN CASE TO-MORROW NIGHT

WILL THEN BE DECIDED.

St. Paul |Central and Fergus Falls Teams Will Discuss Municipal Ownership of Public Utilities - Gold Medal Composition Will Also Be Read and High School Enthusiasm Will Run High.

Teams representing St. Paul Cenral and Fergus Falls will close the hird season of the High School Debating league of the state at the University chapel to-morrow night. The question for the debate will be "Resolved. That American Cities and Vil ages Should Own and Operate Their Public Utilities." Fergus Falls will Fergus Falls will have the affirmative and St. Paul Central the negative. The Fergus Falls team will be composed of Bert Boen, Caleb C. Hogan and Harry Jackson St. Paul Central will be represented by Paul Gauger, Henry Horwitz and Mil ton Firestone. Two judges have been selected in Willis I. Norton, a member selected in Willis I. Norton, a member of the law school and graduate of the university and H. V. Mercer, a prominent Minneapolis attorney. Professor E. E. McDermott, president of the league, has been asked to name the third judge on the night of the contest, it having been stipulated that he shall be a Wisconsin man.

Fergus Falls was the winner in the finals of last year for the posfinals of last year for the possession of The Journal trophy. Strangely enough, that team was pitted against the team of the St. Paul Central at that time. St. Paul will try to humble its one-time conquerers to-morrow night and a spirited debate is anticipated. So great is the interest in the debate that a large crowd is expected. St. Paul has arranged to send several hundred representatives to cheer its debaters and sentatives to cheer its debaters and rgus Falls is expected to bring down few less than a train load to help along its representatives.

The first year Le Sueur won massive silver cup, valued at $150, offered by The Journal. Last year it was captured by Fergus Falls. Permanent possession of the cup is only to be gained by winning it three successive years. If Fergus Falls wins Friday evening it will give them a show to gain permanent possession of the trophy and St. Paul Central will endeavor to put a "block in their wheel."

The rival teams for the final contest would appear to be evenly matched. Each has debated on both sides of the question and is familiar with all of the arguments which can be produced. St. Paul Cleveland met and defeated St. Paul Cleveland met and defeated St. Paul Cieveland school, Blooming Prairie and Minne-apolis South high. Fergus Falls has conquered the East Grand Forks, Barnesville, Long Prairie and Benson teams. Rivalry between the teams is keen but friendly and the result of the meeting of the "giants of the league" is a matter of much conjecture thruout the schools of the state.

The program to-morrow evening will open with the reading of the this afternoon with examinations in algebra or geometry, at the choice of the candidate, and in Greek translation.

The papers will be sent to Oxford for marking and probably will not be heard from for two months at least.

The formal injuest will be held at salughter is expected.

The formal injuest will be held at the county morgue to-morrow at 10 a. m.

TOOK CENSUS OF THE RIVER

GERMS IN SAMPLES FROM MIS-SISSIPPI ARE COUNTED.

Results Show That Water From Center of Stream Is More Nearly Free From Contamination - Suspicious Colon Bacilli Found in All of the Fifteen Samples Taken.

Bacteriological tests of fifteen sam-ples of water taken from the river on the same day will give the water spethe same day will give the water specialists something to ponder over. In general they show that water taken from the center of the stream or in the main current is not so bad as water from the shore, but this rule is not infallible. In the main, however, the great pleas to take water from a the safest place to take water from a stream appears to be away from Health Commissioner P. M. Hall and Dr. J. Frank Corbett, who took the samples, and Dr. Elizabeth Woodwho assisted Dr. Corbett in making the tests, have drawn no con-clusions and merely submit the facts. Eleven samplese were taken at various points in the river from the Northeast station to the boom company's sorting gap two miles above. Only one sample was very near shore. At the same time, Inspector W. D. Mc-Call took samples from the well and forebay at the Northeast station, from the well at the North station and from the reservoir.

The bacterial count varied somewhat in the water taken from the strong current, but at the same time ran evenly between 200 and 250 colonies a cubic centimeter. In one sam-ple the count ran up to 440 colonies. This was the only sample taken clos to the shore and conditions at that point seemed to favor bad water. Water in the forebay and the well at the northeast station showed fewer colonies than water taken from the stream, and this may be due to a slight sedimentation in both places.

Six Day's Tests.

The results of six days' tests shows that the average number of colonies in water at the Northeast station was 82, at the North station 160 and at the reservoir 110 and it would seem to be a fact that the North station gets better water from the middle of the stream than the Northeast station gets from the shore.

Colon Bacilli There.

Colon bacilli were found in all the fifteen samples. The bacteriologists have been unable to isolate any typhoid germs, but the presence of any number of colon bacilli makes the water suspicious.

GREAT TRAFFIC POOL PREDICTED

DIRECTOR OF A NORTHWEST-ERN LINE READS THE OMENS.

Says Future Pool Will Be Legal Roads Will Become So Interdependent That Respect for One Another's Interests Will Be a Necessity—Laws Will Be Improved.

Special to The Journal, New York, April 14.—A director of one of the northwestern lines not immediately concerned in the matter before the court at St. Paul makes the following comment on the events of the month in the northwest:

"In any case the supreme court decision has led to a pretty muddle. It looked at one moment as the it had set the world back three or four years and undone at one word the work that has made an old man out of J. J. Hill and a physical wreck out of E. H.

Harriman. "You ask me what is to be the ultimate result; it is going to be that Hill and Harriman and every other big system in the west and northwest will be in a gigantic traffic pool—that's all. Legal—well why not? If people who own railroads want to abstain from interfering with other people. stain from interfering with other people who own railroads why should they not do it? Of course it won't be perpetual. A gentlemen's agree-ment is only good as long as all the gentlemen stay honest. But there will be inducements to stay honest. All the important interests in the northwest are now represented on more than one railroad board. In time that movement will go farther. They will be so inextricably interrelated that what injures one will injure all and what helps one will help all. They will conspire together to do business. will conspire together to do business. There will be a community of development in the northwest and the middle-west. Great Northern will build towns in the north country, Union Pacific in the center, etc. "In the course of time, an enlight-ened congress will devise laws to rule the railroads. They won't be designed to meet the needs fifteen years ago, when the Sherman law was made but they will be designed to give the people protection from iniquitous methods and manners and to give the railroads protection from ini-quitous restrictions—that is, restrictions that at the same time restrict the country. That is going to be the lesson of this suit and its outcome. "Canadian Pacific will never own Great Northern or any other trunk line from the twin cities to Seattle.
