TEST COUNCIL PERMIT

Fire Marshal Ringer After Man Who Violates the Ordinance.

The legality of a special permit issued by the city council will be tested in police court next Monday, in the trial of Charles Anderson in a charge of maintaining a wooden shed at 112 Sixth street S. without taking the required precautions against fire.

The complaint was sworn out by Fire Marshal Ringer who says that Anderson has been repeatedly asked to remove the shed, but has always refused. Permit was given him by the council to erect the shed for a skating rink. Since then it has been converted into a storehouse and workshop. The ordinance requires that it should be covered with iron, which was never done, and Mr. Ringer says that it is now a menace to the business district. The right of the council to grant such a permit will be tested.

WANT GAS TANK REMOVED

Residents Near Lyndale and Aldrich avenues File Protest.

Mayor James C. Harnes was served with notice to-day that the residents in the vicinity of the Minneapolis Gas Light company's big gas tank at Lyndale and Aldrich avenues demanded the removal of the tank on the ground that it was a source of danger, and that the reaction of Aldrich avenue by the council was an illegal act.

The notice was served by James Gufford, who says the tank is the tallest in the city. He says it had been so unbearable that house-holders had to seek refuge in the cellar. He was simply leading up to an injunction suit, as he expected no consideration from the council.

BUCK TRIES TO BOOST HEARST

CHAIRMAN DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE WRITES LETTER.

Says He Can't Discover Where Judge Parker Stands Politically, But Intimates That He Isn't a Democrat—He Speaks of the Good "Willie" Hearst Has Done.

In line with the policy the Hearst lieutenants have been following in other parts of the country, H. L. Buck, chairman of the democratic state committee and a Hearst supporter, has written to Major J. M. Sawyer, of Minneapolis, an open letter in which he belittles the candidacy of Judge Parker of New York because that gentleman has not declared himself. He leads off with the following:

"For several months I have been honestly trying to get at the true condition of things. The declarations, some weeks ago, of Messrs. Lind, Rosing and 'Brian' in favor of Parker's nomination, which declarations, coming together, seemed to have been designed for the purpose of stampeding the party in this state to Parker, I have not been able to understand.

"I have been trying to learn something about Mr. Parker and what he stands for. It has not seemed to me that the great mass of honest, sincere democrats, who are not seeking the 'fish pots of Egypt,' should be asked to blindly take up and defend a man whose views on public questions are unknown. Recent developments appear to have disclosed the cloven hoof of the creature that is back of the Parker movement.

"When the democrats of this state come to know that all the newspapers representing the Wall street interests, all the Cleveland followers and all the men who bolted the ticket and twice defeated us, are now supporting the nomination of Judge Parker, they cannot help but look with distrust upon the demagogue.

"His friends claim that he voted the ticket in '96 and 1900, but one swallow does not make a summer, and voting for a democrat does not make a democrat. He is probably an able lawyer and jurist, but I do not know. Why has he not expressed himself in clear terms upon the vital principles in which the great mass of the voters are interested? His friends defend his silence by saying that it is not compatible with the dignity of the bench for Mr. Parker to talk politics, but I am suspicious of this plea in view of the fact that many cast their votes for him in support of his printing statements of which the following is a sample:

"Judge Parker, so it is learned here from the financial and business world, has, through appropriate channels, given assurances that if nominated he will be conservative. The judge's attitude will be conservative. The judge's attitude is well known, but none the less, business men in high places are being acquainted authentically with the views of the demagogue.

"It would seem, if it is not beneath the dignity of the bench to inform the 'financial and business world' of his position, it certainly is not beneath that dignity to inform the six million democrats throughout the country whose suffrage he asks.

"As I study the support that is going to Mr. Parker, I am becoming more and more convinced that his boom is solely in the interests of the financial and business world, and not in the interests of the masses of the common people.

"Mr. Buck then alludes to the friendship alleged to exist between William J. Bryan and William R. Hearst, and says that "the Bryan democracy has been and is too much in earnest now to be led into the camp of the enemy and then slaughtered to make a Roman holiday." He continues:

"Now, as to Mr. Hearst. I have been trying to find out from the Parker men why they are so bitter against Mr. Hearst's candidacy.

"He has done some splendid things, in fact, has done more to check the trusts as a private citizen and at his own expense than this whole trust busting administration.

"His opponents talk about his being a moral impossibility, but do not give any reasons. They say that he is a proprietor of yellow journals, but I have not found any one yet to define that term, so that it applies to his journals alone.

"He has not as yet advocated the nomination of either Mr. Parker or Mr. Hearst, but I must confess that as between the two, the latter seems much more representative of democracy than the former.

"Mr. Buck closes with the declaration that he has "no axe to grind," but is simply wishing for the best good for the democratic party and hence for the country.

WOMAN PUNCHES SHERIFF

DREGER SAYS EXTRA HELP IS NEEDED IF INSANE PERSONS ARE SENT TO COUNTY JAIL.

Himself suffering from a punch in the nose given by "Mother" McCoy, and with two of his deputies laid up for repairs by savage attacks, Sheriff J. W. Dreger has decided that the county jail is no place for insane persons, and especially for those afflicted with delirium tremens. He believes that the city should have a detention hospital for this class of prisoners, or if they must be kept in the county jail, he must have special help.

In a communication sent to the county commissioners, the sheriff states that he has been informed by Judge of Probate F. C. Harvey that, under the law, the sheriff is obliged to accept delirium tremens patients when brought to jail, with or without a warrant. He writes:

"We have a great deal of trouble with the insane in this county. It is not a proper place for those afflicted in that way. The assistant jailer came near losing his eye, the jailer received a very bad injury in a crazy man, and the sheriff was punched in the nose by Mother McCoy. There ought to be a detention hospital provided by the city for such cases.

"In the event of our having to care for them I must respectfully ask your honorable body for extra help."

BOYS BREAK STREET LAMPS

Breakage Costs the City About Seven Hundred Dollars Annually.

"It costs the city about $700 annually to repair street lamps broken by small boys," said George W. H. Roberts this morning, "and we are doing what we can to break up the practice. We landed one boy yesterday and his parents had to pay a fine of $5. This will be sufficient warning to that particular neighborhood, but not elsewhere. In almost every case the lamps are broken wantonly. Of course, in play with baseball and other games, damage is sometimes done to street lamps, but this rarely happens. It is very hard to catch boys who break lamps wantonly, however, for they watch their opportunity. Citizens who see or hear of any such case of lamp breaking would help this department if they would communicate with it."

BROOKS GIVES UP

He Will Plead Self-defense for Stabbing Schentzky.

Samuel Brooks, who stabbed Frank Schentzky in a saloon Tuesday night, surrendered to the police last night and was held at the central station charged with assault. After being in custody for a day and a night he became tired of the game and last night telephoned to the authorities telling them where he could be found in case of lamp breaking. He affirms that he used the knife only after he was cornered by Schentzky. Brooks is a blacksmith and has a large family. The wounded man is doing well, but it is not yet certain that he will recover.

OCCIDENTAL MILL LEASED

Fred B. Godfrey and Jay R. Martin the Lessees.

Fred B. Godfrey and Jay R. Martin have under lease from W. L. Bassett taken over the mill and sawmill at Blomington, Minn., after under the name of the New Occidental Milling company. The mill will continue turning out saw and lumber products as usual. Mr. Godfrey assumes the active management. The new deal will not affect the Diamond Milling and Milling company, of which Mr. Godfrey is secretary.

NEW ORDINANCE IN FORCE

Health Department Gives Notice to Owners of Horses and Cows.

Health Commissioner P. M. Hall calls the attention of the owners of horses and cows within the city to the fact that the new ordinance will be enforced. It provides that the owners of stables shall provide a large, tight box for the storage of manure, and that the box shall be emptied at least once a week. No ashes, garbage or any other refuse is to be thrown into the box.

Horse and cow owners who have not yet arranged to comply with the regulations are requested to notify the health department at once, giving name and address.

FINISH ON LAKE STREET

Meter Thieves Complete Their Canvass of That Thoroughfare.

Meter thieves last night completed their progress down Lake street by robbing six prepaid gas meters in the block at the Blomington avenue intersection.

In the block on Lake street, between Fifteenth avenue S. and Blomington, at least fifteen meters have been robbed in the past two weeks, the thieves first taking all the meters on the north side of the block and winding up last night by cleaning out the south side.

The thieves have now visited nearly every meter from Blomington avenue to Lake Calhoun.

ANTI-SMOKE AGITATION

City Officials Asked to See That Law Is Obedied.

A delegation of prominent citizens to-day waited in front of James Hill Hotel, following Superintendent E. J. Conroy. City Attorney Frank Healy and Health Commissioner P. M. Hall to see that the anti-smoke ordinance is enforced rigorously and vigorously. They represented that thousands of dollars would not cover the losses from smoke in the city.

Mayor Hayes will confer with the heads of the legal, police and health departments regarding the matter.

FREE MUSIC AT HARRIET

Minneapolis Musicians Go on Record in Its Favor.

The Minneapolis Musicians' association has placed itself on record as favoring free music at Lake Harriet, and expresses the hope that the time will come when open-air concerts will be held at all the Minneapolis parks. The suggestion that an admission fee be charged at Harriet did not meet with approval. More-over, it is the intention of the association, as far as it has any influence in the matter, to endeavor to have the Lake Harriet program so arranged as to please all tastes.

PICKED POCKETS OF BENEFACTORS

George Brown, a Fake Cripple, Admits Working a Bold Game.

While charitably inclined men were reading his written plea to help the strange cripple in a strange land, this cripple would reach into their pockets and make sure of the aid in case the plea failed.

This cripple, giving his name as George Brown, was in police court this morning on a charge of vagrancy and admitting to the people of the city and to make fully accessible to them all the books that are worth reading. In pursuance of this policy he has issued a placard for the East Side library, and has had this distributed to all the manufacturing establishments on the East Side and other points frequented by the public. Each placard has been accompanied by a letter requesting the employer or person receiving it to post it conspicuously. The beautiful new branch offers the best of library facilities for a practically unlimited number of patrons and the library authorities wish to see the facilities fully used.

The south branch has been undergoing improvements that are being advertised in similar way, and thru announcements in the schools. This is one of the oldest branches, but its quarters have been so unattractive and poorly equipped that it has suffered in a region of schools, the use of the Ington and Franklin avenues, it is an important center of influence, as it is surrounded by a large foreign population. Each placard has been accompanied by a letter requesting the employer or person receiving it to post it conspicuously. MAKING IT EASY TO GET BOOKS

PUBLIC LIBRARIAN INCREASING BRANCH LIBRARY FACILITIES.

Placards Tell East Side Folk of the Advantages at the New Library There—Radical Changes for Better Are Being Made at the South Branch.

The chief tenet in the policy of the public librarian, Miss Gracia Countryman, in bringing the library facilities to the notice of the people of the city and to make fully accessible to them all the books that are worth reading. DIFFER OVER HANDY MEN

FOUNDERS AND MOLDERS AND THEIR EMPLOYERS FACE SERIOUS DIFFICULTY RELATING TO ANNUAL SCALE.

Local founders and molders are facing the possibility of a radical disagreement with their employers on the matter of an annual scale. Both sides to the controversy hope that the second meeting between their committees will result in an agreement for the working year, which begins May 1.

During the past year the local founders have run on the basis of one cent per hour, and the molders, which the employers say, works a hardship on the foundries because it is gradually reducing the supply of foundry men in the city.

In addition to the difficulty of employing "handy men" for rough work, the molders will not allow, but the founders insist that they are employed by the local foundries, but the union men see a danger because of the possibility of educating the recruits into skilled nonunion molders. In obedience to the union employees' protest much foundry work has thus been secured in country shops to the disadvantage of the local firms. It is this question of the employment of "handy men" which promises the most trouble.

There is, however, less probability of a strike this year than there was at the time of the dispute a year ago, and it is regarded as extremely unlikely that the supply of stock on hand large. Last year labor was much harder to get in the foundry line than it is now. Neither side to the controversy is belligerent.

A NOVEL MUSICAL

Given by W. L. Harris of New England Furniture & Carpet Company.

The musical people of the city were the guests of W. L. Harris of the New England Furniture & Carpet company last night at a novel musical. The affair was held in the oriental rooms of the store, and the rich effects of the tapestried walls and rare old rugs were heightened by brilliant-hued flowers and tropical foliage. A corridor of palms led into the art room, which was used for refreshments. This was lighted by quaint lamps, and the frappe bowl was set in a mound of fruits and flowers. Cozy recesses everywhere invited one to luxurious loitering while listening to the music.

The guests were received by Mr. Harris, Miss Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Campbell. The frappe was served by Mrs. E. K. Millsap and Mrs. W. S. Langley.

The program was an important section of the children's music-making machine. Thru these, opportunity was given to hear the dulcet tones of Gadaki, Calve, Caruso, Piancon, Campanari, Homer, De Lucia, Tamasano and Blass. The musical was enthusiastic over the results attained in voice transference by means of the records.

WILL TROLLEY LINE BE BUILT?

COMMISSIONERS EXPRESS DOUBT OF COMPANY'S SINCERITY.

Proposed Route of New Road to Anoka Is Discussed—Power Company Insists on Location Which Can Hardly Be Granted—Commissioners Will Inspect Proposed Routes.

Will the Minnesota Power and Trolley company use the franchise which it has secured for building an electric line over Hennepin county roads to Anoka?

This question was discussed unofficially at a meeting of the county commissioners this morning to consider the proposed route. Some of the commissioners believe that the new company is not anxious to build the line, now that it is found that so much work will have to be done and a large amount spent.

In support of this belief are cited the apparent indifference of the officers of the company and the fact that the route they insist on is one that can hardly be granted.

On the other hand, it is urged that the company is under $5,000 bond to begin work by May 1; that a route has been surveyed and that there are many other evidences of good faith.

After a rambling discussion of the route mapped out by the company and after weighing the objections made by the county, the commissioners adjourned until Saturday morning. This afternoon and to-morrow they will go over the various routes.

HAD 2 HUSBANDS; ONE IN THIS CITY

New York Woman's Non-Support Case—Minneapolis Man a Factor.

Charles Taylor, said now to reside in Minneapolis, figures prominently in the trial in New York city of Charles Pickard, 57 Cranberry street, Brooklyn, charged with abandoning his sick wife, Louise.

From evidence brought out yesterday, it appears that the woman was married to Charles Taylor, then an attendant at Bellevue hospital, twenty-three years ago. After several years of married life, Taylor disappeared, leaving his wife and young daughter. Attempts to find him were unsuccessful. A year later a report was received in Brooklyn that Taylor had died from wounds received over a gambling table in Washington.

Shortly after the report of Taylor's death, his wife married Charles Pickard, a machine operator on the New York World. They lived happily together until Pickard received unquestionable evidence that Taylor was not dead but that he had been living in Minneapolis for eight years. He then left his wife.

Pickard denies that he abandoned his wife because his marriage with her was illegal and says that he offered to give her a home. The case has been continued until May 25.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Don't Be Penny-Wise and Found-Poor—Follow the Advice of a Prominent Physician.

George M. Moore, M. D., in the American Health Journal says: "The one laxative which has merit is Res. Bro's Cascara, made from roots, herbs, bark, plants and berries, nature's true remedies, and has given universal satisfaction. It would be an excellent investment for any one to keep this remedy near at hand. The digestive organs, often need a laxative tonic to aid them in their work, which every one makes doubly hard through carelessness. Res. Bro's Cascara cleanses the bowels thoroughly, strengthens the stomach, stimulates the liver and increases the flow of bile. This results in more of the food being digested and pure blood being produced. Pure blood will overcome any disease. It rises up the arteries, makes the complexion clear and healthy. No one can afford to be without a bottle of Cascara, for it only costs 60 cents a bottle. This laxative will be refunded if it is not entirely satisfactory. At all leading druggists.

The Book Tells You How

To Get Well at My Risk.

If you want to feel better. If you want more strength. If you lack digestion. If you can't do things like you used to. If your nerve—your courage—is leaving you. If you are a druggist near by who will sell you a bottle of Res. Bro's Cascara. If you lack vim, vigor, vitality. If something is eating away your constitution. Ask me by letter for the book. Don't send a penny. Let me take the risk. Let me tell you of a druggist near by who will sell you six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative on a man's trial. Take and see for yourself what it will do. Then decide.

Do not—do not—leave it to the druggist—nor to me. We might be prejudiced. You, you alone, shall say the word, whether you pay $5.00 or nothing. The druggist can't complain. He is to get his money back. Res. Bro's Restorative at my risk. Not a penny if it fails. It's a two-cent stamp—or a postal note—will be refunded if it is not against $5.00, their cost. Don't you begin to hand the Restorative to someone else. Ask me for the stick? I have found, long ago, how certain it is, how seldom it fails.

It'll risk my reputation. It. As for the cost of the medicine, too. I know and I want you to know. This is my way of gaining your interest. Others don't do it that way. It's my way. They don't. Ask me for the book you want. Write me. Now—to-day.

SOBERG'S POINT TITLES

Question of Validity Raised—An Old Trust Deed.

An application to register the title of a ten-acre tract of land north of St. Albans, near Lake Minnetonka, has raised a question as to the validity of the titles held by different persons to 130 acres of lake property, including Soberg's Point. Albert Phelps, having secured the rights of the children of Charles J. and Mary Westlake, appears as objector to the registration.

The property in dispute was purchased by Mr. Westlake about fifty years ago. A few years after the purchase he issued a trust deed which provided that the property should not be disposed of until after he and his wife were dead. Later Mrs. Westlake made application to the probate court asking that the land be sold for the benefit of the children. This application was granted, the division was made in legal form, and, as a result, some 200 purchasers are now interested in the property.

Mr. Phelps' contention is that the trust deed was equivalent to a will, and that the sale under the probate court order is null and void. The case was argued and submitted to Judge Simpson yesterday afternoon.
