LITTLE RED BAND SKINNER'S GUESTS

POPULAR ACTOR AND BOYS PLAY FOR EACH OTHER.

Otis Skinner, an Honorary Member of Journal Newsboys' Band, Has Boys Out to See "The Harvester"—Afterward They Serrade Him—He Makes a Speech.

Otis Skinner entertained fifty-five guests at his last performance of "The Harvester" last night at the Metropolitan theater, and it is safe to say he never played before fifty-five more appreciative guests. The guests were the members of The Minneapolis Journal Newsboys' band, of which Mr. Skinner is an honorary member, having been elected by the boys several years ago.

Mr. Skinner is very fond of boys, and is also honorary member of the Grand Rapids Press Newsboys' band. The Journal band has been entertained by Mr. Skinner on previous visits, but last night's performance delighted them beyond measure. At the close of the last act, the boys ranged themselves in the parquet of the Metropolitan, the curtains were rung up, and Professor Heintzman started the youngsters on a rollicking two-step. Mr. Skinner emerged from his dressing-room still in semimakeup, together with the other members of the company, stage carpenters and scene shifters, so that altogether the band had quite an audience to play for. The band played three of its most spirited selections and played them well, too, the last number being variations on "Old Black Joe." The music of the little musicians was heartily applauded by Mr. Skinner and his company.

After the last selection, Mr. Skinner advanced to the footlights and said: "Boys, I want to tell you how much I appreciate your excellent music to-night, and I know you have entertained me much more delightfully than I have you. I feel the honor of being a member of The Minneapolis Journal Newsboys' band and after hearing you play I feel that I will have to make good in some way to retain my membership. I hope that the time will come when I may be able to get into the organization as an active member and play some instrument with you, possibly the clarinet, or the cymbals, or perhaps the bass drum. The sentiment that comes from my heart as I meet you again on another visit to Minneapolis is 'hurrah for The Minneapolis Journal and its excellent band, and so, boys, I thank you once more, and say 'keep at your work the way you have started and play as well as you know how, for each of you is a member of my success, doing your very best all the time, playing and working, the best we know how.' Boys, I thank you for the honor that you have given me by your music and say once more good-by and good night."

CONGER DROPPED

South St. Paul People Regret School Superintendent's Removal.

In the whirlwind of local politics in South St. Paul, School Superintendent C. J. Conger is out. Mr. Conger had held the position of superintendent for nearly a year, but in that time had earned the approbation of the parents of the school children by making noticeable improvements in the system. The local paper in referring to the matter says: Considerable regret is expressed by the citizens of South St. Paul as to the removal of Superintendent Conger. It is alleged that personal matters were allowed to carry more weight than the welfare of the schools in the removal of the superintendent. The superintendent, when he was in the schools, were seen this morning and, almost without exception, they were loud in their praise of Superintendent Conger's work. There is little question but that he has raised the standard of the schools so that they compare most favorably with those in the larger cities.

Why Swamp-Root Gives Strength

Almost every one, from personal experience, knows that the effects of any kind of severe physical strain are felt, first of all, in the small of the back—in other words, in those Vital Organs, the Kidneys. This is as true in the case of the very powerful man as it is with one of less strength, and it is especially true whenever the kidneys are weak.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Swamp-Root Strengthens the Kidneys, and through them helps all the other organs. When this Wonderful Discovery can put the human body into condition to stand the hard training and the tremendous strain of the prize ring, it is easy to understand how it has cured thousands in the more ordinary and less strenuous walks of life.

In the state capitol. Many opposed the plan, urging that to hold the reunions in the big stone structure in the city instead of in the cabin would rob the reunions of half their pleasure. It was argued, on the other hand, that the meetings, coming so early in the season, usually found the cabin, after being closed all winter, in a damp and unhealthy condition. Some of the members asserted their belief that the action was illegal because it was taken when only a few of the members of the association were in the hall. Nobody, however, contested the vote.

The pioneers had a pleasant day for their auto ride to the fair grounds, except for the wind, and they didn't seem to mind that. Governor Van Sant was present to celebrate his birthday, as he always does, with the pioneers. The members of the Territorial Women's club gave him a big birthday cake and a large bouquet of American Beauty roses. Accepting the gifts, Governor Van Sant made a happy speech.

The Territorial Pioneers' association now has a membership of 2,700 according to the report of the secretary. During the past year 310 new members were added. The collection of historic relics at the log cabin was added to yesterday, several old books, paintings and other things of interest to the early settlers being presented.

Officers were chosen as follows: E. W. Durant, of Stillwater, re-elected president; John Cooper of St. Cloud, vice president; J. E. Bell of Minneapolis, second vice president; E. E. Hughson of St. Paul, re-elected treasurer.

The Women's Territorial Pioneers' club elected the following: President, Mrs. E. Southworth of Shakopee; vice president, Mrs. F. A. Potts of Minneapolis; secretary, Mrs. George H. Hazard of St. Paul; treasurer, Miss Carrie Stratton of Minneapolis.
