The concentration of the Russian forces at Liao-yang will make that place the first line of defense and the first great battle will probably be fought there. No important aggres-sive action by this army is expected in the near future.

Since the Russian fleet at Port Arthur has been bottled up, the Japanese find it possible to use this port as a base and to abandon most of the and transportation thru Korea, using the regular army transport equipment for conveying munitions from Antung to the front. The Chinese do not oblect to Japanese occupation, because newcomers give employment to thousands at good wages and furnish a market for provisions at inflated prices. Many Japanese shopkeepers are already established here. The river has not yet been opened to foreign commerce. The correspondents who remain at headquarters visited the Russian wounded, who expressed satisfaction at their treatment. Their only com-plaint was that they received no bread the Japanese army not being provided with stores of that kind.

RHODE ISLAND IS STUCK IN MUD

The Big Battleship Successfully Launched-Driven Into Bank, but Not Damaged.

Quincy, Mass., May 17.—The battle-ship Rhode Island was successfully launched to-day at the yards of the Fore River Ship and Engine company. After leaving the ways, the great craft attained such headway that she could not be stopped in deep water, and, her anchor failing to hold, her stern was forced into a mud bank. Three tugs made fast to her, but the tide fell rapidly and they were unable to move her. The company sent to Boston for additional tugs and it was expected the battleship would be re-leased before the next flood tide. A naval inspector said that as the bottom was soft the ship would not be damaged.

The Rhode Island is one of five battleships for which congress has Her general dimensions and chief characteristics are: Length on load water line, 435 feet. Breadth, extreme, at load water line, 76 feet 2½ inches.

Trial displacement, about 14,948 tons.

Mean draft at trial displacement, about 23 feet 9 inches.

Greatest draft, full load, about 26 feet.

It is to the self interest of every right mean-ing American citizen to fight for those vital principles of his government that have made this the most prosperous and progressive nation in the world's history.

The Closed Shop.

Speaking of the closed shop Mr. Parry said:

The closed shop is against public policy and is of doubtful legality. The liberty of the individual would be impossible if he is debarred from the right to contract for his services because he does not belong to a union. I believe that this truth will become generally recognized and that the day must come when no industry will be allowed to run on the closed shop plan. Any set of men have a right to contract in a collective capacity for the sale of their labor, but they cannot be upheld in making contracts which exclude other labor from the right to contract.

Fighting Eight-Hour Law.

Mr. Parry went into some detail as to the work accomplished by the as-sociation during the year, and made a special point of the fact that, largely due to the work of the association, neither the eight-hour nor the antiinjunction bills were reported out by any of the congressional committees. Mr. Parry declared both of these measures to be socialistic.

Gain in Membership.

Mr. Parry touched lightly upon the subject of reciprocity and spoke fa-vorably of the good roads movement, the improvement of rivers and har-bors and the development of the irrigation system. He announced that the association had gained a thou-sand members in the last year, bring-ing the total membership up to 3,000. Features of the Meeting.

One of the most important features of this meeting will be the adoption of a new constitution for the organization. The executive committee of the association has been at work since the last meeting preparing the new constitution, and it will likely be adopted with but few changes. There will probably be no changes made in the officers of the association for the coming year, and D. M. Parry of Indianapolis as president, Marshall Cushing of New York as secretary and H. F. Stillman of New York as treasurer, will be elected at the closing session of the convention Thursday. New vice presidents may be selected and the executive committee changed slightly.
