THE PIANO QUESTION.

Is a many sided one. Many piano stores are run on the sliding-price-plan; the get-all-you-can-plan. The customer is confidently told that "if he will never tell," a discount of $50, $75 or even $100 will be allowed "just to get the benefit of his influence." The house is very anxious to get an instrument in his town or neighborhood; hoping to make other sales through it. This is all very well until the purchaser finds another party who has paid $75 less for the same style piano. The Foster & Waldo One-Price-Plan makes absolutely and positively one price to all; and that price is the lowest that 15 years' experience in buying for spot cash will admit of. Every piano marked in plain figures. Your little boy or girl or aged grandparent can buy as low as the shrewdest shopper in America. No house on this continent quotes lower prices than we do on such standard makes as the Steck, Krakauer, Hardman, McPhail, Sterling and "Crown." Cash or easy monthly payments. THE ONE PRICE PIANO DEALERS.

DENIED SIGNING MORTGAGE

Poor-Farm Charge Figures in Berglund Forgery Case.

Soloman Eckberg, the only man by that name to be found in Minneapolis, was brought from the county poor-farm to-day to testify in a forgery case in police court against his former employer, Berglund, and his business associates, Peter Scholl and John Bosky.

The men were accused of forging the name of Solomon Eckberg to a mortgage calling for a payment of $370 and giving it to Moses Price in exchange for other property rights. The mortgage was secured in the name of Eckberg, and was duly signed "Eckberg." Eckberg appeared in court and testified that he had lived at the poor-farm for some time, and that he owned property at Minnetonka. Thirteen years ago he worked for Berglund and became involved in a property dispute with Berglund, and he was to stand responsible for any loss on a structure which Berglund was building. The defense could not produce any other Solomon Eckberg, and the men were held to the grand jury in $500 bonds.

BRIBERY ALLEGED

By order of the supreme court, Mr. Southworth is allowed to add to the charges filed some time ago, the accusation that Mr. Lane gave money to Ada Hubbard to be used in bribing the men were held to the grand jury in $500 bonds.

GET YOUR TAG QUICK

The time is up for persons who have been riding wheels on paths without obtaining tags. Special officers were placed on all the paths to-day, with instructions to arrest all persons riding untagged wheels. Under the ordinance arrests should be made after May 1, but Police Superintendent Conroy gave plenty of time this year, that there might be no dissatisfaction.

ELLIOTT DOESN'T HAVE TO GO BACK

Escaped Asylum Inmate, Who Wanted to See Roosevelt, Was "Discharged."

Peter O. Elliott, the Minneapolis inventor who tried to force an audience with President Roosevelt and was afterwards adjudged insane, consented to the St. Peter asylum, from which he soon afterward escaped, is in the city.

Elliott, the an escaped inmate, cannot be arrested and sent back to the asylum unless he becomes dangerous, information is filed against him, and he receives another examination by the county authorities. This is due to the fact that he has been discharged by the asylum authorities.

Elliott escaped on the night of Nov. 10. No trace of him could be discovered and May 10 notice was sent to the Hennepin county probate court that the Minneapolis man had been "discharged, unimproved."

The process of reasoning employed by the state officials, by which the conclusion that an insane man committed to their charge who had escaped was regularly discharged, is a mystery to the local officials, but the fact remains that Elliott cannot be taken back without another examination.

"Nothing I Ate Agreed with Me"

The Distressing Experience of Mrs. G. F. Meads and How She Cured Herself of Chronic Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation.

The Cure is So Simple, No One Should Suffer Longer From These Troubles.

The chronic dyspepsia is probably the most disagreeable person on earth to get along with. Their trouble makes them nervous, irritable and miserable. Persons with good digestion can't understand the perversity of the dyspeptic, but if they suffer constantly from everything they eat they would regard them more leniently. There is no need to-day for any one to suffer from stomach trouble. They can be cured as easily and completely from all forms of dyspepsia, indigestion and flatulence as was Mrs. G. F. Meads of 206 Church st., Elizabeth City, N. C.

Mrs. Meads' story of how she suffered and how perfectly she was cured, is of interest to every sufferer. She says:

"I cannot refrain from pouring out my heart-felt gratitude to the Vernal Bismuth company for my relief from pain and suffering. Although I am 66 years old, I do not feel to-day a bit over 30, and when I think of the tired, worn-out woman I was a few weeks ago, I can hardly realize I am that person. I suffered constantly from indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation. Nothing I ate agreed with me. I finally became so bad that I could eat nothing but broth and gruel, and so weak that just walking across the room seemed to exhaust me. I tried three different doctors and patent medicines without number but nothing struck the spot until I tried Vernal Bismuth. The sample bottle gave me great relief and I knew I was started on the road to health. I cannot say enough in favor of Vernal Bismuth, and do hope that all sufferers from dyspepsia and constipation will try this wonderful medicine. I know from actual experience that it will make them well. It so completely cured me, and I think I was about as sick as any one could be, that I can testify to its power. Vernal Bismuth (formerly known as Vernal Saw Palmetto Berry Wine) is not only a certain and positive cure for disorders of the digestive tract, but all forms of kidney and bladder trouble yield at once to its wonderful curative properties. Chronic catarrh is cured to stay cured by Vernal Bismuth. In cases of weakness its restorative power is truly miraculous. The manufacturers of Vernal Bismuth have so much confidence in their wonderful remedy that they will send free and postpaid to every one who writes for it a trial bottle which you can test and try in your home without spending a cent. Your druggist keeps Vernal Bismuth and will get it for you if you ask him; but anyway write right down now and write for a sample. Address Vernal Bismuth Co., suite 305, Seneca building, Buffalo, N. Y."
