John A. Rawlins post, G. A. R., will attend memorial services at St. Mark's pro-cathedral Sunday morning. The male choir will sing Gounod's Credo for the St. Cecilia mass. Under the direction of the choirmaster, George H. Normington, the choir will also sing patriotic hymns.

Rae Miller, a colored woman well known to the police, was picked up on the streets of Anoka yesterday, evidently under the influence of drugs. A large box of morphine was taken from her. The woman was formerly an inmate of Lena Smith's resort on First avenue S. and is known to be addicted to the drug habit.

Bryant post, No. 119, G. A. R., will meet at their post hall on Memorial Sunday at 9:45 a. m. and will go from there in a body to the Lyndale Congregational church for the morning service. On Memorial morning the comrades will meet at the main gate of Lakewood cemetery at 9:30 and help decorate the graves at that place. The post will also take part in the afternoon parade.

A lecture on "Europe" will be given at the South high school hall Friday evening, May 27, by Miss Emma Roberts, supervisor of drawing in the public schools. The lecture will be illustrated by stereoscopic views of scenes in Holland, Italy and Switzerland. The Irving school boys' chorus will render vocal music at that place. The post will also take part in the afternoon parade.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state to-day by the Astoria club, Minneapolis, which is declared by the incorporators to be organized for social and literary purposes and mutual improvement. The incorporators are Henry J. Lewis, Ingram G. Flickinger, Louis Friedman and Martin L. McCormick. There is no capital stock, and the initiation fee and annual dues are fixed at $5 each.

HAD A GOOD TIME

Visiting Pythians Leave Singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The last of the Pythians who attended the northwestern festival on Saturday and Sunday departed for their homes last night after spending a very enjoyable day visiting the parks in and about the twin cities. When the Iowa team, which exemplified the work at the elaborate exercises at the International Auditorium Saturday evening, left the union station last night they gathered on the platforms of the cars and sang "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" to the festive throng which had escorted them to the train. They are anxious to entertain the Minneapolis Pythians at Dayton, Ohio, and extended an invitation for them to make a trip to the Ohio city. Fred E. Wheaton, grand keeper of records and seal of Minnesota, will go to Dayton on June 14 to attend the festival to be held in honor of the Ohio officers. The northwestern festival went off without a hitch, and everybody, both the guests and their hosts, had an excellent time.

ROBBER GETS JACK-POT

Why Police Have Difficulty in Getting Light on Holdup.

The police have learned particulars of the holdup in Robert Handley's saloon Saturday night when they tell a number of customers were relieved of several hundred dollars. At first the victims would give out no information that would aid the police, but they were told the robbers made quick work of the players, and it has leaked out that it was a rich haul.

EAST LYNN

Dr. Rucker's Company in a Big Tent

Corner of Eighth Street and Second Avenue South.

Dr. Rucker and his world-renowned Korak company are here for a short engagement. Dr. Rucker's company is larger and better than ever, the company comprising thirty people, including the band and orchestra.

Every one who has seen East Lynn, and all those who have not had the opportunity, should see this elaborate production, which will be given tomorrow evening at the tent theater, corner Eighth street and Second avenue S. No expense has been spared to make this production the most realistic and superb that has ever been presented in the United States. Every member of the company is an artist with a national reputation, and the people of Minneapolis are very fortunate by having been given the opportunity of seeing this great play properly presented at the small price of admission, which is ten cents.

CLASS PLAY SEAT SALE

Big Demand Pleases Business Manager J. A. Danforth

A broad smile lighted up the features of J. Arthur Danforth, manager of the university senior class play, as he strolled into the Metropolitan opera house this morning and glanced approvingly at the box office performance. The tickets from the box office window out to the sidewalk and around into the alley. The ticket buyers assembled early and when the box office closed at 9 o'clock there were between seventy-five and a hundred men, women and children in line, each of whom handed a neat little sum into the class treasury in return for tickets for the Saturday performance.

"Everything is going as it should," remarked the manager. "We have prepared a good show and now the people are buying tickets as fast as they can get them. From the way the sale has started we feel that a financial as well as an artistic success is assured."

A check of seats have been sent to St. Paul and is being sold at Dyer's music store.

HOME FROM JERUSALEM

Three Who Went to S. S. Convention There Reach Minneapolis.

C. M. Norton of the Minnesota School of Business, A. P. Stacy of E. P. Stacy & Co., and Miss Minnie Turnbull, daughter of Robert W. Turnbull, living at 2730 Park avenue, have returned from the world's Sunday school convention held at Jerusalem on April 18, 19 and 20.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Norton spoke enthusiastically of the trip to about seventy-five boys of the Sunday school of the Y. M. C. A. Just 817 persons started from New York and they formed a most congenial company. They touched at Madeira, Portugal; Rome, Italy; Athens, Greece; Constantinople on their way to the holy city. There was one sad accident, the death of Mrs. J. G. Brown of Marshalltown, Iowa, near the Sea of Galilee.

Thirteen hundred people attended the convention, and the services were significant and impressive to all.

POSTAL CLERKS ENTERTAIN

National President Guest of Railway Mail Men.

J. A. Kidwell of Columbus, Ohio, national president of the Railway Postal Clerks' association, was entertained at a banquet at the International Hotel on Saturday evening by railway clerks of the twin cities. In company with C. A. Young of Tracey, president for this district, Mr. Kidwell recently appeared before the postoffice committee of the house of representatives at Washington in the interests of the order. In a brief talk, he predicted that the clerks would secure a favorable decision in the test case pending in the United States court of claims, involving the construction of a statute which the clerks allege grants them their actual expenses while traveling—$150 to $200 a year.

DESETER IS CAUGHT

Joseph McDonnell Arrested as Confidence Man in St. Paul.

Joseph McDonnell, who a year ago was a soldier at Fort Snelling, was picked up last night by the St. Paul police suspected of being a confidence man. When he was locked up he was soon identified as the deserter, and a few hours later was turned over to the government authorities to await court-martial. McDonnell is said to have deserted April 11, 1903.

"USE HYOMEI AT OUR RISK"

Vogel Bros. Will Pay for Hyomei Treatment if It Fails to Cure Catarrh.

The fact that Hyomei is so convenient and complete and that it cures by merely breathing and not by drugging the stomach, no doubt has had considerable influence in creating confidence in the treatment. When Hyomei is used, every particle of air that enters the head and throat and goes to the lungs is charged with healing balsams that kill the germs of catarrh and soothe and heal the irritated mucous membrane.

Vogel Bros. Drug Co., corner Hennepin and Washington avenues, and corner 7th street and Nicollet avenue, urge all who are subject to catarrh or catarrhal colds to get a Hyomei outfit from them and use it at their risk. No matter how skeptical you may be, you can't dispute the fairness of this offer. Use Hyomei for a month. If, at the end of thirty days, you can say to Vogel Bros., "It did not help me," they will refund your money without question or argument.

HE WAS FORGED TO 'HIT THE PIPE'

NOW ALFRED PETERSON IS AT DEATH'S DOOR.

Fellow Employees in a Gambling-House Made Him Smoke Opium, Which Set Up an Inflammation and a Serious Case of Pneumonia Has Resulted.

Alfred Peterson, 21 years old, lies at the city hospital suffering from a violent attack of pneumonia brought on by his first use of an opium pipe. He says he was forced to smoke it by his fellow employees in a South Minneapolis gambling house. The matter has been brought to the attention of the police and an investigation will be made.

Peterson, who is unacquainted with the ways of the underworld, obtained a position three weeks ago as porter in a gambling resort on Washington avenue S. near Third street. Many times since he has been working there and other employees have tried to get him to "hit the pipe," but fear of the drug's effect made him leave it alone. Last Friday night while he and the other helpers were in a side room, another attempt was made to get him to indulge. Pissed after much coaxing, bluffing and being called a coward, he yielded and took a generous smoke.

He says he was in a dazed condition for several hours and remembers little of what happened but when he went home he noticed that his lungs were sore and he had a peculiar sensation. He was taken to the city hospital the next day suffering with a high fever.

The physicians in charge of the case say that excessive use of the drug by a person not accustomed to it might bring on pneumonia. On the other hand, the disease was in its first stages the smoke would undoubtedly hasten its course, and to such a degree that it might prove fatal. Peterson is in serious condition and it is feared several days before he is out of danger.

The young man has given to the police the name of the proprietor of the place and the man who handed him the pipe. Another man who was in the room at the time is also known and is said to be willing to tell all he knows.

FANATIC WHO GAINED NATIONAL NOTORIETY COMMITS SUICIDE.

Peter O. Elliott, the Minneapolis lunatic, who, armed with a revolver, attempted to force his way into the presence of President Roosevelt, is a suicide. His lifeless body was found dangling at the end of a short rope from the Short Leisner bridge yesterday morning by a fisherman. Deputy Coroner W. B. Murphy cut the body down and removed it to the county morgue, where it awaits the arrival of a sister from North Dakota.

Elliott, who had been a fugitive from the state insane hospital for six months, returned to Minneapolis last Thursday night and was immediately picked up by the police. Investigation showed that he had been formally discharged from the asylum after he had been gone six months, and he was released. He at once secured work and a boarding place in South Minneapolis and was seen about the streets frequently. At 11 o'clock Saturday night he was seen at First avenue S. and Washington by Patrolmen Fern and Nolan, but must have gone directly to the bridge where his pocket bulged with letters and newspaper clippings, in which he tried to explain the motive of his course in life as well as those prompting him to kill himself. Portions of these letters are incoherent. In others he seems to have a good conception of what he is trying to tell. Strangers of all, is his description of himself, which, in brief, is as follows:

A Famous Character.

"There are people who, on account of their physical make-up, continually cause the world to go backwards, who look homely instead of handsome."

"As an opposite to such persons there is the famous Peter O. Elliott, who is one of the planet's most original characters. He is a man of high intelligence, and his face is no real beauty. This was because of a too short nose, and a little too protruding forehead. With these exceptions he was quite a handsome man, with a fine, manly face, heavy pompadour, and steel-blue eyes. It showed the Swedish Napoleon soul, or in its entirety a good heart and a magician's mind. As far as the body of a man is concerned, he is the greatest work, as if made of the best steel, equipped with great strength."

"Under the heading, 'Talents,' Elliott is at considerable length discussed as follows:

"No. 1. In poetry he was the greatest magician the world has seen since the creation.

"No. 2. And as an orator he gave promise of becoming a great one, since the beginning of the world, and was therefore equipped with all the necessary talents, and has written some of the greatest orations of the world (to the loved American people)."

"No. 3. Elliott was born to be great as an inventor.

"No. 4. He was also born with the talent of a first-class painter, and the world some of the greatest paintings from his own hand.

"No. 5. And so that peace on earth could be assured, he was one of the greatest benefactors of the world."

In a letter covering four pages, Elliott writes to Mayor Haynes and explains why he committed suicide. He says that he registers his attempt to see the president last fall and that he did not intend him any harm. On the contrary he wished only to pay his respects. He hints that the blame should be placed on the man who is largely responsible for his suicide.

SALOON CASES DELAYED

Excelsior Men Again Secure a Continuance of Trials.

The cases against Fred Hawkins and John Ermentrout, who were charged with keeping a saloon, were again continued. The continuance this time was on account of the change of attorneys. Justice Dickinson's court to Justice Williams, asked by the defense. The prosecution believes that every effort will be made by the defendants to continue the cases as long as they can find a possible excuse, and, if possible, have them go over the summer season.

Noise has been served on Rev. Donald McKenzie and his following that even if a conviction is secured the cases will be appealed to the supreme court, so that no judgment can be secured for many months, and the reform movement has entirely subsided. The defense expects to fight the question to the limit, and asserts that, if any general crusade is made upon them, it will mean the destruction of the business interests of Excelsior. Should any move be taken by the reformers against the pavilion it is announced that the reformers will cut Excelsior from their routes and make Tonka Bay their headquarters.

VISIT FROM CARDINAL

Satoli to Come to St. Paul Late in June.

Cardinal Satoli, who is soon to tour the United States, will visit St. Paul in the latter part of June and be the guest of Archbishop Ireland. The cardinal is expected to arrive in New York on Rome June 1. From New York he will go to Washington to be the guest of Rev. Dennis R. O'Connell, rector of the Catholic university. He will next visit Notre Dame, Ind., and the guest of Very Rev. J. A. Zahn, rector of Notre Dame university. Cardinal Satoli will then go to Philadelphia, then visit the St. Louis exposition as guest of Bishop Glenn, and from St. Louis come to St. Paul for several days.

BATTALIONS OFF DUTY

Inspection at "U" Saturday Closed Season's Work.

After an inspection by Captain Ralph Van Deman of the Twenty-first infantry, the members of the two university battalions Saturday afternoon turned in their guns, belts, bayonets and other equipment as they were discharged for the year. No appointments of officers were announced owing to the possible necessity of reorganizing the companies to separate the engineers and the academics.

GIRL'S BODY FOUND

She is Believed to Have Committed Suicide.

Anna Becken disappeared May 17 and her decomposed body was found in the river near the Tenth avenue bridge yesterday.

The young woman lived with her father at 2900 Fourth avenue N. and about two years ago became depressed after a religious meeting she had attended. She frequently spoke of her utter worthlessness, and it is believed that, crazed by the thought, she ended her life by drowning herself.

ELLIOTT'S BODY FOUND HANGING

FANATIC WHO GAINED NATIONAL NOTORIETY COMMITS SUICIDE.

EXCURSIONS TO HISTORIC PLACES

NATIVE SONS OF MINNESOTA PLAN INTERESTING TRIP.

First Excursion Will Be by Steamboat to Mendota and Shakopee June 4—Other Trips Will Be to Fort Ridgely, Lake Pepin and the Early St. Croix Settlements.

Preparations are being made for the first annual historic excursion of the Native Sons of Minnesota. It will be held Saturday, June 4, and is in the hands of Dr. W. E. Leonard, Dr. Peter M. Hill, Edward C. Gale and other leading members of the association. The plan for the outing includes a steamboat ride on the Mississippi and Minnesota rivers, with visits to Mendota and Shakopee, which places are so intimately connected with the early history of the state.

The association has planned several excursions to the historical places in the state, and the first one will be somewhat of an experiment. Trips to Fort Ridgely, the sites of the early French trading posts on the lower Mississippi, and particularly on Lake Pepin, and to the pioneer settlements on St. Croix river, are some of those that have been planned.

Captain John Tapper, the jolly ferryman who preceded the old suspension bridge in conveying people across the river, is now in charge of the party. It was also intended to invite the venerable Father Robert, who had charge of the mission at Mendota for about fifty years, but unfortunately, this interesting old pioneer is now on a visit to France.

The general public is invited to participate in the excursion, and one of the chief purposes of the association is to instruct the later comers to the state in its early history and to preserve the historical places. Several speakers familiar with matters of general interest will accompany the excursion and give short talks as opportunity presents itself.

The start will be made from Washington and Hennepin avenues at 1 p. m. Special trolley cars will be taken to Mendota. At the Soldiers' Home landing a steamer will be boarded. The boat engaged is a fine new vessel, which was launched this spring, and is one of the best on the river. It will have ample accommodations for over 400 people.

WEAK LUNGS LEAD TO CONSUMPTION

The Susceptibility or Predisposition Is Marked in Many Cases.

Dr. L. J. Cooke, Physical Director University of Minnesota, Increases the Lung Power and Expands the Chest by a Natural Method.

A distinct advance has been made of late years in the treatment of weak lungs. Happily, methods of treatment that promise great hope are coming to be understood, and when applied by a specialist, with the intelligent co-operation of the patient, wonderful results are obtained, where there is a predisposition to consumption.

In speaking of weak lungs and his advanced treatment, Dr. L. J. Cooke said:

"Careful examination of the lungs is first made of all patients coming under my professional care; then the chest is thoroughly examined and measurements taken; and a searching examination is made of the whole system, testing every organ. Then I am perfectly familiar with the subject and know the requirements of both the lung system, and of the chest, to increase the lung power and expand the chest, while strengthening all of the other organs, toning and building up the lung system, and removing the predisposition to consumption or the susceptibility of the lungs to a deep cold, even."

Dr. Cooke's success in the treatment of weak lungs has certainly been phenomenal. There are a number of Minneapolis people who have taken his therapeutic physical culture treatment at his home, 1115 Kensington building, this city, with the most gratifying results to themselves and their friends.

DISGRACE OF DIVORCE

Growing Evil Denounced by Rev. J. S. Montgomery at Wesley.

Dr. James S. Montgomery preached last evening at Wesley Methodist church on "Divorce and Home," and gave a strong denunciation of the prevalent divorce evil. Among other things he said:

"Divorce is our social hemorrhage. Why? Because the motive of divorce is usually covetousness. It is not another. This is social anarchy. The quick and easy marriage of such is simply the incarnation of vulgarity. The Christian church is in the test against these people who go on a trot thru the divorce courts. Divorce is the blot on American social life, because it strikes at the virtue of woman and the nobility of man. Marriage is something more than a contract; it is a state. When it becomes commercialized it is not removed from the polygamy of the pagan nations. With all our proud and boasted civilization, yet this social curse has its most prolific life in our soil. May the church of the good Lord cry aloud and spare not."

THROWN DOWN STAIRS

Man Creates Disturbance and Is Ejected from Restaurant.

J. A. Smith, living at 1010 Third street N., was thrown out of Moy S. James' Chinese restaurant Saturday night and had to be taken to the city hospital. There it was learned that two of his ribs had been broken and several teeth knocked out. It is said that Smith, who was intoxicated, entered the restaurant and started a disturbance. He could not be induced to leave quietly, and was finally thrown downstairs. A large crowd gathered, and there was some talk of raiding the place.

RING WORM AND DANDRUFF.

They Are Each Caused by a Pesticiferous Germ.

Ring worm and dandruff are somewhat similar in their origin; each is caused by a parasite, the germ that causes dandruff digs to the root of the hair, and saps its vitality, causing falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff the hair would never be baldness, and to cure dandruff it is necessary to kill the germ. There has been no hair preparation that would do this until the discovery of Newbro's Herpicide, which positively kills the dandruff germ, allays itching instantly and makes hair glossy and soft as silk. Take no substitutes. There is nothing just as good. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
