HAZZARD'S CASE TO BE APPEALED

FATHER-IN-LAW READY TO FURNISH FUNDS.

Prison Life Said to Be Exceedingly Irksome to the Dashing West Pointer Who Lost Thirty Pounds in the Shoe Shop—Wife Has Visited Him.

Samuel C. Hazzard, the dashing military man, is now "doing time" at Stillwater for having too many wives. He is anything but satisfied with his present boarding place and arrangements.

The accomplished young man is again being established in the affection of Vivio Fitzpatrick Hazzard and she is doing everything in her power to secure a release from his two-year sentence.

Believing that the people of the state are not sufficiently informed of the advantages of the Augsburg seminary, and that therefore the institution is not accomplishing all that is possible, the Lutheran Free Church conference, in session in this city, to-day adopted a resolution recommending that the professors of the seminary be asked to travel through the state during the vacations and explain the work of the school to interested citizens.

It is to be explained that the notion that the school is willing to work to those intending to enter the ministry is a mistaken one, and that, while that is the primary object of the school, many of the alumni have entered other professions, and all are welcome as pupils.

Pastors from different parts having reported that they believed many congregations are willing to raise funds to aid in maintaining and increasing the efficiency of the seminary, the conference, after a long discussion, adopted a resolution providing for the appointment of a man to travel thru the state and encourage this offer and devise schemes for adding to the number of students.

The Rev. A. J. Logeland of Cumberland, Wis., who resigned last Saturday as executive member of the Home Mission committee, was asked to remain a member. He finally consented to do so.

Professor Sven Otedal, who resigned from the faculty of the seminary after being connected with the school for over thirty years, was given permission to occupy his present home as long as the board of trustees should like, and he was retained as a professor emeritus.

The Temperance Advocates Forget Their Cause at Election Time. Minneapolis lodge, No. 2, Good Templars, held a mass meeting in the cause of temperance last night in the First Methodist church.

FIRE IN GOLD STORAGE

HEAT PLAYS HAVOC WITH DELICATE FRUIT IN THE MERCHANTS' COLD STORAGE PLANT.

Unprotected electric light wires started a fire in the elevator shaft of the Merchants Cold Storage building, 200 Third avenue N., at 3 o'clock this morning. The flames started on the second floor and with a strong draft, had gained a good headway before the fire department arrived.

The proprietors say it will be impossible to give close attention to the care of the building but they will do considerable damage in all parts of the place.

TO ADVERTISE AUGSBURG

FREE CHURCH CONFERENCE WANTS FACULTY AND OTHERS TO SEEK STUDENTS—PLANS FOR INCREASING REVENUE.

Believing that the people of the state are not sufficiently informed of the advantages of the Augsburg seminary, and that therefore the institution is not accomplishing all that is possible, the Lutheran Free Church conference, in session in this city, to-day adopted a resolution recommending that the professors of the seminary be asked to travel through the state during the vacations and explain the work of the school to interested citizens.

It is to be explained that the notion that the school is willing to work to those intending to enter the ministry is a mistaken one, and that, while that is the primary object of the school, many of the alumni have entered other professions, and all are welcome as pupils.

A WOMAN'S WAY

She Held the Car Until She Had Won Out. A First avenue car was held up at Sixth street this afternoon by a lone woman.

Accompanied by her little daughter she was on her way down town, the girl traveling on a liberty bell pass. At Sixth street the woman asked for two transfers, but the conductor refused to give the second transfer, as the pass was not good for transfers.

WANT LIEUTENANT OF POLICE OUSTED

MIDWAY PEOPLE ACCUSE BUDY OF ABETTING BLIND PIGS.

They Ask the St. Paul Police Commission to Remove Officer, Who, They Say, for Seven Years Has Deliberately Refused to Abate the Nuisance.

Papers were filed to-day with the St. Paul police commission asking for the dismissal of Lieutenant William Budy, in charge of the Prior avenue station, Midway district.

The grounds on which the dismissal is requested are set forth in the complaint in the following language: "Plaintiffs allege that continuously, for more than seven years last past, said lieutenant has been grossly incompetent and negligent in the performance of his duties as lieutenant of police."

That he has permitted more than twelve persons to engage in the criminal occupation of keeping blindpigs within the boundaries of his district.

That during all this time he has been doing nothing of his own motion to apprehend these criminals or the owners of the property where the common nuisances were maintained.

That during all this time said nuisances were a matter of common repute, scandal and reproach to the city, and that the keepers thereof could have been apprehended by his order and direction, and it is solely owing to his gross negligence, misconduct and breach of duty that the same was not done and the nuisance suppressed.

NEED THE MONEY. Seeing the St. Louis Fair is an Expensive Pastime.

"The way money is demanded at every step of the St. Louis exposition visitor is something awful," says W. H. Hale of Birmingham, England, to-day, a guest at the West hotel, and who has just come from St. Louis. "It is a great deal worse than it was at the Paris exposition," he explained, "and that certainly was bad enough. It is a great fair, but can only be seen at a great cost."

Other foreigners who were fair visitors, and who are to-day registered at the West, are Miss E. A. E. Lynch and E. M. Buchanan of London, and Miss A. Werner of Vienna, Austria.

MEMBERS OF THE BOARDS. Duluth Seems Satisfied that the Deadlock Is Broken.

Duluth, Minn., June 6.—The deadlock between the Lake Carriers' and the Master and Pilot associations is broken. Vessel owners and managers are getting many applications from pilots for association.

The breaking away of twenty-four members from the Milwaukee lodge of masters and pilots yesterday had a demoralizing effect upon the association. The local lodge declines to admit defeat and says it is all newspaper talk.

Howell Still Firm. Cleveland, June 6.—Paul Howell is undaunted by the sailing break in the tie-up of the lake traffic. He says he is not yielding an inch and that there is no possibility of his doing so; that with a membership of 3,500 some few desertions are not unusual.

SAYS STATE HAS A POOR EXHIBIT

WILLIAM FURST TELLS OF MINNESOTA DISPLAY AT EXPO.

Minneapolis Lawyer Says a Slovenly Attendant Is Sole Custodian of the Wretchedly Equipped Show Building of the North Star State.

William Furst, the lawyer, who lives at 1402 Spruce place, has just returned from St. Louis, and, like other returned pilgrims, brings the report that the Minnesota exhibits in all departments are decidedly not a credit to the state. His remarks were emphatic and to the point.

"I have spent for the Minnesota exhibits," said Mr. Furst, "then it certainly was the most idle expenditure ever perpetrated. I was visiting a well-known lawyer of St. Louis, and had spoken of the good work Minnesota was accomplishing along all lines of work. But after we had visited each exhibit in turn, we found not one worthy of praise."

"Perhaps we could not hope to equal the Missouri building or the Ohio or New York buildings, but one would expect that we could line up with such new states as Utah or Arizona. No, indeed, there was not a state building that did not have us lashed to the mast."

"In the Minnesota building there were absolutely no suitable accommodations planned for the visitors—even the necessities were lacking. There were no seats on the floor, and that was of hemp. The other states had magnificent floors and entrances. Our building opened almost directly into some apartments for the workmen around the building. In the other state building were the attendants' rooms on the first floor, and it also happened there was but one attendant for the entire building. In other words, he was a negro of unspeakable dirtiness and insolence. He did not appear to have any distinguishing badge or sign. There was no postoffice connected with the building, and the register was exceedingly unsatisfactory. For the forestry exhibit we presented to the public a few scraggly pines and a few leaves."

Hale of Birmingham, England, to-day, a guest at the West hotel, and who has just come from St. Louis.
