

IOWANS SHELVE THE "IOWA IDEA"

Cummins, However, Is Placed on Record as Advocate of Tariff Revision.

From a Staff Correspondent.
Chicago, June 21.—Governor A. B. Cummins of Iowa presented his "Iowa idea" to his fellow delegates from the Hawkeye state at their caucus yesterday. The delegates repudiated it, laying the Cummins resolutions on the table.

Cummins expressed that the delegation was packed against him. The state convention settled the fate of the "idea," and when he presented his resolution he knew that he was going up against a stone wall. He knew that the delegation was controlled by his enemies, and that they would turn him down just as hard as they knew how.

They did not disappoint the governor. They not only tabled his resolutions by a viva voce vote, but so there could be no mistake about it, they elected J. W. Blythe of Burlington as the state's representative on the resolutions committee. Blythe is a champion standpatter, and Cummins' arch-enemy for years.

To an outsider it seemed odd that Cummins should invite such a sitting on. He had a purpose, however. He desired to put himself on record for the country as an advocate of tariff revision and reciprocity, when to take such a position means to be on the "cold outside." He also desired to put the standpatters on record, and he did so, including his former ally, Senator Dolliver, who made the talk against the resolutions.

Cummins expects the whirligig of time to place him on top again, and the verdict of the next few years to endorse his tariff views, either by change in the republican party, or by a rebuke to the party at the polls. So yesterday he went willingly thru the valley of humiliation, trusting to future conventions and future elections to acknowledge his wisdom.

—Charles B. Cheney.

HANSBROUGH IS CHILLED

North Dakota Must Fight Out Revision Plank Alone.

From a Staff Correspondent.
Chicago, June 21.—The North Dakota delegation didn't grow very enthusiastic yesterday over the Hansbrough tariff plank. When the subject was brought up, Senator McCumber opposed it, but the delegation, without coming to a vote, decided not to interpose any objections, but to permit Hansbrough to make his contest before the resolutions committee tonight without handicap.

As party sentiment in North Dakota is supposed to be in favor of some modification of the present schedules, it is rather difficult to understand why Senator McCumber should have taken the stand he did.

Speaking of Hansbrough suggests the contest that will be made before the resolutions committee tonight over the platform. The revisionists are all prepared for the fray and will put up the best fight they can. It would seem that they can hardly hope to be successful, and yet the effect of the tariff plank, if it is to hasten the time when revision is to be an accomplished fact. The president will know what is going on today, and a strong fight for revision, even if unsuccessful, will help him make up his mind as to what ought to go into his next message on that subject.

—W. W. Jermame.

EAST INCLINED TO YIELD

Tariff Plank May Show Tendency Toward Revision.

Chicago, June 21.—The early morning hours developed a tendency toward the adoption of the tariff plank outlined by the Massachusetts republican caucus, while recognizing the worth of the present tariff law, declares that no schedules are sacred or necessarily permanent.

Senator Lodge is understood to be the author of that plank, and the fact that he will be chairman of the committee on resolutions gives strong color to the surmise that he will press a similar declaration upon the national convention.

Senator Lodge would not admit his interest in that form of declaration. "You cannot tell what forty-five men will do," he said. His close friends say that in confidence the Massachusetts senator has given free expression to his desire that his state's position should be sustained by the national gathering. The friends of that policy say it is wise because it will leave the door open for revision if thought wise, while not making it mandatory.

Senator Lodge has decided to appoint as members of the sub-committee, which is to draft the platform, Senator Spooner of Wisconsin and J. W. Blythe of Iowa. The latter is an opponent of tariff revision.

COLBY MINER KILLED.
Special to The Journal.
Bessemer, Mich., June 21.—Arthur Leese, a Welshman, was killed, and two companions seriously injured at Old Colby mine. They were riding up the skip when it jumped from the rails.

Coffee upsets the nerves but the food drink POSTUM nourishes and rebuilds them SURE There's a reason. Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg. World's Fair Exhibit, Special Agricultural Building.

MEVAGE ANEW IN WISCONSIN FIGHT

Danger of Double Electoral Ticket Threatening Roosevelt Vote.

From a Staff Correspondent.
Chicago, June 21.—After all the reassurances conveyed by stalwart leaders, there is still danger of double electoral ticket in Wisconsin. A situation is threatened which will yet require the good offices of the national committee or some outside authority, to save the state's vote for Roosevelt this fall.

The thirteen republican candidates for presidential electors now in the field are all La Follette men. They were first named by the stalwart convention by General Winkler, who got them nominated on the plea that they party, divided on state issues, must present a united front for President Roosevelt.

GOVERNOR LA FOLLETTE.

Later it was discovered that under the state law the names could not go on both tickets, but the candidates must elect on which ticket they would serve. Up to date nine of the thirteen have been heard from, and all have elected to go on the La Follette ticket. It is presumed that the other four will follow suit.

The stalwarts, who have the fight won as far as this convention is concerned, expect with that prestige to win out in their injunction proceedings before the supreme court. In that event their ticket will be the regular republican ticket, bearing the party name, and the stalwart leaders say that such a ticket must carry thirteen candidates for presidential electors. If all the thirteen now nominated should all elect to go on the La Follette ticket, the stalwarts must nominate thirteen more.

Congressman Edward Minor, a stalwart leader, has openly advocated this program. As he is very close to the inner councils of the faction, he is believed to be speaking by the card.

End of the Stalwarts.

Of course it would never do to leave the La Follette men with the only electoral ticket, and they run as an independent, nondescript aggregation, and elect their state officers and electors as well, it would mean the end of the republican party in Wisconsin. Follette organization on Wisconsin for good. This is the danger the stalwarts seek to avert.

Shrewd political observers see a method in this apparent madness. If persisted in, it would result in the history of the democratic electoral ticket, the highest consideration would require the settlement of such a tangle, and the president himself would indicate his wish for some peace arrangements. Such outside interference might force a compromise. It would take some pretty liberal concessions to get terms from the La Follette organization. In the first place, they do not expect to lose in the courts. They claim that the dictum of the national convention has nothing to do with the law and the facts as they must be construed by the supreme court of Wisconsin. If the court declares the La Follette ticket regular, then the "half breeds" will shake the dust of Chicago from their feet and go back "to appeal to the people of Wisconsin."

SENATOR JOHN C. SPOONER.

They will win at the polls, they say, with or without the party name. The ticket headed by R. M. La Follette, no matter what it is called, will get the votes of both republicans and democrats who believe in the governor.

Strong Counties for La Follette.

"It is something for republicans outside to consider," said H. W. Chynoweth of Madison today. "That the republican counties of Wisconsin are with Governor La Follette. In 1900 the state gave President McKinley 103,000 majority. Seventy-five per cent of that majority came from counties which sent delegates to the state convention this year for La Follette. In other words speaking broadly, the republican counties were for La Follette and the Bryan counties were carried by the stalwarts."

"Further than that, those republicans who consider Senators Spooner

SHOWING THE SEAT SCHEME FOR THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

KELLOGG TAKES SHEVLIN'S PLACE

Choice of St. Paul Man Largely Due to Assistance of Thomas Lowry.

From a Staff Correspondent.
Chicago, June 21.—The unanimous selection of Frank B. Kellogg as national committee man for Minnesota was due to the attitude of Thomas Lowry of Minneapolis. There was sentiment in the delegation, right up to the last minute, in favor of selecting some one else, because of Mr. Kellogg's business relations with the steel trust or Rockefeller interests in Minnesota. This opposition might have made a rather close vote, especially with Mr. Lowry for a rival candidate. But the steel trust man took all the fight out of the opposition by his statement that he favored Kellogg. This settled the matter once and for all.

To his friends Mr. Lowry said that he might have taken the honor if it had come to him unsolicited, and with Kellogg's ideas and those of the delegation. The position would have meant some hard work and inevitable criticism, and he had not cared to put a quietus on this for himself at last night's caucus. The proposition was sprung in executive session by V. B. Seward of Marshall. Senator Nelson remarked that if the governor was willing the delegation would be pleased to support him.

Before the talk ran any further, Governor Van Sant rose and said he was grateful for the expressions that had come to him, and for the support the members of the delegation had offered, but he did not wish the matter to go any further. He did not see any show for dark horses, and as there could be nothing accomplished, he would ask that it be dropped.

No Gopher Candidates.

"Favorite sons" being out of the running, Minnesota will not present any candidates for the vice presidency. There was a movement in the delegation to cast a complimentary vote for Governor Van Sant, but the governor put a quietus on this for himself at last night's caucus. The proposition was sprung in executive session by V. B. Seward of Marshall. Senator Nelson remarked that if the governor was willing the delegation would be pleased to support him.

STATE DRUGGISTS MEET

OVER 200 ATTENDING THE ANNUAL CONVENTION AT WINONA

Special to The Journal.
Winona, Minn., June 21.—The twentieth annual convention of the Minnesota State Pharmaceutical association opened in Winona this afternoon with over two hundred druggists in attendance. Mayor Brown welcomed the visitors and A. J. Eckstein of New Ulm responded to the President Tauer, in his annual report, commended the high standing of the state board of pharmacy and its excellent work. He advised the association to take a decided stand against trading stamps and gift enterprises, and recommended that where doctors fill their own prescriptions they should be required by law to have this done by registered pharmacists; that the selling of prescriptions indiscriminately without an order from the prescribing physician be abolished; that the legislature pass a law regulating the sale of cocaine; that the druggists form an insurance association.

Secretary Leeb reported a membership of 366, a gain of 43 in a year.

An Italian antiquarian—so the story runs—is convinced that the source of a little river in Umbria may contain radium. His theory is founded on descriptions in Pliny and Virgil and other ancient writers.

KELLOGG TAKES SHEVLIN'S PLACE

Choice of St. Paul Man Largely Due to Assistance of Thomas Lowry.

From a Staff Correspondent.
Chicago, June 21.—The unanimous selection of Frank B. Kellogg as national committee man for Minnesota was due to the attitude of Thomas Lowry of Minneapolis. There was sentiment in the delegation, right up to the last minute, in favor of selecting some one else, because of Mr. Kellogg's business relations with the steel trust or Rockefeller interests in Minnesota. This opposition might have made a rather close vote, especially with Mr. Lowry for a rival candidate. But the steel trust man took all the fight out of the opposition by his statement that he favored Kellogg. This settled the matter once and for all.

To his friends Mr. Lowry said that he might have taken the honor if it had come to him unsolicited, and with Kellogg's ideas and those of the delegation. The position would have meant some hard work and inevitable criticism, and he had not cared to put a quietus on this for himself at last night's caucus. The proposition was sprung in executive session by V. B. Seward of Marshall. Senator Nelson remarked that if the governor was willing the delegation would be pleased to support him.

Before the talk ran any further, Governor Van Sant rose and said he was grateful for the expressions that had come to him, and for the support the members of the delegation had offered, but he did not wish the matter to go any further. He did not see any show for dark horses, and as there could be nothing accomplished, he would ask that it be dropped.

No Gopher Candidates.

"Favorite sons" being out of the running, Minnesota will not present any candidates for the vice presidency. There was a movement in the delegation to cast a complimentary vote for Governor Van Sant, but the governor put a quietus on this for himself at last night's caucus. The proposition was sprung in executive session by V. B. Seward of Marshall. Senator Nelson remarked that if the governor was willing the delegation would be pleased to support him.

STATE DRUGGISTS MEET

OVER 200 ATTENDING THE ANNUAL CONVENTION AT WINONA

Special to The Journal.
Winona, Minn., June 21.—The twentieth annual convention of the Minnesota State Pharmaceutical association opened in Winona this afternoon with over two hundred druggists in attendance. Mayor Brown welcomed the visitors and A. J. Eckstein of New Ulm responded to the President Tauer, in his annual report, commended the high standing of the state board of pharmacy and its excellent work. He advised the association to take a decided stand against trading stamps and gift enterprises, and recommended that where doctors fill their own prescriptions they should be required by law to have this done by registered pharmacists; that the selling of prescriptions indiscriminately without an order from the prescribing physician be abolished; that the legislature pass a law regulating the sale of cocaine; that the druggists form an insurance association.

Secretary Leeb reported a membership of 366, a gain of 43 in a year.

An Italian antiquarian—so the story runs—is convinced that the source of a little river in Umbria may contain radium. His theory is founded on descriptions in Pliny and Virgil and other ancient writers.

STRIFE FOR PLACE ON CREDENTIALS

Committee Regarded as Most Important of Convention's Suborganizations.

From a Staff Correspondent.
Chicago, June 21.—The committee on credentials will be the most important of the general committee sections of this convention. It is the warmest scramble for places on it, and for this assignment well-directed delegations are picking out prominently strong men. The committee on resolutions, which drafts the platform, will this year find its work well done in advance. The committee on permanent organization, which will decide the plans already mapped out, this will be true of the committee on rules and order of business. These and similar assignments, like the honorary vice president and the notifications committee, will be chiefly ornamental.

The committee on credentials, however, will have decisions to make on which no small part of republican success in the coming election, as well as republican reputation for all the future, will depend. It will have to decide the Delaware controversy, which in the national committee, making up the temporary roll, has been decided in favor of Addicks. It will have to decide the Delaware case, discussed elsewhere in these columns. It will have before it the persistent struggle between the lily-white organizations of the south and the colored brother.

Already partisans of the various interests thus represented are scurrying around to see if their known friends can be put on the committee. No other preliminary struggle is half so interesting.

Drift of Preliminaries.

More and more are the doings of a convention whose right is to be challenged before the committee on credentials have a right to vote on the validity of their own seats is more complicated than would at first be supposed. The state representative on the committee on credentials may be chosen by the delegates whose seats are in dispute. Shall he be disqualified from serving in the committee, even if he is allowed to vote in his own state, the possibility of log-rolling for the benefit of his fellow-partisans becomes a question.

It was decided in 1889, when Senator Hoar presided, that delegates whose seats were contested could not vote. Some alternates whose seats were not in dispute were allowed to take their places, but where no such situation existed, the clerk passed out the names of the delegates in their roll. Senator Plumb, as a delegate to that convention, went further and refrained, with his colleagues, from voting in a case involving the rights of his constituents. The question concerning his own delegation.

Still the question has persisted, and John M. Thurston, as chairman in 1896, allowed delegates to vote in their own seats when he permitted them to vote for the acceptance en bloc of the temporary roll as the permanent one. Four years before, also, this question had led to a lively dispute.

Spooner as Arbitrator.

William McKinley was the permanent chairman of the convention of 1892. Some alternates were chosen from Alabama which voted on an issue involving its own seat, and this was challenged by Chauncey M. Depew, chairman of the committee on resolutions. John C. Spooner, whose high rank as a lawyer is well recognized. He answered that it was a universal rule of law that no man should be a judge in his own case. Spooner is this year it happens, heading a delegation whose right to remain there is challenged by the La Follette partisans.

Senator R. J. Gamble of South Dakota, the not a delegate, is here looking for a fight. He leaves to-morrow evening to go up in Wisconsin and attend a class reunion.

—Charles B. Cheney.

DELEGATE HODGSON OF HASTINGS IS INJURED

Rights of Alternates.

Chicago, June 21.—The first accident to any of the republican convention delegations resulted in a serious injury to William Hodgson, an alternate from Hastings, Minn. Just as he was about to enter the hall, he alighted from a street car on the Washburn avenue side of the building and as he stepped to the street a cab approached, driven rapidly in the opposite direction.

The horse struck Mr. Hodgson, who was knocked down and the wheels of the cab passed over his left leg just above the ankle, producing a compound fracture. He was hurried to the emergency hospital in the annex to the Coliseum, where his leg was set, and he was then removed to St. Luke's hospital. His condition is not serious.

TAMMANY MEN GET $5,000,000 CONTRACT

New York Sun Special Service.
New York, June 21.—In competition with the principal contractors of New York, and also the lowest bidder, the New York Contracting and Trucking company has won the $5,000,000 contract for excavating the site for the terminal of the Pennsylvania railroad. Alderman James E. Gaffney, representing the eighteenth district and known as the right hand man of Charles Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, is treasurer of the company. The president of the company is J. J. Murphy, brother of the Tammany leader.

YATES IS STRUCK A KILLING BLOW

Cullom and His Friends in Control of the Illinois Caucus.

From a Staff Correspondent.
Chicago, Ill., June 21.—The Yates-Deneen combination in Illinois got its first setback yesterday, when the friends of Senator Cullom controlled the caucus of Illinois delegates and elected the Cullom organization slate, including the senator himself as chairman of the delegation, by a vote of 32 to 23.

This is regarded as the finish of Yates, and as a decisive victory for Senator Cullom in his campaign for re-election. The outlook was doubtful, until the day of the caucus, when two or three delegates Yates had expected to hold over this by the patronage club broke away from him, one man resigning a $3,500 state job in order that his brother might vote against Yates.

The vote shows Yates' prospective candidacy for the senate is not looked on with favor by republican leaders, and that even his allegiance with Deneen is not availing to save him. All his machine failed to win him the nomination at Springfield, and his final deal with Senator Cullom, his mastery of political coup, darning because it lined him up with a man who had been fighting his organization tooth and nail. Not even this powerful support fails to control the fifty-four delegates from Illinois.

—Charles B. Cheney.

NAVAL PORTFOLIO FOR PAUL MORTON

President Tenders Chicago Man Moody's Place—He May Decline.

New York Sun Special Service.
Washington, June 21.—President Roosevelt has formally invited Paul Morton to become secretary of the navy. Mr. Morton has the matter under consideration and has not yet given any intimation of his intentions. The tender of the portfolio now held by William B. Moody, suggests that Phlander C. Knox as attorney general on July 1, was made to Mr. Morton last Wednesday when he came to this city from Chicago in response to an invitation from the president. His visits to the White House were so carefully arranged that his presence there was well known outside. If he accepts, Mr. Morton will be credited to Nebraska, where he lived for many years, although now a business resident of Chicago. Mr. Morton has declined an offer of a position on the isthmian canal commission, but refused it.

Representative Metcalf of California will likely be Secretary of the navy if Mr. Morton declines.

TAFT GIVES DINNER FOR SATOLLI.
Washington, June 21.—Cardinal Satolli was the guest of honor at a dinner given last night by the Secretary of War, Taft at the Arlington hotel. Covers were laid for twenty. Those present included representative government officials and well-known dignitaries of the Catholic church. The table decorations were of American Beauty and cardinal roses. The cardinal attended the dinner arrayed in the Roman cardinal robes of his office. Cordial speeches of welcome and of response were made by Secretary Taft and the cardinal respectively.

"I enjoy a good health until about two years ago when I noticed my back began to ache frequently. It became sore and lame, and headache added to my misery. I sought for my general health diminished. I became thin and weak and nervous, having severe pains at regular intervals. I had been advised by the Treasurer New Century Club, 34 Dean Street, Roxbury, Mass., to buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which seemed like a heavy burden. I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which several of my friends praised so highly. I felt relief within a week, my appetite came back, the pain gradually increasing weakened somewhat. Within fourteen weeks I had completely recovered my health. I seemed built up anew, my mind clear, my nerves were becoming normal, and new life animated my entire being. I gladly endorse your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores weak and sick women to sound health by curing the local womanly diseases which are generally responsible for the failure of the general health. A woman's entire being is centered in her womanly nature. When the delicate womanly organs are diseased by the action of a woman's irregularity or a disagreeable drain, when inflammation burns and ulcers gnaw the general health will reflect the progress of disease in increasing weakness, nervousness, backache, headache, loss of appetite and sleeplessness.

So sure of it is the World's Dispensary Medical Co., proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that they offer $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of Leucorrhoea, Female weakness, Erosion, or Falling of Womb. All they ask is fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the stomach, liver and bowels.

Home Trade Shoe Store
219-223 Nicollet

60 dozen pairs of "Hettlinger" Bicycle Shoes—the best made—at one-quarter and one-third less than regular price.

Youths' "Hettlinger" Bike Shoes, sizes 2 to 4, value $1.48, at... 98c

Boys' "Hettlinger" Bike Shoes, sizes 3 to 5, value $1.25, at... $1.48

Men's "Hettlinger" Bike Shoes, sizes 8 to 11, value $2.00, at, pair tomorrow... $1.48

In the city of New York there were, in 1902, 388 deaths traced by the coroners to illuminating gas. Of these, 258 were reported as accidental and 130 as suicidal.