

THE EX-AUDITOR'S RECORD VS. DUNN AS A CANDIDATE

The Inheritance of the People a Sacred Trust - To Waste the Public Lands and Timber Is to Rob the Children of the State of Educational Privileges--The Corporations and the Proper Way to Regard Them--The Merger as an Issue.

At a Collins meeting held in the sixth ward last Thursday evening, W. D. Washburn, Jr., made the following address discussing the qualifications of the leading candidates for the republican nomination for governor.

I have been asked tonight to give reasons why I have decided to support Judge Collins rather than Robert Dunn, as candidate for governor.

In presenting my reasons, I wish to first state that I have known Bob Dunn for fifteen years. He has always been a kind friend to me and a strong supporter of myself and my father.

I have always had a strong personal affection for Mr. Dunn and should always be glad to do anything that might advance his general welfare. On the other hand, I have hardly known Mr. Collins for six months, except by general reputation.

I shall support Mr. Collins as against Mr. Dunn, not as a matter of personal rivalry, but because I believe that Mr. Collins will make a better governor and that it will be for the real interest of the people of this state to have him in that position.

Timber Trespass.

Every man who steals a tree from the public lands steals a book from the hands of the children of this state. Every man who steals a ton of ore, thereby lessens the chances of the children of this state to receive the education to which every child of the republic is entitled.

Every man who loots these public lands is taking your money and your property, is depriving your children of their birthright. He is an enemy to our system of government.

If the lands and inheritance of the people have been properly managed it is easy to show whether there has been neglect or carelessness in this respect.

It has been a matter of common knowledge for many years that the Northern Securities company are already merged and operated as one system as far as all practical purposes are concerned.

It is not in the interest of the people of this state to have the government of Minnesota to any man who openly states that he is not in sympathy with the attempts to confine the corporations to their proper position under the law.

The people should also see to it that railroad commissioners be elected this time who will hereafter serve the people who elect them and not be the servants of the corporations whom they are supposed to control.

Elect a governor who will enforce the laws of the state and railroad commissioners who will make equitable and just rates.

Let a governor who will enforce the laws of the state and railroad commissioners who will make equitable and just rates.

CAN'T 'CURE' GASOLENE

Gasoline will explode under certain conditions and nothing under heaven can stop it; such was the conclusive demonstration made by W. J. Holton of Chicago before the firemen of the No. 1 engine-house on Tuesday night, Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Holton was sent by the Standard Oil company to Minneapolis to warn the people against a so-called new invention which he is selling to his sellers to render gasoline non-explosive.

BORAXOLOGY

There are different degrees of cleanliness, just as there are degrees of goodness. You can be just passably good, or you can be really good; so you can be passably clean, or you can be really clean--like the Boraxologist. When you wash anything--no matter what it is--if you will add a little Borax to the water you'll not only lighten the labor, but get a degree of cleanliness impossible with soap and water alone. Borax doubles the power of soap and water to cleanse and purify. Imitations are worthless and often injurious. See that you get 20-MULE-TEAM BRAND. It's pure. For sale at drug and grocery stores everywhere in 1/2, 1/4 and 1-lb. packages.

The Republic an Experiment.

In the slow progress of this world toward a final settlement of one of us who gathers here tonight, is but a matter of smallest moment when weighed in the scales of ultimate time. It is a matter of great moment, however, that as citizens of this republic we hand down to coming generations the inheritance of the neglect of their citizens to perform their proper duties toward the state.

Do you not do this, if you will not examine into the affairs of your own government, if you will not go to the primaries and there cast your vote in favor of what is right, you will always have had government and it will not be, many generations before you have no republic at all.

Every voter in this state should examine the issues of this campaign and cast his vote accordingly.

WISE WORDS.

A Physician on Food. A physician of Portland, Oregon, has views about food. He says: "I have always believed that the duty of the physician does not cease with treating the sick, but that we owe it to humanity to teach them how to protect their health especially by hygienic and dietetic laws. With such a feeling as to my duty I take great pleasure in saying to the public that in my own experience and also from personal observation I have found no food to equal Grape-Nuts and that I find there is almost no limit to the great benefit this food will bring when used in cases of sickness and convalescence. It is my experience that no physical condition forbids the use of Grape-Nuts. To persons who have indigestion, a nourishing and acceptable to the stomach, especially at breakfast to start the machinery of the human system on the right way. In cases of indigestion I know that a complete breakfast can be made of Grape-Nuts and cream and I think it is necessary not to overload the stomach at the morning meal. I also know the great value of Grape-Nuts when the stomach is too weak to digest other food. This is written from an experience of more than 20 years treating all manner of chronic and acute diseases, and the letter is written voluntarily on my part without any request for it. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a Reason. Look in each copy for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville," World's Fair Exhibit, Space 103, Agricultural Building.
