LA FOLLETTE IS FULL OF FIGHT

SAYS HE WILL MAKE A REGULAR "TOM HALL" CAMPAIGN.

One Hundred Leading Factionalists Meet at Madison to Make Plans for Coming Engagement—Action of the Party Men at Chicago Roundly Scored.

Special to The Journal.

Madison, Wis., June 25.—Governor La Follette and 100 of his republican friends met here last evening and laid plans for their campaign against the stalwart faction and the democrats.

The governor declared that the action of the national republican committee in turning down the La Follette delegates had made the issue of Wisconsin national, and it would only be a short time before the reforms he advocates—primary elections, equitable taxation of corporations and a state commission to regulate railroad rates—would be taken up in other states. The unceremonious action, he declared, had stimulated him for the fight.

The old Hanna crowd was in control, he said, and that was a menace to the party welfare. The governor announced that he intended to take the stump and remain until election day, stopping at intervals to make some addresses at Madison. He had made the Chautauqua engagements before the state convention. He will make a "Tom Hall" campaign, if necessary, he said, and he felt confident voters would sustain him.

A dozen leading La Follette men spoke along the same lines. Committees on organization, circulation, literature and literature and ways and means were appointed.

The La Follette state central committee has elected Henry F. Cochems, a young Milwaukeean, as secretary. Steps were taken for the organization of a state and national campaign in every county in the state. Speaker Lenroot, who spoke in behalf of citizens of the northern section, pledged loyalty to Roosevelt and La Follette, assuring that there was never a time in the history of the state when the rank and file of the party were more loyal to their leaders.

The central committee of the La Follette faction elected officers as follows: Vice chairman, Perry C. Williams, Evansville; secretary, Henry F. Cochems, Milwaukee; treasurer, C. C. Gittings, Racine. An executive committee of seven will be appointed by Chairman Connor. Permanent headquarters will be established in Milwaukee.

COSTLY SCHOOL FOR LA CROSSE

Eastern Donor Is Supposed to Be John D. Rockefeller.

LA CROSSE, WIS.—W. D. Thomas, LL.D., Ph.D., president of the Presbyterian board of the northwest, announced that negotiations are pending to remove the German theological seminary of Dubuque to this city. One hundred thousand dollars has been guaranteed by the Presbyterian synod, the amount being a gift of an eastern philanthropist. Dr. Thomas says if the Dubuque seminary does come to La Crosse the donation will be increased and the handsome college in the northwest erected here and donated to the Presbyterian synod. Upon reliable information it is stated that the gift is to come from John D. Rockefeller.

TROPHY FOR CORN JUDGING

Bronze Prize Offered by Cook of Odebolt Received at Ames.

AMES, IOWA.—The Cook trophy, offered by A. E. Cook, proprietor of the Brookmarr farm at Odebolt, Iowa, has been received at the Iowa state college. It was offered for excellence in corn judging at the short course held here in December of each year. It is a bronze and in addition to the honors of an American and the late Charles W. Cook, who established the Brookmarr farm, the trophy is a pair of sealed cylinders in which the three best ears of corn from each contest will be kept from year to year.

May Live Inside the Grounds

World's Fair Visitors Have a Privilege That Has Never Been Given Before.

High-Grade Accommodations at Less Than Downtown Rates.

Many people will visit the world's fair with only a brief period for enjoyment, and will naturally desire to see as many of the wonderful sights as they can in as short a time as possible. This class of visitors especially will appreciate the departure which the management has made in providing a great hotel within the exposition grounds, "The Inside Inn." The hotel is managed under the official direction of the exposition authorities. This is a sufficient guarantee that the guests at this hotel will be treated fairly and considerately in the matter of rates.

This hotel has a most advantageous location in the southeast corner of the grounds, near the Plateau of States and not far from the Festival Hall, Art Palace, Cascade Gardens and other parts of the main picture of the exposition. The intramural railroad runs by its doors and will carry visitors to all the main points of interest in the exposition. The hotel is also of easy access to street car lines, that run direct to and from the union station down town.

The Inside Inn has 2,357 sleeping rooms, a dining room and cafe that seat 2,500 persons, and is well appointed in the way of elegant parlors, waiting rooms, bath- and all the fixtures of an up-to-date, metropolitan hotel. It is three stories high, and is 400 feet wide by 800 feet long. The visitors stopping at this hotel can obtain rooms at $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and up to $5.00 per day per person. The accommodations are equal to those of any outside hotel, with the added privilege that the hotel rates cover the daily admission to the grounds. When a visitor becomes a registered guest at the Inside Inn he can remain as long as he wishes and is not bothered with the payment of a daily admission fee to the exposition.

COL. STEWART TAKES COMMAND

FIRST DAY OF REAL CAMP LIFE AT ROOSEVELT.

Infantry, Cavalry and Artillery Encampment on the Shore of Kampeko Near Watertown—Last of the Troops Reached the Grounds Last Night.

Special to The Journal.

Watertown, S. D., June 25.—The first day at Camp Roosevelt was devoted mainly to the pitching of tents and to the general hustle incident on settling 1,500 men. It was just daylight when the first companies entered the gates, after a two and one-half-mile march from the railroad.

The adjutant general had prepared a lunch of ham sandwiches and good old army coffee. Immediately after the pitching of tents was ordered and for several hours the work was in progress. There were two companies of the Second regiment, H and I, and four of the Third, E, H, B and F, not on the special trains, but these arrived in the afternoon, and by sunset all the guards were in readiness for the real work of the camp.

Colonel R. W. Stewart of Pierre acting brigadier general at Camp Roosevelt, was missed at brigade headquarters throughout the day. He has been in New York city on business and was unable to come into camp with the troops. He arrived late in the afternoon and immediately assumed command. During his absence Lieutenant Colonel A. B. Sessions of Sioux Falls was in charge. Lieutenant Colonel C. E. Englesby of Watertown, of the Third regiment, was also absent the first day, reaching his headquarters in the evening.

Colonel J. M. Greene of Chamberlain is the ranking officer of the Third, but he delegates all active work to his lieutenant colonel. He will be in camp several days.

Major McDougall, republican candidate for lieutenant governor, arrived last evening and took command of his battalion. The cavalry headquarters were completely ready in the morning. Major Carpenter of Watertown, commander, had the troops tented in a few hours, and his picket lines out. The cavalry consists of troop A of Evans, Captain Thomas Orr; troop B of Pierre, Captain J. Logan; troop C of Watertown, Captain F. E. Munger; troop D is the ranking troop, troop A having been recently organized. The cavalry troops average fifty men, a larger percentage than the infantry.

The artillery is represented by one battery. Captain Coler Campbell is in command of A of Huron. Colonel Stewart called the officers to headquarters last evening and informed them that the program of camp duty would begin this morning. The commander and all officers expect the 1904 encampment to be far ahead of any that has been held in the state.

C. & A. QUARTERLY DIVIDEND

Means Upwards of $150,000 to Residents of Houghton County.

HUGHTON, MICH.—The quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share declared by the C. & A. bank will add upwards of $150,000 to the bank accounts of residents of Houghton county. Had every dollar been paid in full, the past five years would equal $1,500,000. The treasury never proved equally sound, it is the opinion of the secretary of the treasury ever since the first year in financing the strain of debarring the quarterly dividend.

The first stamp at the Centennial mill is to go into commission on July 8. Because of having taken the sufficient time to open the Centennial mill will be able to supply the mill with increased and a second stamp plan in operation a few months later.

WINSHIP'S SILVER ANNIVERSARY

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF GIVE AND TAKE ON THE HERALD.

Issue of 136 Pages Dealing with the Development of a Quarter of a Century—Public Reception Tonight for the Pioneer Flickertail Editor.

Special to The Journal.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 25.—Tomorrow is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Grand Forks Herald, established by George B. Winship, and it will be marked by the publication of a silver anniversary number of 136 pages, dealing with the development of the state and city, and paying some attention to the part that the paper has taken in this development.

Mr. Winship enjoys the distinction of being the pioneer editor of the state actively engaged in business, and the success of his paper is proof sufficient that his work has been well done. A public reception will be held tonight at the Herald building, and the anniversary celebration will give the friends of the paper and citizens generally an opportunity to inspect a complete publishing house, with all departments in full operation. Many will take occasion to congratulate Mr. Winship on the completion of a quarter of a century of work that has been felt throughout the entire state.

Mr. Winship was born in the village of Saco, Me., on Sept. 23, 1847. In 1851 the family removed to La Crosse, Wis., and in 1857 to La Crescent, Houston county, Minn., where the boy attended the village school when not otherwise employed for about three years. In 1860 he entered the local printing office, where he began to learn the printer's trade in the good old way of those days. Two years later he offered himself for enlistment in the war, but was refused on account of his youth. The next year he was more successful, and at the age of 16 was a full private in Troop A, Second Minnesota cavalry, in which regiment he served until the close of the war.

In the spring of 1877 he started on his career as a publisher. In the village of Caledonia, on the Red river, he started the Weekly Courier, which he published successfully for two years, until, believing the time had come for Grand Forks to forge to the front as a town, he loaded his possessions into a wagon and came here, starting the Herald as a weekly paper on June 25, 1879.

Besides a husband, three children are he has lived here continuously, devoting himself to the development of his paper. Mr. Winship was born in the village of Saco, Me., on Sept. 23, 1847. BLACKSMITH'S SON WINS

A RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

JOSEPH GARFIELD WALLESER.

The committee on the Cecil Rhodes scholarship from Iowa awarded the coveted honor and the accompanying $2,000 a year to Joseph Garfield Walliser, the son of a blacksmith in Nashua, Iowa. Walliser is 22, and is a graduate of Grinnell college, of which he is also a post-graduate student. His only competitor at the close of a long and severe examination, was Carl W. Ross, a junior in the University of Iowa, who was finally beaten by the narrowest of margins. The judges were President MacLean, of the University of Iowa; President Bell, of Drake; President King of Grinnell; and President Bradley, of Grinnell.

LUMBER SALES OF THE WEEK

Close to Three Million Feet Changes Hands at Head of Lakes.

DULUTH, MINN.—Among lumber sales the past few days were 1,200,000 feet of Norway and low grades by the Reg. Cliff Lumber company, to go east by water. The same company has also sold about 500,000 feet that will be distributed by cars, going to widely separated localities. This company is making a feature of the car trade now that it has a large and well-equipped planing mill at the old Duncan & Brewer plant, and is selling steadily for trade. Other mills made small sales, the probable total business of the week amounting to not far from 2,000,000 feet. There is no appreciable change in prices. Demand is a little better and manufacturers seem an improved inquiry from the east.

Lumber shipments continue heavy, and for the head of the lakes—this city, Superior and Two Harbors—have been 78,000,000 feet to date, of which better than 60,000,000 feet have been shipped from Duluth itself. The string of lumber boats is steadily moving and the docks are well filled all the time.

The small mill erected by Captain Alex McDougall on the St. Croix, near Solon Springs, is about ready to go to work. He owns a large tract of land there covered with small timber, which he is cutting and marketing. He will gradually cut off and put into merchantable shapes. There will be more and more of this class of lumbering as time goes on. The Lake Superior Timber company has cut 25,000 cords of pulpwood and today piles for use in the east and at Port Arthur.

SHELDON, IOWA.—I. N. McIntire of Sheldon, Iowa, and Miss Electa McCrea of Okaloosa were married by Rev. T. C. McIntire of Montezuma. They left for St. Louis and other points.

CHATFIELD, MINN.—The society event of the week took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Woodward yesterday afternoon, when their daughter, Miss Muriel, was united in marriage to Loren Pollock of Minneapolis.

Miss Bridget M. Keefe of this city and Jeremiah E. Creed of Rochester were married and left for St. Louis on a wedding trip.

SPRINGFIELD, MINN.—Paul Jaehn and Augusta Struenke were married in the Lutheran church by Rev. J. G. Appel and Albert Paffrath and Laura Swethan were united at the bride's home in Stately township, by Rev. W. S. Emery of the Springfield M. E. church.
