TRAVELERS ABROAD. Will send the Journal to all parts of the world. LONDON—11, S. Express Co., 50 Strand; American Express Co., 5 Waterloo place.

AN INVITATION is extended to all to visit the Press Room, which is the finest in the west. The history of the Press consists of three floors.

MINNEAPOLIS AND SHIP SUBSIDY.

In the next session of congress the ship subsidy question, regarding which there has been for years a wide difference of opinion among thinking men, may come up for final determination.

This is a matter of great importance to the wheat and flour trade of the northwest, and The Journal hopes that the spirit of hearty cooperation which has characterized the commission's contact with the business men of cities farther east will be repeated in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, and that, as the result of the hearings to be held in those cities, the commission will have an intelligent understanding of the feeling of the northwest on the subsidy question.

In Philadelphia, New York, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and other eastern and middle-west points, the commission has been paid marked attention by commercial clubs and other business men's organizations.

THE WISCONSIN TICKET.

The action of the republican national convention in recognizing the stalwart faction of Wisconsin republicans as the regular republican organization has had no appreciable effect on the turbulent political waters of that state.

THE CAMPAIGNING SEASON.

As a matter of fact, the United States of America is somewhat addicted to something very like perpetual political campaigning. Americans are at it more or less all the time, but of course, a little more so in the quadrennial period of the general election, accentuated by the choice for president and vice president.

THE NONPAREIL MAN

Mother is Very Angry When Mabel Benton Elopes With a Farm Hand, but Daughter Writes Home Telling All About It and Mother, After a Good Cry, is Likely to Come Around and Forgive All Hands Concerned.

Mrs. Joel Benton of Terrys Bridge, Conn., felt pretty badly when she found that her daughter, Mabel, a mere girl, had run off and married George Estercum, a farm hand.

NO HENNEPIN CATSPAW.

The Dunn people are not leaving any stones unturned in their efforts to secure the vote of Hennepin county. They know they have got to have it in order to succeed, and they show it.

ROOSEVELT'S POLITICAL SITUATION.

The New York Sun has been hostile to Roosevelt ever since he began to enforce the anti-trust law. Anything which interferes with the absolute freedom of the trusts is populist in the view of the Sun, and dangerous.

THE NEBRASKA STATE JOURNAL.

One thing is sure, the people of America from this day on will know that there is such a man in the country as John L. Webster, and that he is not a name to be sneezed at.

THE CHASKA REVIEW.

The Chaska Review has its office over a character we sometimes meet, who keeps his windows open when playing, working, the clarinet.

THE WORLD'S WORK.

The World's Work, discussing our bettered tastes as a nation and our strivings for the beautiful in art, architecture and life, says that this culture is one of the results of commercialism.

AT THE THEATERS.

This week's bill at the Ferris stock house marks an epoch in the history of the theater in that it introduces the most talented leading lady the company has yet had in the person of Miss Florence Stone.

NEWS OF THE BOOK WORLD

Sunday Afternoon Musings on "Sunday Deviations" by The Uneasy Chair—A Deviation from the Beaten Course of Book Reviewing and a Few Minutes with Robert Louis Stevenson.

Sunday afternoon is a time for association with one's intimates. To know what one whose other days are taken up with the affairs of this busy world, does with his Sunday afternoon when he has a choice, is to know him, for then if any time he is very sure to seek those things nearest his heart.

THE HARVESTERS IN THE WEST.

A full page picture of a western wheat farm followed by an article dealing with the Harvesters, by Charles Moreau Harger, is the beginning of Scribner's Magazine for July.

BELLESTEDT TO PLAY.

Great Cornetist Will Appear at the Harriet Pavilion Tonight. Yesterday's concert at the Lake Harriet Pavilion roof garden, by the Minneapolis Park band, thoroughly demonstrated to the large crowds present that the band and its conductor, Mr. Oberholfer, were equally at home in the orchestra and as the heavier music.

FOR LUND STUDENTS.

Scandinavian Singers of Minneapolis Plan an Elaborate Entertainment. All the hospitality that the Lund students could possibly bear up under will be provided for them next Thursday by the Orpheus, Odin and Commercial clubs.

PHILIPPINE VETS.

They Hold Their Annual Reunion and Elect Officers. At the annual business meeting of the Minnesota Society of the Army of the Philippines, held at St. Paul Saturday, the following officers were elected:

ROOSTERS AT THE FEAST.

Hundreds of dollars' worth of fowls were ruined by underclassmen at Hamline university in St. Paul the other night when they threw six live roosters thru open windows upon a long banquet table at which sat members of the senior class.

MINNESOTA POLITICS

Buckman Fixes Fences in Douglas County—Dunn Men Have a Narrow Squeak in Itasca, One of Their Strongholds—Managers Heatwave and Verity Swamped in Their Own Counties—The Facts About Benton—Farmers vs. Organized Labor.

Congressman Buckman appears to have turned a neat trick in Douglas county, which went against him heavily in the primaries two years ago. By the appointment of M. N. Koll of Alexandria, chairman of the republican county committee, as successor to J. D. Jones of the Cass Lake land office, he has mended a bad hole in his fences.

The "sweeping victory" in Itasca county, heralded by the Dunn newspapers, was in reality a close contest in one of their own strongholds, emphasizing the inherent weakness of the campaign. They only carried Grand Rapids by fifteen votes out of a total of 160, and the Collins forces won in Deer River, Northome and several other precincts, making the result very close in the county as a whole.

MR. HEATWOLE "REGRETS TO REPORT."

Mr. Heatwole "regrets to report" that he has been snubbed under in Rice county, which will send a solid Collins delegation. He also informs his candidate, with all due apologies, that Mr. Verity, his sub-manager, failed to carry Wadena county by a large majority, and that H. G. Hayes has lost his breath claiming Beltrami, which went two to one for Collins.

THE LITTLE FALLS TRANSCRIPT.

The Little Falls Transcript said the other day: "The Collins papers have refreshing news claiming Benton county. Dunn carried a large majority of precincts, and has the county. To which the democratic St. Cloud Times replied: 'Somebody appears to be doing robust lying. Benton is strongly for Collins, according to reports from wooded country. His nomination will be the result of a free press of Friday gave the result in detail, showing 44 instructed delegates for Collins out of 69. Dunn had 14, with 11 to hear from.'"

MR. FLEMING.

Mr. Fleming, who is ably conducting the claim department of the Dunn campaign, says that Benton county is a county that was "practically conceded" to Collins. That is the first information we have had that they conceded anything to Collins.

J. D. SCHROEDER.

J. D. Schroeder of Mountain Lake, an efficient member of the last house, has announced himself for re-election from Cottonwood county. His nomination will be contested by R. H. Jefferson of Blingham Lake.

SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISERS.

MR. A. L. THOMAS. The Head of the Great Advertising Agency of Lord & Thomas. Mr. Thomas began life on the Boston Traveler 35 years ago. He came into the Traveler's office to sweep out and dust shelves, as well as sell papers over the counter.
