NO PASSES FOR ALDERMEN

CIRCUIS MANAGEMENT DIDN'T "ANTE" AND CITY FATHERS NOW TALK $1,000 LICENSE.

No free circus tickets were handed out to the aldermen this morning, contrary to the precedent followed since the first circus came to town. None went to the water department, none to the city attorney, in fact, everybody was overlooked except the mayor, the police department and Bob McMullen, who has had the courtesies extended to him ever since he became street commissioner, and the shows used to be held in his ward, the fourth.

DOG TAGS GOING

Dog Catchers' Activity Shows Results.—Hoffman Stands Pat. About seventy dog licenses were issued from the city clerk's office this morning, and the large number at this season of the year indicates that the dog catcher, Alfred Johnson, is carrying on his job for the dogs now being licensed are owned by people who did not intend to take out licenses, expecting to dodge the dog catcher in one way or another.

The dog catcher says that nine "Hoffman" dogs are doing well, wearing the counterfeit tags sold by A. N. Hoffman, have been impounded and that the owners must pay an extra dollar. On the other hand, Hoffman denies that any dogs wearing his tags have been taken and says that he will stand by his promise to guarantee his tags as all that a canine needs. He says his address is 240 Plymouth avenue and that any of his patrons whose dogs have been impounded can secure redress thru him.

The court took the case under advisement.

COLLINS' PUN... DUNN IS DONE

IT INDICATES THE JUDGE'S CONFIDENCE IN HENNEPIN.

The Big Fight Will Culminate Tomorrow in the Hennepin County Convention in the Fourth Ward Wigwam—Both Sides Are Claiming Control by a Strong Lead.

The Hennepin county convention to elect 112 delegates to the republican state convention will convene at 1 p. m. tomorrow at the Fourth Ward wigwam, Western avenue and Ninth street. Both Collins and Dunn workers are claiming control in the convention, with neither side giving out for publication any statement in detail to support their respective claims.

"Dunn will get 411 out of the 576 delegates entitled to seats in the county convention," said Thomas Girling of the Dunn forces this morning. "Girling has his statement wrong in one particular," said Judge Collins. "He said that the vote for Dunn would be all right. Girling will find the convention tomorrow will not be just a plain Dunn convention, but very much more."

A great effort is being made by both Dunn and Collins workers to get out the vote for this evening. The Dunn men are credited with being loaded down with "expense" money to be used wherever it will do good. At the opening of the county convention, the chairman of the county committee will settle beyond dispute whether Dunn or Collins is in the lead. Prominent men on the Collins side advised Senator George F. Wilson for chairman. The Dunn men are said to have J. A. Peterson slated as their nominee.

Whether Mr. Dunn's candidacy is favored by the voters working by Collins people, we do not know, but if it is, why should that be held up as a reproach to Dunn? What has Mr. Hill done to make his name so prominent in the campaign a title to obliquity? He has done a thousand times more to build up the state of Minnesota and all the states of the northwest than any other American of the age he deserves the title of "the empire builder." Every one is familiar with the record of his work, and all of them forward steps towards the same great result, the development of the resources of the northwest, the planting of the homestead people on the vast unoccupied areas of unoccupied land and the building up of its cities and villages by placing the best transportation facilities within the reach of its producers at the lowest possible cost to the consumer in view. He undertook to secure the co-operation of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads, and the object of which was to make the two roads the chief highway of the commerce of the world. For this purpose the great Burlington system was gratefully purchased by both in order to secure reciprocal markets for the products of the Pacific coast and of the Mississippi valley, so that, by running full cars both ways, rates might be reduced and the increased volume of traffic as to make this highway the cheapest route to the Pacific. The two biggest freight steamers ever built were to carry the ore and lumber to the east and to the ports of Asia at lower cost than was ever done before. If Mr. Hill had been permitted to carry out these plans, the state of Minnesota, and the whole world would have been lifted the entire belt of states from Minnesota to the Pacific to a far higher plane of prosperity than was ever known before.

Following this meeting the judge addressed an open air meeting in the sixteenth precinct of the third ward at Third street and Ninth avenue N. Some two hundred people listened to his remarks, cheering his utterances against the merger and a corporation control of state government. His last address was delivered before a meeting of residents of the lower ends of the fourth and fifth wards.

Enthusiastically Received by Three Audiences Saturday Evening. Judge L. W. Collins addressed three rousing political meetings in Minneapolis Saturday evening, closing his campaign for the nomination with big crowds at each place and receiving much applause. The first meeting he addressed was at the Hennepin hall, NE, in a vacant grocery store. The hall was small, but as many men as it could accommodate packed in while he was there, and a continuous jam of humanity at the entrance.

Turnblad Not Sure. Swan Turnblad desires to have corrected a published statement that he is "sore" because of his defeat as a candidate before the democratic convention for delegate at large. Mr. Turnblad asserts he simply became a candidate at request of friends, and that personally he is not sorry not to have to go to St. Louis.

Dunn's Final Gains. R. C. Dunn managed to be in three places Saturday evening, but was unable to make good his schedule to attend the fourth at Hutton's hall in the ninth ward. The meetings addressed were at the Third Ward wigwam, Fourth Ward Wigwam and at Berglund's hall.

Williams Can Have It. There will be a meeting at Hearst headquarters in the Kasota building tomorrow evening of the chairmen of the various ward democratic committees for the purpose of electing a county chairman. W. H. Williams is the man to whom the place will be offered, if he wants it.

ALONE IN HIS GLORY. Mayor Haynes Minneapolis' Sole Representative at Dedication. Mayor James C. Haynes will leave this evening for St. Louis to take part in the dedication of the model city and the twin city pavilion at the world's fair grounds. As far as is known, he will be the only official representative from Minneapolis.

WOMAN DISAPPEARS. Mary Jones Falls to Answer Charge of Shoplifting. Mary Jones, who couldn't resist the temptation to steal a silk waist from a department store, failed to appear in police court this morning.

MASK IS OFF; DUNN FOR HILL

CONFESSION MADE THAT HE IS MERGER CANDIDATE.

St. Paul Pioneer Press Contradicts Its Previous Denials of the Charge in a Play for Ramsey County Vote—Campaign There Needed This as a Tonic.

The mask is off. After months of denying that R. C. Dunn is the merger candidate for governor, the St. Paul Pioneer Press came out yesterday in an appeal to the voters of Ramsey county, to stand by Dunn on Mr. Hill's account. The Dunn leaders evidently found their campaign in Ramsey county more successful than they had anticipated, and dictated the appeal for local consumption, regardless of its effect on the outside counties.

Whether Mr. Dunn's candidacy is favored by the voters working by Collins people, we do not know, but if it is, why should that be held up as a reproach to Dunn? CATBOAT RAMS A BIG STEAMER

Minnetonka Yachtsmen Have Narrow Escape From Being Run Down.

Jacob A. Schloss and C. C. Frazer, aboard a catboat, had the thrilling experience of colliding with the large steamer Excelsior, Sunday afternoon. Mr. Schloss, who was at the tiller of the cat, made the jump, landing on board the steamer, while Mr. Frazer was thrown far out into the lake by the force of the collision. The accident occurred at Tonka Bay, and intense excitement prevailed. It looked as though both Mr. Schloss and Mr. Frazer were doomed to be caught under the wheel of the steamer. The sailors were tacking from Tonka Bay to Gale's island, Excelsior bound. The steamer was on her course to Tonka Bay, and not heading the catboat in time, ran sharp up against her, throwing her about by the stern.
